Classes Follow 'Normal' Strike Schedule —Bay Student Leaders Meet Here Today

By C. P. McCARTHY

Negotiations aimed at ending a strike by some lay teachers at Marin Catholic High School and six other schools broke down last night as the strike entered its fifth day today.

Marin Catholic was operating on its "normal" strike schedule: a seven-period day cut to five.

The student council at the Kentfield school yesterday proclaimed a nuetral position on the strike, and student leaders of all seven struck schools scheduled a meeting at Marin Catholic for this afternoon.

Charges of reprisals against students sympathetic to the strike were denied today by Marin Catholic principal Rev. Francis A. Lacey.

Gerald Killian, president of the striking Secondary Teachers Association, said in San Francisco today that "several students have been disciplined at Marin Catholic High School for expressing sympathy with striking teachers."

Killian said there were reprisals at other struck schools as well, and that some students had been forced to stay after school and write additional papers and that at Marin Catholic an entire class was threatened with expulsion.

"Mr. Killian is grossly misinformed," Father Lacey replied.

He said there had been no threat of expulsion and no student, as far as he knew, had been made to stay after school for expressing sympathy with the strike.

"Our school is functioning as normally as we can," the priest said.

He said he knew of eight instances where students had been placed on probation for cutting classes, but he said that was the normal disciplinary procedure for cutting.

A negotiation session in San Francisco ended last night when the teachers rejected the latest offer of the archdiocese — an offer, Killian said, provided a "zero increase" in salaries.

The offer included raises ranging from 4 to 6 per cent this year and again next year, according to Rev. Bernard A.

October Cost Of Living Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The government announced today the cost-of-living rose 0.2 per cent in October, the second full month of the wage-price freeze. The rise was even less —0.1 per cent, smallest in 4 1-2 years — when adjusted for seasonal variations.

President Nixon's 90-day freeze, now replaced by more flexible Phase II controls, affected about 80 per cent of the items measured in the monthly Labor Department survey.

The department said higher prices for new cars and clothing accounted for almost all of the October increase.

The adjusted cost of living increase last month of only 0.1 per cent was the smallest for a month since April, 1967.

The nonadjusted increase of 0.2 per cent was the same as in September, the only other full month of the freeze, imposed between Aug. 15 and Nov. 13.

The 0.2 rate, if continued for a full 12 months, would come out to an annual rate of 2.4 per cent, falling within Nixon's goal of 2.5 per cent to 3 per cent a year.

Based on a 1967 average of 100, the consumer index stood at 122.6 for October, meaning it cost $12.26 to pay for the same amount of goods and services that cost $10 four years ago.

Elsewhere on the economic front, the government's Pay Board gave further study to the new three-year contract reached by the United Mine Workers union and the soft coal industry. The contract, which needs board approval, calls for a boost of about 10 per cent a year in wages and benefits.

In the cost of living figures, while higher prices were reported for 1972 automobiles and new fall apparel, retail food prices declined by 0.3 per cent last month. The Bureau of Labor Statistics, which compiled the report, noted the drop in grocery store prices was normal for October.

Fresh fruits dropped sharply and meat, chicken, dairy and bakery products all declined. Eggs, most fresh vegetables and a few fresh fruits by price controls —all were higher.

Although new car prices were up, the increase was less than usual for October when new models traditionally are delivered to dealers showrooms, the government said. The increase was largely the result of smaller discounts on1972 models in October compared with September discounts on 1971 models.

Prices for services rose 0.2 per cent for October —half that reported in September. The BLS said the relatively small rise reflected a slowing in the increase of mortgage interest rates, home repairs and hospital costs.

Charges for health and auto insurance, parking fees and movie admissions showed a decrease from September but dental bills, property taxes and property insurance were up from the previous month.

The Pay Board held a three-hour closed meeting on the coal contract with representatives of both sides Thursday and West Virginia Gov. Arch A. Moore, Jr. who mediated the dispute that ended a six-weeks strike, said he was encouraged by the attitude of the board.

But Frank Fitzsimmons, president of the Teamsters union and one of the five labor members of the 15-man panel, said the Thursday discussion was "not very happy."

Dispute Cleared; Rock Concert On Wednesday Night

The Application Form Is Blamed For Building Spat

By ERIK M. INGRAM

Conditions on use of the new Veterans Memorial Building — which for a time seemed to threaten cancellation of a benefit rock concert next Wednesday — were lifted last night, assuring that the show would go on.

According to the administration explanation, the cause of the concert promoters' trouble appeared to be that essential tool of bureaucracy: the application form.

Leon G. Kalimos, auditorium director, reported today that the conditions — viewed yesterday as prohibitive by concert promoters — were changed when the promoters "properly filled out rental forms" and were granted noncommercial rates.

He said confusion over Wednesday's planned concert, to benefit county drug abuse programs, was caused by promoter Fred Mayer's "inexperience in the theater."

Yesterday, Mayer told the Independent-Journal that Kalimos was trying to block the concert by imposing 12 to 15 conditions on use of the building. To meet those conditions would cost more than $2,000, he said.

Kalimos today said the unacceptable conditions for the benefit concert were based on "commercial rates" since Mayer and his associates had improperly filled out a rental form. They have now been changed to noncommercial conditions, he said.

He denied the complaint he was trying to block the performance saying he was "really for it" and had held the Nov. 24 date open since July.

He said, however, he didn't feel it was his responsibility to

Adult-At-18 Bill Goes To Reagan

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The legislalure today voted final approval to a landmark bill making California young people adults at age 18 for virtually everything except drinking.

The bill went to Gov. Ronald Reagan on a 47-6 vote when the Assembly concurred in Senate amendments to the proposal. Five Republicans voted against it as did one Democrat.

The proposal by Assemblyman Paul Priolo, R-Pacific Palisades, lowers the legal age of adulthood in California from 21 to 18 and gives the 18-, 19and 20-year-old crowd most of the rights currently enjoyed by the 21-and-over set.

Among other things, 18-year-olds could be hired as policemen, serve on juries, be tried in adult courts, boys could marry without parental consent, and they could sign legal contracts.

Exempted would be the purchase and drinking of alcoholic beverages. That is specifically prohibited by the constitution.

Priolo said the bill does not affect existing court orders dealing with child support which set the age of majority at 21. But he said future child support cases would recognize the maximum age for child support at 18.

But Assemblyman Robert Badham, R-Newport Beach, argued that under the bill it created two classes of 18-year-olds—those whose parents are divorced and those whose parents are married.

"Under this bill you could have a married 18-year-old living at home with his mother; yet his father would still be required to pay child support," he said.

He urged the bill be amended in a conference committee but the Assembly disagreed and sent it to Reagan.

The opposition votes were cast by Republicans Robert Burke, Huntington Beach; W. Don MacGillivray, Santa Barbara, Ray Seeley, Blythe; Floyd Wakefield, South Gate; Badham; and Democrat Alister McAlister, San Jose.

Dope Ring Broken In Marin

Nine persons, suspected to be members of an international dope smuggling ring with Marin County connections, were nabbed yesterday by narcotics agents in joint raids in Mill Valley and Daly City.

The Daly City raid netted 80 pounds of hashish worth $250,000 in street sales.

Arrested at 221 Hillside Avenue, Mill Valley, were Robin Henry Myers, 21; Lany Frederick Shacter, 23; Lewis Leland Whitney, 19; Salvatore Antonio Guglielmino, 22; Steven Laurance Thompson, 22; and Stephen Stewart Siegel, 24.

All were booked on suspicion of possession of marijuana and being in a place where narcotics is used.

All gave the Hillside address as their home, except Myers, who gave no address. Each was bailed for $2,500 and will appear in Marin Municipal Court on Monday afternoon.

Three persons alleged to be principals in the smuggling operation were caught in Daly City and booked on federal charges of smuggling illegal drugs. They are Nick V. Bergera, 24, his wife Cheryl, 23, both of 34 Rice Street, and David L. Mitchell, 19, of 459 Niantic Avenue, all in Daly City.

Lt. James Schwedhelm, who heads the Marin Drug Abuse Bureau, gave this account of the roundup:

Working with state and federal officials, agents got word that a Volkswagen bus containing hashish had been shipped from Amsterdam and was due in San Francisco. The bus arrived last week and was followed to Mill Valley Friday where it was under continuous surveillance.

Yesterday, Bergera came for the bus and drove it to Daly City, where the three persons were seized. In Mill Valley, agents arresting the six persons found small amounts of marijuana, hashish, cocaine and LSD in the home.

Agents said the 80 pounds of hashish were built into the

$3 Million Plan For Tennis Club

A San Francisco contractor is planning a $3 million tennis club adjacent to Novato, saying it would be one of the largest on the West Coast.

The contractor, Attillio Quartaroli, plans to build 27 tennis courts, a 5,000-seat stadium, an Olympic-sized swimming pool and a 20,000-square-foot clubhouse on 33 acres southeast of Olive Avenue and Deer Island Road.

He was to report on his plan to civic officials at a luncheon today at the Holiday Inn in San Rafael.

The private facility, to be called Olive Ridge Tennis Club, is planned as the site of major tournaments, he said.

If the project is approved by county officials, "I expect to start by early next spring and complete it by the end of summer," Quartaroli said.

He selected the site because of its location and climate and because tennis facilities are needed in Marin, he said.

"I think people in the tennis world haven't had the facilities they deserve," Quartaroli said.

He said he was aiming for a membership of 1,000.

Courts would be constructed in tiers and the stadium would

Senator Jackson Joins Demo Race

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Sen. Henry M. "Scoop" Jackson of Washington formally declared his candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination today and said he would enter the New Hampshire, Florida, Illinois and Wisconsin primaries.

Jackson, running far behind in public opinion polls and an admitted underdog, conceded the first-in-the-nation New Hampshire primary to front running Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of neighboring Maine. The New Hampshire test is March 7.

"I don't expect to win in New Hampshire," Jackson said, "but I am confident I have a chance to make a reasonable showing."

Jackson made his long-expected announcement at a packed news conference in the marble columned, red draped Senate Caucus Room.

"I'm going to take off my coat, roll up my sleeves ala Harry Truman and tell it like it is," he said to applause from supporters who were crammed into the huge room behind chairs set out for reporters.

Asked about his finances, Jackson said he estimated it would take about $1 million to get up to the fourth of his planned races, Wisconsin.

Nixon In Bold Economic Speech To Labor Chiefs

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UPI)— President Nixon threw away the speech he prepared for the AFL-CIO convention today and told the labor leaders he was giving it to them "straight from the shoulder"—that he was going to make his economic program work with or without labor's help.

"It is my obligation to make this (program) succeed and to the extent of my powers I shall do that," the chief executive told the nation's labor chieftains in a bold and emotional talk.

Nixon told a quiet audience, which applauded only lightly when he entered the hotel ballroom, that despite political differences he knew "the majority of workers are for America and for a strong national defense."

He said at the outset that he stood by his remarks which had been handed out to the press in advance of his speech.

In those remarks the President told the labor leaders his wage and price controls would produce a "period of sustained prosperity that will repay many times over any immediate sacrifices that any segment of the American work force is called upon to make."

He was welcomed at the door by AFL-CIO President George Meany, who had attacked Nixon sharply Thursday and accused him of resorting to "totalitarian" methods.

"I'm here today to ask your support for the building of a lasting peace and the building of a new prosperity," Nixon told the big labor audience. He said he is often asked "what is wrong with the old prosperity," and said: "I'll tell you what is wrong —war and inflation."

Nixon said that he was asked why he had decided to come speak before the convention which has blasted his policies. He said his reply was that he knew when the chips were down he could count on labor's support for his policies.

The President spoke about his winding down the war, the drop in casualties, and how 150,000 had marched on Wall Street in favor of his Cambodian incursion even though editorial writers and the intellectuals were against him.

He said he strongly favors repeal of the auto excise tax and the job credit tax, which will increase American workers' competitive position with workers abroad.

But then he laid it flatly on the line.

Angela Trial Costs Rejected

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Assembly for technical reasons today rejected a bill requiring the state to pay the estimated $1 million cost of the murder and conspiracy trial of Angela Davis and Ruchell McGee.

The measure by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, was turned back at Bagley's request so it could be amended in a Senate-Assembly conference committee. He said such a parliamentary move was necessary to satisfy the Reagan administration.

Later, however, Douglas Maloney, Marin County counsel, said amendments had been drafted which would fix the limitation at eight months instead of two years to further narrow the bill. He said all sides had agreed to the eight months provision.

Okinawa Protests— Mid-Tokyo Stormed

TOKYO (UPI) — Radical youths protesting continued U.S. military presence on Okinawa after its reversion in 1972 to Japan stormed through central Tokyo tonight, setting fire to a restaurant and flower shop and bombarding riot police with firebombs.

Students burned the two-story Matsumotoro restaurant in Hibiya Park to the ground and attacked key rail stations halting commuter service.

Blue-uniformed riot police used teargas and high-pressure, truck-mounted water guns to fight back against the students, who retaliated by hurling rocks and bottles. Clouds of teargas floated for miles from night street battles near the Ginza and Emeror Hirohito's Imperial Palace.

Police said that as of midnight 1,441 persons were arrested in the Tokyo demonstrations and scores injured and that a 55-year-old watchman for the destroyed restaurant died of a heart attack.

In addition to the student protests, two million workers walked off their jobs to show their opposition to a treaty permitting the United States to maintain military bases on the island after it is returned to Japan.

Students gathered in Hibija Park near Emperor Hirohito's palace and then stormed the two-story Matsumotoro restaurant which was closed for the night. After looting the building, they set it and a nearby flower shop afire.

Police said about 5,000 demonstrators were gathered in the park, while another 11,000 persons participated in disturbances elsewhere in the capital.

Students barricaded the main entrance to the park with trash cans, park benches and furniture from the burning restaurant. Police did not try to enter the area.

About 1,100 students assembled in the Shibuya area in another part of Tokyo and hurled firebombs against a rail commuter line.

Police said 15 students broke into a railway office at a commuter station.

I-J Survey Asking Readers' Opinions

Starting today the Independent-Journal will conduct a survey of readers throughout the county to determine their opinions about editorial features and certain types of news published regularly in the I-J.

"We are consulting our readers for their views as a guide in helping us produce a continually better newspaper," said publisher Wishard A. Brown. "The questionnaire is easy to complete and we believe it will prove interesting for our readers."

The survey will be distributed to 1,600 households, providing a scientific, random sampling of readers in all parts of Marin County. "If we knew the answers," Brown said, "we wouldn't need the survey. That's why we urge our subscribers to join with us in this cooperative venture."

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Nominees Blasted

CHICAGO (UPI) — Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York Thursday called on the Senate to reject the Supreme Court nominations of both William Rehnquist and Lewis F. Powell Jr.

Lindsay accused President Nixon of "picking men for the court not because of what they might become but because of the principles they oppose, the dreams they do not share and the wrongs they will not right.

"The president has picked men not for what they do for the country but for what they can keep the country from doing."

Lindsay told a meeting of the NAACP legal defense fund committee that Nixon's Supreme Court nominees have gone "from the mediocre to the insensitive."

Thanon Will Rule

BANGKOK (UPI) — Field Marshall Thanon Kittikachorn said today he will rule Thailand as the head of a national executive council while an interim constitution is being drafted and a new cabinet selected.

The council will consist of 16 officials, only four of whom are civilians.

Thanon said the council will carry out the business of government for "three or four months" until the new cabinet is formed. A permanent constitution will be drafted while the interim constitution is in force, he said.

Troop Reductions

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Soviet Union has signaled it soon will invite a NATO "explorer" to discuss possible East-West force reductions in Europe diplomatic sources said today.

The sources said Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin informed Secretary of State William P. Rogers Wednesday that the invitation to Manlio Brosio, the former NATO secretary general, would be forthcoming shortly.

News of the impending invitation came as Rogers warned Congress against pressuring the administration to withdraw troops unilaterally from Europe.

Golda Will Visit

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Israeli newspapers reported today that Prime Minister Golda Meir and not Defense Minister Moshe Dayan would go to Washington for talks at the highest level on Israel's quest for more U.S. Phantom jets to counter what it calls a shift in the Middle East balance of power.

The reports were given credence by Washington reports that a new group of Soviet TU16 Badger bombers equipped with air-to-surface missiles suitable for use against shipping have turned up recently in Egypt.

A State Department spokesman told a news conference the United States was "assessing this development with regard to the military balance."

UN Debut Delayed

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — Communist China's debut in the 15-member U.N. Security Council, originally expected today, has been postponed until at least next week.

China claimed its seat in the General Assembly Monday and was expected to participate in its first Security Council debate during a hearing involving South West Africa Namibia.

However Council officials said Thursday the group would not meet before Monday. No reason was given for the delay.

Laura Drifting

MIAMI (UPI) — Tropical storm Laura drifted slowly toward what forecasters said could be its ultimate demise over the Yucatan Peninsula.

The slow westward drift showed no signs of steering northward, and hurricane forecasters said there were indications Laura, which already is losing strength over water, would dissipate "even more rapidly over land."

Aid Program Lives

WASHINGTON (UPI) — America's foreign aid program, killed Oct. 29 in a surprise Senate vote, was alive again today.

Both the House and the Senate gave final approval Thursday to a resolution authorizing foreign aid to continue at the annual rate of $2.67 billion until Dec. 8.

By that time, administration officials hope Congress will have enacted permanent legislation to continue the program.

The House passed the resolution 344 to 26 and the Senate approved it on a voice vote.

The temporary measure also authorizes the Defense Department, Office of Economic Opportunity, and the District of Columbia government to continue spending at current levels.

China A-Blast

WASHINGTON (UPI) — China detonated a nuclear blast — its first in more than a year — in the atmosphere at its proving ground in Sinkiang province Thursday, the Atomic Energy Commission reported.

The AEC said the blast, estimated at an energy yield of about 20,000 tons of TNT, was smaller than previous Chinese explosions and it appeared possible Peking was experimenting with a compact warhead for fighter planes or ballistic missiles.

The blast came three days after Communist China claimed its seat in the U.N. General Assembly. The blast apparently came as a surprise to the Chinese U.N. delegation, who refused to comment about it.

Actress Told To Leave Former Husband Alone

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The former husband of Gia Scala obtained a court order against her Thursday, complaining the actress had repeatedly attacked and harassed him since their divorce.

Donald J. Burnett, 40, a stockbroker who has remarried since his divorce from Miss Scala, 37, became final a year ago, said she has repeatedly called his office to annoy him, rammed her car into his, kicked a hole in the front door of his home and ignited a fire on his car.

Superior Court Commissioner John L. Goddard issued a restraining order against Miss Scala, enjoining her from "molesting, striking, harassing or otherwise disturbing the peace" of Burnett.

Islands Of Garbage Proposed

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A team of experts has proposed using Bay Area garbage to build up sinking islands in the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta for the next century.

The proposal was part of a plan unveiled Thursday by consultants to the San Francisco Planning and Urban Renewal Association to answer the area's garbage disposal problem.

The plan includes a regional disposal system, involving recycling and separation at 16 processing stations in the area.

The most intriguing feature envisions taking organic wastes to the delta by barge and mixing it with peat to raise sinking islands. Organic wastes amount to more than half of the Bay Area's total garbage.

"The Bay Area has a unique opportunity to convert two serious problems, the difficulty of disposing of organic garbage and the erosion and loss of soil, into assets," the consultants said in a 111-page report.

The consultants said that by spreading organic wastes across the sinking sections, the land could be raised ten feet. The delta could provide a disposal site for all the area's organic garbage for 100 years.

They recommended a three-year demonstration project that would involve100 tons of organic waste per day.

Car Muffler Bill Gains Approval

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —A bill banning the sale or installation of car mufflers and exhaust systems which do not meet noise standards to be set by the Highway Patrol was voted final legislative approval today and sent to Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The lower house concurred 54-0 in Senate amendments to the bill by Assemblyman Peter F. Schabarum, R-Covina.

It would require the Highway Patrol commissioner to set standards for mufflers "consistent with total vehicle noise levels" set by the Motor Vehicle Code.

Saigon To Send Aid To Cambodia

PHNOM PENH (UPI)—Cambodian troops including youths getting their first taste of combat battled Communist troops to a standstill near Phnom Penh today. The situation was so serious South Vietnamese agreed to send 13,000 men to help relieve the pressure, Cambodian military sources said.

The Cambodian command said a force of 8,000 government troops, with the help of U.S. jet fighter-bombers and helicopter gunships, halted one force of 2,000 North Vietnamese an Viet Cong 11 miles outside Phnom Penh. The command has reported two Communist regiments—about 6,000 men—in the area.

Cambodian command sources said a South Vietnamese task force would arrive in Cambodia shortly to help counter the current North Vietnam offensive but said the ARVN troops would not be positioned around the outskirts of Phnom Penh because of hostility between Cambodians and Vietnamese.

UPI correspondent Kenneth J. Braddick reported seeing long convoys of ammunition trucks this morning near Tay Ninh, 80 miles northwest of Saigon and a frequent staging area for forays into Cambodia.

Military sources in Saigon and Phnom Penh refused to identify the target of the ARVN operation but speculation in both capitals mentioned two places — the Chup rubber plantation 55 miles northeast of Phnom Penh and an unidentified closer spot "within easy striking distance" of the Cambodian capital.

High level consultations were taking place both in Saigon and Cambodia and U.S. Undersecretary of State Alexis Johnson arrived in Phnom Penh today to confer with Prime Minister Lon Nol and Gen. Sirik Matak, his prime minister-designate.

On Vietnam battlefields, a U.S. reconnaissance company of 175 men pulled back Thursday afternoon when ambushed by a battalion of 500 Communists 58 miles northeast of Saigon, the U.S. command said.

One American was killed and two were wounded before the company withdrew to let U.S. jets and helicopter gunships pound the Communists. The pullback indicated increasing reluctance of U.S. commanders to get involved in major ground battles in view of pressure back home to end the U.S. combat role.

The South Vietnamese command in Saigon said a company of militiamen, backed by U.S. helicopter gunships and jet planes, killed 145 Communists early Thursday in the jungles of the Central Highlands.

However, military sources in the Central Highlands said today they had no reports of such a battle.

Death Penalty Set By Thieu

SAIGON (UPI)—South Vietnam set the death penalty today for hoarders and profiteers.

The penalty, along with others announced by a government spokesman, is designed to put teeth into new economic regulations announced by President Nguyen Van Thieu.

The regulations, expected to boost the cost of living in Saigon, are designed to make South Vietnam economically self-sufficient in the future, Thieu said.

'NO DUMPING' BUT. . .

As everyone knows a "no dumping" sign is an invitation to dump. It would appear that the driver of this dump truck took the invitation offered in Texarkana, Tex., and dumped his truck and its contents. The driver, to nobody's surprise, didn't leave a calling card.

Assembly Defeats UC Funding Bill

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —A bill appropriating an additional $3.3 million for the University of California was defeated by the Assembly yesterday.

The measure by Assemblyman Ken Meade, D-Oakland, was turned down on a 39-17 vote with 54 votes needed for approval.

Meade said that under the university's current budget "buildings are falling apart and library service are being restricted."

According to Meade, the university's library budget had been reduced $750,000 from the 1970-71 levels and that unless more money was made available library hours would have to be reduced by 20 a week.

Lands Panel Pushes Sand Removal Probe

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The state Lands Commission yesterday asked the attorney general to investigate the alleged unauthorized removal of sand from and dumping of rubble on state-owned land along Monterey Bay.

Target of the proposed investigation is Sand City, a tiny incorporated city along the beach, and the Calabrese Supply Co.

The commission's staff recommended the attorney general be brought into the case because efforts to negotiate a settlement were "confusing and unfruitful."

The recommendation was supported by representatives of the Citizens Committee for Monterey Beaches and opposed by John Stohlton, an attorney representing the city and supply company.

The commission's staff said no permits had been granted for construction of a 350-foot-long rubble embankment along the scenic bay shore or for the extraction of sand. The embankment encroaches on public tide and submerged lands, the staff reported.

Charles Kramer, representing the citizens committee, said the situation in the tourist-oriented Monterey Bay area had disturbed the community.

"When we start losing our beaches, the entire citizenry becomes upset, particularly the businessmen," he told the commission.

But Stohlton said that no sand had been extracted in the past 10 months.

Bond Plan For Parks, Beaches Gets Final Nod

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —A bill providing for a $250 million parks and beaches bond issue was voted final legislative passage yesterday by the Assembly and sent to Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The lower house concurred 59-0 in Senate amendments to the measure by Assemblyman Edwin Z'berg, D-Sacramento.

It would permit the submission of the bond issue to voters in the November 1972 general election for the purposes of acquiring and establishing beaches, parks, recreational facilities and historical resources.

The bill declared, "The present public outdoor recreation areas and facilities are inadequate to accommodate the demands made on them at the present time and will become critically inadequate as time progresses."

Drawbridge Limits Opposed In Marin

A proposal to limit operation of 12 drawbridges in the Sacramento Delta is being opposed by the Pacific Interclub Yacht Association, a group to which at least 11 Marin yacht clubs belong.

State and Sacramento County officials have asked for the slashed operating schedules, saying river traffic is not heavy enough to warrant keeping the bridges manned all year long. State officials have said the reduced schedules would save $200,000 a year.

Under the proposal, which must be approved by the Coast Guard, all Sacramento River bridges from Isleton to Sacramento's I Street Bridge would shut down at 5 p.m. Other bridges would be open only from June through September from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Twelve hours advance notice would be required in most cases to have the bridges opened during off-hours.

The Coast Guard is expected to set a hearing on the matter if there are many protests.

Marin clubs listed as belonging to the interclub association are Loch Lomond, North Bay, Paradise Cay, Corinthian, San Rafael, Marin, Inverness, Sausalito, San Francisco and Bel Marin Keys yacht clubs and the Sausalito Cruising Club.

Rights Panel Slap At Mountanos

Two Marin County human rights commissioners, complaining bitterly that Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos has failed in promises to attend Marin City meetings on police protection, called last night for an order to force the sheriff's attendance.

According to executive director Gerald J. Hood, commissioners Thelma McKinney and Fred Mayer made the request after the sheriff's repeated nonattendance at Marin City meetings.

Subcommittee members would like to explore police protection in Marin City and possible ways of improving it, Hood said.

He said the commission directed him to approach Mountanos requesting he attend a subcommittee meeting and if that fails to secure an order from the board of supervisors.

Hood said the subcommittee's meeting on Marin City police protection will be held about the middle of December at the Manzanita Center in Marin City.

He said the subcommittee, headed by commissioner Elisabeth Johnson of Marin City, was created last week to hear residents complaints of police protection.

be in the form of a bowl built into a slope in the center of the property. All but two small trees would be saved, he said, and a picnic area developed under a grove of trees.

Quartaroli said he has three partners in the project, but declined to name them. Architect for the project is Joseph F. Angello of Angello and Vitiello of Sacramento.

Quartaroli said he also envisions a youth program, including a summer camp which would include swimming, tennis, softball and horseback riding at nearby stables.

During the school year, youth tennis classes would be held, he said.

Quartaroli, who will manage and operate the club, expected up to five tennis pros would be on the staff.

An application to rezone the land to commercial-recreation from limited agriculture is to be presented to the Marin County Planning Commission Dec. 6. If the rezoning is granted, development plans would follow.

Novato Planning Director Brian W. Mattson said he would try to work the matter into a special session of the city planning commission on revision of the Novato Area General Plan at 8 p.m. Monday at the Novato Community House.

SCHOOL

Cummings, superintendent of the archdiocesan schools.

Killian said the striking teachers voted unanimously yesterday to affiliate with the American Federation of Teachers AFL-CIO, and James Gallagher, an AFT official, said the affiliation had been approved.

John Bechtold, a spokesman for the 10 lay teachers and four nuns off their jobs at Marin Catholic, said the AFT affiliation could result in all labor unions honoring the picket lines, halting deliveries to Marin Catholic and the other schools.

The student-government body at Marin Catholic yesterday adopted an official "hands off" position.

"We value Catholic education and we want to keep it," Eileen Hicken, vice-president of the student council, said today.

She said yesterday's council meeting, attended by about 100 students, produced a conscensus that "since we're caught in the middle and don't know all the facts, it is best to remain neutral."

A majority of the students at the meeting appeared to be sympathetic with the striking teachers, she said, but in the end the group agreed that any disruptions at Marin Catholic would only be hurting the students.

While the students appeared to agree that they want their school kept open, they expressed mixed sympathies regarding the strike.

"The strikers are doing what they feel is right and the teachers who are staying are doing what they feel is right," said Joan Forrest, a junior.

Another junior, Jackie Whitworth of Greenbrae, said she thought the archdiocese was wrong. "They spent a fortune on the cathedral, but they can't spend a fortune to educate," she said.

Student leaders of the seven struck schools were to meet at Marin Catholic later today, while the principals of all the schools were set to meet in San Francisco.

Michael Walsh, student body vice-president at Sacred Heart High School in San Francisco, was at Marin Catholic early today.

He said he was not necessarily supporting the striking teachers, but was supporting what he called the Student Sympathy Corps.

"All we want is teachers back in the future," he said.

Walsh said he was "not trying to threaten the archdiocese," but said that if Sacred Heart was closed, "we'd try to close all of the high schools."

His school was closed early Wednesday but reopened again yesterday, although no class was held.

If Sacred Heart is closed again, Walsh said he was told by "a man who knows," it would be closed permanently.

It would be to force the reopening of Sacred Heart that students would attempt to shut down the other schools, he said.

Rev. David Pettingill, vice-principal at Marin Catholic, said the meeting of principals in San Francisco today would be to determine policies for next week.

He said the principals had "at least three options" but he was not at liberty to discuss them.

fill out the forms for Mayer.

As to holding the date open, he said "I didn't have to. We love Mr. Mayer, but he didn't do the proper things in reserving the building."

The conditions imposed by the county administration yesterday included hiring 30 security guards, a ban on distribution of drug abuse literature, denial of a soft drink concession, a $250 rental charge plus $50 per hour after midnight, $100 for spot lights, $50 for a sound system, a $2,000 security bond and a 5 per cent payment to the county on gross proceeds over $2,500.

With the exception of the $2,000 security bond and the required insurance, all conditions were dropped or modified.

The 30 security guards, Kalimos said, can be volunteers from Marin Open House, cosponsors of the concert. Kalimos said this was his original intention anyway but that Mayer had misinterpreted it to mean professional security guards.

The rental charge has been dropped from $250 to $150 and the show will probably be over by midnight, he said.

The $100 lighting and $50 sound system charges will be levied only if the equipment is used, he continued.

The promoters will be able to sell soft drinks and distribute literature and the county will not take a 5 per cent charge since the concert is nonprofit, he said.

"Mr. Mayer can get down off his cross now," Kalimos added with a laugh.

Kalimos on Tuesday approached the county board of supervisors with a recommendation that "hard rock" groups be prohibited from performing at the auditorium. He said they "have a philosophy of turning people on" which could result in damage to the building.

The supervisors rejected the proposal saying each group would have to be judged on its merits. It endorsed Wednesday's show featuring the Quicksilver Messenger and Big Brother and the Holding Company — both Marin County-based groups.

Kalimos, critical of newspaper articles about the conditions, said he had not been trying to stop Wednesday's show but rather had been seeking "policy direction" from the supervisors on Tuesday.

Kalimos two weeks ago came under criticism from other Marin County organizations for increasing rental charges at the last minute.

A spokesman for the nonprofit Marin Ski Swap complained that the $350 rental charge first quoted the group by Kalimos was doubled just before the event.

Kalimos was directed to draft "set rates" for such productions which he said today he has done.

Broadcaster Guyman Ex-Marinite, Is Dead

William E. (Bill) Guyman, a former Marinite whose career ranged from prizefighting to broadcasting, is dead.

Guyman, it has been learned, died Oct. 23 in a San Francisco hospital following a long bout with cancer. A former resident of Sausalito and Santa Venetia, he had lived in San Francisco, his birthplace, in recent years.

The son of a policeman, Guyman, 54, was born in San Francisco's Mission District in 1917, and left high school during the Depression. He worked as a stevedore, a carnival barker, construction worker and boxer, fighting in 61 professional bouts.

Soon, he began a career in a field in which he came to be most recognized — broadcasting. He started on a teen-age radio show by soliciting merchants for advertisements to be read between musical recordings. This was followed by six years of freelance work in various stations across the country — in Boston, Chicago, New York, New Orleans, Hollywood and Pasadena.

From 1941 to 1945 he served in the Navy, returning to San Francisco following the end of the war and joining the National Broadcasting Co. Blue network. He also operated his own public relations firm and spent several years freelancing on radio and television.

WILLIAM GUYMAN
Dies of cancer

In 1949, Guyman was master of ceremonies on the first sports program to be seen by Northern California television audiences.

He announced the weekly wrestling matches from Winterland in the early 1950s, and the story is told of the time when Guyman jumped into the ring for a slugfest with a wrestler who had kicked him.

In 1956, Guyman replaced Chet Huntley on NBC broadcasts from Hollywood, but disdained of the Southern California life and returned to the Bay Area five years later.

While living in Marin, Guyman held a variety of jobs, including those as a car salesman and distributor for a massaging device. Guyman had been a security guard at Mount Zion Hospital in San Francisco before his death.

He won numerous awards for his radio-TV work, including an Associated Press prize for news reporting in 1955, and was a lecturer and instructor at Bay Area high schools and colleges.

He is survived by his wife, Eva; his mother, Grace Geimann and a sister, Jeanne Geimann.

Cermation was in Woodlawn Cemetery, Colma.

LABOR

He said he wants Labor's participation to make his new economic policy succeed "but whether we get that or not," he warned, "it is my obligation to make this succeed and to the extent of my powers I shall do that."

He said that he believes it is time to understand that there are points of disagreement and agreement. "I want a program that is fair.

But as President of all the people I think it is my duty to do what is best for America."

Nixon said he understood that unemployment was, because he had grown up in it in the depression.

Nixon read a quote from Meany's speech Thursday in which the labor leader said: "If the President doesn't like the terms we lay down here, let him kick us off" the pay board. "It's just as simple as that."

The president replied: "I know exactly what I am doing, and I'm going to do it. "A majority of the American people, a majority of the union members want to halt inflation."

Delegates to the convention did not appear impressed with the President's talk. They burst into laughter and applauded loudly when, after Nixon had left the hall, Meany gaveled for order and announced: "We'll now proceed with Act Two."

"It was just President Nixon running for office and getting no vote here," said Joseph Curran, president of the National Maritime Union.

BOOTED FROM CONVENTION

Two members of the AFL-CIO — holding a banner which read "General Strike to Bust Wage Group" — were given the boot from the convention floor at Miami Beach yesterday. Weber Wins Round In Narcotics Bust

A series of narcotics charges against former Kingston Trio manager Frank N. Werber, 41, will be dropped because evidence gathered at a March 26 raid of his home on De Silva Island was suppressed yesterday by a Marin judge.

Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court agreed with attorney Patrick Hallinan that the March 26 raid was made on a ruse and therefore the subsequent search was illegal.

As a result of the raid, the Marin County Grand Jury indicted Werber for possession of LSD, heroin, cocaine, peyote, codeine and mescaline.

A gun picked up in that raid led federal agents to arrest Werber again on June 10 on a charge of firearm possession by a convicted felon. On that visit, agents found more drugs and charged him with possession of marijuana and cocaine. The firearm charge is in federal court.

Judge Keating suppressed evidence gathered in the March 26 raid, but attorney Hallinan contends this will lead to dismissal of all charges because the June 10 raid resulted from the illegal March 26 raid.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Vernon F. Smith acknowledged that the March 26 charges may have to be dismissed because the only evidence available to him was suppressed.

However, Smith refused to concede on the June 10 charges. He said the district attorney will put both cases (March 26 and June 10 charges) back on the court calendar and will continue prosecution, especially on the June 10 charges.

In 1968, he was caught with six seabags full of marijuana at his home and convicted of marijuana possession and cultivation. He was sentenced to six months in jail and fined $2,000, but the sentence is on appeal.

The Dangers Of Pesticides To World's Oceans

FRESNO, Calif. (UPI) — Oceanographer Jon Lindbergh says pesticide residues are damaging the world's oceans.

The son of famed aviationist Charles Lindbergh gave a town Hall lecture Thursday saying that sewage, oil spills and careless exploitation were all killing the seas, but that pesticides that do not break down easily pose the greatest threat.

Comparing oil spills to pesticide pollution is like "comparing a bucket of molasses spilled on the living room rug to arsenic in the well," said Lindbergh, chairman of the Oceanographic Commission.

10 Employes Of Bank File Suits

Ten employees of the Bank of Marin in Novato have filed suit for $610,000 damages and medical costs for injuries suffered when a car crashed through a plate glass window into a bank conference room last March 11.

Defendants are Lucille McAlister, driver of the auto and manager of Sportsmen's Lodge Motel north of Novato, and several John Does.

San Francisco attorney Gunnar G. Gunheim, who filed the suit, said Mrs. McAlister, who had been on an errand to the tank, lost control of the vehicle.

Two of the bank workers, Betty J. McAskill, wife of former Novato Mayor Harley McAskill, and Deanna L. Vela, asked $150,000 damages each. Also, Shirley L. Swihart is seeking $100,000 damages; Ione L. Lee, $70,000; Mary Ellen Agnew, $50,000; Melva G. Jones, $30,000; Glen R. Tovani and Peggy J. Boke, $20,000 each; and Susan Simontacchi and William J. Thompson, $10,000 each.

Homeowners Group Elects New Slate

Lester M. Shorter of 81 Calypso Shores has been elected president of the Bal Marin Keys Homeowners Association.

Victor N. Meleyco was elected vice president; Richard W. Boak, treasurer, and Marie Kniveton, secretary, at the association's annual election Wednesday night.

Jack Griggs, James Schelper, David A. Bagley and Jack Kniveton, outgoing president, were elected directors.

The association formed a committee to provide public information on the Jan. 11 vote on a $700,000 bond measure to finance a tidal lock at the entrance to the lagoons.

Members also agreed to continue membership in the North Marin Federation of Homeowners and to participate in the Novato Planning Commission study of general plan revisions, according to Edna Aubel, outgoing secretary.

The association will have its Christmas party from 4 to 6 p.m. Dec. 12 at the Bel Marin Keys Community Center, she said.

Bare Approval To Law School

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Troubled by money problems, a committee of University of California Regents has given only bare approval on a voice vote to a proposed new law school at the Santa Barbara campus.

"I think we needit," said Regent William E. Forbes Thursday, "but who will pay for it?" He said the people of California have stopped supporting expansion of the university.

During lengthy discussion, President Charles J. Hitch argied hard for the project, saying the demandfor law school admissions is now great.

Hitch said the market demand for lawyers is expanded because society is becoming "increasing increasingly litigois."

Pastor's Pitch For Attendance

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI)—A 29-year-old pastor is living in a bell tower and says he won't come down until 1,000 people are in his church.

John Gordon climbed to the church's bell tower Saturday and is living comfortably with an electric blanket, a television and food supplies by basket.

The Assembly of God clergyman said that attendance of 500 persons at Sunday services was only half what it should be.

McInnis Quits Chairmanship

I-J Special Report

BERKELEY — Marin County Supervisor John F. McInnis resigned last night as chairman of the Association of Bay Area Governments regional planning committee.

McInnis gave his resignation in a letter to the executive committee. He gave no reason, but it reportedly was because of the unresolved feud with the federal Housing and Urban Renewal Department over funding ABAG's planning program this fiscal year.

W. J. Gilbert, noted Persian and Oriental rug expert, host for Auction, Sunday, Corte Madera Recreation Center.

Persian Rug Auction

SUNDAY NOV. 21 - 1:00 P.M.
PREVIEW FROM 11:00 A.M. TO 1:00 P.M.
CORTE MADERA RECREATION CENTER
(Take Larkspur Exit then West on Tamalpais)

Due to the recent dock strike, over 1000 Rugs have been consigned to W. J. Gilbert for immediate sale. There will be a great variety of Rugs & Colors, including runners, small & large room size Rugs, prayer & silk Rugs.

Oriental Rugs are blooming anew. The disciplined, yet graceful design of Oriental Rugs gives a room the feel it otherwise lacks. The muted colorings of Oriental Rugs blend with most color schemes, be it traditional or modern.

The beauty of Oriental Rugs increases with age. Applied to wools of fine texture, the colors derived from vegetable or animal dyes grow more mellow with the passing years and acquire a luster and softness comparable to the colors of an autumn day.

As centuries have passed, the appreciation and value of Oriental Rugs have continued to rise as it would for any field of art. The Persian carpet has commonly been referred to as the stocks and bonds of Iran (Perisa) and since time began, they have proven to be valuable stocks for those who possess them.

Inspect these fabulous floor coverings of heirloom quality, richly beautiful, each a sample of the dying craft of hand weaving. Come early this Sunday (the public inspection begins at 11 A.M.). Then take advantage of the auction which begins at 1:00 P.M. in the Corte Madera Recreation Ctr., and remember that this auction will represent considerable savings to you for these prized possessions which will grow in value.

Each rug is sold to the highest bidder. There is no minimum price which must be reached to complete a sale. You, or any member of the auction audience open the bidding and control the sale. It is this fair procedure of auciton practice, together with the established authority of your host, W. J. Gilbert, which have earned the respect and successful acceptance by the public of Mr. Gilbert's Oriental Rug auctions such as the event Sunday evening at the Corte Madera Recreation Center.

And remember that all rugs sold by Mr. Gilbert may be traded in at full value for 5 years.

1949 Two small, strange-looking Beetles are sold in the U.S.A. Far fewer than the big, beautiful De Sotos, Studebakers, and Hudsons which sold that year like hotcakes. 1950 Hotcakes weren't selling as well this year. As the Beetle remained small and strange-looking while refinements were made on the brakes and heating system. 1951 Vent flaps added to front quarter body panels. Needless to say, they didn't make our front quarter body any prettier. 1952 The idea was still the same: stay the same. And except for work on the transmission, vent windows, window cranks, heating controls, and the turn signals, we did. 1953 The year of our radical styling change. The rear window was enlarged. 1954 Horsepower increased over 20%. Sales increased over 600%. 1955 By now we had improved and refined our idea more than 500 times. It didn't show a bit. 1956 For many, this was the year of the tailfin. For us, this was the year chromed tail pipes and pusher overrider "bows" were added. 1957 Nobody noticed that our front heater outlets were moved back for better heat distribution as most of the hoopla centered around the introduction of the Edsel. 1958 Tailfins were getting even longer. So was our list of improvements. 1959 Our frame was reinforced for greater strength and durability. Greater than what? Greater than our '58. 1960 The long tailfins were being removed. Our chromed tail pipes and overrider "bows" remained. 1961 16 major improvements. Including an increase in our engine's cooling capacity and our horsepower. 1962 10 major improvements. Including reinforced clutch springs and maintenance-free handbrake cables. 1963 Fresh air heating and nylon window guides and leatherette headliners and adjustable rear heater outlets were introduced. 1964 Close to 1300 improvements had now been put in. In such a little car, was there any more room for improvement? 1965 10 major improvements. And innumerable (well, actually, 11) minor improvements. 1966 Maintenance interval extended to 6,000 miles. It took 6,000 miles but now you could see the results of all those improvements. 1967 1017 dealers were now selling our car. For us, that was very nice indeed. For someone who needed repairs or parts in an out-of-the-way place, it was even nicer. 1968 Finally, an automatic stick-shift for the Beetle. The fact that it got about 25 miles to a gallon made up a bit for all the time it took. 1969 We introduced a rear window defogger and defroster. Put a tread wear indicator on our tires. Added a steering wheel locking device. Otherwise, things looked pretty much the same. 1970 Medi-car, our Diagnosis System was introduced. To make one of the longest running models longer running. 1971 The year of our first Super Beetle. Nearly twice as much trunk space, an engine twice as powerful as our '53, and a new suspension system for a smoother ride.

SAFETY DEMONSTRATION BY PATROL

Youngsters from Wolfe Grade School in Kentfield watched yesterday as California Highway Patrol officers demonstrate how long it takes a car to come to a stop at a crossing. In the top photo, Officer Keith Chapman signals Officer Gene Sanford, driving a car at 25 miles per hour, to come to a stop. In the bottom picture the patrol car comes to a halt after traveling 48 feet.

Couple In Court Over Junipers

A Larkspur couple who has raised tam junipers for 21 years went to court yesterday to stop Marin Agricultural Commissioner R. Allan Ballard from destroying their juniper garden.

Peter and Edith Altmann of 22 Elm Avenue, Larkspur, filed suit in Marin Superior Court to stop Ballard from uprooting 14 junipers. They are represented by San Francisco attorney John F. Harmon.

Ballard explained that the county is conducting a campaign to eradicate hawthorn-juniper rust. The eradication program calls for destroying tam junipers that are infected or are within 300 feet of a diseased juniper or hawthorn tree.

Ballard conceded that the Altmann junipers may be healthy, but they must go because they are within 300 feet of a diseased hawthorn tree and therefore considered "exposed" to the rust.

Ballard estimates that about 2,000 tam junipers will be destroyed in Marin this year under the eradication campaign. He said this is the first lawsuit filed against him.

Tidwell Acquitted In Trio-Murder Retrial

I-J Special Report

EUREKA — One of two brothers who spent more than three years on San Quentin's Death Row for the murder of three persons in Lassen County in 1967 has been acquitted in a second trial.

Freed after a jury verdict Wednesday night in Humboldt County Superior Court was William Tidwell, 24.

Tidwell and his brother, Robert, now 21, were convicted in Lassen County in 1967 for the slaying of Susanville rancher Levoy DeForest and his wife Jeannette and a Hoopa logger, Keith Utterback, a few days later.

The brothers won new trials after the California Supreme Court ruled last year that a change of venue sought from rural Lassen County should have been granted.

During the second trial the defense attacked the reliability of the prosecution's evidence, producing expert witnesses who criticized the poor quality of plaster casts of footprints found near the two murder scenes.

The defense also produced a shoe store owner who testified that boots offered as belonging to William Tidwell were the wrong size.

The younger brother is tentatively set for retrial on Dec. 13, also in Humboldt County, before Judge William Watson Jr.

Woman, 55, Hurt In Car Collision

A 55-year-old San Rafael woman suffered minor injuries yesterday when her car struck a parked car on H Street near Center Boulevard, San Rafael police reported today.

Police said Marian F. Kress, of 49 Treehaven Drive, indicated she would see her own doctor. Mrs. Kress's car struck a car owned by Ghagwan So Mirchandan of 207 H Street, police said. No other details of the accident were available.

Thoresen Guns To Be Returned

FRESNO (UPI) — About $40,000 worth of guns and ammunition found in the home of slain millionaire William E. Thoresen III will be returned to his estate.

His widow, Mrs. Louis Thoresen, who was acquitted of her husband's shooting death in a jury trial a year ago, received court approval for the return of the weapons Thursday.

However, her attorney Kenneth Devaney said all weapons found in the house which were illegal to possess, or of a type used in criminal activity, such as machine guns and hand grenades, would be kept by the government.

He said it was agreed that onlythose weapons of a kind which are sold by sporting goods dealers would be given to the estate.

A Joint Fight On Two Fronts

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Conservationists and the NAACP joined Thursday to fight freeways and protect the environment of ghetto areas.

The NAACP, the Environmental Defense Fund and the Mexican-American Legal Defense Fund called their new group the National Coalition to Fight Freeways.

They said they would battle the federal highway program following two recent court decisions blocking freeways which would have run through ghetto areas in Seattle, Wash., and Alameda County, Calif.

Nixon's Stock In State Improving

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The California Poll reported today President Nixon's chances of capturing California in next year's presidential election "are now much better than they were justbefore he imposed his wage-price freeeze." The poll said Nixon trailed Democratic presidential hopeful Sen. Edmund Muskie by seven percentage points last August.

The poll said the latest survey was completed last week "and consisted of a representative cross section of 1007 potential voters including a proportionate number of 18-20 year olds."

'The Saviors Of Society' Hit

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—E.H. Gott, chairman ofU.S. Steel, said Thursday the "self-styled saviors of society"—critics of private business—are more interested in capitalizing upon America's problems than in helping solve them.

Much of the criticism has the "ring of pure demogoguery," Gott told the regional meeting of the American Iron & Steel Institute.

Decision Delayed On Apartments

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—By a 6-1 vote, the San Francisco Planning Commission has voted to postpone until Jan. 13 its review of the controversial twin-tower Russian Hill apartment proposal.

Mrs. Nixon Lobbies For Peking Trip

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Pat Nixon says she definitely plans to accompany the President on his trip to Moscow next May, but she's still a stand-by so far as the presidential journey to China is concerned.

The First Lady said Thursday she is lobbying to make the trip to Peking but "I don't get everything I lobby for." She also revealed that presidential adviser Henry Kissinger came back from his last trip to Peking raving about a dish he had — chicken and walnuts — and she now has the recipe and has asked the White House chef to serve it.

The American Tunaboat Association reported the vessels Wiley V. A. and the Ecuador, both based in San Diego, were taken to Salinas after they were seized about 70 miles west of the port city Thursday.

Ed Silva, ATA vice president, said word of the incident was received from another vessel fishing off the Ecuadorian coast.

Silva estimated the two boats would be fined $23,000 each, making the total collected this month by authorities in Ecuador almost $500,000.

Demo Remap Plan Presses On Despite Reagan Veto Threat

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Assembly Democrats today pressed ahead with their own redistricting plan in the face of a threatened veto by Gov. Ronald Reagan and a looming court test.

The proposal's architect, Assemblyman Henry Waxman, said he doubts whether the Republican governor has the power to veto reapportionment bills anyway.

The bill shot out of the Democratic-dominated Reapportionment Committee Thursday and to the full Assembly after the collapse of private talks aimed at finding a compromise settlement. Republicans cast the "no" votes.

Assemblyman Jerry Lewis, top Republican redistricting expert, condemned committee approval of the plan as a "railroad" and forcast that Reagan "will veto it if it gets to his desk in that shape."

Basically, the plan is designed to expand the Democrats' 42-38 margin to 44-36; target Republicans Floyd Wakefield of South Gate and Charles Conrad of Sherman Oaks as political casualties; and create "safe" districts for five GOP incumbents.

Additionally it would transfer the San Francisco district of Democrat John Foran to Southern California because of the south's greater population increase and retain the Los Angeles district of GOP election upset winner Bill Brophy as predominately Democratic and Chicano.

The plan was amended into the Senate reapportionment bill carried by Sen. Mervyn Dymally, D-Los Angeles. The committee took no action on congressional reapportionment.

By combining the Senate and Assembly redistricting plans into a single bill, Reagan's options would be limited to either signing the bill or vetoing the entire legislative reapportionment. Senate Republicans are generally satisfied with their plan.

The Democratic plan originally proposed at least 46 Democratic districts.

SACRAMENTO ROUNDUP

Withholding Tax Scores Victory

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —A half-billion-dollar tax increase that would establish state income tax withholding on Jan. 1 has reached the Senate floor with Gov. Ronald Reagan's blessings.

Legislators say the package is in near final form for enactment.

The bill would raise taxes high enough to plug a $310 million revenue gap in the $6.8 billion state budget, finance $200 million in one-time building construction and provide $23 million in business inventory tax relief.

Most of the money—$470 million—would be raised from withholding.

The package's remaining $83 million would come from increased taxes on banks, corporations, the oil industry and wealthy individuals now enjoying "preferential income" loopholes.

The bill, by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, is the only major tax package still active in the legislature, which wrestled behind the scenes for months attempting to negotiate a massive property tax relief plan.

"We sat downstairs (in the governor's office) all year talking and the time for talking's over," admonished veteran Senate Finance Committee Chairman Randolph Collier, D-Yreka.

Collier's committee approved the Bagley bill on a voice vote Thursday and sent it to the full Senate, which is expected to pass the measure—perhaps next week—and pave the way for final negotiations in a twohouse conference committee.

BENEFITS

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Farm workers in California would receive unemployment benefits of $65 a week for a maximum 26 weeks under a bill which has been approved by the Senate.

The measure passed the upper house on a 22-11 vote Thursday over the objections of Sen. Fred Marler, R-Redding, who said it would cost farmers $34 million annually and increase farming costs.

PAY HIKES

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Senate has voted to ignore Gov. Ronald Reagan and award 150,000 state employes—except college faculty—a 5 per cent raise retroactive to Nov. 14.

The measure by Sen. George R. Moscone, D-San Francisco, was sent to the Assembly on a 28-5 vote, thus wiping out an earlier defeat for the same bill.

The pay boost would become effective, however, only if the Legislature votes to increase taxes at least $26.8 million to finance it.

The Moscone bill, approved without debate, excludes University of California and State College faculty members, but awards the increase to nonacademic personnel.

Reagan vetoed a 5 per cent pay raise for employes in the current state budget. He also trimmed out a 10 per cent boost for faculty members at the same time.

Last Friday, the governor vetoed another bill which would have provided professors with a 7.5 per cent salary hike costing $17.9 million also on the provision of new taxes. Faculty members have not had a pay raise for 2 ½ years.

If the Moscone bill reaches his desk, he could veto that, too.

The Senate Finance Committee Thursday, in a futile last attempt, rejected a 5 per cent pay raise for professors.

PRISON STUDY

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Legislation creating the post of state prison ombudsman with board investigatory powers within the correctional system has been approved by the Senate Finance Committee.

The measure by Assemblyman Frank Murphy Jr., R-Santa Cruz, was approved Thursday on a split voice vote over the objections of the State Finance Department.

Under the bill, the ombudsman would investigate complaints by guards, convicts, or anyone else connected with the correctional system.

Murphy's bill, the State Finance Department said, would cost $400,000 in state funds and duplicates grievance procedures already in effect.

But Murphy countered that persons now hearing grievances have only been appointed by each prison since he introduced the bill. He said the cost of the ombudsman program would be reimbursed by federal funds.

He also said the people now hearing grievances are correctional officers who are forced to make decisions about disputes between their fellow officers and convicts.

WELFARE

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —Gov. Ronald Reagan, citing another decline in California's welfare rolls, says the states and not the federal government should provide solutions to the "welfare dilemma."

"The states can and must do the job," Reagan said Thursday in a statement issued here and in French Lick, Ind., where he was attending the Republican Governors' Conference.

Reporting a drop for the seventh consecutive month in the number of welfare recipients in California, Reagan said, "We know it can be done, and we are proving it in California."

Reagan said 2.1 million persons were on welfare in California in October, a drop of 24,000 below the previous month and 137,000 loweg than the figure for March when the decline began.

He cited States Social Welfare Department figures which showed that $159.9 million was spent on welfare in California last month, compared to $160.8 million in September and $147 million in October, 1970, when there were 44,032 fewer recipients than last month.

NO HELP

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —Sen. James Q. Wedworth, whose absence killed a coastline protection bill according to its author, says he would have voted against the measure.

Wedworth was absent Monday when a critical vote was taken on Assemblyman Alan Sieroty's bill to regulate coastal development. Sieroty told newsmen the Hawthorne Democrat was the swing vote to enable the measure to clear the committee. It died one vote short.

At a news conference called by Wedworth, the lawmaker said he would not vote to revive the measure, contending it had been debated enough.

He said he was absent attending to "personal business" which had to be taken care of while the coastline bill faced its committee test.

Asked if his business involved buying race horses, Wedworth replied: "Yes, I have some thoroughbreds."

ANGELA COSTS

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Legislation to help counties pay the costs of lengthy trials, such as the Angela Davis and Juan Corona Cases, has been unanimously approved by Assembly.

The bill by Sen. Fred Marler, R-Redding, was returned to the senate Thursday on a 56-0 vote for concurrence in assembly amendments.

Under the bill, the state would be required to reimburse counties for the cost of court proceedings which exceed the amount obtained from a property tax of 5 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

In Sutter County, where Juan Corona is being held on charges of hacking to death 25 transient farm workers, the county would be reimbursed after it had spent $80,959 on proceedings in the Corona case.

FIDEL RELAXES

Fidel Castro, wearing a sombrero and coal miner's overalls, yesterday drank from a traditional Chilean wine flask after taking part in a folk music performance at a Playa Blanca, Chile, coal mine. Today, Castro continued his 10-day visit to Chile, sailing aboard a naval destroyer with President Salvador Allende in a voyage to Punta Arenas, the world's southernmost city.

Youth Panel In Support Of Book

The Marin County Youth Commission yesterday agreed unanimously to support San Rafael High School teacher Virginia Franklin in her use of the controversial book, "Movement Toward a New America."

Use of the book in a class on propaganda has drawn criticism from parents of students and other segments of the community.

The commission heard Mrs. Franklin discuss the book, a collection of "New Left" articles two weeks ago, but reported it has been unable to get a speaker opposed to the book.

In a resolution adopted yesterday, the commission said it endorsed "Mrs. Franklin's right to use the book... in order that her students might better understand the dangers of different kinds of propaganda."

In other action yesterday the commission heard a suggestion by Chris Thorsen of Marin Open House that commissioners and Open House representatives go on a joint "retreat" to gain new understanding of each other.

Thorsen said the retreat would be "a chance for the commissioners to get together on a personal level," possibly in "the woods, a cabin or some other nonorganizational atmosphere."

Commissioners asked Youth Coordinator L. Charles Smith to check with the county counsel's office to determine if such a retreat would be in violation of the Ralph M. Brown Act, which sets limits for nonpublic meetings.

The commission also agreed to work with the Police-Community Relations office in a study of recreational facilities for youth in the county.

GOP Governors Rake Democrats

FRENCH LICK, Ind. (UPI) — Republican governors charged Democratic leaders in Congress today with "abdicating their clear and urgent responsibilities to the people of America" by blockading revenue-sharing legislation and other domestic proposals advanced by President Nixon.

A statement approved unanimously at the Republican Governors' association's winter meeting here said "footdragging and obstructionism" and "the reactionary, stubborn refusal of the Democratic congressional hierarchy to respond to the people's demand for help" has forced state and local governments to increase taxes and cut back on services to the people.

They demanded action on Nixon's program to share federal revenues with the states before June 30.

Nejedly Throat Polyp Benign

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The University of California Medical Center has reported that a polyp removed from the throat of Sen. John Nejedly, R-Walnut Creek, was benign.

Nejedly, 56, a leadingo conservationist in the Senate, underwent surgery Wednesday, and a hospital spokesman said he would remain in the center "a few more days."

The report on the polyp was issued by the center's pathologist.

Baby Girl A Cause To Rejoice

VICTORVILLE, Calif. (UPI) —Glenn Walter wanted a daughter, and when his wife delivered, he kept his promise to tell the world.

After five sons, Walter told his wife that if their coming child was a daughter, he would "write it all over the skies." Mrs. Walter produced Miss Walter Tuesday night.

And so Thursday, skywriter V. E. Noble came out of retirement to do a job for Walter. In big, white letters that floated over Apple Valley, Noble wrote:

"Pat, we did it! A girl!"

Stevenson Assails Butz Nomination

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson III, D-Ill., joined a growing number of Democrats today in fighting confirmation of Earl L. Butz as agriculture secretary. Other critics of President Nixon's nominee charged that rural unrest over low farm prices had reached the highest pitch in many years.

In prepared testimony for Senate Agriculture committee hearings on the nomination, Stevenson assailed the Butz appointment as a possible "death warrant for the remains of rural America" because Butz allegedly favors corporation-owned over family-operated farms.

Trio Booked In Probe Of Burglary

Two 16-year-old boys and a 15-year-old companion were booked into Marin Juvenile Hall last night on suspicion of burglary.

San Rafael police said Craig A. Jensen, 16, of 425 First Street, San Rafael; Robert Charles Shanoff, 16, of 513 Bodega Avenue, Petaluma, and Christopher Steven Grupe, 15, of 30 Novato Street, Apt. 302, San Rafael, were arrested on suspicion of breaking into an automobile parked on Mission Avenue, near High Street, shortly before 11:30 p.m. yesterday.

They were apprehended after Shanoff and Grupe ran when they saw a police patrol car driving down Mission. The two eluded police, but officers found two stereo speakers and two microphones, valued at a total of more than $200, in the area.

The three boys were located at a nearby market and brought to the police station for questioning about curfew violation.

While they were at the station, police said, Dennis Martin Oliver of 320 Marin Oaks Drive, Novato, reported to police that his car had been broken into and speakers and microphones stolen.

The boys were then booked at Juvenile Hall, officers said.

Scalp Is Cut In Automobile Crash

Jack E. Beasley, 41, of 1 Equestrian Court, Novato, suffered a cut scalp when his car struck a power pole at Hill Road and Bradley Avenue at 3:47 a.m. today, Novato police reported.

Beasley was driving south on Hill when his car went off the roadway, officers said. He was admitted to Novato General Hospital where he was reported in good condition.

Shoreline Schools' Chief Gets A Raise

Shoreline Unified School District trustees last night awarded a $1,500 pay increase to Supt. Charles McCully, putting his yearly salary at $23,000.

McCully, who declined an increase in July when his contract was renewed, asked trustees to defer action last night until the next meeting so the item can be logged on the agenda, giving the public time to lodge any protest.

Trustee Robert Giacomini pointed out that the pay boost had been listed on an agenda six months ago, but was tabled.

Board President Robert Gallagher declared that since the superintendent was now holding down three positions — also serving as high school principal and assistant superintendent — he deserved a raise.

During a 90-minute closed session to discuss personnel, the board decided to authorize McCully to begin looking for an assistant.

The district this year experienced a sharp drop in tax revenue because of money lost to the county when ranchlands were either acquired by the federal government or placed in agricultural preserve status.

The board also voted to provide the district's 53 teachers with a 4 per cent pay raise, reinstating a hike approved before the presidential wage-price freeze went into effect.

Reporting a brightening on the financial front, McCully said that 99 students — children of persons working or living on federal land — are qualified to bring special federal funding to the district.

McCully said he did not know how much money would be available under Public Law 874. He noted that two-thirds of the funding would be in district hands by June 30, with the rest coming by late summer or early fall.

He said the distribution of survey cards to students to ascertain which parents live or work on federal land will continue each school year.

In order to show the district's tax loss, the county assessor's office computed the mythical figure of how much the district's assessed valuation would be if the Point Reyes National Seashore and agricultural preserves did not exist. The total was slightly more than $8 million, McCully said.

The Shoreline Unified School District Board also:

LUNCH — Voted to extend Tomales High School's lunch program to include a hot dish, vegetables, salads, and fruits to augment sandwiches now provided at a cost of 45 cents daily.

ELECTION — Approved arguments to go on the Jan. 11 ballot in favor of a $1.2 million bond proposal to expand Tomales and Bodega Bay elementary schools.

CAMPAIGN — Heard McCully announce that at least one board member or administrator will attend all area meetings and be available to explain the need for bond passage.

HIGH COSTS — Heard a contractor's quote for demolition and hauling away the old Tomales High School. Costs would range from $41,300 if carted to a Novato dump to $30,500 if hauled and burned or dumped within five miles of the site.

TAXES — Learned that under a new state law it must pay property taxes on unused property in the next two or three years.

LAND — Voted to discuss sale of the district's three-acre Bloomfield property and two lots in the town of Tomales during the board's December meeting.

HIRED — Hired a new custodian, William Guiney, for West Marin School to replace Alred Rodoni, and hired Ruth Ezkenroad as Tomales High School cafeteria worker at an hourly salary of $2.85.

Bus To Be Shown At Northgate

The first public display of one of the Golden Gate Bridge District's new buses will be held tomorrow from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Northgate Shopping Center.

The $45,000 air-conditioned coach will be displayed in the parking lot between the Emporium and Roos-Atkins.

District officials will distribute general outlines at the display of local routes and schedules to begin throughout Marin on Dec. 13.

The coach is one of 132 new buses bought by the district. Commute service is scheduled to begin in January.

Detailed information on both the local and commute service will be discussed by the district joint transportation and finance-auditing committee at 8 p.m. on Dec. 2, in the Marin County Civic Center.

Driver Injured; Car Into Pole

Martin W. Wilson, 31, of 218 Lovell Avenue, Mill Valley, was injured at 10:45 p.m. yesterday when his car veered into a utility pole on Miller Avenue near Tamalpais High School, Mill Valley police reported.

He was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with a cut chin and left shin and a broken left leg.

Police said Wilson's northbound auto first swerved into the center divider of Miller Avenue north of Almonte Boulevard and then to the right; slamming into a utility pole and demolishing the car.

Detail Over Housing Plan Is Nailed Down

The Corge Madera Planning Commission last night began nailing down details of the proposed massive townhouse development, Meadowsweet Station, planned for south of the Koch luggage plant.

Town Engineer Arthur N. Morrison said the meeting, attended by about 50 persons, was in quiet contrast to earlier stormy sessions over the 540-unit development.

Residents of neighboring Marin Estates have complained that the huge development would adversely affect their uncrowded way of life.

The street system, the entrance to the development and the cut and fill aspects of the development were discussed, Morrison said.

Commissioners reached general agreement over these aspects in their discussion with the developer, Warner Odenthal, and the town's planning adviser, Thomas Cooke of Sedway and Cooke of San Francisco.

Morrison said the developer has agreed to adopt most of the suggestions made by Cooke. Earlier, Odenthal had agreed to cut the number of units from 630 to 540.

Not discussed last night, Morrison said, was the school problem for the development. The 75 acres are now in Mill Valley School District, which has objected to having to educate children from the development.

Air Charter Services Held To Be Illegal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Three airline charter services alleged by the Civil Aeronautics Board to be operating illegally are still booking flight reservations, according to Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin, D-Calif.

Van Deerlin, in testimony Thursday before a Senate committee, identified them as Consolidated Air Brokers, Inc.; Tour Europe Travel Agency, Inc., and Aeromatic Travel Corp., all of New York City.

Youth Panel Sets Session On Goals

The Novato Youth Advisory Committee, still probing its way, agreed last night to have a special meeting Tuesday to determine its goals.

City Mgr. Charles A. Brown said committee members present felt that before getting in touch with other students, the committee members "should decide what they want to find out." The committee will meet at 3 p.m. Tuesday at the Novato Branch Library.

MANSON'S TRIAL

The Final Chapter Is Being Written

By JACK V. FOX

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Only two seats in the spectator section of the courtroom were occupied Thursday.

They were elderly men with frayed shirt cuffs, the kind who shuffle from one court to another day after day to hear a trial, any trial, to escape from loneliness and boredom and now and then become a vicarious part of the soap opera of other human lives.

On the witness stand, a barrel-chested man with bushy grey hair droned into a microphone, reading from a thick sheaf of onion skin paper.

The judge was busy writing in longhand on the bench. The jurors shifted and coughed, gazed at the ceiling, doodled on notepads. The prosecutor sat with his head in his hands. He could have been asleep.

Only if you listened carefully and caught an occasional phrase or name ... Spahn Ranch ... Leslie van Houten ... Pooh Bear ... would it have occurred that this was the last page of the last chapter of the trials of the notorious Charles Manson.

Manson wasn't even there, though the matter at issue was whether he should get life or a death sentence. It was a moot question, anyway, since he already had been sentenced seven times to the gas chamber at his first trial.

Manson, who celebrated his 37th birthday earlier this week by wearing a vest made of the hair of his "girls," doesn't come to his trial these days. He stays in an adjoining holding tank and occasionally shouts an obscenity through a wire grill.

He has tried to fire the burly man at the microphone a dozen times but Irving Kanarek plods right on, ignoring every insult and sneer, reading over again the questions and answers he got from witnesses in his days of glory at the first trial.

Kanarek pretends not to accept that Manson has been conharks back to the Tate-Labianca harks back to the Tate-Labianca slayings that brought the Manson family its notoriety, wrapping them in with the Hinman-Shea killings, the subject of the current trial. He is filibustering that Charlie is guiltless.

Down on the corner of Broadway and Temple streets where a dozen of his girls once squatted and embroidered, only Squeaky remained. Red-haired ing fuzz against a chill wind, is stocking cap over her resprouting fuzz against a chill wind, is the only original member of the "family" still free.

Six others have been sentenced to death —Susan Atkins, Leslie Van Houten, Patricia Krenwinkel, Steve Grogan, Bobby Beausoleil, Charles "Tex" Watson. Half a dozen others are in prison on felony charges and one —Bruce Davis —still remains to be tried for murder.

Some day next week the jury will begin deliberations and, no Row at San Quentin to join finally will be taken to Death Row at San Quentin to join some 90 other men waiting for a U.S. Supreme Court ruling on the death penalty.

It will be 27 months since the Sharon Tate massacre was emblazoned in the headlines, almost two years and more than $1 million in court costs since the "family" went to trial.

Once, long ago, newsmen had to petition for a seat to cover the proceedings, and courtroom security was tight.

Thursday there were just Irvmen.

DON'T MIX BULLS AND AIRPLANES

KADOKA, S.D. — Alcohol and automobiles don't mix; neither do bulls, banana oil and airplanes.

Dennis Mayfield, an insurance adjuster, found that out when he was called on to check a claim on an airplane on a farm. The farmer's bull, he was told, licked the paint on the nose of the plane ("It has banana oil in it and cattle love it".) The plane was nudged back; then lurched forward, angering the bull.

The bull charged. Estimated damage to the plane: $600. The bull was unhurt. (Los Angeles Times Syndicate.)

Top Airline Executives Meet, Slash NY-Europe Trip Fares

HONOLULU (UPI)—Chief executives of 24 airlines, meeting in an unprecedented two-day session, reached basic agreement Thursday night on a set of lower transatlantic airfares for next year.

The basic price for a New York-London roundtrip of between 22 and 45 days during the off season will be $200, $72 less than at present. The comparable rate to Paris will be $210 andto Frankfurt, $220.

The announcement came after presidents and board chairmen of all the scheduled airlines flying the Atlantic sat together in a conference room for 15 hours over two days, hammering out an agreement their subordintes had failed to reachin three previous tries.

The agreement, which is subject to ratification by all airlines and approval of the governments involved, will avert a cut-rate price war by the carriers. It will go into effect next year—an exact date to be decided later.

No fares in the basic routes between New York and London, Paris and Frankfurt were raised. Many were lowered in an effort to meet competition from charter airlines.

The chief executives also decided on a three-tiered price structure. Lowest fares will be charged from Nov. 1 to March 31; highest fares during the summer months of June 1 to Aug. 31, and middle-level fares in between.

For a normal New York London economy class ticket with no special conditions, winter round-trip fare will be $400, $52 less than at present. During the peak season, the fare will remain at the current $552.

It was in the popular 22-45 day excursion fares where the most significant reductions were made. For a New York-London round trip, the winter fare will be $200, $72 less than at present; the middle fare will be $220, with no comparable rate now, and peak season fare will be $290, $42 less. Round trip fares to Paris are approximately $10 higher in each case, and New York-Frankfurt fares are about $20 higher.

50,000 GI Pullback Is Endorsed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate budget-writers shied away Thursday from forcing President Nixon to end the Vietnam War immediately but endorsed bringing home one-sixth of the U.S. troops in Europe.

In back-to-back votes, the Senate Appropriations Committee rejected 14-10 an amendment to cut off funds for the Indochina conflict but endorsed another, 14-13, that would require the return of 50,000 of the 300,000 American forces stationed in Europe by June 15.

The twin actions came as the committee approved a $70.24 billion Defense Department budget bill for the current fiscal year already more than one-third over —$805.5 million smaller than a version approved by the House Wednesday night and $3.3 billion under Nixon's initial budget requests.

The bill had been scheduled for floor debate today, but the prolonged battle over Nixon's tax package forced an indefinite delay that couldextend past next week's two-day Thanksgiving recess.

No matter when debate begins on the Pentagon budget, there were strong indications attempts would be made to reverse the committee's actions both on the Vietnam issue and reduction of U.S. troops stationed in NATO countries.

5 Die In Border Shelling —Mrs. Gandhi Fears War

NEW DELHI (UPI)—Five persons were killed and 16 injured in shelling along the border between East Pakistan and India's Tripura territory, news reports said today.

Reports said the casualties included East Pakistani war refugees.

A patrol of the Indian Border Security Force (BSF) exchanged fire with Pakistani troops near the northeastern tip on East Pakistan. No casualties were reported.

Prime Minister Indira Gandhi, in a letter to United Nations Secretary General Thant, said Pakistan is preparing to make war with India and she would welcome a U.N. attempt to bring about a political settlement of the dispute.

Her letter, which was presented in parliament during debate on the border situation, said the Pakistanis have moved troops and armor to the Indian borders.

"These steps confirm our belief that Pakistan is seriously preparing to launch a large scale armed conflict with India and we have therefore taken all necessary defensive measures," the letter said.

Iceland Denies Discrimination

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (UPI) —The Icelandic government said today there has been no agreement between Iceland and the United States limiting the number of black GIs serving with the U.S. forces on the island.

The statement, by a foreign ministry spokesman, came in response to Washington reports that Iceland at first refused all black GIs and later agreed to accept a smaller number.

"There have always been black members of the U.S. forces in Iceland," the spokesman said. "Today there are about 130 non-whites, including 42 black GIs."

A San Rafael woman was treated at Marin General Hospital yesterday for a broken nose suffered in an auto accident on Oakmont Avenue, San Rafael.

San Rafael police said Wilma B. Neuhaus, 38, of 95 Oakmont Avenue, told them she swerved to avoid a cat that had run onto the street near 80 Oakmont. Her car jumped a curb and struck a light pole, police said.

School Funding Criticism Voiced

In the last five years, the state of California has poured about one billion dollars into special programs to upgrade teaching of reading and mathematics in the public schools, but their success "has not by a long way been a billion dollars worth," the chairman of the Assembly Education Committee declared last night.

Assemblyman Leroy F. Greene, D-Sacramento, was speaker at a meeting of the Marin County School Boards Association at Dominic's restaurant in San Rafael. "We've got to find another way" to improve public education, he declared.

Greene commented that the statewide testing program — 1970 results of which have just been made public — "was greeted with a rousing lack of enthusiasm by all educators." But it is providing the information the Legislature wanted, he said: a means of comparing the accomplishments of similar school districts, so that one's success can be exported to correct another's failure.

Greene noted that most Marin districts ranked high in the tests, but told his school board audience they shouldn't take too much credit — "you have the smart kids; they ought to come out on top."

The Sacramento assemblyman, who is in his second year as education committee chairman, predicted the results of the Serrano vs. Priest decision by the California Supreme Court "in the end may be considerably more traumatic" than U. S. Supreme Court decisions on segregation. The court found the present method of financing schools, largely from the property tax, may be unconstitutional.

He said he could not conceive of any method of equalization of school support "that will not move money out of this county."

In answer to a question regarding the voucher plan, Greene said, "There will sooner or later be voucher plans in effect." He said he does not see how such a plan — which would issue vouchers to parents for the amounts spent on their children's education, which they could use at non-public schools — could be successful, "but I will vote for it every time."

He supports such plans, he said, because "public education needs the competition."

Greene predicted new efforts next year to get a law permitting collective bargaining for school teachers. "I'm willing to discuss it," he said, "if they're willing to discuss abolishing tenure at the same time. I don't think you can have both."

He also predicted an increasing trend toward year-around operation of schools, as more economical than the nine-month school year with three months of vacation.

Prior to the assemblyman's speech, the association approved two changes in its by-laws. One increases the board of directors from nine members to one member from each school district (21 if all participate). The other changes dues from a schedule based on the districts' attendance to a flat $35 per district. President Laurence G. Hermann of Fairfax said the latter will increase the association's receipts from $400 a year to $700.

Suspect Picked Up

A Richmond man, Lavada Renee McDonald, 25, of the Forty Flags Motel, was picked up yesterday by San Rafael police and booked in county jail on suspicion of committing burglary, grand theft and conspiracy in Contra Costa County. He was being held today on $1,500 bail pending transfer to Richmond.

Nubin Case May Go To Top Court

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The attorney for a black convict who may have to go back to prison today because of a clerical error plans to take the case to the state supreme court. Frank Nubin, 46, an Oakland ironworker, has been free for 22 months but the Adult Authority contends he was released from San Quentin 10 months early because of the error.

Last week the attorney general's office won an order requiring him to report to the authority today, possibly to serve out the 10 months.

Nubin's attorney, Salle Soladay, filed a writ of habeas corpus Thursday with the U.S. District Court.

Federal Judge Alfonso J. Zirpoli declined to grant a restraining order and said the attorney should apply to the State Supreme Court today.

The judge said if the high court denies the writ he will look at the case again.

Ex-Governor's Father Dies

CARSON CITY, Nev. (UPI)— Dominique Laxalt, the Basque sheepherder whose sons became prominent in Nevada politics, legal and literary circles, died Thursday at his home after a lengthy illness. He was 85.

One of Laxalt's sons, Paul, became Nevada's first Basque governor and served from 1966 to 1970. Paul and two other sons, Peter and John, are attorneys. Robert Laxalt of Reno is an author and director of the University of Nevada Press.

The fatherstayed in the background shunning official functions and celebrations and emerged only once in recent years—to attend the swearing in of his son as governor.

Laxalt was born July 14, 1886, near Tardetz, France, in the Basque province of Soule.

New Ocean Sewage Guidelines Revealed

Proposed new policy guidelines covering sewage discharge into ocean waters were unveiled yesterday at Marin Civic Center by the State Water Resources Control Board.

The new policy document, which proposes more than $4 billion in new construction statewide over the next five years, will be discussed again Dec. 2 in San Diego.

It seeks to encourage the use of new technological methods in secondary sewage treatment to protect the ocean's ecological balance.

The only Marin County area immediately affected by the policy, once adopted, will be Bolinas-Stinson Beach.

Jerome B. Gilbert, the board's executive officer, said the recently scrapped $8.1 million sewage treatment plan for the communities would have met policy criteria.

If adopted, however, it could result in the expenditure of hundreds of millions of dollars elsewhere in the Bay Area for new or altered treatment facilities.

A spokesman for Brown and Caldwell engineers told the board $80 million would have to be spent to bring San Francisco's sewage treatment up to standards including a 12-mile outfall line to the Gulf of the Farallones.

Among other things, it calls for:

A minimum distance of 1000 feet from the shoreline and a minimum depth of 100 feet for discharge of sewage into the ocean.

Tighter restrictions on waste disposal in areas where humans swim or engage in water sports and where shellfish are harvested for human consumption.

Prohibiting discoloration of the surface and floatable materials from being visible from the shoreline.

Gilbert said the policy is the first of several to be drafted by the state. The next will deal with discharge into California bays and the delta area.

Whice will apply to Marin will depend on a Marin Municipal Water District study on consolidation of county sanitary districts, he said.

That study will consider discharging directly into the ocean by piping sewage through Tennessee Valley or to continue discharge into San Francisco Bay.

Enlistments Up

FT. KNOX, Ky. (UPI) — Officials at this Army training center report that enlistments were up during the recent draft moratorium. The increase in volunteers has been attributed in part to underemployment among youths.

Novatan Named In Girlfriend Testimony

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) —A San Francisco woman has testified at the smuggling trial of five men that she was present when one of the defendants met with her boyfriend in Mexico City last February to discuss importing marijuana into the United States.

Maria Kirby, 34, was the fourth prosecution witness to testify before a U.S. District Court jury of eight women and four men.

After disclosing a background of narcotics use and a "drinking problem," Miss Kirby said Thursday she did not pay much attention to the initial conversation between Leonard Glassberg, 31, of Novato, Calif., her companion, and defendant Edwon Whipple, 45, of Duncan, Calif.

She testified that in a later discussion between the men she overheard Whipple say he could supply a plane for Glassberg to use to smuggle marijuana. Under cross-examination, Miss Kirby said she "assumed" that the plane Whipple volunteered was to be used for smuggling marijuana.

Glassberg, who has pleaded guilty, is jailed on a marijuana possession charge in the Bucks County, Pa., jail.

Glassberg, who preceded Miss Kirby on the stand, said that Whipple sought to join his partnership with another defendant, David Miller, 34, Corte Madera, Calif., in the smuggling venture.

The trial stemmed from the government seizure of a ton of marijuana which authorities said had been flown to an isolated airport here from Vera Cruz last March 15. They put a retail price tag of $4 million on the shipment.

Innocent Plea To Inn Slaying

Russell Gilbert Wonnacott, 48, of Eureka, charged with a murder committed at the Holiday Inn in San Rafael last Saturday night, has pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court.

Judge Robert A. Smallman yesterday set a preliminary hearing for Nov. 29.

Wonnacott is accused of shooting to death his estranged wife's boyfriend, Charles Patrick Ely, 37, of 260 Canal Street.

San Rafael police said Wonnacott had come to San Rafael to visit his two children. His estranged wife, Jane, and the children lived with Ely.

They all went out to dinner and were talking in Wonnacott's room at the Holiday Inn when Ely was shot.

Within Budget

FRANKFORT, Ky. (UPI) — Kentucky was the only state to stay within its Medicaid budget during the 1970-71 fiscal year. Part of the reason, Kentucky Economic Security Commissioner Merritt S. Dietz Jr., told the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, was that Kentucky requires "more proof of eligibility."

Special Meeting Slated Tomorrow

The Strawberry Recreation District board will hold a special meeting at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at the Strawberry Community Building to hear a report on repairs being made to the building and to consider buying new athletic equipment.

The board also will hold a closed session on a pending lawsuit over access to Strawberry Cove and will consider applicants for district clerk.

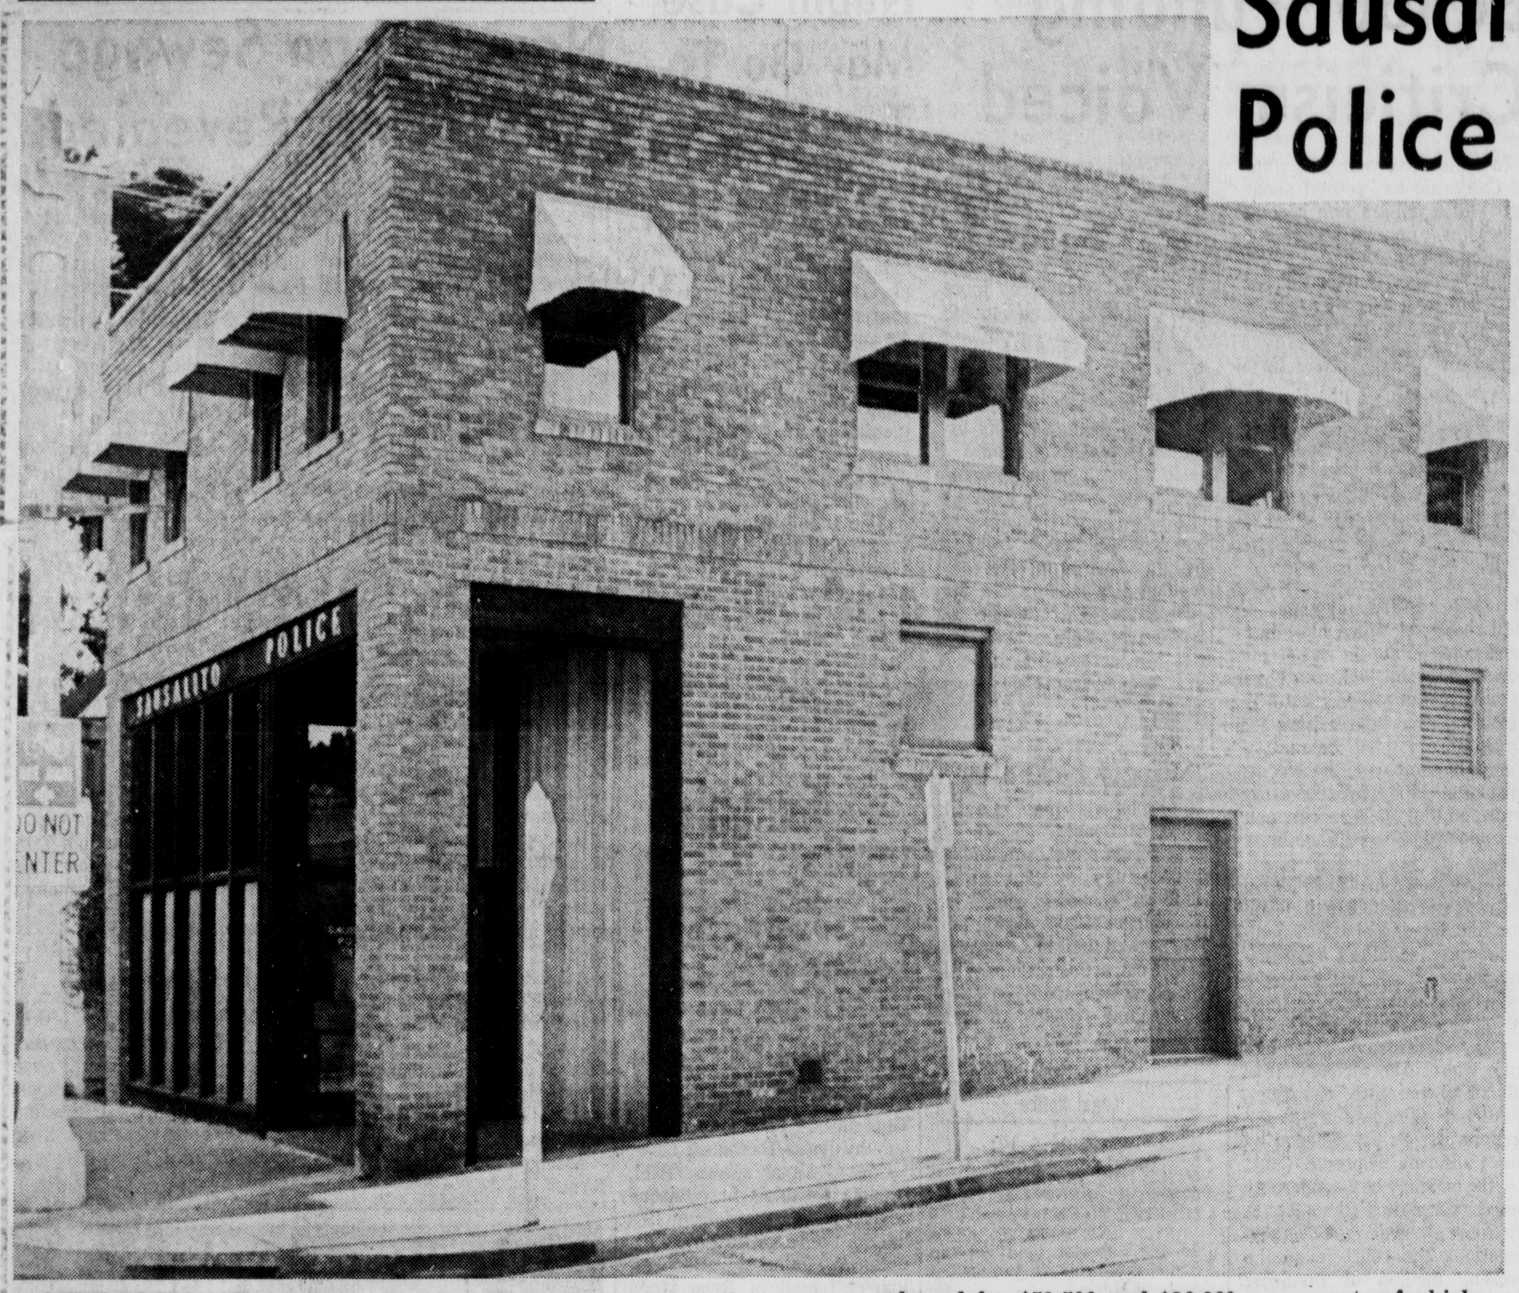
Sausalito's New Police Quarters



NEW LOOK — Two years after Sausalito voters approved an $80,000 bond issue for expansion and remodeling of the Sausalito police station, proud officers showed off their facelifted headquarters at an open house yesterday. The station, which the city rented for $3,300 per year until 1969, was purchased for $58,500 and $86,260 was spent refurbishing the entire building, removing two upstairs apartments and adding another wing. The fully carpeted, wood-paneled station has about 3,000 square feet more space than the old building.

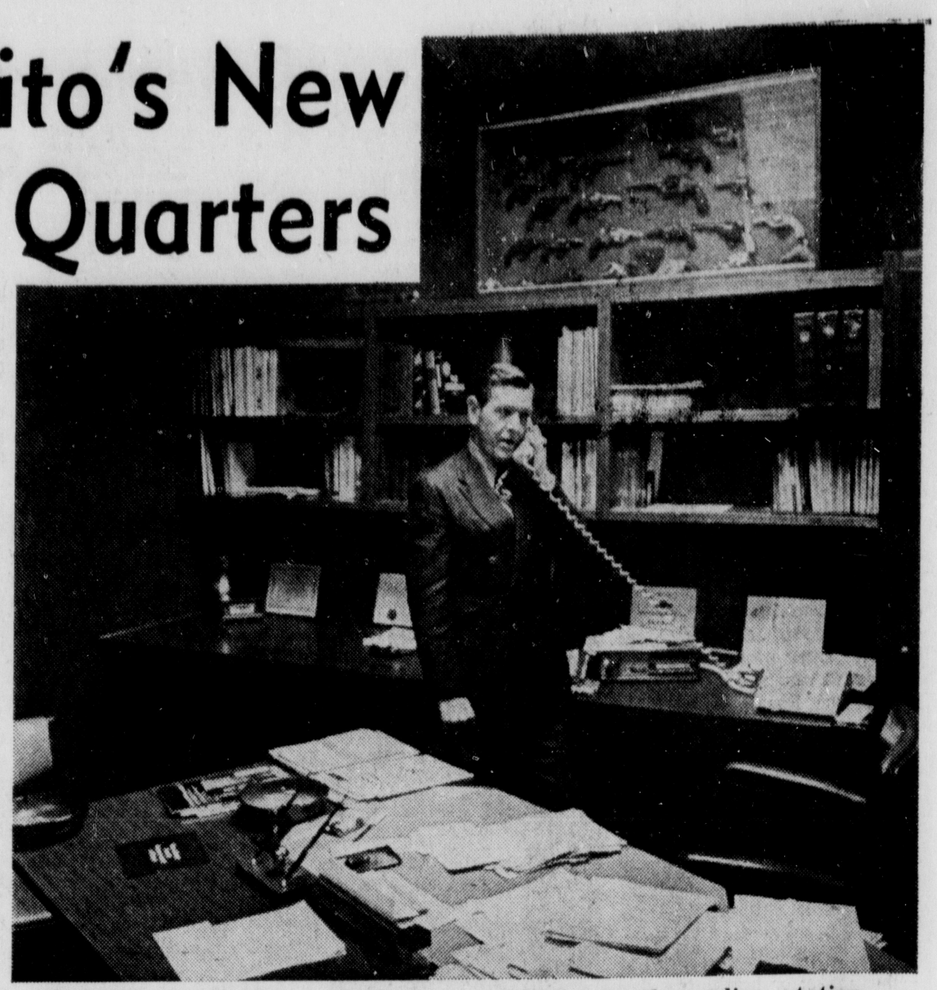
SPACIOUS FRONT OFFICE — Visitors to the station now are greeted by this modern front desk, much larger than the tiny counter over which all walk-in business was conducted in the past. Microfilm reader-scanner behind counter allows police to convert all station records to film for easy storage.

NERVE CENTER — The heart of the station's communications operation is the dispatch room, where Mary June Vinson handles radio and telephone calls. Before the remodeling, the dispatcher was responsible for those duties as well as handling walk-in traffic. The department is the only police station in the county with a Police Information Network computer terminal, which relays information about wanted persons and stolen vehicles.



CHIEF'S OFFICE — Wall-to-wall carpeting, hardwood paneling on the walls and cathedral ceiling with exposed beams sets off Chief James D. Wright's office, built in the 3,000-square-foot addition to the police station. With the exception of a few details, everything is ready for tonight's open house. One thing still bothers Wright, though — the roof in his office leaks.

Petaluman Dies In Plane Crash

A Federal Aviation Administration examiner from Petaluma and a student pilot were killed yesterday when their light plane crashed five miles north of Bodega Bay.

The Sonoma County sheriff's office identified the victims as Carl M. Berglund Jr., 53, of 9 Averye Way, and Robert Monghmer, 26, a student pilot from Santa Rosa.

Deputies said the flight originated at Coddingtown Airport, Santa Rosa, to determine if Monghmer was qualified for a pilot's license.

The crash occurred about 10:45 a.m. on the Marshall Herndon ranch, a quarter-mile from the Pacific Ocean. Two linemen for Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. working in the area said they saw the plane veer to the left and then spin nose-down to the ground.

The Piper Tri-Pacer skidded on its back for 81 yards and then burst into flames. The Sonoma County Coroner's office said it has not yet been determined if the men were killed by the impact or by the fire. The FAA is investigating the cause of the crash.

Donald Tannehill of the coroner's office reported that Monghmer had taken a two-week leave of absence from his job at the Bartley Pump Co. to complete his flight training. Yesterday's flight was to have been his last step toward getting a license. He is survived by his father, Glenn Monghmer of Santa Rosa.

Berglund had been a flight instructor for 25 years and became an FAA examiner after retirement from the Air Force in 1964.

He was born in Milroy, Minn., and was reared and educated in Emmett, Idaho. Berglund joined the Air Force in 1940 and was an aircraft technician with the Western Air Defense Force, which later became the Northern Air Defense Command (NORAD).

While in the Air Force, he won five Bronze Stars.

He and his wife, Rosalee, had lived in Petaluma 22 years.

He is also survived by two sons, Carl M. Berglund III of Petaluma, and Rodney Lee Berglund, serving with the Navy, two brothers, Ralph Berglund of Emmett, Idaho, and Paul Berglund of Boise, Idaho, a sister, Vivian Skeen of Wrangell, Alaska, and two grandchildren.

Funeral with full military honors will be at 11 a.m. Monday at Parent Funeral Chapel, Petaluma. Burial will be at Cypress Hill Memorial Park.

Portable Class Firms Are Fined

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Four manufacturers of portable classrooms were fined $10,000 each yesterday for antitrust violations involving restriction of competition.

U.S. District Court Judge Stanley A. Weigel could have fined each of the four a maximum of $50,000. The firms, found guilty by a jury last month, were Modulux, Inc. of Newark; Vinnell Steel Co. of Alhambra; Speedspace Corp. of Santa Rosa, and Design Facilities Leasing Co. of El Monte.

(The Marin County Counsel's office has discussed with the state Attorney General's office whether Marin school districts might recover some funds in any civil class action suit resulting from the conclusion of the criminal antitrust suit yesterday.

(Richard V. Godino, assistant counsel, said he doubted there would be any recovery, since the criminal case involved a highly specialized point. The four firms were convicted of agreeing among each other only in cases in which purchasers called for rebids on supplying buildings. Godino said he thought few Marin school districts were involved in any rebid situation.)

Residents In Dominican Section Air Complaints

About 60 persons turned out last night for the semiannual meeting of the Black Canyon Neighborhood Association to air complaints ranging from roaming dogs to youth vandalism.

Association president Walter Smith said the purpose of the session was to make city officials aware of resident grievances. City Mgr. James H. McCown and Detective Donald Rose of the San Rafael police attended the session and answered questions by homeowners.

Smith said McCown and Rose urged the residents to bring grievances to the prompt attention of city officials.

He said homeowners expressed dismay over the shift of the Marin Music Chest from Forest Meadows Theater to the Marin Veterans Memorial Buidling — a move arising from vandalism to the organization's property — and over troubles encountered by the Marin Shakespeare Festival at the Forest Meadows site.

The festival, in addition to vandalism, twice has suffered property loss at the hand of arsonists. And on the last night of the festival this summer, an employee told police he was beaten by youths who tried to steal gate receipts.

Sister Mary Samuel O.P., president of Dominican College, told the gathering in the college's Bertrand Hall that campus property also has been hit by vandals. She mentioned she was compelled to call police five times on one recent night. She praised officers' cooperation.

Several of the homeowners accused the city of failing to act against communal living in a home on Locust Avenue. McCown advised the critics to gather firm evidence that the use is violating single-family zoning and bring it to city officials.

Motorcycle noise also was a topic of concern, Rose noting a solution would be a remote track or course which motorcyclists could use. McCown said the city hoped to have gates installed by Dec. 1 to keep motorcycles and other vehicles off a fire road leading to Black Canyon property purchased last year as park land by the city.

McCown also advised residents to forward to city officials complaints arising from an alleged failure by the Marin County Humane Society to deal with wayward dogs.

Canlett Is Named Permanent Chief

William G. Canlett, acting fire chief for the Tamalpais Fire Department since July 14, was named permanent chief last night by the Tamalpais Fire Protection District board.

Canlett, 27, succeeded Richard K. Oswald as chief when Oswald resigned to devote more time to his repair and real estate businesses. Canlett's duties and his $1,200 monthly salary will remain unchanged despite the new title.

Inmate Wants To Nullify Jail Rite

A San Quentin convict, who was married while in jail almost three years ago but has never lived with his bride, asked for a nullity yesterday in Marin Superior Court.

Charley Bernal, 29, serving one year to life for a San Diego robbery, explained he has been so busy confined to jails and prisons that he never did consummate his marriage with Rachel Monarrez.

Acting as his own attorney, Bernal wrote: "I have never lived with my wife after the marriage. I wish to dissolve the marriage."

Judge Samuel W. Gardiner accepted the filing of the nullity petition, waiving the usual $36.50 fee because Bernal claimed he is a pauper.

Bernal first came to San Quentin in April 1966 but returned in November as a parole violator for marijuana possession. Paroled again in July 1968, he was charged with violation of parole in March 1969 for a San Diego robbery.

On March 23, 1969, while being held in San Diego Jail pending his return to San Quentin, he married Rachel Monarrez in the county jail, kissed her goodbye and entered San Quentin in April.

His petition gave no other reason for his disenchantment with marriage than that he and his wife have never lived together.

Prison officials said there is no record of visits to the inmate from his bride.

Alabama Smog Restraint Lifted

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)— A federal judge today lifted restraining orders which told 23 Birmingham area industries to cease polluting the air following one of the city's worst air pollution crises.

U.S. District Judge Sam C. Pointer Jr. issued the order Thursday at the request of the federal Environmental Protection Agency. It was the first such action ever under emergency provisions of the 1967 Clean Air Act.

Pointer lifted his order following recommendations from the government and health officials. Health officials said air pollution indexes had dropped dramatically by this morning.

Water Plan Could Land In Courts

Court action, rather than the Sonoma County referendum, may be the only way to halt the $113 million Sonoma Aqueduct Project, a leading opponent of the aqueduct told the Irate Taxpayers of Marin last night.

Clement Vanoni, president of the Russian River Water Rights Protective Association, warned that the citizens' vote would only be advisory and not binding on the Sonoma County Water Agency and county supervisors, according to Winifred S. Frederick, Irate Taxpayers publicity chairman.

Vanoni, of Geyserville, charged that dams and water conservation projects through the decades have done nothing to curb flooding in his area, Mrs. Frederick reported.

Marin County residents on Nov. 2, resoundingly defeated ballot measures seeking extension of the aqueduct to the Marin Municipal Water District and North Marin County Water District. The vote results in Marin were mandatory, not advisory. No date has been set for the Sonoma County referendum.

The Irate Taxpayers elected officers for 1972: Sarah Nome of San Anselmo, president; Col. Walter S. Filler of San Rafael, first vice president; Leonard Turner of Marin City, second vice president; Susan Tennler of Greenbrae, treasurer, and Betty Gardner of Woodacre, corresponding secretary. There was no nominee for recording secretary. The group's directors will fill the post after the officers are installed in January, Mrs. Frederick said.

Poets To Give Reading Sunday

Five Marin poets will participate in a poetry reading at 8 p.m. Sunday at the Tiburon Congregational Church, 145 Rock Hill Drive, Tiburon.

A group of street musicians from San Francisco will provide music, wine and cheese will be served, and tapestries and watercolors by Jon Sutton and tapestries by Hal Painter will be on display.

Poets who will read their works are Rosalie Moore, Adrianne Marcus, Mary Hedin, Margaret Atchley and Margaret Albanese.

Inmate Counsel Has Fees Sliced

San Rafael attorney G. Douglas Vaughn, representing a San Quentin inmate in an assault case, is entitled to less that half the fees requested, a Marin Superior Court judge decided today.

Vaughn was appointed last June to defend Louis N. Talamantez, 28, charged with assaulting another prisoner in March 1960. (Talamantez is also one of six convicts accused of murder, assault and conspiracy in the bloody Aug. 21 escape attempt.)

On Aug. 18, Judge Samuel W. Gardiner allowed Vaughn $1,000 in fees, and on Oct. 6, he authorized $500 more. Vaughn argued Tuesday that he deserves at least $3,480. He told the judge he had gained Talamantez's confidence and is able to confer with the inmate, whereas the other convicts involved in the Aug. 21 uprising have refused even to speak with their court-appointed lawyers.

Judge Gardiner said the numerous motions made by Vaughn have been excessive. "However, Mr. Vaughn's attorney-client relationship problem deserves some special consideration, and he is therefore allowed $750 instead of the $500 so that the total allowance for all services to date is $1,750." Vaughn's original request totaled $4,350.

Zone Ordinance Tossed By To Cotati Planners

The Cotati City Council last night heard complaints about the proposed zoning ordinance and returned it to the planning commission for more study.

City Clerk Carol Bonfigli said the council heard real estate agents protest particularly about new requirements for multifamily zones.

The men said they believed open space requirements were too great along with the requirement for covered parking spaces. They told the council that requiring half the parking spaces to be covered would be more realistic.

The council directed the planning commission to study the matter at its meeting next Thursday and return a recommendation to the council.

In other action, the council appointed Alan Stansbury, a salesman for Union Carbide Co., to the planning commission vacancy left by the resignation of chairman Robert J. Frazier.

Assassination Attempt Foiled

PHNOM PENH (UPI)—Cambodian police last week foiled what may have been a planned attempt on the life of U.S. Ambassador Emory C. Swank, a U.S. embassy spokesman said today.

The spokesman said police caught a Cambodian stringing a wire across a road leading from the embassy to the ambassador's residence. The man took police to a house that was some distance away where some detonating caps were found.

The spokesman said "to call it an attempt was exaggerated."

An early attempt on Swank's life Sept. 7 failed when a bicycle loaded with explosives was pushed at his car. The explosives failed to explode.

WORKSHOP SALE

'Soup' To Help Retarded

By BARBARA HOSMER

Two of her interests, one personal and one community, have led Coralie Castle of San Rafael to write a cookbook on soup and donate a portion of the proceeds from the sale of it to the Marin Community Workshop.

Mrs. Castle has had an interest in fine cooking for many years and was one of the Marinites who 11 years ago helped to establish the workshop for training mentally retarded adults. Now the workshop trains and retrains all handicapped persons for work. Mrs. Castle returned to the workshop board two years ago.

"I'VE ALWAYS loved to experiement in the kitchen, and when I had an idea to write a series of minibooks on different foods, I decided to find a publisher for "Soup" and donate the proceeds to the workshop," Mrs. Castle explained.

By a fluke she found her publisher, 101 Productions in San Francisco, which asked for an expanded book set for nationwide distribution.

"So there followed soup tasting parties galore on my part," said Mrs. Castle who with her husband, Alfred, researched the history and quotations that enhance the 183-page book.

"Everyone's tastes are different, as we discovered at the taste-testing gatherings, but by-and-large the seasonings are mild enough to let the cook develop his or her own versions," said the author.

"The Oriental recipes call for a variety of items — Marin is so lucky to have such easy access to those interesting foods, she said. "One of my friends remarked, 'Where in the world do I buy black fungus?' Chinatown, of course, so perhaps we'll turn on some nonexperimental cooks."

The handsome white-covered book with illustrations by Roy Killeen includes soups of all kinds and from many different countries.

The publisher agreed to sell one thousand copies to the Marin Community Workshop, 70-K Woodland Avenue, at half price, and the workshop will keep half of the proceeds.

LENTIL SOUP WITH FRESH PINEAPPLE

1 cup lentils
4 cups beef stock
3 tablespoons grated onion
3 pressed garlic cloves
2 large slices fresh pineapple, cut up
1 can consomme
sour cream

Combine lentils, stock, onion and garlic. Cover, bring to boil and simmer 1 - 1½ hours until lentils are almost tender. Add pineapple and cook 10 minutes. Add consomme, heat and serve with dollops of sour cream. Serves 4 - 6.

"This is not a pretty soup, but the combination of flavors is unusual and surprisingly good. One of the simplest of the bean soups, and the most interesting," Mrs. Castle said.

CAULIFLOWER WITH CHEESE SOUP

4 cups cauliflowerets
4 cups chicken stock
1 teaspoon soy sauce
½ teaspoon each: savory, paprika and garlic powder
¼ teaspoon black pepper
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup evaporated milk
¼ cup freshly grated Parmesan or Romano cheese
2 egg yolks, beaten
3 tablespoons lemon juice

Reserve ½ cup tiny flowerets for garnish. Cook remainder in stock with soy sauce, savory, paprika, garlic powder and pepper until cauliflower is soft. Puree in blender.

Melt butter until bubbly, add flour, and cook, stirring for 3 minutes. Gradually add milk; cook and stir until thickened. Add puree and cheese. Reheat to melt cheese.

Beat egg yolks with lemon juice, whisk into ½ cup hot soup and return to rest of soup. Reheat, do not boil. Garnish with reserved raw flowerets and extra cheese. Serves six.

HERB OXTAIL SOUP
Hearty Meal in a Bowl Soup

2½ pounds oxtails, cut up
2 tablespoons butter or rendered beef fat
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon white pepper
1 cup chopped onion
2 minced garlic cloves
2 teaspoons powdered mushroom
3 cups dry red wine
2 cups water
Bouquet garni of:
2 sprigs parsley
1 sprig rosemary
1 sprig thyme
2 sprigs oregano
½ cup pearl barley
1 cup sliced carrots
1 cup diced potatoes
2 cans beef broth
1 can vegetable juice (optional)
½ cup Madeira wine

Brown oxtails in butter or fat on all sides, sprinkling with salt and pepper as they are cooking. Add onion and garlic the last turn, brown, sprinkle with powdered mushroom and add wine, water and bouquet garni. Cover, bring to boil and cook 1½ hours.

Cool, chill, remove fat and bring back to boil. Add barley and cook 1½ hours. Remove bouquet garni, add carrots, potatoes, broth and optional juice. Bring back to boil and cook 15 minutes or until vegetables are tender-crisp. Adjust seasonings. Just before serving add ½ cup Madeira or to taste. Serves four to six.

"One of many hearty soups to be eaten with knife, fork, and spoon and perhaps served with salad, bread and a light dessert," the author said.

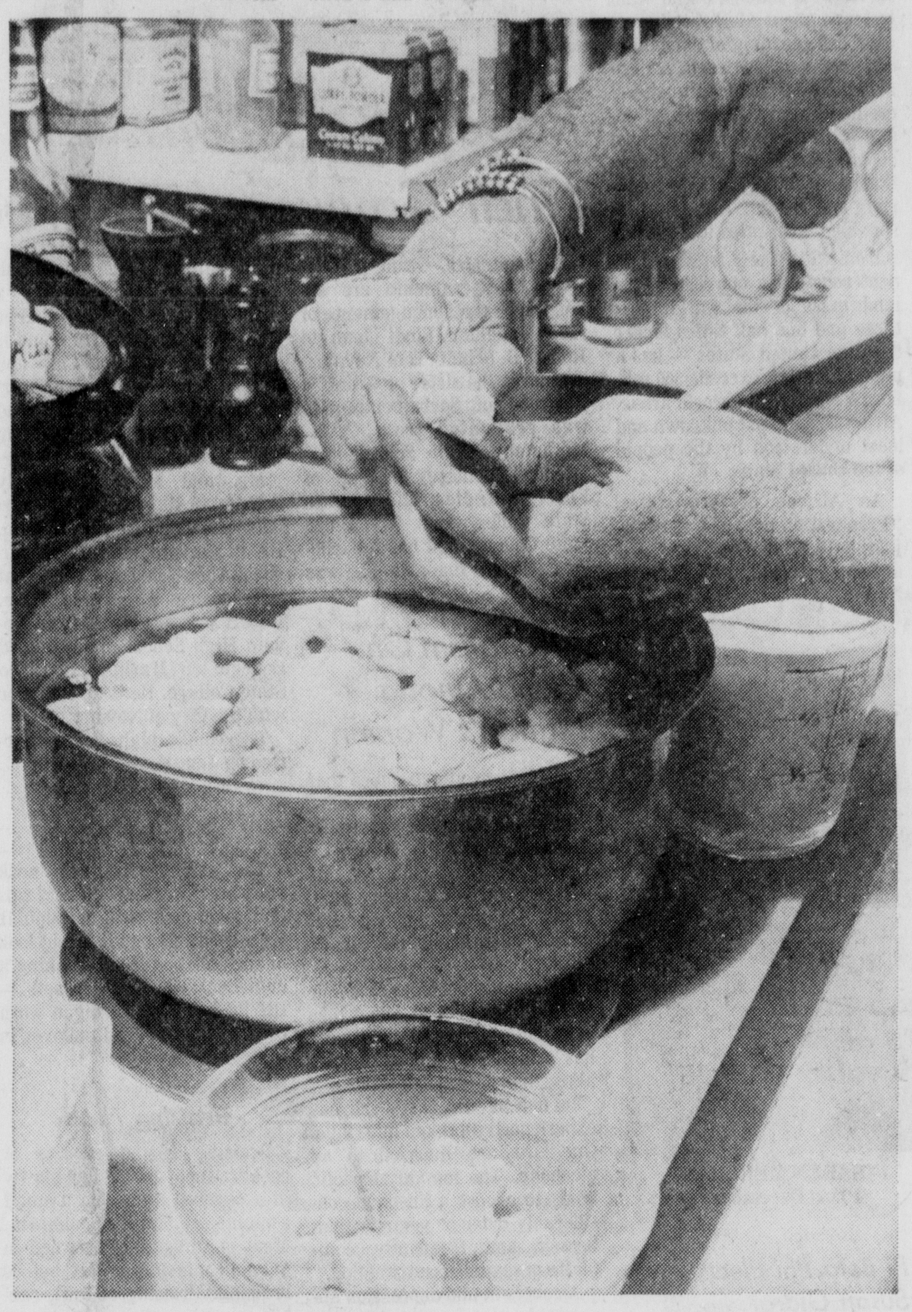
QUICK WATERCRESS SOUP

4 cups water
¼ pound ground lean pork butt
1 slice fresh ginger root
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup diced water chestnuts (canned)
2 bunches watercress, large stems removed (1 quart loosely packed)
1 cup diced tofu

Bring water to boil, crumble in pork, and add ginger, salt and water to chestnuts. Cook at gentle boil 15 minutes. Bring to hard boil, add watercress and cook 5 minutes. Add tofu and cook 3 minutes. Serves 4 - 6.

For easier eating, cut up large watercress sprigs.

Mrs. Castle comments, "The Oriental soups tend to be long and some are complicated. Tofu was glossarized but most Marinites know it's available in Japanese markets and Chinese markets, also called bean curd. Also, watercress in Chinatown is almost always fresh and inexpensive."



PREPARING THE cauliflower flowerets, Mrs. Castle cuts the pieces to bite-size for cooking in chicken stock. Then the mixture of cauliflower and seasonings is pureed in the blender and other ingredients are added.

COOKBOOK AUTHOR Coralie Castle measures ingredients into her Cauliflower with Cheese Soup at her home in San Rafael. Her handsome "Soup" cookbook containing 183 pages of her recipes will be sold at the Marin Community Workshop as a benefit and will also be distributed nationwide.

Clara Hale: Caring For Babies Suffering A Heroin 'Withdrawal'

By MARY TOBIN

NEW YORK (UPI)—At first the newborn seems normal, except perhaps for a slight shrillness in its first cry.

Shortly after birth, however, the baby begins to suffer tremors and diarrhea. It becomes irritable and its muscles become so rigid that it can hold its head upright. The infant is suffering withdrawal symptoms of heroin addiction inherited from its drug-addicted mother.

With the help of medication, doctors are able to bring these pathetic victims of maternal drug abuse through their withdrawal pains in 12 to 36 hours, only to have them often face a life of neglect and abuse when they leave the hospital.

TWO HARLEM women, Mrs. Clara Hale and her daughter Lorraine have become so concerned about the fate of these infants that Mrs. Hale, financed largely by her son Nathan, an accountant, and Lorraine, a teacher, has undertaken to care for 25 of them in the past year and a half. Fifteen of the infants have been reclaimed by the mothers after the mother has undergone what Mrs. Hale hopes is successful drug withdrawal treatment.

At Harlem Hospital Center in New York, where a sizable percentage of this city's drug-addicted mothers deliver, such cases are turned over to the hospital's social welfare department.

"Before we let a drug-addicted mother take a baby from the hospital, we make a thorough investigation of the home situation," said a spokesman for the hospital. "If there are stable relatives willing to care for the baby we release it —if not we must take legal stops to prove the mother unfit —often difficult to do.

"Then you have a baby returned in a few weeks, dead or dying from dehydration or neglect and you've got to consider who your patient really is."

CONCERN FOR babies is nothing new to Clara Hale, whose energy and vitality belie her 65 years. In addition to her own Nathan and Lorraine, she has raised four adopted children and cared for more than 40 foster children for periods of from six months to 10 years.

Mrs. Hale was widowed when Nathan and Lorraine were five and six years old, and she barely in her 20s.

"I tried going out to work for a while," she said, "and leaving Nathan and Lorraine with neighbors, but they just weren't getting proper care. I finally decided there must be other people in my predicament and that by keeping their children in my home I could earn enough to stay home with mine."

Kenneth Hale, 28, the oldest of Mrs. Hale's adopted children, was brought to her by his grandmother when he was two months old with the plea: "Please care for him."

"He had been in a foundling home and had received barely enough care to keep him alive," Mrs. Hale said. "I fed him and cuddled him and on about the third day I was rubbing him down with oil when he looked up at me and smiled. That did it. I had three children."

Kenneth, who graduated from Delaware State College in 1965, is married and teaches in Connecticut.

Julie, now 26, came next and a year later her sister Carol, then Robin, now 16 and a senior at New Lincoln School.

MOST OF her 40 "babies" have come to her by referral from the Child Welfare Bureau. She emphasized, however, that she has never taken money from the state for foster care.

"I have always worked directly with the mothers," she said. "They paid when they could and when they couldn't I got by as best I could."

Neighbors often helped out, giving her $5 or $10 and once she said, it literally fell from the sky.

"I was walking down the street with a friend, wondering how I was going to feed the kids that night, when $5 bills started blowing down the street. My friend kept saying 'you're crazy, they must be phony' but I ran and grabbed until I managed to catch about $50 worth," she said.

With Robin the only one of her six children still in school, Mrs. Hale had just about decided to "retire" when Lorraine brought the first addict-mother home to her. Lorraine had seen the young woman sitting on the stoop of a building, "high" on heroin and holding a baby precariously in her arms.

Miss Hale asked the woman if she would come with her to her mother's apartment and leave the baby in her care. The woman agreed.

Now, with funding from the Addiction Services Agency, Mrs. Hale and Lorraine hope to establish a home for these children, where they can give them the "love and care every infant needs to thrive." They also hope to spend time with the mothers, teaching them to care for the babies when they are ready to claim them, and to provide a study environment for persons interested in observing long-term effects of drug-abuse on infants.

Looking over one wall of her living room that is completely covered with pictures of her 40 "children," Mrs. Hale said proudly that "every one of them has turned out well. This is my reward."

Candlelighters' Cards On Sale

Greeting cards designed by Mrs. Robert Roach of Mill Valley are being sold as a benefit for the Candlelighters Society of Marin.

The cards, appropriate for Christmas or other purposes, depict seasons of the year by showing a tree, and the seasons relate to the emotions felt by one close to a person afflicted by a terminal illness, according to the artist.

Proceeds from the sale benefit the society, a group of families who have cancer-stricken children.

Cards may be purchased at the Art Store in Mill Valley or through Mrs. Lawrence Stickney of Mill Valley, coordinator of card sales.

THE GENERATION RAP

by Helen and Sue Bottel

Stars-And Stripes Patch Starts A Fuss; Father Doesn't Like It

DEAR SUE AND HELEN:

Parents are really something else! We all got into this big fight over nothing. My sister ripped her jeans, and the tear was below the knee. All she wanted to do was put a stars-and-stripes patch over it —the kind you can buy in any store.

But my parents, especially Dad, got uptight about "desecrating the American flag." He said it was renouncing our country, and no daughter of his would do a Communist, hippie thing like that. He was in the Army, which makes him even more uptight.

Well, one thing led to another, and he smacked my sister and sent her crying to her room. So I yelled we had freedom of speech and he hollered it was shameful to even think of putting the flag below your knee.

I'm still in shock, Helen and Sue. Please try to convince my folks that a flag patch (not really a flag even) is not communism or a disgrace to our country. — KIDS VS. PARENTS

SUE'S VIEWS

DEAR KIDS:

"Uncle Sam" wears a stars-and-stripes outfit — pants, jacket, hat —and he's just about as patriotic as you can get. (He also has a scraggly beard, but we won't go into that!)

Many stores sell "star-spangled" jeans, shoes and socks, as well as patches. Kids who wear them aren't "desecrating the flag." They're mainly just following a fad.

And if your Dad figures a "flag" below the knee means it might sometime be "dragged in the dust," or otherwise "disgraced," my neighbor (your parents' age) has an answer: Patriotic people glue flag stickers on their cars, letters, envelopes, etc. Cars have wrecks and get mashed; mail can be stepped on, thrown in the garbage — or even used to stuff a rat hole. No one would think to remove the stickers first.

So isn't it a question of why you're wearing a flag decoration — not where?

NOTE TO YOUR FATHER: No offense, sir, but if you and your daughters could really rap together on how you feel about America, maybe you wouldn't get so uptight about a little patch. Loving your country — and the people in it — is something inside you, not a symbol at the top of a pole. — SUE

HELEN'S ECHO

DEAR KIDS:

Sue's views are mine, too. If parents and children could discuss instead of shout, both generations might stop feeling so threatened. And our mailbags would be much lighter!

Try to see your Dad's side, "Kids." He was brought up in the rigid belief that the flag was America, and it could be displayed only in certain well-defined ways. I remember accidentally dropping our flag at a Girl Scout meet years ago. You won't believe this now but, as it touched the ground, I shook! Somehow I felt I'd be struck down dead, either by God or my country — or both. And I just knew they'd strip off my badges and drum me out of Scouts with a death roll! Silly? Yes! But back then, it was trauma!

Such indoctrination is hard to shake. What you're brought up believing, you'll carry "deep in your guts" the rest of your life — whether it's entirely valid or not . . . And of course the new wave of anti-patriotism, with its real flag-haters, makes this an even more touchy subject.

I know you "kids" mean no disrespect by the patch on your jeans, but your father sees red. He's programmed that way. To him, this is a worse sin than kicking your grandmother.

We won't have much luck trying to convince him differently. Moreover, we'll no doubt encourage a spate of hate mail, because we've presented both sides.

But your letter brought up a subject that has heated many households. Let's hope we've cleared the way for a little fresh air. — HELEN

The Historical Typhoid Mary

Typhoid Mary was possibly the most famous disease carrier in American public health history.

In a discussion of how disease agents are spread from person to person, a U.S. Public Health Service representative said that hands contribute to the transmission of the typhoid bacillus to a considerable degree. He cited the case of Typhoid Mary as an example.

Staphylococci are transmitted almost exclusively through the hands and are discharged in food during handling and preparation. To prevent contamination, a health officer on the same program advised frequent hand washing with a germicidal liquid hand cleanser.

ON BEING BLACK

There's A Way To Get To Know Africa — But Start Planning

By SANDRA HAGGERTY

"Plan now! An African Safari for summer 1972!" The magnificent face of a roaring lion — raw nature, forcefully beautiful — leaped out of the huge travel poster.

Like most Americans, who have never been to Africa, the word safari initially brought to mind a picture of the dense African jungle, with scantily clad black natives carrying spears and guns for a white hunting expedition — a wildlife rip-off session.

Upon further exploration, I found that the word safari has a negative connotation for most blacks.

THE WORD "safar" is a Swahili word meaning journey. Safari denotes a hunting expedition and is considered the white man's word.

African students, who are very concerned about wildlife preservation in their homeland, were particularly prejudiced against the word, feeling that it stood not only for the ultimate depletion of Africa's wildlife population, but generally signified the forced penetration of black Africa by whites.

Interest in Africa has greatly increased, especially with the influences of the contemporary black blitz. American blacks are particularly anxious to visit this magnificent continent — a reunion with the lost motherland.

Travel to Africa is on the upswing and travel agencies and transportation/accommodation concerns are expeditiously tapping this potential. Swinging "seeing" tours are all the rage.

However, for those who are interested in getting to know Africa as well as see it, there is an established organization to familiarize yourself with.

THE AFRICAN-AMERICAN Institute is the major United States non-profit organization working to further African development and increase American understanding of the economies, culture and politics of Africa and of such issues as human rights and racial equality.

AAI offers interested persons the benefit of 17 years of expertise —the result of close and meaningful relationships with Africa.

The AAI has been responsible for bringing African students to United States colleges for training. They have also set up training programs for Africans in Africa.

The Educators to Africa Association (under the auspices of AAI and open to the general public as well as teachers) in addition to offering supportive services to teachers who want to teach about Africa, strives to establish meaningful exchanges and contacts between Americans and Africans, through accredited study programs, on-site visits to Africa, African cultural programs in the United States, updated teaching materials and reading lists and reasonable travel rates to Africa.

Ironically, the African continent constitutes one-fifth of the land mass of the world — is three and one half times larger than the United States — has a population that exceeds 300 million. Yet, of all the world areas, Africa is the most unknown and least understood by the people of the United States.

An African proverb states, "Preparation does not spoil the journey." Plan now for '72 — and if your bread is low, for '73, '74, '75.

Alcoholism On Climb Among Nation's Women

Alcoholism affects more than 700,000 women in the United States, and it may be on the rise. According to Dr. Mary A. Schuckit, of the Washington University School of Medicine in St. Louis, Mo., alcoholism has unique qualities in the female abuser.

She usually becomes alcoholic around the age of 30. She drinks in direct relation to stress and has a higher incidence of drug abuse than do male alcoholics.

In half of the cases she has experienced a broken marriage. One-third are married to an alcoholic. The female alcoholic tends to choose a husband considerably older or younger than herself and frequently complains of sexual dissatisfaction.

Alcoholism and depression appear to be closely related illnesses.

Popular Item

The skinny rib turtle neck shirt and sweater with ring zips and grommets still is popular with coeds. But the classic look of the '40s and '50s is making a comeback via sweater sets — the long-sleeved cardigan worn over a short-sleeved pullover in matching color.

Braising Food

Braising is the process of cooking meat or poultry slowly in a covered utensil in a small amount of liquid or steam. Meat is sometimes browned in a small amount of fat before braising. Braising of fowl, rabbit or veal cut into pieces is called fricasseeing.

AIRPORT HOSTESS

Ingrid Adamski gives directions to travelers at Tampa International Airport. The native of Vienna, Austria, is a former airline stewardess. She is one of eight women employed by the Hillsborough County Aviation Authority to handle tours and act as hostesses for the ultra-modern airport. Most are fluent in several languages. AIRPORT HOSTESSES

Guides Cross Language Barrier

By ORVAL JACKSON

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI)—A group of German airport officials was touring the new Tampa International Airport recently when the attractive tour guide began her explanation in fluent German.

"Oh, she speaks German," said one of the surprised visitors.

It was no accident that Ingrid Adamski was conducting that particular tour.

A native of Vienna, Austria, and a former air hostess for Lufthansa German Airlines, she is one of eight hostesses employed by the Hillsborough County Aviation Authority to pandle tours and serve as hostesses for the ultra-modern airport.

AND THE experience that greeted the Germans will welcome most foreigners to the sprawling facility.

Only one of the eight hostesses does not speak a foreign language and several are fluent in more than one language. About the only languages the hostesses can't handle are the Oriental tongues.

But even this is not too much of a problem, Ingrid said, because many Orientals can converse in French because of the prior influence of France in that area of the world. Or they speak English.

"There is no easier way to make people feel comfortable than to be able to speak to them in their own language," Ingrid said.

Another hostess is Eve Matheson, a native of London, a former stewardess for British Overseas Airways and a former girl disc jockey on a radio station in Charlotte, N.C. Now married to a plastic surgeon here, Eve is fluent in French.

MRS. ADAMSKI is the most gifted linguist of the group, fluent in French, German, English and Spanish.

"Sometimes I find that maybe I can't get something across in German, so I will switch over to French and it works out," she said.

Once, for a visiting dignitary from Belgium, she conducted the tour in three languages—English, German and French, to make sure she was understood.

The hostesses have a varied background and one moonlights as a professional dancer at a prominent Spanish restaurant in Tampa.

The hostess-dancer, Marilyn Mancuso, is fluent in Spanish and Italian. Dot Dotson is a former elementary school teacher and speaks Spanish, and Sandra Wilson is a graduate of Florida A. and M. University and formerly worked with the telephone company.

OTHERS IN the ranks are Ursula Donovan, a native of Nurenberg, Germany; Elizabeth Groom Schulster, a former Groom Schulster, a former stewardess for both National and Eastern Airlines and fluent in Spanish; and Sherry Austin Krutsinger, onetime United Air Lines stewardess who speaks some French.

Tours are a big thing currently for the hostesses, but they are also the "good samaritans" of the terminal, helping baby-toting mothers with their luggage, looking after senior citizens and just generally making people feel at ease.

And they don't limit tours to aviation-oriented groups. The airport has become a virtual "tourist" attraction for school children with regularly scheduled tours conducted for individual classes.

"The response has been even better than we dreamed," said Mrs. Ann Ketchu, who heads the program. "They make such a fantastic impact upon the people."

ON THE AGENDA

Marin Easter Seal Society's Volunteer Workers Honored

Pins and certificates of appreciation were presented to volunteers who have participated in the Marin Easter Seal Society's recreation program by Mrs. Phyllis Widdershoven, society executive director.

Honored Wednesday were members of Men of the Chapel, a Hamilton Air Force Base group which has participated in the program's field trips by helping patients in and out of cars, lifting and pushing wheelchairs and generally aiding handicapped participants.

Other volunteers honored for driving participants to the weekly recreation programs were Mmes. Lennie Banke, Rena Yates, Ed Combs, Elsie Theirbach, Lucille Zerbe. Honored for participating in the program are Mmes. Barbara Culpepper, Shirley Temen, Grace Gallagher, Janet Duncan, Jeanne Batt, Helen Pedersen and Wayne Wilson, Lt. Col. Wayne Jensen, Keith Wright, Wayne Wilson and Miss Pat Jensen.

MARIN COUNTRY Club is having a mixed couples invitational golf tournament Thanksgiving Day, followed by a traditional Thanksgiving dinner.

Tee-off for the tournament begins at 10 a.m. Members and guests may make up foursomes and sign up in the club pro shop. Dinner reservations for the family-style meal can be made through the club.

TO CELEBRATE their community-built covered lunch area at San Geronimo Valley School, the Parent-Teacher Association, the San Geronimo Lio Club and the San Geronimo Valley Association will have a buffet dinner and dance tomorrow night in the new area.

The Lions Club will cook the dinner, with Jack Barnes in charge, and will show slides of the work crew.

Mrs. Betty Van Midde, P-TA president, said that the P-TA raised some $900 with a fashion show and other events last year toward the construction of the building and the Lions Club and San Geronimo Valley Association also contributed. Volunteers built the concrete and steel foundation and roof to state specifications, so that eventually the area could be built into classrooms.

"The whole valley has really helped," said Mrs. Van Midde.

MEMBERS OF Marin Chapter of World Wings International are collecting used clothing for patients at Napa State Hospital. The former Pan American World Airways stewardesses plan to decorate wards at the hospital for Christmas for which they need unbreakable tree ornaments and tree lights.

Mmes. Robert F. MacKay of Ignacio and Michael Linwood of Tiburon will make arrangements for pickup of the articles.

'Mayflower Day' Will Be Celebrated

By MOLLY MARIN

Descendants of pilgrims who came to the New World in 1620 on the Mayflower will mark Mayflower Compact Day at a luncheon at noon tomorrow at the Marines Memorial Building in San Francisco.

Marin members of the Mayflower Descendants Society — Mrs. Edward Ehmann of San Rafael, Mrs. Bruno Ercolini of Fairfax and Thomas North of Belvedere — plan to attend. Each year the society celebrates the anniversary on Nov. 21 of the signing of the Mayflower Compact, the beginning of government in America.

The luncheon, hosted by San Francisco-Peninsula Colony, will be attended by Alameda and Mother Lode Colonies with Monterey Peninsula Colony members invited as special guests.

State governor of Mayflower Descendants Society Dr. Robert Thomas will introduce Mrs. Harvey Lyon, who will present a film and commentary about George Washington crossing the Delaware River. Mrs. Emily Valentine, in a pilgrim costume, will recite the Mayflower Compact.

This year's Compact Day meeting has a special significance as it brings to a close the year-long celebration of the 350th anniversary of the landing of the pilgrim families.

How To Avoid Bike Accidents

Although the bicycle is now considered a contributor to physical fitness, and a means of transportation that does not pollute the air, it is also responsible for one million injuries annually.

In an editorial in the "New England Journal of Medicine," Dr. Julian A. Waller makes a number of recommendations to avoid accidents. He suggests that beginners not ride high-rise bikes; that riding double be avoided; that wheels be covered so that spokes are not exposed; that reflectors be put on the sides as well as the front and back of bikes; that reflectors be added to the pedals to possibly aid visibility of the rider.

Dr. Waller recommends that the bicycle seat should be no higher than the rider's hips so that his feet can touch the ground without making the bicycle lean.

BIRTHDAY QUIZ

By GORDON GREB

Guess who was born today, Nov. 19, and became famous as:

1. A troubled 17th century English King? Beset by religious and political intrigue, this English defender of the realm lost a civil war to Oliver Cromwell and was beheaded on charges of tyranny and murder at the age of 49: (A) James I; (B) Charles I; (C) Charles II.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

The Right Sort Of Hand Can Ward Off An Impending Disaster

I don't want to jinx the City of Phoenix, where the national bridge tournament begins today, but it is my duty to point out the danger of earthquakes or other disaster when all that heavy thinking goes on in a single city. Fortunately there is a kind of hand in which a bridge expert must never think, and a few such hands may keep the bogeyman away from Phoenix. Today's hand shows the general idea.

TAKES WITH ACE

West opens the king of hearts, and South wins with the ace. South naturally goes after the spades by leading the queen for a finesse.

Right here is where East must not waste his brains. He must play a low spade as though he never heard of such a thing as a king of spades. The rule for such hands is: When an opponent takes a repeatable finesse, don't win the first trick — and don't think about it.

If South is taken in by East's casual play of a low spade, he may lead the jack of spades in order to repeat the finesse. This normal play costs South his vulnerable game.

DEFENSIVE PLAY

East takes the second spade trick with the king and leads a low diamond up to dummy's weakness. West wins with the king of diamonds and returns a diamond to the ace. Now East leads a spade or a club to put dummy into the lead.

Dummy can take some top spades and clubs but must eventually lead hearts, and West takes two heart tricks to defeat the contract. Then everybody has a good laugh. Except South and North.

EAST THINKS

If East thinks before refusing the first spade trick, South may see his danger. South will lead a heart before continuing the spades, and his contract will then be assured.

After all, I didn't say that nobody at the table could do any thinking.

ANSWER: Pass.
You have 13 of the worst points ever seen (only one ace, no kings), and the hand isn't even close to the strength required for an opening bid.

Old Films To Be Presented

The Almonte Improvement Club will sponsor showings of old films for the next three Friday nights at its clubhouse, Almonte Boulevard and Wisteria Way.

Showing at 8 p.m. today will be three shorts, starring Buster Keaton, Laurel and Hardy and W. C. Fields. The film series will conclude Dec. 3. with "The Phantom of the Opera," with Lon Chaney.

The films are being presented by Sweet Sixteen Cinema.

U.S. Heavy Gear Will Aid Soviets

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Commerce Department today granted U.S. firms licenses to export $528 million worth of heavy equipment to the Soviet Union, clearing the way for U.S. firms to help build the world's biggest truck factory in Russia.

Export licenses are required before domestic firms can ship strategic material abroad.

It was not immediately known which company received the licenses. Mack Truck Inc., Allentown, Pa., cancelled the plans several months ago to supply a major part of the machinery required to build the plant after the White House delayed approval of U.S. participation in the project.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies now being shown in Marin County. The council's findings are from California and National Parent-Teacher Assn. Magazines and Parents' Magazine unless otherwise noted. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael Library.

FAMILY

"Clowns" — A delightful and informative documentary by Fellini about the history of clowns. Many memorable scenes. Rare treat.

"Living Desert" — The struggle for survival of the animals and flowers on the American desert remarkably photographed.

"Vanishing Prairie" — The miracle of life on the prairie, the animal world and nature's wonders.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Catlow" — Plenty of action in this notch-above-average western. An amusing friendly-enemy relationship exists between Catlow, a quick-draw-good-badman, and the Marshal. Splendid photography, enjoyable score and acting. (Motion Picture Daily)

"Dr. Zhivago" — Lives of a handful of people in Russia before the war and after the revolution. Superb photography, acting and music.

"Kotch" — Strong on honest sentiment, this splendid human comedy is about a widowed grandfather. This unselfish personality in a selfish world leaves his son's home and sets up housekeeping for a young unmarried pregnant teen-ager.

"The Last Run" — A retired gangster decides to test himself on a last run in helping an escaped convict. George C. Scott's three dimensional extraordinary portrayal cancels out movie's defects. Brutal violence, cursing and sex.

"The Reivers" — Warm, nostalgic bawdy film about a 12-year-old boy's schooling in the facts of life during one week-end. Good human values presented but much of the action is in a brothel making it unsuitable for young children.

"2001, Space Odyssey" — An outstanding science fiction tale about space travelers and the computer that causes a struggle for survival. Highly imaginative production.

"Today We Kill, Tomorrow We Die" — A western with the usual cliche of man set on revenge for his wife's murder and a prison frame up. Standard violence.

BORDERLINE

(Most sources say adults only)

"Death In Venice" — A musician on the verge of a physical and mental collapse goes to Venice in 1911 to regain his health and becomes obsessed with the beauty of a young man with tragic results. Very slow moving.

"Little Big Man" — A tragic-comic history of Indian-white relations as recalled by a 121-year-old gunfighter. Much violence and bloody fighting and some impudent sex scenes.

"Say Hello to Yesterday" — Wavering between a tiresome melodrama and a touching love story this account of a young hippie pursuing a proper married woman until they finally have an affair. Well acted but a bit overdone.

"T. R. Baskin" — A small town girl anxious to make good in Chicago fights the big cities tendency to dehumanize people. A secretary's problems are portrayed and her love life.

ADULTS ONLY

"Carnal Knowledge" — The sex lives of two men from college days to middle life done in a two dimensional, cynical, satirical style which becomes tiresome. Fine performances from cast. Language and sex are explicit.

"Fanny Hill" — A dumb but beautiful girl from rural Sweden becomes a prostitute in Stockholm and succeeds in inheriting the wealth of one of her clients so then she becomes one of the jet set. (Boxoffice Magazine)

"Inga" — Swedish with English subtitles. To avoid bankruptcy a woman gives her niece to a lecherous older man. The girl foils the plot by running away with the aunt's boyfriend. (Boxoffice Magazine).

"McCabe and Mrs. Miller" — Set in a frontier town in Washington in the 1890s the conflict in this story revolves around the big boss of the town and the owner of the saloon and brothel. Vulgarity, broad humor and brutality are abundant and graphic.

"Seducers" — Italian made, English dubbed. A couple procure girls for an emotionally disturbed son of a wealthy woman. (Boxoffice Magazine).

"Stewardesses" — The crew of a Honolulu to Los Angeles flight find various sex diversions on their off time. Vignettes designed solely to undress everyone in the shortest possible time. Filmed in 3-D. (Boxoffice Magazine).

"1,000 Convicts and A Woman" — Sexploits of a prison warden's nymphomanic daughter. The demoralizing effect of a 17-year-old vamp on the inmates of a minimum security farm. (Motion Picture Daily).

Some 'Seattle 7' Charges Cleared

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The "Seattle Seven" have been cleared of contempt of court charges stemming from their conspiracy trial.

The United States Court of Appeals yesterday overruled the contempt citations issued 11 months ago by U.S. District Judge George H. Boldt, now head of the U.S. Pay Board.

The court of appeals said Boldt failed to recite the specific facts on which he based the contempt charges.

The seven defendants were originally charged with conspiracy following a demonstration outside the federal courthouse in Seattle in February of 1970. The demonstration, called to protest the contempt sentences in the "Chicago Seven" trial, resulted in several broken windows.

The defendants are Michael Lerner, Charles Marshall III, Jeffery Dowd, Joseph Kelly, Roger Lippman, Michael Abeles and Susan Stern.

Some Mixture

ESSEN, Germany (UPI)— Police arrested three Dutchmen on suspicion of drug-peddling, a spokesman said today. He said the trio were released when it was found the mixture they were selling was made up of baby powder, red pepper and flour.

Plans Approved But Stucco Out For Apartments

The Novato Plan Review Committee has approved precise plans for a 180-unit apartment project, south of Hamilton Air Force Base, except for stucco exteriors.

The units are to be constructed on a wooded, hilly area, 8.89 acres, on the east side of Marin Valley Drive, south of Bolling Drive.

A majority of committee members preferred wood exteriors and the developer is scheduled to appeal the planning commission's rejection of stucco to the city council, planner James Miller reported.

The committee, meeting Wednesday, also approved plans by Fred Mauroni to construct a 7-unit apartment building on the east side of Railroad Avenue, about 50 feet north of Logan Street.

Electronic Music Group To Perform

The Different Fur Electronic music group will present a concert featuring moog synthesizers Sunday at 8:30 p.m. at the Fine Arts Theater of the College of Marin.

Sponsored by the associated students, the concert will consist of 16-track, pre-recorded tape and live music performed by seven musicians headed by Patrick Gleeson on the moog keybord and grand piano and John Viera on the moog keyboard. They have composed the original music that will be played.

Other musicians are Berret Bassick, bass guitar and flute; Micki Durio, drums, baritone saxaphone and guitar; David Litwin, organ; Bob Swanson, lead guitar and bass guitar, and Hal Wagonette, guitar.

The concert will also feature lights keyed to the changing moods of the music, but not psychedelic lighting.

More than 10 million cattle were driven to northern markets in the decade after the Civil War.

Criticism On Magazine Recall

WACO, Tex. (UPI)—A church official who recalled copies of a Baptist publication because it had a picture of a black teenage boy talking with two white girls drew student criticism at Baylor University Thursday.

The Baptist-supported college's Student Congress said it was "extremely disappointed" at Sunday School executive Allen B. Comish for withdrawing 160,000 copies of the weekly youth magazine.

Finch In Brazil; Discussion Opens

BRASILIA (UPI) — Robert Finch, on a Latin American fact-finding mission for President Nixon, today opened discussions with Brazilian officials, including President Emilio Garrastazu Medici.

Finch, heading a high-level mission which has already visited Peru, Ecuador and Argentina, arrived Thursday night from Buenos Aires.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Although Thanksgiving Is Family Day, Restaurants Will Be Busy

Though considered a "family day," Thanksgiving manages to entice a fair number of diners-out away from the home table.

And since more than just a few restaurant operators prefer to close and stay at home, the choice of dining places is reduced to about half the usual number. In many cases it means longer waits for a table, particularly during peak hours.

A few — not all — of the restaurants have reported their plans for that day, but if they are not mentioned on this page we suggest checking ahead by telephone and inquiring if reservations are necessary.

Dinner prices will be about the same as last year —generally in the $4 to $5.50 range for turkey and varying with other selections.

LE CHALET BASQUE at Santa Venetia will be open, serving from 4 to 9 p.m. Chef Pierre Joris will provide both the regular fare and a turkey dinner. This year the Coscarats request that advance reservations be made.

THE SAN GERONIMO NATIONAL GOLF COURSE, which ordinarily serves dinners only on Sundays, will be open from 3 to 5 p.m. on Thanksgiving. Turkey and baked ham dinners are being offered at $4.

KUBLAI KHAN in Strawberry Town and Country Village will serve a special turkey dinner with trimmings at $3.95. If you're not a turkey eater there will be the usual steak specials and Chinese menu.

DOMINIC'S HARBOR RESTAURANT'S Thanksgiving Day program will extend from 9:30 a.m. with a holiday brunch, and dinner from 1 p.m. There will be a special menu, including turkey and six other entrees, priced from $4.95 to $7.25.

OUT IN LAGUNITAS, look for Matts and Phyllis Mattsson to start serving Thanksgiving dinner from 1 p.m. at the Old Viking.

Traditional full course dinners will be offered, with a choice of turkey or the regular menu at no increase in prices. Reservations should be made.

THE NORMANDIE on the San Rafael Miracle Mile will open next Thursday for dinner at 4 p.m.

Special turkey dinner will be $5.50. Steak will also be available, as will the regular a la carte menu. You should make advance reservations.

ALVARADO INN at Ignacio will serve from 1 p.m. Five-course young roast tom turkey dinner will be $3.95 — child's plate is $2. You can order also from the regular menu.

No reservations will be necessary except for large parties. And I am informed that Jerry Diamond will keep his regular Thursday date at the piano.

Incidentally, chef Wally Price has brought in another top man to share his responsibilities in the kitchen — Eric Benson. They have worked together as a team before. You'll find them experienced in the seafood line.

KIRBY AND RENEE ATTERBURY will have the Caprice in Tiburon open Thanksgiving, with dinner service from 4 p.m. Regular menu will be served — and turkey by request. Reservations — definitely.

The Caprice is still open for lunches Tuesdays through Fridays from noon to 3 p.m. Moderate prices.

ALSO IN TIBURON, the Windjammer will serve from 1 to 9 p.m. Manager Ed Hayes is arranging a special Thanksgiving menu with four choices — turkey, prime rib, lobster tail or New York steak — which should satisfy any appetite. Reservations.

TIBURON LODGE IS ALSO one of next Thursday's open restaurants. Complete turkey dinners will be $4.95, with children under 12 at $2.50. A special feature here is that an individual turkey will be served at the table for parties of four or more. Reservations.

OUR BEST WISHES go to Russell Kern, former manager at Adolph's West End Villa, San Rafael, who has had to give up restaurant work for awhile. He was stricken with a heart attack, but has left the hospital and is now recuperating at home.

His place at West End has been taken over by Joe Morin, an experienced and capable restaurant man — no stranger to Marin and Sonoma County diners.

West End Villa will be open on Thanksgiving and serving from 1 p.m. Reservations are recommended here.

THE RAFTERS in Corte Madera has three special complete offerings — turkey at $4.25, baked ham at $4.50 and prime rib at $5.25. Child's plate of turkey or ham is $1.50.

THE PEPPERWOOD in San Anselmo's Red Hill Shopping Center will have a Ramos fizz brunch from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. next Thursday. Dinner will be served from 1 to 10 p.m. Turkey dinner will be $3.95; prime rib $4.95.

KAMYAR SAMII'S new Brat Haus is now open at 1235 Fourth Street, San Rafael for breakfast, lunch and dinner. Hours are from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m. Special Thanksgiving dinner will be served from 6 p.m.

NEW RESTAURANT SCHEDULE — Ramona's in San Rafael will open again for lunches Mondays through Thursdays — after Thanksgiving.

School Curriculum Will Be TV Topic

School curriculum development will be discussed by five Marin County residents at 2:30 p.m. Sunday on KRON-TV's "Youth Inquires" program.

Sidney Smith, coordinator of curriculum for Marin County schools, will answer questions from Jeff Bywater and Brett LaCounte, both Novato High School students, and Sean Donahue and Mario Chipollino, both from Tamalpais High School.

Marin Dining And Wining

SABELLA'S closed on Thanksgiving for the first time last year and this year will do so again.

Family dinners on weekdays are still the big favorite here. There's a choice of five entrees.

CLOUD 5 in Novato is open again after considerable fire damage and redecorating, serving its regular German and American food. Everything has been done in a red and gold decor.

Starting tonight, there is Friday night dancing upstairs from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. to the music of Karl Liebherc and His Wiedersehn.

Cloud 5 will be closed on Thanksgiving.

RAMONA'S in San Rafael will close Thanksgiving, but Ramona Stallings is opening for lunches again after Thanksgiving Tuesdays through Fridays. She'll serve until 4 p.m. then go right into the dinner period.

MOUNTAIN HOME INN in Mill Valley will close next Thursday, according to its usual custom. It will do the same on Christmas.

And Pat and Marion Vincent will be visiting Germany in January, so will close the restaurant then. If you're a hardy midwinter hiker in these parts, you'll have to take along your own lunch and beer.

AMONG OTHER RESTAURANTS closed Thanksgiving will the the Dock in Tiburon, El Paseo Dining Room in Mill Valley, the Grotto in San Rafael, La Petite Auberge in San Rafael, Lin Fa Gardens at Northgate and San Rafael Joe's in San Rafael.

Romulus in San Rafael will be closed. A Wednesday a la carte special here is spaghetti or ravioli served with bread and butter at $1.65. And now on Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights crab cioppino is being served at $4.25.

Free-Textbook Bill Has Final Assembly Nod

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —A bill designed to provide free state-approved textbooks to pupils at private schools and allowing them to attend some classes at public schools was voted final legislative passage yesterday by the Assembly and sent to Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The lower house concurred 43-5 to Senate amendments to the measure by Assemblyman John Vasconcellos, D-San Jose.

Supporters of the bill have contended it would help relieve problems faced by public schools bY/encouraging attendance at private schools.

It would require the state Board of Education to make available to students at private schools basic and supplementary textbooks adopted for use by the board in public elementary schools.

If space were available, private school students could attend vocational, shop and natural and physical science classes at public high schools.

The bill would also require the state to provide free specialized materials for visually handicapped students at private high schools and elementary schools.

First London Snow

LONDON (UPI)—London had its first snow of the winter today. The light dusting on car roofs and grass patches lasted until dawn. The temperature stayed just above the freezing point, the weather center said.

Ships Collide 12 Miles Off Golden Gate

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Two outbound ships, one a Greek tanker, collided with "minor damage" Thursday about 12 miles outside the Golden Gate, the Coast Guard reported.

A Coast Guard spokesman said there were no injuries and both ships turned back to San Francisco Bay for repairs.

The Coast Guard said it had no information that any oil might have spilled from the tanker, the 33,000 gross ton Persepolis.

The collision occurred in clear, but windy weather, the Coast Guard said, and both vessels had bar pilots aboard.

The second vessel was identified as the 7,600-ton Transchamplain, a container cargo ship.

The Coast Guard was investigating the cause of the incident.

Vallee Pleads, Is Sentenced

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Rudy Vallee pleaded no contest to a charge of disturbing the peace Thursday and was sentenced to six months unsupervised probation for calling a neighbor four-letter names.

The judge ordered the 70-year-old singer to pay $100 to the neighbor, Dr. Ernst A. Phillipp. Vallee and Phillipp became antagonists last summer over Vallee's unsuccessful attempt to persuade the city council to rename the street where they live "Rue de Vallee" in his honor.

Famous European Chef names Dominic's America's finest restaurant.
Not long ago we decided to ask the world's most renowned chefs and restaurateurs to judge the quality of our fine restaurant and its continental cuisine. But the trouble was that most of these people were in Paris and Bologna and other strange places. So we settled the whole thing by asking the famous Pierre Giavinna to make an honest and objective appraisal. "America's finest," he said. That was good enough for us. After all, he's not only our chef, but he owns part of the place. So who should know better than he?

JEWISH CENTER'S NEW DIRECTOR

He Helps People Get Identity

By JEFF GREER

Ethnic pride as well as Marin's mild climate have led Murray Narell on a journey from the violent sidewalks of Harlem to the peaceful hillsides of Marin.

Narell, 48, is the new director of the Marin Jewish Community Center at 200 North San Pedro Road, San Rafael.

He sees his new job as yet another step in a long career of satisfying "the need all people have for having an identity — and feeling good about it."

Narell said Jewish persons are "probably the best integrated minority in America today." The community center nevertheless has a role to play as a focal point for Jewish families in Marin, he declared.

The classes, social events, lectures, symposia and other activities at the center can do much to give both Jewish and non-Jewish persons deeper insight to Jewish history and customs, Narell said.

Narell estimated that only a third of Marin's families of Jewish ancestry have any ties with the county's Jewish congregations or the community center. He said one of his goals will be to build the center's strength by reaching as many "separated" families as possible.

Narell's boyhood days were spent in the pursuits typical of youngsters in New York City during Depression-era days — until he was 11, when his father bought a farm in rural New York.

The city boy apparently established his own identity in rural life. "My brother and I became the fastest chicken inoculators around — we were really in demand" to vaccinate the chicks against pox, he recalled.

After earning a Columbia University master's degree in secondary education, Narell taught for two years. He then encountered an old friend at a party and became fascinated with the friend's tales of work with Harlem street gangs.

Narell soon found himself a job as one of New York City's pioneer gang workers. He gained the assistance of Puerto Rican, black and Italian youngsters to campaign against murderous street gang wars that were rocking Harlem and the Lower East Side.

Gang workers for the city, the Jewish-sponsored Educational Alliance, and such organizations as the St. Christopher's Parish then headed by C. Kilmer Meyers — now Episcopal bishop in San Francisco — "operated just like the CIA," Narell explained.

"We knew the plans for every fight before it happened."

"The gang fights we conquered, but the gangs moved from fights to dope," Narell mournfully recalled.

"Apparently the kids felt they didn't have the status of the gangs that were still fighting" and turned to narcotics to solve their problems within themselves, he explained. "Not fighting was almost like a deprivation" of their right to be someone," he said.

Narell said he thought the young street gangs used narcotics in a way vastly different from the widespread use of marijuana he found upon coming to California.

The Californians were seeking an experience rather than an escape in most cases, he said.

Narell became a co-founder of the Lower East Side Narcotics Center, and his experiences left him caustic about the rise of addiction nationwide. "Some of us warned then (in 1959) that if we didn't stop dope in New York, it would take over the country. They didn't listen."

He added that based on what he saw, "I think we can do more in education than in treatment" to halt addiction.

Narell later left the street gangs to work as an executive of the Bergen County Young Men's Hebrew Association in Hackensack, N.J. In suburban Marin, "I'm right back in Hackensack, even to problems of trying to serve families scattered over a wide geographic area," he explained.

With him from New York City, Narell has brought another of his consuming interests — steel band music. After hearing the West Indian music performed in the late 1940s, he involved hundreds of New York youngsters in steel bands.

Some players became so professional they joined the musicians union and kept busy at parties, political rallies and other events.

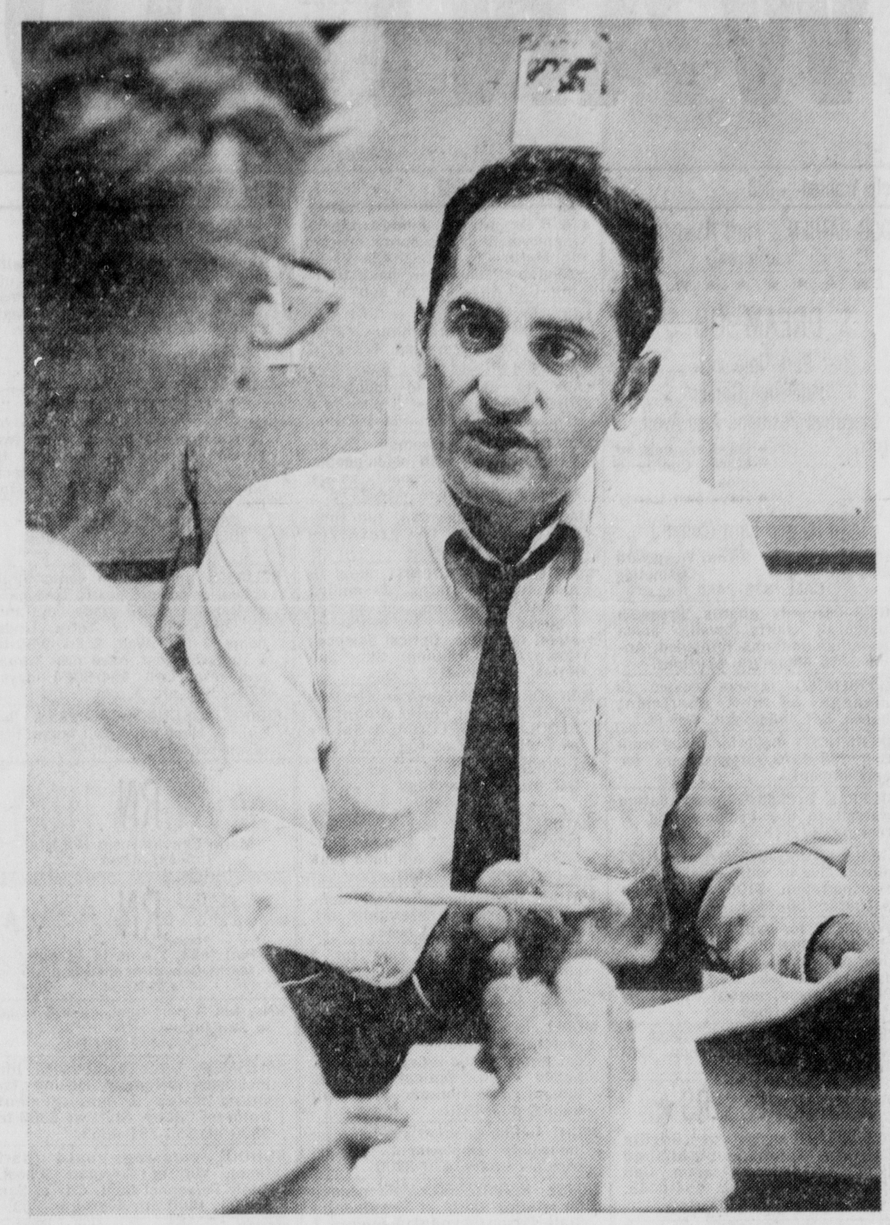
"Mayor (John) Lindsay was elected by steel drum bands," Narell declared.

His own involvement with the Caribbean-style music led Narell on trips to Antigua and other West Indies islands, and to a three-year stint in private industry as a community representative for Grace Steamship lines. He organized steel drum bands in schools for the company.

His two sons still teach steel band music in the Oakland parks and recreation department. The boys, Arthur, 22, and Andy, 17, are students in the University of California at Berkeley, Narell said. The younger son has made records with the Moby Grape.

Narell said he doubted if he will let himself become deeply involved with steel band creation in Marin, lest it compete too strenuously with the demands of his new post.

Besides, there is tennis clamoring for attention. "Jogging's not for me," the lanky Narell explained. "It's too disciplined and too artificial. I get just as much exercise playing tennis. And I came to California because the weather's better for playing tennis!"



EX-STREET GANG WORKER — Murray Narell, new director of the Marin Jewish Community Center, confers with a center staffer. Narell has been executive of an antidrug center, steel band impresario, and a dedicated worker for the proposition that "all people have a need for knowing their own identity and feeling good about it."

Bay Smog Officials Will Tackle Lead In Gasoline

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Bay Area smog officials, citing the state's failure to get the lead out of gasoline, yesterday decided to try to do it themselves.

Bay Area Air Pollution Control District directors long had thought the bold step was up to the state or federal government, but learned yesterday that they may have the power themselves.

The district's counsel, Matthew S. Walker, raised the possibility with a previously unpublicized attorney general's opinion concluding that fixing fuel composition standards "remains within the primary jurisdiction of local air pollution control districts."

The opinion by Atty. Gen. Evelle J. Younger was written in March by Sen. Nicholas C. Petris, D-Oakland, but only yesterday came to the district board's attention. Walker's report on the opinion was in each director's folder, but none responded to it until Edward Groth III, a member of the district's advisory council, pointed it out.

Groth, a Stanford University biologist, said he was "extremely tired of waiting for the state to do something."

He noted that the Legislature had failed for the past two sessions to approve bills eliminating lead from gasoline. The bills came after state public health studies found potentially hazardous levels of poisonous atmospheric lead.

(The bills were killed because of strong opposition from the fuel industry.)

Groth, winning quick board approval of his proposal that the district try to act itself, said "it looks as if no one else is going to do it."

The district's top administrator, D. J. Callaghan, reported that Orange County's air pollution control officials last month adopted an ordinance phasing lead out of gasoline by July 1, 1975. A similar move is pending in Riverside County, he added.

Walker noted that the counties expected court challenges to their ordinances.

Under the Orange County ordinance, limits on lead would begin next July 1, with tighter limits imposed each year. The gradual elimination in that ordinance was similar to one proposed in a statewide initiative on next June's ballot, the Clean Environment Act.

Callaghan said he will report to the board on a local ordinance at its Jan. 5 meeting.

That meeting, coincidentally, also includes a hearing on a recommendation by the personnel committee to fire Walker. He and Callaghan have been feuding for years, and Walker charged two weeks ago that Callaghan has sheltered major polluters from legal action.

The committee held another unpublicized closed-door session yesterday for 40 minutes after the full board meeting to hire a law firm to represent the district against Walker. Three firms were considered, and Napa County Supervisor Joseph G. Peatman was delegated to select one.

The board voted previously to pay a firm $1,000 for the job.

Another closed-door session of the committee will be held at 10 a.m. next Wednesday in district offices, 939 Ellis Street, to review the matter.

San Francisco Supervisor Dianne Feinstein, a frequent critic of Callaghan, was excluded from the closed meeting on the ground that while she is a director of the district, she is not a member of the committee. Fuming outside the closed door, she told newsmen that "the integrity of the district has been impugned by the procedure in this whole matter."

She objected that the committee had recommended two weeks ago that Walker be fired, but it never had come up with any charges against the attorney. She termed this "putting the cart before the horse."

Bay Area Air Pollution Control District directors also:

ALERT — Again rehashed the failure of the district's first smog alert in September, largely ignored by industry and the public, but failed again to come up with any solutions.

EQUIPMENT — Authorized purchase of new air pollution detection equipment in Sonoma, Napa and Solano counties at a cost of $107,991.

REMODELING — Accepted a low bid of $52,807 by Jacks and Irvine Inc. to remodel district offices to accommodate expanded staff.

Angela To Remain Til Dec. 1

Angela Y. Davis, who was scheduled to be sent to San Jose next week, will remain in Marin County Jail at least until Dec. 1.

Judge Richard E. Arnason from Contra Costa County, who is presiding in the Davis case, today granted a stay of execution on his change of venue order. He did so to give Marin officials time to prepare transcripts and documents for transmission to Santa Clara County. Asst. County Clerk John Musser said all the papers could not be completed by Monday, the date originally set for the transfer.

Chief Defense Counsel Howard Moore Jr. also wanted an extension so that he could further oppose the change of venue.

Tax Reform Signatures At 7,100

Marin County voters have contributed more than their needed share of signatures on petitions to put the so-called Jarvis property tax reform amendment on the June 1972 ballot, according to the county elections office.

Although workers today still were checking signatures on the petitions submitted Monday, they already have verified 7,100 names, according to Peter C. Meyer, elections officer. Marin's share of the statewide total of 520,286 signatures needed was 5,200.

Workers are still checking signatures on two other state constitutional amendment petitions, the so-called Kennedy and Wakefield amendments. Both would prohibit elected officials from raising their own salaries, and would require a public vote for any such raises.

In Marin, a total of 3,460 signatures have been verified, and petition circulators have until Nov. 26 to obtain the balance to put the Kennedy amendment on the ballot. The petitioners for the Wakefield amendment have until Jan. 10 to file their lists of signers.

'Two Faces' Of Mill Valley Project

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — The site of a proposed 188-unit apartment project on Richardson Bay was variously described yesterday as a "clean, delightful grassy place" and "a World War II landing strip."

The conflicting views came before the Bay Conservation and Development Commission, which heard an application to fill slightly less than a half-acre of the bay for the project west of the Shelter Cove apartments in Mill Valley.

Dwight Steele of Tiburon, speaking against the project for the Sierra Club, argued that the 7.5-acre site was easily accessible and heavily used by the public. Proclaiming the beauty of the site, he said the project would "interfere with, rather than encourage public access."

The less appealing description of the site was offered by the architect for the project, Matt Copenhaver of Mill Valley. He also argued that, technically, there was no new fill proposed, but rather "merely stabilizing what is already there."

The developer of the project, Sanford N. Diller of Sunnyvale, added "it really is a terrible looking site." He said that there had been "not one single protest" to the project during the eight months it took him to get it approved by the City of Mill Valley.

Also opposing it yesterday was the Marin Conservation League, but its criticism was limited to the new fill.

Several other persons in the audience said they wanted to speak against the project, but their testimony was postponed to Dec. 2 because the commission was about to lose a quorum.

Diller's project would include seven two-story apartment buildings, a private clubhouse and swimming pool, parking for 323 cars, and a public promenade along portions of the shoreline.

The board suggested that 10 to 12 units be cut from the project to enlarge a public minipark. This suggestion raised the possibility that the Dec. 2 hearing may be postponed to give the developer time to incorporate such changes.

Bay Conservation and Development Commission members also:

WILD RIVERS — Heard a report from Kerry Mulligan, chairman of the State Water Resources Control Board, that "some damming" of the Eel, Klamath and Trinity rivers will be necessary after the year 2000 to assure adequate flows through the delta and San Francisco Bay.

MAPS — Adopted boundaries of "priority areas" reserving shoreline for special bay-related uses, as required by Dec. 1 by state law. Changes in the boundaries would require special state legislation, and the commission's legal adviser ruled that it was too late to add other areas, among them Strawberry Cove as suggested by the Marin Conservation League.

BELVEDERE — Approved unanimously an application by Charles Dahle for a home over pilings at 75 West Shore Road, Belvedere.

Well-Intended Note To Schools Missed The Point On Spending

Superintendents of two Marin County school districts have protested vehemently that they did not receive a letter from the county schools office telling them their districts are spending beyond their current receipts.

They were right. The letter didn't say that — but it was intended to say that.

The Independent-Journal reported Tuesday that the county schools office, pursuant to a directive from the State Department of Education, had warned San Anselmo, Shoreline and Sausalito school districts that their current spending patterns exceed their current receipts. Supt. Kenneth Lowry of San Anselmo and Charles E. McCully of Shoreline said the letter they received said no such thing.

The letter, signed by Joseph Amato, director of business advisory services for the county schools superintendent, identified three criteria established by the state in offering assistance with district finance problems; current deficit, expected deficit this year, and consistent depletion of reserves.

Shoreline, San Anselmo and Sausalito districts fit one or more of the criteria — but the letter neglected to say so, a check with the county schools office disclosed.

"The letter was sent only to those three districts because they were the only ones falling within the criteria," said Byron W. Mauzy, assistant county superintendent for business services.

The I-J story quoted an offhand estimate from Mauzy of money that Shoreline district may recover from the federal government due to the removal of Point Reyes National Seashore lands from the tax rolls.

Mauzy said "it might run as high as $400,000," but the figure will be much lower. Superintendent McCully said Shoreline district lost about $120,000 in taxes through the national seashore acquisition, so its recovery would be somewhere under that figure. An application for the federal funds under Public Law 874 is being prepared, he said.

The Ratings On Public Service Shows Are Hit

NEW YORK (UPI)—Nicholas Johnson of the Federal Communications Commission said Thursday public service programming should be exempt from television ratings because low ratings of such shows discourage networks from running them.

Johnson said he would propose an FCC regulation that would prevent a licensee from employing a rating service that did not refrain from rating public service programs at the request of a station or network.

"The network would thus avoid the competitive disadvantage of having put on a program that is not trying for the biggest possible audience," Johnson said.

Ireland Gunfire Across Border

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—Gunmen firing rifles and automatic weapons from the Irish Republic exchanged gunfire with British soldiers in Northern Ireland today, the army said. The shooting incident was the second this week at the Belleeck border customs post.

An army spokesman said the gunmen fired 25 shots at a Royal Ulster Constabulary station at Belleeck and British troops at the station fired back.

Security forces suffered no casualties in the border gunbattle, the spokesman said.

In Belfast, a fire bomb planted by gunmen among luncheon salads exploded and destroyed the kitchen of a popular restaurant minutes before the noon rush hour, witness said.

Pot Sentence To Man Who Tagged Slayer

AUBURN (UPI)—The man who identified Clarence Otis Smith as California's sickle slayer has been sentenced to 90 days in Placer County Jail after pleading guilty to charges of car theft and marijuana possession.

Superior Court Judge Ronald G. Cameron Thursday also placed Kenneth Garbe, 20, Auburn, on probation for three years. Garbe was arrested on the charges last month in Dixon, about 50 miles southwest of Auburn.

Garbe, who survived the campground attack, picked Smith out of a police lineup in Brownsville, Tex., as the man who wounded him with a sickle-like blade.

The average tire rotates more than 30 million times during its lifetime, says Owens-Corning Fiberglas Corp.

PICKUP
13,000 MILES
$3095.

This truck is so close to new you can't tell it from the 1972 model on the Chev showroom floor. Never used as a business or work truck — this orange-red half-ton pickup has been used mainly as a family camper unit and it still has the custom camper with it at this price.

There isn't a ding or dent on the exterior and the interior and the bed are so clean — you can eat dinner in either area. Fully equipped including V-8 engine, w/w tires, chrome bumpers, standard transmission, custom cab, etc. 456556.

NOTICE OF IMPROVEMENT HAWTHORNE LANE ASSESSMENT DISTRICT

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on the 19th day of April, 1971, the Town Council of the Town of Corte Madera, California, adopted its Resolution of Intention No. 1242, as subsequently amended, wherein it did declare that in its opinion the public interest, convenience and necessity required, and that it was the intention of said Council to order the following acquisitions and improvements in and for said Town:

(a) The improvement of Hawthorne Lane from Meadowsweet Drive a distance of 700 feet, more or less, by grading and the installation of required subbase, base and pavement, the installation of Portland cement concrete curbs and gutters on the upslope side, redwood header on the downslope side, and the construction and installation of storm drainage pipes, culverts and catchbasin as may be required.

(b) The acquisition of rights of service and use in water distribution works and related facilities of the Marin Municipal Water District.

(c) The doing of all work and acquisition of all lands and easements necessary and rights auxiliary to the above and/or necessary to complete the same.

All of said work and improvements are to be constructed at the places and in the particular locations, of the forms, sizes, dimensions and materials, and at the lines, grades and elevations shown and delineated on the plans, profiles and specifications preliminarily approved therefor by the Council of said Town and on file for public inspection in the office of the Town Clerk.

Notice is hereby given of the fact that in many cases said work and improvements will bring the finished surface of the ground to a grade different from the surface as it now exists, and that to said extent said grades will be changed and that said work will be done to said changed grades.

Notice is hereby given that to the extent shown in the Engineer's Report it is the intention of the legislative body to enter into agreements with public agencies or public utilities, or both, relating to ownership, management and control of improvements subject to their jurisdiction.

Said contemplated acquisitions and improvements, in the opinion of said Council, are of more than local or ordinary public benefit, and the costs and expenses thereof are made chargeable upon an assessment district, the exterior boundaries of which district are the composite and consolidated area as more particularly shown on a map thereof on file in the office of the Town Clerk, to which reference is hereby made for further particulars. Said map indicates by a boundary line the extent of the territory included in the proposed district and shall govern for all details as to the extent of the assessment district.

The estimated cost of said project is $17,437, of which the Town will contribute the estimated amount of $4,473, leaving an estimated balance of $12,964 to be assessed.

Notice is hereby given that serial bonds to represent unpaid assessments and bear interest at the rate of not to exceed seven percent (7%) per annum, will be issued hereunder in the manner provided in the Improvement Bond Act of 1915 (Division 10 of the Streets and Highways Code), the last installment of which bonds shall mature not to exceed fourteen (14) years from the second day of July next succeeding ten months from their date.

The descriptions of the acquisitions and improvements and the termini of the work contained in the Resolution of Intention, as amended, are general in nature. All items of work do not necessarily extend for the full length of the description thereof. The plans and profiles of the work, and maps and descriptions, as contained in the Engineer's report, shall be controlling as to the correct and detailed description thereof.

Except as herein otherwise provided for the issuance of bonds, said work shall be done pursuant to the Municipal Improvement Act of 1913.

Reference is hereby made to proceedings had pursuant to Division 4 of the Streets and Highways Code, all on file in the office of the Town Clerk.

Notice is further given that the Town Engineer pursuant to said Act and said Resolution of Intention, as amended, adopted pursuant thereto, did on the 1st day of November, 1971, file with the Town Clerk of said Town, his report in writing on said acquisitions and improvements, consisting of plans, profiles, specifications, estimate of costs and incidental expenses, diagram and assessment, maps and descriptions, and said Council did on said date consider and examine said report and by resolution preliminarily approved and confirmed same and ordered that said report shall stand as the report for the purposes of all subsequent proceedings had pursuant to said Resolution of Intention, as amended.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that Monday, the 6th day of December, 1971, at the hour of 7:30 o'clock P.M. of said day, in the regular meeting place of said Council, Council Chambers, Town Hall, Corte Madera, California, are the time and place appointed and fixed by said Council when and where it will consider and determine whether the public interest, convenience and necessity require said acquisitions and improvements, and when it will consider and determine whether the owners of a majority of the area of the property in the proposed assessment district have protested against said acquisitions and improvements or any portion thereof, and when and where it will consider and finally act upon the Engineer's report filed pursuant to said Resolution of Intention, as amended, and when and where it will hear all protests in relation to said proposed acquisitions and improvements, or to the grades at which said work will be done, or the extent of the assessment district, or to the Engineer's estimate of the costs and expenses thereof, or to the proposed diagram and assessment, or to the maps and descriptions, and that any person interested may file a written protest with the Clerk at or before the time set for the hearing referred to herein.

Pursuant to the Municipal Improvement Act of 1913 and the resolution directing this notice adopted on November 1, 1971 by the Town Council of the Town of Corte Madera, said Council invites sealed proposals or bids for the grading and construction of pavement, curbs, gutters, storm drainage facilities and appurtenances as more particularly described in Resolution of Intention No. 1242 adopted by said Council on April 19, 1971, as subsequently amended, which resolutions are on file in the office of the Clerk and to which reference is hereby expressly made for a more particular description of the work to be done.

All of said work is to be done at the places and in the particular locations, of the forms, sizes and dimensions and of the materials, and to the lines and grades and at the elevations as shown and delineated upon the plans, profiles and specifications made therefor and preliminarily approved by said Council on November 1, 1971.

Payments will be made in cash by said Town to the contractor in accordance with the provisions of the specifications and on itemized estimates duly certified and approved by the Town Engineer submitted in accordance therewith, based on labor and materials incorporated into said work during the preceding month by the contractor. However, notice is given that a period of 30 days is given to the property owners in which to pay their assessments, and if cash collections are insufficient to meet such monthly estimates, there will be a delay in making such payments until money is received from the sale of bonds issued upon the unpaid assessments.

Notice is hereby given that on November 1, 1971, the Council adopted a resolution determining the general prevailing rate of per diem wages to be paid to the various craftsmen and laborers required to construct said improvements, a copy of which wage sacle is hereto attached and made a part hereof, and also contained in and made a part of the specifications for said work, to which reference is hereby made for further particulars.

All proposals or bids shall be accompanied by cash, cashier's or certified check payable to the order of the Town Clerk, amounting to ten percent (10%) of the bid, or by a bond in said amount and payable to said Clerk signed by the bidder and a corporate surety, or by the bidder and two sureties who shall justify before any officer competent to administer an oath, in double said amount and over and above all statutory exemptions. The amount so posted shall be forfeited to said Town in case the bidder depositing the same does not, within 15 days after written notice that the contract has been awarded to him, enter into a contract with the Town.

Contractor shall furnish to Town a faithful performance bond and labor and material bond as required in said specifications.

Said sealed proposals shall be delivered to the Town Clerk of said Town on or before 10:00 o'clock A.M. of the 3rd day of December, 1971, Town Hall, Corte Madera, California, said time being at least fourteen days from the time of first publication and posting of this notice. Bids will be publicly opened, examined and declared on said day and hour, and referred to and considered by the Council at its meeting at 7:30 o'clock P.M. on December 6, 1971.

A copy of the plans and specifications may be obtained from the Town Engineer, Town Hall, Corte Madera, California, upon deposit therefor of $5.00, none of which will be refunded.

Dated: November 1, 1971.

SPORT NOTES

Jim Sherbert Named On All-Coast Club

By RALPH CHATOIAN

CONGRATULATIONS to Jim Sherbert, former Terra Linda High School star and now defensive end for Oregon State, for being named to the United Press International All-Coast first defensive team today.

The 6-foot-2, 215-pound senior was an All-Marin County Athletic League linebacker before moving up to college ball at Corvallis, Ore.

Winning honorable mention All-Coast were University of Pacific safety Pete Carroll, who prepped at Redwood High, and quarterback Dan Fouts of Oregon, who played one season at Marin Catholic High before switching to St. Ignatius in S.F.

Carroll, now with that All-Coast honor, will be trying for another goal when University of Pacific takes on Fresno State in the Tigers' final game tomorrow. He needs one interception to tie a 20-year-old Pacific record. The former Redwood flash has plucked off eight interceptions in 10 games and ranks fourth in the nation. The UOP record of nine is held by former Oakland Raider Eddie Macon, set in 1951. Carroll was awarded the game ball after stealing two passes in the 40-17 victory over Hawaii two weeks ago.

MOVING TO THE offense, I was glad to read that former Drake sensation Don Alvarado scored his first touchdown of the season last Saturday for Stanford in that now famous upset victory by San Jose State, my alma mater.

I would think the Indians would be loaded for Bear in that game tomorrow with Cal. A loss to Cal would surely send the Injuns to the Rose Bowl with tarnished medals. And Cal isn't dead yet, either. Their bid for reinstatement to the Pacific-8 standings and post-season play is before the courts, and a pair of wins for Cal — over Stanford and the courts — would land the Bears into a Bowl of roses.

ONE FINAL note to the great high school career of San Rafael's Scott Duncan. In three years of varsity play, Scott ran 22 yards past the one and one-half mile mark, and scored 40 touchdowns.

TERRY MOOR of Sausalito was a very good tennis player when he was at Tamalpais High, but he's improving every day. He's improving so much the Northern California Tennis Association planted the Most Improved Player award on Terry at their recent awards banquet. Two members of the recently elected Northern California Tennis Association directors are Marin Countians, Bert Jacobsen of Belvedere and Earl Kissinger of Tiburon.

IF YOU WANT to learn all about the rules so you know what those guys in striped shirts are doing at Marin high school basketball games, drop into the Redwood High School gymnasium tonight at 7 o'clock. Ray Dal Poggetto, commissioner of the West Catholic Athletic League and the man in charge of assigning officials to Far West Conference games, will head a rules clinic at Redwood. Giant players will be demonstrators.

IT'S SAD when a death goes unnoticed, but I didn't learn until just last week that Bill Guyman, a former Marin man who used to announce wrestling matches at the Winterland in San Francisco in the early '50s, died last month of cancer. For the last year, the colorful Guyman had worked as a security guard at Mt. Zion Hospital.

COAST GUARD Cadet Roland C. Mangan, a June graduate of Novato High School, is a member of the freshman football team at Coast Guard Academy, New London, Conn.

HE NEEDS A LONG TAPE MEASURE

Fred Miller of San Rafael pulled out the tape measure for this sturgeon he caught Wednesday off the Marin Islands, not far from San Rafael harbor. The whopper measured 72 inches and weighed 132 pounds. It took Miller, manager of Caravan Lodge in San Francisco, 45 minutes to land the sturgeon. Fishing from his own boat, Miller was using grass shrimp for bait. (Independent-Journal photo)

Bob Lutz Walloped By Laver

HOUSTON (UPI) — Tiburon's Bobby Lutz couldn't stop him.

Thus, Australia's Rod Laver is one step closer to becoming tennis's first millionaire. The Aussie now enters the semi finals of the World Cahmpionship Tennis Tournament needing only $5,053 to reach the money goal.

"It means more than just the prize money," Laver said after beating Lutz 6-3, 6-4, 6-4. "It will have a lot of value years and years down the line. We've played all year for this."

ANOTHER WIMBLEDON

Laver, whose career earnings now are $994,947 after beating Lutz in the WCT quarterfinals Thursday night, apparently thinks this tournament—now in its first year —some day will rank with Wimbledon, forest Hills, the U.S. Golf Open and other such events in significance.

Laver's next opponent in the WCT will be Arthur Ashe in the semifinals Sunday. Laver, topseeded in the WCT, has an 11-0 career record over Ashe, including a 5-0 mark this year.

ASHE WINS

Ashe, seeded fifth, won his quaerterfinal match over fifthseeded Cliff Drysdale of South Africa, 4-6, 7-6, 6-4, 6-3.

In tonight's other two quarterfinal matches, second-seeded Tom Okker of the Netherlands meets seventh-seeded Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., and third-seeded Ken Rosewall meets sixth-seeded John Newcombe. Rosewall and Newcombe are Australians.

Laver won on smashing sideline shots which whizzed past Lutz almost everytime time he charged the net.

ERRATIC SERVE

Lutz, who had defeated Laver two of the three times they met in recent European tournaments, said the difference this time was his erratic serving. Unable to depend on his serve, Lutz then had little left when Laver took away his net game.

One of the big volleys came in the third set with the games even at 3-3 and the score duece and Lutz serving. The Californian barely got his racket on a sideline shot and it squibbled off to put him at a disadvantage. Then he double faulted to give Laver a 4-3 lead and Laver went on to close out the match.

IN COLISEUM

49ers Face Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—In the 10th weekend of play, the San Francisco Forty Niners try to hold onto their half-game lead in the National Football Conference West Sunday against the Los Angeles Rams.

The Niners, upset 26-20 by New Orleans last weekend, have a 6-4 record while the Rams, coming off a 21-13 victory over favored Detroit, are 5-3-1. The game is rated as even by the oddsmakers.

In the teams' first meeting at San Francisco Oct. 10, the Rams won 20-13.

A sellout crowd of more than 76,000 will turn out at the Coliseum to watch the Rams' Roman Gabriel and the Forty Niners' John Brodie duel.

Gabriel, most valuable player in the National Football League in 1969, has a slight statistical edge over Brodie, 1970 NFC MVP, this season.

Despite a slow start caused by a rib injury and offseason knee and elbow surgery, the Ram quarterback has completed 53 per cent of his passes— 115 of 217 for 1,431 yards and nine touchdowns.

Playing in his 15th pro season, Brodie has completed 52 per cent of his passes in his first nine games of 1971. He is 137 for 263 for 1,716 yards and 12 TDs.

Gabriel has been intercepted only five times, seven less than his San Francisco opponent.

Leading the San Francisco rushing attack are seven-year veteran Ken Willard and Vic Washington, the rookie from Wyoming by way of Canada.

Willard has picked up 531 yards on 147 carries for a 3.6 average while Washington has 521 yards on 106 rushes for a 4.9 average.

For the Rams, Willie Ellison has 593 yards on 133 carries—a 4.5 average—and Les Josephson is 361 on 80 rushes.

Thirty-four of Brodie's completions have been to tight end Ted Kwalick for 465 yards while Gene Washington has made 32 pass receptions for San Francisco for 575 yards.

Lance Rentzel, the former Dallas Cowboy who caught two TD passes against Detroit, is the leading Ram receiver with 369 yards on 28 catches. Ellison has caught 27 passes for 231 yards.

Defensively, both teams boast aggressive pass rushes. The Forty Niners of Dick Nolan have sacked oppossing quarterbacks 33 times compared to 30 for coach Tommy Prothro's club.

All-Americans Squad Selected

DETROIT (UPI) — The first All-America team is already out, a 33-man squad chosen by Football News, and three Bay Area football players are on it.

Linebacker Jeff Siemon of Stanford and defensive interior linemen Pete Lazetich of Stanford and Sherman White of California were selected. San Jose State linebacker Dave Chaney was passed over.

Other West Coast players named to the aggregation were running back Bobby Moore of Oregon, offensive tackle John Vella of Southern California and linebacker Willie Hall, also of USC.

Football News followed a policy of when in doubt, name everybody. As a result, the squad had four quarterbacks — Jack Mildren of Oklahoma, Jerry Tagge of Nebraska, Chuck Ealey of Toledo and Pat Sullivan of Auburn — and numerous extra men at various positions.

There were six running backs — Moore, Greg Pruitt of Oklahoma, Billy Taylor of Michigan, Johnny Musso of Alabama, Ed Marinaro of Cornell and Lydell Mitchell of Penn State. This is indeed the "year of the running back."

Three players were selected from each of the nation's three top teams. Nebraska had Tagge, receiver Johnny Rodgers and defensive end Willie Harper. Oklahoma had Pruitt, Mildren and center Tom Brahaney and Michigan had Taylor, offensive guard Reggie McKenzie and linebacker Mike Taylor. Notre Dame had defensive end Walt Patulski and defensive back Clarence Ellis.

Other selections:

Receivers: Terry Beasley, Auburn; Johnny Rodgers, Nebraska; Cliff Branch, Colorado.
Tackles: Dave Joyner, Penn State; Jerry Sisemore, Texas; Vella.
Guards: Reggie McKenzie, Michigan; Royce Smith, Georgia.
Centers: Tom Brahaney, Oklahoma; Tom De Leone, Ohio State.
Defensive end: Willie Harper, Nebraska; Walt Patulski, Notre Dame.
Interior linemen: Lazetich; White.
Defensive backs: Windan Hall, Arizona State; Clarence Ellis, Notre Dame; Bobby Majors, Tennessee; Tommy Casanova, LSU; Brad Van Pelt, Michigan State.
Linebackers: Siemon, Mike Taylor, Michigan; Jackie Walker, Tennessee; Hall.

TORRID SHOOTING

Warriors Trounce Portland

OAKLAND (UPI)—To say the Golden State Warriors were hot Thursday night is understating the case.

The Warriors didn't cool off until the fourth period in handing the Portland Trail Blazers a 115-105 setback. Golden State clicked on 27 of 46 from the field for a torrid 59 per cent in the first half.

After building a 99-78 lead entering the final period, the Warriors cooled to 16 points and a final shooting percentage of .480.

It was a night of set-ups and fast breaks as Jeff Mullins (9), Jim Barnett (7) and Cazzie Russell (8) totaled 24 assists. Russell went over the 5,000 point mark in his NBA career while scoring 29 points, including 13 in the second period.

Even Clyde Lee, normally a poor shooter, got the message. He rifled and tipped in 7 of 10 shots for one of the best shooting nights of his career.

Boldirev Makes Good In Debut

BUFFALO (UPI) —Ivan Boldirev didn't wait long to win his flippers as a California Golden Seal.

Acquired Wednesday in a trade with the Boston Bruins, Boldirev hardly had time to change uniforms when he netted a 20-foot slapshot after 4:38 of the final period to give the Seals a 5-4 lead over the Buffalo Sabres.

Buffalo bounced back to tie it 5-5 but Joe Johnston banged in his own rebound with 1:32 left in the game and Craig Patrick added an empty-net goal with 53 seconds left to give the Seals a 7-5 win. It also snapped a four-game losing streak for California.

Other California goals were scored by Ernie Hicke, Bobby Sheehan and Gerry Pinder.

Reinecke Signs Bill Hiking Fees

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — California's hunting and fishing license fees will be increased for the first time in 13 years under a bill that was signed Thursday by Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke.

The measure will boost the cost of hunting licenses from $4 to $6 and the cost of a deer tage from $2 to $3. Fishing licenses would be increased from $3 to $4.

A total of $5.5 million would be raised by the bill, which was sought by the State Department of Fish and Game and warned it needed the money to avoid cutting back on its wildlife management and protection programs.

Under the bill, the overall license fee for trout fishing would be increased from $5 to $7. Three-day fishing fees would go up from $1 to $2, with nonresident hunting licenses being raised from $25 to $35 and nonresident fishing licenses from $10 to $15.

Bears Tackle Lions In Runnerup Joust

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

An auto rental agency once mounted its entire campaign on the plight of being second-best.

The Chicago Bears find themselves in that bind.

They're second to Minnesota in the National Conference Central Division and they'll be trying harder to at least maintain that position if they fail to gain a tie with the Vikings for the division lead.

Here's the situation: Chicago (6-3), a game behind Minnesota (7-2) hosts third place Detroit (5-3-1) this Sunday. If the Bears win and Minnesota loses to audacious New Orleans, a first-place tie results. But if Chicago loses, the Lions will vault into second no matter what the Vikings do.

The contest is rated a pick-em affair.

In other NFC action Sunday, Dallis is a three-point favorite over the Redskins in a battle for leadership of the Eastern Division; Minnesota is up by seven over a Saints team that has knocked off the Cowboys and San Francisco and tied Oakland in recent weeks; the Forty Niners and Los Angeles are rated even in a struggle for dominance of the West and St. Louis is given a seven-point edge over Philadelphia.

Atlanta is picked by eight over Green Bay in the nationally televised Monday night encounter.

Miami is a three-point pick to widen its American conference east lead to two games over Baltimore, Kansas City is a two-touchdown favorite over Denver, Cincinnati is picked by eight over Houston, Cleveland by 10 over New England, the New York Jets by seven over Buffalo and the Raiders by 14 over San Diego.

Pittsburgh is picked by four over the New York Giants in the only inter-conference game.

Detroit, coming off a tough 21-13 loss to Los Angeles, will throw the conference's best running attack against the Bears, who rank a lowly 11th in defending against the rush.

Former Heisman Trophy winner Steve Owens, now in his sophomore season, spearheads the ground game. The ex-Oklahoma ace has gained 724 yards, second only to John Brockington of Green Bay. Altie Taylor, who ran for 101 yards against the Rams, ranks sixth in the conference with 534 yards.

Quarterback Greg Landry has added 344 yards rushing and his 13 touchdown passes lead the conference.

The Bears won, 28-23, on Oct. 24 in the first meeting of the two clubs this year, as Douglass passed for two touchdowns and ran for another.

TO START SEVENTH YEAR

Chicago Keeps Durocher

CHICAGO (UPI)—Leo "The Lip" Durocher hardly said a word to quelch the din of speculators who predicted a dark future for him, but the doughty Cubs manager wound up sitting in the catbird seat anyway.

The 66-year-old Lip, whose major league career stretches back to 1928, was signed Thursday to manage the Cubs again in 1972, much to the surprise of many a sportswriter, and doubtless to the chagrin of not a few of his players.

The Cubs made the announcement a few hours after Durocher had huddled with club owner Philip K. Wrigley and vice president John Holland.

Wrigley, the 76-year-old chewing gum magnate, has made no secret of his contempt for Durocher's critics, and he became so insensed over the anti-Durocher romors last summer he took out a generous amount of paid advertising space in Chicago newspapers to point out Durocher was still his man.

He also reminded the public (and the press) that Durocher had brought the Cubs into first-division contention since he became manager in 1965.

The Cubs also announced that Cub fan favorite Ernie Banks would be coach for first base and Pete Rieser, onetime Dodger standout, would coach third base. The announcement said Banks, who suffered an injured knee during most of the 1971 season, could be reactivated as a player after May 15.

Muhammad Ali Dissatisfied With Showing Against Mathis

HOUSTON (UPI)—Muhammad Ali said Thursday he was not satisfied with his performance against Buster Mathis and that it would not have been good enough to beat heavyweight champion Joe Frazier.

Ali, 227, knocked Mathis, 256 down four times in the last two rounds to win a unanimous 12-round decision Wednesday night. It was Ali's 33rd victory in 34 starts, losing only to Frazier in a title fight last March. (The bout will be shown on television (Channels 7 and 11) tomorrow at 11 a.m.)

"I saw things I wanted to do and couldn't do," Ali said of the Mathis fight. "I should have been in training longer. And I would have to weigh only about 215 to fight Frazier.

"If I'd keep my distance and stay out of corners, I could beat Frazier, but I wouldn't have fought Frazier like this — with only 12 days training," Ali said.

He said he would take three months to prepare for Frazier.

He said the Mathis fight was not a tough one, but said Mathis was a good boxer.

Ali announced he will fight Jurgen Blin of Hamburg, Germany, in Zurich, Switzerland, Dec. 18 in a 12-rounder. Ali will be guaranteed $300,000 —the same as for the Mathis fight.

JACK HANLEY

Willie McCovey Big Hit As Radio D.J.

Willie McCovey has an easy way with words. He is as comfortable before a microphone as he is facing an enemy pitcher. The big fellow with the buggywhip swing need never speculate about a career after his baseball days are over. He will be a natural as a disc jockey.

McCovey was the middle man this week in a lineup of five Giants substituting for vacationing Jim Lange, KSFO's early morning disc jockey. McCovey created a calm, relaxed atmosphere with a smooth commentary on such far ranging subjects as arthritis and 34-ounce bats.

He happened to mention that the arthritic condition in his right knee was helped by a diet which a doctor friend of Horace Stoneham suggested he try. Almost immediately there were calls from arthritis sufferers.

"I don't know if it would work for anybody else," said McCovey. "In fact, I had my own doubts about it. Mr. Stoneham and Charlie Fox had been after me a long while to try it, at least talk to Mr. Stoneham's doctor friend.

"ONE DAY they corraled me in our clubhouse at Candlestick and took me into Charlie's office. There was the doc and he outlined the diet. It's one that avoids acids, like fruit juices. There are acids in some other foods, too. After I'd been on the diet for a time, I noticed an improvement."

There were innumerable baseball questions for the big first baseman, including one about the weight of the bat with which he buggywhips home runs.

"It's identical with the one Ted Williams used —34 ounces," said McCovey.

WASN'T THAT an unusually light bat for such a big fellow?

"Actually," said McCovey, "late in the season I will even go to a lighter bat — 33 ounces. I wait longer on a pitch than some other batters who get good results with heavier bats because they are out in front of a pitch, punching at it."

Who are the toughest pitchers he faces?

"WHEN YOU'RE in a hot streak, you feel you can hit all of them," said McCovey. "But I'd have to say Bob Gibson and Ferguson Jenkins are the toughest. I'm glad Jenkins got the Cy Young Award this year. He deserved it. He hasn't had the recognition due him.

"A pitcher always has the advantage over a batter because he has eight men behind him. But I don't let that worry me. I let the pitcher worry about me."

WHAT ABOUT his left knee, the one from which damaged cartilage was removed in an operation last month?

"I'm already working with weights, building up the leg muscles," said McCovey. "I'll be jogging in another month."

Defense Injuries Hit Cards

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—The St. Louis Cardinals said today that seven players, six of them defensive starters, will be out of action Sunday against Philadelphia — resulting in major defensive changes.

Three of the players were scheduled to undergo knee surgery today.

The only offensive casualty is tight end Jackie Smith, who will be replaced Sunday by Jim McFarland. Smith suffered a knee injury in Monday night's loss to the San Diego Chargers.

On the defense tackle Fred Heron, who also is ailing with a knee injury, will be replaced by tackle Rolf Krueger.

Right end Joe Schmiesing will start for Chuck Walker who has a bruised thigh. Rookie left end Ron Yankowski and right tackle Bob Rowe will start as they did against the Chargers.

At the linebackers, the Cardinals said, reserve Jim Hargrove probably will start in place of Jamie Rivers at middle linebacker. Rivers suffered a bruised leg Monday night. The right linebacker probably will be rookie Rick Ogle, who will replace Mike McGill who bruised a shoulder at San Diego. Larry Stallings will start at left linebacker.

The defensive backs will be Miller Farr at left corner and Rookie Norm Thompson playing at right corner for Roger Wehrli.

Namath Still Not Ready

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

NEW YORK — Injured quarterback Joe Namath of the New York Jets indicated yesterday that he still wasn't healthy enough to return to action.

Namath, who injured his left knee in the Jets' first preseason game and has been out of action since, worked out with the Jets' offensive unit yesterday for the first time since being injured and handled every fourth play. He worked out for an hour and 50 minutes.

Namath said the pain in his left foot, a side effect from his knee injury, had subsided a great deal but that he would not attempt to return to action unless he was perfectly healthy.

"I certainly haven't worked enough to decide if I'm healthy," said Namath. "Right now I'm not. If I'm healthy I'll play and if I do play I'll be completely healthy. If I can play I want to go full time."

GREEN BAY, Wis. — Green Bay Packer coach Dan Devine said yesterday Mayo Clinic had cleared quarterback Bart Starr for full-scale practices.

DELAWARE, Ohio — The post-season Stagg Bowl will be played at Birmingham Ala. on Thanksgiving Day rather than Chicago as previously planned it was announced last night. Ohio Wesleyan, 8-1, will meet Samford University, 7-1 with one game left.

NHL ROUNDUP

Orr, Esposito Lead Boston Win

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Two goals and an assist by Bobby Orr was all fine and dandy, but it was the work of another Boston defenseman that had the Bruins talking.

Orr helped break up a tight contest when he scored his eighth and ninth goals of the season eight minutes apart in the final period and then set up Phil Esposito's 14th as Boston routed the Vancouver Canucks, 5-0, Thursday night.

However, the most heartening factor of the game, as far as the Bruins were concerned, was the effective play of Ted Green, who has missed a good part of the campaign with a nagging stomach muscle strain.

Goalie Tom Johnston, who turned aside 22 Vancouver shots in registering his first shutout of the season, said, "Teddy could be just the shot in the arm we need for that run at New York and Montraal."

The Bruins, third in the National Hockey League's East Division, closed to within five points of both the idle Rangers and the Canadiens, who had to settle for a 2-2 tie against the St. Louis Blues.

In other games Thursday night, the Minnesota North Stars narrowed their margin behind first-place Chicago in the West Division to two points by edging the Pittsburgh Penguins, 4-3, the Philadelphia Flyers beat the Los Angeles Kings, 2-0.

Marc Tardif scored his 14th goal of the season with 1:24 left to play to enable Montreal to gain a tie against St. Louis and deadlock the Rangers for first place. Jim McLeod, a 34-year-old rookie, had been outstanding in the St. Louis net before Tardif got the equalizer on a pass from Guy Lafleur.

J. P. Parise's defelection of a long shot by Tom Reid with little more than three minutes remaining provided Minnesota with its margin of victory. Greg Polis scored two goals for the Penguins.

Bruce Gamble scored his first shutout for Philadelphia, handling 32 Los Angeles shots, and Gary Dornhoefer became the Flyers' all-time scoring leader with his 171st point when he set up a third-period goal by Jean Guy Gendron.

Hooper, Wadkins Get Lead

WILMINGTON, N.C. (UPI)- Former U.S. Amateur champion Lanny Wadkins and Herb Hooper of Richmond, Va., blistered Cape Fear Country Club with seven-under-par 64s Thursday to take the first round lead in the $35,000 Azalea Open golf tournament.

Hooper played almost flawless golf. Carding four birdies on the front and three on the back for nines of 32-32 under clear fall skies and moderate temperatures.

Wadkins, starting on the back side, overcame a bogey on the tenth and had eight birdies for his 64.

Hooper sank a 15-foot putt on the second hole for one birdie, and short putts on the third, fourth and fifth holes. On the back nine, he birdied 12, 13 and 15 with putts of three, 12, and two feet.

Buck Adams of Pinehurst, N.C. was in third place after the first round with a six-under par 65. Adams had seven birdies against one bogey for nines of 32-33.

Earl Fennell and Leonard Thompson shared fourth place with 66s.

Six professionals and one amateur were tied for sixth place with 67s. Wake Forest amateur Jim Simons joined pros Paul Moran, Paul Bondeson, Jim Dent, Allen Miller, Tom Sanderson and Ted Hayes with 67s.

A logjam of eight players, including amateur Eddie Pierce, another Wake Forest star, finished with 68s. The professionals included Bob Dickson, Billy Ziobro, Bobby Greenwood, Jim Jewell, Charles Sifford, Bobby Mitchell and Terry Wilcox.

China Invited Back Into Olympic Games

NEW YORK (UPI) — Another international door opened for mainland China yesterday when Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, invited that nation to participate in the Olympic Games.

Although Brundage said he didn't think there was much of a chance for the Chinese to compete in the 1972 games at Sapporo and Munich, he did welcome them back, assuming they adhere to Olympic rules and regulations.

Mainland China withdrew from the IOC in 1956 when it refused to compete at Melbourne because Taiwan was going to be in Australia.

Brundage, in an interview with Finnish broadcasting company correspondent Jussi Himanka, said "the objective of the Olympic movement is to unite the youth of the world, and all countries are welcome, including the peoples Republic of China, with the provision that they must agree to follow the Olympic code and to abide by the Olympic rules and regulations."

Even if Mainland China accepted Brundage's invitation, the IOC president doubted that it would be in time for the upcoming winter and summer games.

"They have to reapply for membership," explained Brundage. "They have to agree to comply with the rules. And then there's the fact that Taiwan is still a member, is recognized, and will be eligible to compete. So, if the Peoples Republic adheres to its previous stand, it will not compete if Taiwan competes. I don't think they will be there."

Condors Get Ligon, Bob Verga

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Condors traded rookie Jim O'Brien to Kentucky and veteran Stew Johnson to Carolina in separate deals for Jim Ligon and Bob Verga, in an attempt to bolter a defense which gives up an average 126 points per ball game.

"Both Ligon and Verga are physical ball players—they'll make our defense that much tougher," said Mark Binstein, Pittsburgh coach and general manager.

Binstein said Ligon, a four-year veteran 6-foot-7 forward obtained from Kentucky "is just what I need—a fellow who can't shoot."

FISH AND GAME

A Record Season For Salmon Anglers

By AL GIDDINGS

Ocean sport fishermen boated a record 209,000 salmon during 1971, according to preliminary estimates of the Department of Fish and Game. The previous record was set in 1956 when ocean anglers boated 199,000 salmon. The 10-year average (1961-1970) was 135,000 salmon. The 1971 catch included 160,00 king salmon and 49,000 silvers.

Partyboat anglers primarily from the San Francisco Bay area landed almost 70 per cent of the statewide catch of king salmon. Skiff fishermen out of the Eureka-Trinidad area accounted for nearly 60 per cent of the silver salmon. Though the general salmon season is now closed, it is still legal to take salmon in San Francisco Bay, San Pablo Bay, Tomales Bay and the ocean area north of Tomales Point.

I RECEIVED a call from Carl Kohler of Santa Venetia. He said, "We got a nine-point buck last weekend up at Camptonville. It weighed 245 pounds!" I said, "That's some buck and certainly a big one for a blacktail." Save those horns, Carl, that I've gotta see!"

I also received a call from Betty Machado of Novato. She was all excited telling me about the seven bucks her family brought home from Rifle, Colo.

AND THEN I heard about two young Eureka poachers who were "nailed" at 3 o'clock in the morning on remote Moffett Creek with six deer, a spotlight and four rifles. They were fined $900 and lost their licenses for five years. Warden John Spotts of Fort Jones cited the pair, Larry Mayden and Irvin Mattos, on charges including the illegal deer, spotlighting and having a loaded rifle in the car.

In another case, three San Mateo poachers were arrested with five untagged deer in a closed area near Centerville, Humboldt County. Warden Wally Callan issued the citations for the untagged deer to Albert Baccelli of Belmont and to Caesar Bazzoni and Richard Pignone of San Mateo. Each man was fined $500.

Tomorrow, the fall turkey season opens for nine days. Prospects are rated good. Last year approximately 500 birds were taken.

Five counties and portions of four others will be open for the season that runs through Nov. 28. Open areas will be Monterey, San Luis Obispo, Shasta, Tehama and Trinity counties; and parts of Glenn and Mendocino counties within the Mendocino National Forest, and portions of Kern and Tulare counties lying east of the main fork of the Kern River and north of State Highway 178. Bag and possession limits are two birds of either sex per season. Shooting hours are one-half hour before sunrise to one half hour after sunset.

In Northern California, Tehama County is expected to be a good bet. Most birds are expected to be taken in San Luis Obispo County. Most of the birds will be on private property so written permission of the landowner is necessary.

Public areas open include the Tehama Wildlife Area, and the Cinder Cone National Cooperative Wildlife Management Area in Shasta County.

HAROLD HARPER, upland game management man of the Department of Fish and Game, says, "Be in your hunting spot at the first gleam of dawn. Birds in the area may start to call from roosts several minutes or even a half hour before flying down from their nightly perch in a tall large-limbed tree. If you can hear birds calling, move as close as possible without disturbing them, then conceal yourself, and start giving the feeding call. Be patient and above all, be as motionless as a pillar of stone. It may take several hours to get the birds to work their way to your hiding place."

(This really sounds like an old time snipe hunt to me!) To continue, Harper says, "I assume you have practiced diligently and have mastered the several calls a turkey makes. Turkeys like the company of another turkey and will come running if you talk turkey. (Turkey calls are sold at most sport shops.) Harper also says "turkeys can see like an eagle, hear like a deer, run as fast as a horse, fly like a grouse, hide like a quail, and spring into the air like a rooster pheasant! Once you hunt them it's like a fever!"

(Where's my gun; I've got the fever!)

Cossacks Entertain Chico State

Sonoma State Cossacks will close out a disappointing football season tomorrow by hosting powerful Chico State in Rohnert Park at 1:30 p.m.

Sonoma, 2-7 on the year and 0-5 in the Far Western Conference, will be out to avenge last year's 75-14 defeat at the hands of Chico.

Chico's Wildcats have an 8-1 record, 4-1 in the FWC, and are averaging 34 points a game. Their chief strength is a pair of quick backs, Dave Demek and Brad Knight. Normal starting quarterback Mike Salsedo is still injured, but reserve Greg Welch directed the offense to 96 points in the last two games. Speedy Rex Smith has set school records at split end.

Sonoma will be near full strength for the game, with sophomore quarterback Ernie Simon the only doubtful player. He has a shoulder pointer. He has been alternating at quarterback with Mike McBee.

Sonoma came up with a good effort last week, losing only 6-0 to a tough Humboldt State team.

Arkansas Accepts Bowl Bid

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—The Liberty Bowl announced Thursday that Arkansas has agreed to play in the Dec. 20th classic if the Southwest Conference race does not turn topsy-turvy and put the Razorbacks in the Cotton Bowl.

"We are proud to announce that the University of Arkansas has agreed to be one of the participating teams in the 13th annual Liberty Bowl provided they do not go to the Cotton Bowl," said Liberty Bowl executive director A.F. (Bud) Dudley.

The only way for Arkansas (7-2-1) to wind up in Dallas on New Year's Day would be for heavily-favored Texas to lose to Texas A&M this Saturday and for Arkansas to defeat Texas Tech.

An opponent has not yet been named for Arkansas, but Ole Miss (8-2), North Carolina (8-2) and Tennessee (6-2) are in the running with Tennessee reportedly on the inside track.

The announcement was made under an NCAA rule which permits a team to accept a bowl bid on the third Saturday in November or one week prior to its final game—whichever comes first. The ArkansasTexas Tech game is the final of the year for the Razorbacks.

The Razorbacks, led by quarterback Joe Ferguson, trounced Texas 31-7 at midseason and were heavily favored to go to the Cotton Bowl before an upset 24-24 tie at the hands of Rice two Saturdays ago. That put Texas back in the drivers seat in the Southwest Conference.

Arkansas opened the season with victories over California (51-20) and Oklahoma State (3110), lost to Tulsa in an 21-20 upset, then hung up successive victories over TCU, Baylor, Texas and North Texas State before losing to Texas A&M, 179, and being tied by Rice.

Arkansas defeated SMU 18-13 last Saturday.

Five Tomales Gridders Named To All-Star Team

Bob Frankenfield was selected on both offense and defense as five Tomales High School players were named to the North Coast League II all-star football team.

Frankenfield was picked as offensive guard and defensive linebacker. Al Rodini was chosen as offensive center, Steve Cunningham as linebacker and Jerry Lucchesi and Bob Kehoe as defensive linemen.

Halfback Bill Zimmerman received honorable mention.

On the junior varsity team, Tomales had four selections on offense and four on defense, including two-way picks Leonard Simas and Walt Roberts. Dale Davis and Ed Albini were the other offensive choices, while Bruce Neal and Dave Camp were the defensive picks. Pat Kuhre was honorable mention on offense and Brian Horick on defense.

Foundation Tries For Wells Release

OAKLAND (UPI)—The Community Educational Research Foundation says it is trying to get wide receiver Warren Wells of the Oakland Raiders released from prison.

Rev. Charles Moore, head of the Oakland-based organization, said Thursday he has gotten 39 Raider players to sign a statement of support for Wells who is now at a prison camp in the Sierras for assaulting a woman in Beaumont, Tex., while on probation from a rape case.

BASKETBALL PROSPECTS

An Improved San Rafael Team For 1971-72 Season

By LEW CODDINGTON

(Fourth in a series on Marin County Athletic League basketball prospects.)

Watch out for San Rafael.

Experience, depth and strength on the boards will be the hallmarks of a vastly improved San Rafael High School basketball team this season.

"We had an all-junior ballclub last year with no experience," said coach Mike Diaz. "We still played a lot of good games against the top teams in the league. This season, all those good juniors have experience, too."

The Bulldogs were 4-10 in Marin County Athletic League play last year, tied for the bottom with Marin Catholic and Drake.

Four starters are back from last year's varsity, and three starters are coming up from a junior varsity team that tied Redwood for the championship. Add to this mixture a skilled transfer and you may get a league-shaking explosion.

The transfer is Doni Canfield, a 6-foot-3 forward from Vallejo. "He gives us scoring punch," said Diaz.

The returning center is Wayne Lechner, whose 6-5 height is good but not overpowering. With him on the front line are brother Bill and Duke Bessee, both 6-3. The J.V.s offer 6-3 center Dan Zitek and 6-2 forward Jeff White. From last year's varsity reserves come 6-4½ center Greg Goodall, 6-3 forward George Swift and 6-0 forward Mark Farrar. To get a rebound against San Rafael, you should bring a ladder.

The guard corps will be spearheaded by 5-11 Jerry Malinari, who started last year, and 5-9 Kenny Mallett, up from J.V. Last year's varsity bench contained 6-0 Mike Johnson and 6-1 Jim Christensen.

"We will try to slow the ball up and control it," said Diaz. "We are a fair shooting team, and we should get the second shot quite a bit. We are working on our free-throw shooting, which wasn't too good last year."

San Rafael is not exceptionally quick, but this problem is minimized with a ball-control offense. "Defense has never been a problem for us; we've always done a good job," said Diaz.

San Rafael opens its season next Wednesday at Sonoma. The MCAL season opens Jan. 7, with the Bulldogs hosting Drake. The schedule:

Ampex Reports A Loss On Shares

REDWOOD CITY (UPI)—Ampex Corp. reported Thursday a net loss of $2.625 million, or 24 cents per share, as compared with earnings in 1970 of $139,000, or one cent per share.

The company reported, however, that sales for the second quarter ended Oct. 30 rose 11 per cent over the same period a year ago but resulted in the loss. Sales for the second quarter of 1971 totaled $82.315 million, up 11 per cent from $74,432 million in the comparable period in 1970.

What Is Advice On Wayne?

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. We have 1,200 shares of Wayne-Gossard preferred on which some changes are to be made after January 1972. What are the changes and will the dividend be continued? We need income and would like advice on whether to hold, sell or convert. — E.V.

A. Beginning Feb. 1, 1972, Wayne has the right to redeem the preferred shares at $30 per share on 30 days notice. There are 346,939 preferred shares currently outstanding, redemption of which would cost $10.4 million. Redemption would be economically unrealistic since borrowing costs on this amount would undoubtedly exceed the $555,000 annual dividend expense on these shares. While the preferred shares remain outstanding, the dividend is a corporate obligation and is cumulative if omitted.

Third quarter earnings recovered 28 per cent year-to-year on a 3 per cent drop in sales. Continued improvement in profit margins could push full year earnings to the 90 cent level. Because the preferred is selling at a 14 per cent premium over conversion value, exchange for the common would involve loss of capital. Wayne-Gossard preferred should be retained for the above-average return.

Q. I am a widow and would like to invest $4,000 to supplement my $4,200 annual income. I have been told that GAC five-year 7 per cent promissory notes are quite safe. Would this be a wise choice for me? — J.W.

A. Although I am unable to find this particular debt offering GAC and its subsidiaries have long term debt of $567 million bearing interest of between 4¾ per cent and 12 per cent and ratings of BBB and CCC. The last reported figure for interest charges earned was in 1968, 1.15x when net was $2.64 a share. As of the first nine months of the current year GAC Corp. reported a net loss of $11.1 million.

Early-Hour Stocks Slide

NEW YORK (UPI) —Stock prices slid in morning trading on the New York Stock Exchange today in the absence of any supporting news developments. Volume was light.

The Dow Jones industrial average was down 5.55 to 809.80 shortly before the noon hour. Of 1,449 issues on the tape, there were 808 declines, 260 advances. Standard & Poor's 500-stock index was easier by 0.38 to 91.75.

Analysts generally were agreed Wall Street needs a jolt in the arm if it is to reverse its downward trend.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange moved lower in quiet trading—475 declines against 169 advances and turnover of around 1.4 million shares. Active issues included 52 warrants up 7-8 to 21 1-2 on volume of 17,900, and Cinerama down 1-8 to 2 1-2 on 15,400.

Volume on the Big Board after almost two hours was around 5.8 million shares, somewhat under average for the period.

Issues of Realty Investment Trusts, which broke sharply Thursday, continued to move lower.

Among the larger losers were Xerox, by 2 3-4, Burroughs 1 3-8, Control Data 1 5-8, McDonnell Douglas 1 Chesapeake & Ohio Railway 1 3-4, Superior Oil and Du Pont 2 3-4. American Telephone was unchanged.

If you still have the energy, off to the Gastown Wax Museum. The following day take a return cruise on the S.S. Princess of Vancouver out to Nanaimo on Vancouver Island and have a Fondue Fromage at the Boiler Room when you get back.

All those things should cost you about $30. They won't, they're free. Ask us. Or, ask your travel agent, he'll confirm everything.

There are two cars built in Sweden. This is the one that reduces your collision insurance rates 15% at Allstate.

Recently, the Allstate Insurance Company challenged the automobile industry to build a car that could withstand a 5 mile an hour front end and a 2½ mile an hour rear end collision with an immovable barrier without any damage to the car.

Build such a car, said Allstate, and we'll reduce collision insurance rates on it 15%...a reduction that can save the car owner $20, $40, maybe even $80 or more a year on insurance premiums.

As of today, our car passes the 1973 Federal Safety Standards for low speed collisions a year before it's required.

Our car is a lot different from the other car built in Sweden in other ways, too.

Our car has Front-Wheel Drive, a standard 4-cylinder, fuel-injected, overhead cam engine and 4-speed transmission (3-speed automatic is optional), 4-wheel disc brakes and roll-cage construction. Radial tires are standard too.

One thing that isn't a lot different is price. Our car costs about the same as theirs.

So before you buy their car, drive ours. The SAAB 99E. We think you're going to buy our car instead of theirs. SAAB 99E

An Override Plea Made

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —Two statewide college student body organizations yesterday urged the legislature to override Gov. Ronald Reagan's recent vetoes of a bill providing $3.5 million for needy students.

Ken Maley, student body president of San Francisco State College, told a news conference that Reagan vetoed the bill "for reasons based on incorrect information."

The bill by Sen. Milton Marks, R-San Francisco, would have provided $2,472,546 for state college Educational Opportunity Programs (EOP), and $1,150,000 for community college Extended Opportunity Programs.

Maley, representing the state college Student Preside t Association and community college Student Government Association, said Reagan vetoed the bill because of increased federal funding for student loans.

Maley said, "The governor obviously believes that these funds, earmarked by the federal government for loans, can be transferred into the EOP programs and used for grants.

Senate Panel Backs Racing Law Revisions

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The Senate Governmental Organization Committee yesterday endorsed major legislation providing comprehensive revision of California's horse racing laws and taxing procedures.

The measure by Assemblyman Mike Cullen, D-Long Beach, was sent to the Finance Committee, where its revenue provisions are expected to get close scrutiny.

Gov. Ronald Reagan earlier this year vetoed legislation expanding the geographical zones for racing and called for a comprehensive revision of the laws governing the horse racing industry.

Reagan later laid down several guidelines of what he intends for the revision and asked the industry to agree among itself on efforts to meet them.

The multi-provisional bill approved by the committee today "generally" meets Reagan's demands and has near unanimous agreement by the horse racing industry, committee sources said.

One provision increases the takeout from the betting handle from the current 15 1-4 cents on every dollar bet to 15 3-4 cents. The state gets one-half of this amount, which presently totals about $60 million. The increased takeout would increase the state's share by $8 million.

The measure additionally sets up a new central zone for racing, which would include Orange, San Diego and Imperial counties.

They previously were part of the southern zone, which would include Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Riverside, Ventura, Santa Barbara and Kern counties. The remainder of the state is in the northern zone.

The bill also adds nine weeks of harness and quarter horse racing in the southern zone, which now has no harness racing and 13 weeks of quarter horse racing.

The central zone will get two more weeks of harness racing, but not until 1974, under terms of the bill.

It also eliminates the Dec. 31, 1972, termination of the so-called "breakage formula."

Residency Ruling Vs. 'Equality For All'

In April, 1969, the United State Supreme Court ruled that it was unconstitutional for a state to impose a residency requirement for welfare assistance.

The ruling knocked out such requirements in a lot of states, including California. It brought a horde of newcomers to the Golden State, lured not by hope of good jobs but by the fact that California's public assistance programs are among the most generous.

THE AMOUNTS BUDGETED for public assistance by Marin County give some hint of the ruling's effect. In 1968-69, the budget for public assistance, excluding Medi-Cal, was $5,655,440. For fiscal 1969-70, the supervisors budgeted $6,391,200 — a $735,760 increase. But this turned out to be inadequate after the Supreme Court ruling, and money had to be transferred from other funds. For fiscal 1970-71 the public assistance budget climbed $1,268,000 to a total of $7,659,200, and for 1971-72 it was set up at $10,582,350 — up a whopping $2,923,150 from last year.

Much of this, of course, is financed through the state and federal government — THROUGH, not BY, for it is all financed by us taxpayers.

Attempts by Gov. Ronald Reagan to reduce the drain by cutting benefits got slapped down in the courts.

AND THIS WEEK, the U.S. Supreme Court delivered another blow at the enfeebled doctrine of state and local rights. It ruled that no residency requirement for assistance can be imposed even where the assistance comes entirely from local funds.

The case was in behalf of a ranch hand who moved from the state of Washington to Gallatin County, Mont., for a seasonal job. When the job ran out, he applied for welfare and was turned down as a nonresident. The Montana Supreme Court held the turndown was legal because no federal funds were involved, therefore Gallatin County could make its own rules.

Not so! said the nine august justices of the U.S. Supreme Court, without even hearing arguments. No residency rule, period!

THERE IS AN ANOMALY here.

In its campaign to make everybody "equal" via court edict, the high tribunal has forced state legislatures to redistrict both houses on a "one man, one vote" basis (despite the plain constitutional provision for an upper house of the national legislature that is not so districted.) It has forced massive revamping of school systems. It has upset various other state and local laws in the name of "equality for all."

But there is no equality in welfare benefits. If there were, there would be no influx of people to California for its higher benefits.

The high court does not address itself to that. Instead, it slaps down residency requirements.

Strange business sometimes, this rule by court edict!

The Mastodon Mercury Mystery

The Food and Drug Administration's standards proclaim that any foodstuff with more than .5 of one part per million of mercury may be regarded as unsafe for human consumption. Accordingly, very large amounts of "polluted" tuna and swordfish were removed from the market when they were found to exceed this level.

Now, tests of a 15,000-year-old mastodon bone in a New York museum have shown it to contain 1.19 ppm. of mercury.

This raises the question whether some mercury may not be naturally occurring in animals and fish in mercury-rich regions. We would not attempt to second guess the FDA. But it is something to speculate about.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Consumers Get Some Breaks But Not Enough

By FRED W. KLINE

SACRAMENTO (Capitol) — A little consumer protection is better than no consumer protection at all, but right now a lot more is needed. Let's hope our state legislators wake up to this when they reconvene next year.

A very limited bill protecting consumers against so-called auto repairmen was passed by the legislature and signed by the governor last week.

The bill, SB 51, by Sen. Anthony Beilenson, D-Beverly Hills, left much to be desired from the viewpoint of consumer protection. Beilenson himself said as much, but it was the best bill he could get past oil company and Detroit lobbyists.

UNDER THE TERMS of SB 51, auto repair shops have to stand behind work done to automobiles of people who, since they aren't themselves mechanics, can't really tell whether they are getting satisfactory work or not.

Not covered by the bill are jobs done by gas station operators.

Such repair bills are often paid on credit cards issued by major oil companies. These companies are happy to handle the transaction, but they do not guarantee repair work performed by their gas and oil dealers.

It might be good public relations for these oil companies to impose more stringent standards on their dealers. They might even require a bond to protect against poor work that could reflect back on the company's products.

You'd think, after all, the oil companies are having enough trouble right now with ecology buffs who complain about the entire process —from offshore drilling of oil to contamination from pipeline breaks to smog — without asking for more trouble from advocates of consumer protection.

ANOTHER IMPORTANT piece of consumer protection legislation passed and signed this year was AB 289, authored by Assemblyman Jack Fenton, D-Montebello. It protects, to some extent, the consumer who has second thoughts about magazine subscriptions, merchandise or services purchased from door-to-door salesmen.

The attacks on this bill by lobbyists were almost as strong as those against Beilenson's auto repair bill. AB 289 gives the customer 72 hours in which to reconsider the transaction —after the too-often high pressure salesman has departed.

A really good idea in the consumer protection field might be regulation of the rebuilt equipment dealers who supply auto repairmen, legitimate and otherwise.

If all were held to answer not only for the consumer's out-of-pocket expenses but for his loss of time or pay as well, they might really begin to shape up.

Things Were Different In Old England

Once upon a time, in England, treason — the giving of aid or comfort to enemies of the state — was punished by the condemned being drawn upon a sledge to the place of execution, hanged and disemboweled while yet alive, beheaded, quartered. All lands and property of those so executed were forfeited.

In the United States today, and specifically in the City of Berkeley, the treason of that city's government goes unpunished. All of its members will probably be returned to office at the next election.

Takes Sharp Difference With Richard Nave

Do we detect the pungent odor of sour grapes emanating from the diatribe poured forth by Richard P. Nave?

Would the fact that the Point Reyes National Seashore now encompasses land which he and his family members owned and which was used by them and their cohorts as their own private hunting and fishing preserve, be responsible in some way for his bitter denunciation?

Marin has always been a strong conservation county and will remain so in spite of, or perhaps because of, the narrow minded, blinker-wearing, special interest minority who have, in this instance, a private axe to grind.

Unusual Scheme For Taxpayer Revolt

I read your editorial re the ability of government to increase its spending with almost no restraint. The economists I read point to this factor, on all levels, as the major factor in inflation. Our government talks "keeping prices down," but look at their own record.

Enclosed is a chart showing that while my gross income has increased 142 per cent since 1965, my federal income tax has increased 234 per cent, and state income tax 763 per cent. . That 763 per cent is something that can't be explained to me by a governor who makes lots more than I do and doesn't pay any state income tax. His words just seem to go in one of my ears and out the other.

As for property taxes, in the last few years values have not risen — ask the real estate people . . . The government has an answer — they just increase the base form 23 per cent to 25 per cent assessed valuation because they know the increased value argument won't stick. They will always have a gimmick to raise their take.

The only answer is a taxpayers' revolt. In this year of the freeze I think everyone who is paying taxes on the same piece of property or salary should just send in the amount of last year's bill! This might seem like a weak revolt, but if enough people did it the government just couldn't handle the paperwork and it might let them know what's in store if it keeps up. . .

President, Congress Must Face Fact Of Loss Of Confidence

WASHINGTON — There is a growing weakness at the very base of government in the United States which needs to come out into the open before it is too late.

It is a peril to the democratic process itself, revealed by the fact that most Americans, for one reason or another, have lost confidence in the government itself.

This is a grave matter. It is a dagger pointed at the heart of democracy, because when people lose confidence in government, government begins to lose the capacity to govern effectively.

DISMAYING EVIDENCE of declining confidence in government comes from a recent survey completed by the center of political studies of the University of Michigan's institute for social research.

There is no redeeming trend on the horizon.

The Michigan study shows that the public has been losing confidence in government for the past six years.

Citizens view Washington with growing cynicism.

Here's what has been happening: In 1964, 62 per cent of adults expressed a high degree of trust in the government. In 1970 the proportion dropped to 37 per cent.

When only little more than one-third of the American people have faith in their government, the leadership of government better stop, look and listen — and begin to do something about it.

"WHAT WE ARE witnessing," says Dr. Warren Miller, director of the center, "is a massive erosion of trust the American people had in their government. It is clear that the agony over the war is responsible for a significant part of its decline. Disillusionment over the war appears to have given rise to a generalized sense that political leaders are not responsive to the people any time."

Some of the findings of this survey are rather unexpected.

It is not the Vietnam hawks or the Vietnam doves who show the greatest loss of trust in government. The decline is more among the middle-road groups who wanted to maintain a military presence in Vietnam but end the fighting.

It is not the political extremists who have most lost confidence in Washington. The largest shiftof opinion toward cynicism is among moderates.

I don't see how political leaders and opinion leaders can be other than shocked at this evidence of pervasive and mounting distrust of our political institutions.

SOME THINGS are being done. John Gardner has galvanized Common Cause into an animate, vigorous public lobby and it is beginning to show that politicians cannot lightly ignore its voice. It is putting the heat on Congress to pass a tough, not a soft, flim-flam campaign spending law. The politicans seem to want a bill filled with strong words and weak enforcement and Common Cause is saying no, that won't do.

Congress usually gets low marks from the public, and the mark is inordinately low right now. The reason appears to be that more often than not Congress is not responsive to public demand.

The public has long favored the direct election of President and vice president — and a far stronger gun control law than is now on the books. It backs revenue sharing and the President's family assistance program.

But Congress seems to have time to pass nearly everything except what the public most wants.

THE CRUCIAL SHAFT of light which comes from the Michigan study is that it is the political center, not the political extremes, which is most losing faith in government.

For the President and Congress to face this stark fact is the first step toward dealing with it.

BY NO MEANS NEUTRAL

Dependence On U.S. Stirs Canada's Commons

By ERNEST B. FURGURSON

OTTAWA — What is bugging Canada is clear in minutes to the outsider who walks under snowy skies up Ottawa's Parliament Hill and feels the atmosphere as the House of Commons begins a Q & A session with ministers of the Trudeau government.

Visually, it is all a transplant from London. The gray towers of Parliament; the Gothic arches of the interior; the speaker's chair copied exactly from the one destroyed in the bombing of the Houses of Parliament in England 30 years ago, with its crosses and crowns of the church and monarchy, with bits of wood from Westminster Abbey and Lord Nelson's flagship embedded in its ornate carving — and, of course, the very form of the proceedings — it all smacks of Queen and roots in centuries past.

But then, themselves less conscious of form and setting than the outsider, the members speak, and it is Canada today. Most speak in English, translated simultaneously to French, and occasionally vice versa. Just as obviously as the bilingual signs and street conversation, that reminds of the country's most painful domestic issue, that of French separatism in Quebec — comparable in the emotions involved to the civil rights issue in the United States.

WHAT THEY ARE arguing today, however, is not Quebec. It is instead the nearest local equivalent to our Vietnam. It is just as much of an obsession among many in Canadian politics, and for the past week it has been at a new pitch because the press has turned up an extensive, controversial document compared here to the Pentagon papers so recently celebrated in Washington. The issue is not Vietnam, of course. It is Canadian nationalism, specifically economic independence from that familiar villain, the United States.

That has been a popular and regionally effective subject for political exploitation here for many years, always with some reason. Since Mr. Nixon's new economic policy, with its 10 per cent surcharge on imported goods, it has been Urgent Topic No. 1. Now, since publication of the Herb Gray Report, the opposition has a new club to beat the government with, much as the opposition in Washington used the Pentagon Papers.

The man whose name is attached to this document is an otherwise inconspicuous MP from Windsor West who wears a crew-cut, horn-rimmed glasses, and often a big maple leaf lapel pin saying, "Keep It Canadian." Premier Pierre Trudeau named him revenue minister in 1969, and the rest of us became conscious of him for the first time last week end after a minor-league magazine, Canadian Forum, printed major excerpts from his highly confidential cabinet study of foreign ownership in Canada.

TO DESCRIBE the report's contents after this kind of buildup seems anticlimactic, for its most sensational recommendation is simply creation of a federal review board to strictly screen all future foreign investments in Canada. And as in the case of the Pentagon Papers, the government has characterized it as just one of many plans and internal studies which have been considered in its policy-making. Thus to see the prominence it is given in the papers, to witness the determination with which the opposition tried to squeeze further information about it out of a stubborn government, is to appreciate what a potent subject economic nationalism and its more extreme parallel, anti-Americanism, is in Canadian political life.

The red-haired minister of external affairs, Mitchell Sharp, was as abrupt as parliamentary courtesy would allow him to be in turning aside persistent opposition demands. Charges that the Gray Report emerged as a result of either a deliberate leak or "slovenly security" measures failed to move him.

The opposition leader, Robert Stanfield, nevertheless pressed him further — Stanfield will be the leading candidate against Trudeau in the next general election. So did John Diefenbaker, his hands trembling after a recent stroke but his voice still vigorous and his hair still crinkly, reminiscent of his own days as prime minister, when his main political reason for being was Canadian nationalism — at that time expressed as opposition to storage of U.S. nuclear warheads on Canadian soil. So did their colleagues, pounding their desks at each new evasion by the government. The predictable conclusion from all of this is that neither British heritage nor French culture nor political party means so much in Canada as proximity to the United States, and there is a chronic paranoia resulting from that closeness.

That is not a novel finding. But there is also a suspicion that the louder politicans in Commons are more anxious about it than the hardheaded Canadian businessman or the ordinary Canadian voter. The nonpoliticians' attitude toward the United States is not quite so predictable, and the reasons why are forthcoming.

School Meetings Fine Examples Of Governmental Wheel-Spinning

Inveterate meeting-goers such as newspaper reporters (you can recognize them by their hollow stares) soon discover nothing new ever happens at public meetings.

All city councils, planning commissions and other government bodies seem to follow the same scenario at each session, though occasionally the players change.

But three meetings last month and this of the Mill Valley School District board have achieved the distinction of being the most striking example of this effect that I've ever encountered as a reporter.

THE LACK OF EVEN a modicum of novelty — though, to be fair, the first meeting did include a few reasonably new points — was all the more disappointing because the meetings dealt with a potentially explosive issue.

They had to do with innovation and experimentation in the district. Some people don't like to use those terms. Others don't like the ideas behind the terms. The gatherings were called to air the accumulated gripes of this latter group.

With few exceptions, here's how the meetings went:

Parent A: "Discussions with eminent educators have convinced us there is no rationale to nor benefit in the current district teaching methods of innovative and ungraded classes and unstructured learning situations. We demand educational alternatives."

Parent B: "Long experince has convinced us of the intrinsic worth of the above-mentioned teaching methods and we defend them without reservation. But you should be given alternatives."

THE REST of the meetings, all three of them, consisted of variations on that theme, all couched in perfectly grammatical and correct but thoroughly incomprehensible educationese, a dialect spoken only by school professionals and scarcely understood by the rest of us.

Why the problem should have to be stated dozens of ways in slightly different jargon mystifies me. I do know, however, that the board could have cut things off after the first 10 minutes of the first meeting and not missed a single thought.

Admittedly, the three sessions were a perfectly valid way for parents with time on their hands and nothing better to do to spend an evening — it keeps them off the streets, after all. But what a waste of time!

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Football Telecast Proves No Need For Generation Gap

Even though many of the TV programs lately leave much to be desired, there are some delightful suprises. That was my good luck last Saturday. After being on the go for several hours, I thought I would take a rest and see what was on the tube. Immediately I caught one of the most delightful and interesting football games one could wish for.

Oregon State University was host to Washington State University at Corvallis, Ore. It was the finishing minutes of the first half.

There was a sea of umbrellas. It was drizzling for a few minutes and when it stopped down they would come. Then back up again. I was raised in the Pacific Northwest and have often wondered if they still all carried bumbershoots like we used to. There was the answer. Something seemed wrong. The players' suits were clean. It developed that they were playing on a new turf.

CAME NEXT the half-time show. First the home-coming queen was crowned with two fellows holding their umbrellas over her. Then something pretty nice took place.

There was a huge marching band, I think it must have been one of the largest to be seen at a school game. And could they play!

All who may have been watching the game I am sure will agree that what followed was heart-stirring evidence of the real young America of today. It was great. Accompanied by the band a big chorus sang "The Battle Hymn of The Republic" (Mine eyes have seen the glory. . .)

It's hard to put into words the sight of those young people — heads uplifted — faces shining — singing their hearts out. As a finale the band played "Put Your Hand in the Hand of the Man from Galilee." It was like a great organ being played out in that football field. Well!

THERE IS REALLY no need to be any generation gap. There is developing a land full of young adults who will take the best of our accomplishments and add to this their own thinking, which in the main will be productive.

They are too intelligent to let this country go down. When I was 30, I too was a rebel at heart. I think we all have been at some time in our lives.

Have a good Thanksgiving! Be seeing you the day after.

Woman Slightly Hurt In Crash

A San Rafael woman has suffered a bruised nose in an accident on Lucas Valley Road when the car in which she was riding collided with another vehicle braking to avoid a deer.

June Stevens, 30, of 311 Ellen Court, was treated at Marin General Hospital following the 7:30 p.m. mishap Wednesday.

The California Highway Patrol said the accident occurred when a westbound car driven by William Cairns, 76, of San Francisco, braked to avoid a deer and was hit from behind by a vehicle driven by Leith G. Stevens, 34, also of 311 Ellen Court, San Rafael.

All-Maintenance Plan Eyed For Marin City

The Marin County Housing Authority board is mulling a proposal that the authority become responsible for all maintenance of the 241 leased housing units in Marin.

That and other proposals developed by the authority's staff were discussed at the board's Wednesday meeting, though no decision was reached, according to executive director Wallace K. Shepherd.

Currently, he said, the cost of maintenance is shared equally by the landlord, authority and tenant. If the new policy is approved, the landlord would pay the authority a fixed percentage of the unit rentals per month and the authority in turn would handle all maintenance and repairs.

Shepherd said the board told him to return with firm proposals on how the program would work. Such an arrangement, he said, would cost landlords less and also hasten repairs.

Shepherd said the authority pays Marin landlords rents totaling $33,240 per month for the 241 units and in turn collects up to 25 per cent of the tenants' incomes.

The authority staff also is working on a proposal that the federal government make low-cost loans to landlords for repair of leased housing units considered substandard. In return the landlords would sign 15-year leases with the housing authority.

An open house will be held from 1 to 4 p.m. tomorrow by the Independent Learning School in the former military academy administration building at Fifth and Cottage Avenues, San Rafael.

Health Council Seeks Members

Marin's Comprehensive Health Planning Council is seeking new members.

New members may participate on committees under four categories: health services, health manpower, health facilities and environmental health, according to Ray K. Bollinger, president of the council board of directors.

Applications should be sent by Dec. 1 to Michael L. Ingerman, Comprehensive Health Planning, Civic Center, San Rafael.

Classes Follow 'Normal' Strike Schedule —Bay Student Leaders Meet Here Today

By C. P. McCARTHY

Negotiations aimed at ending a strike by some lay teachers at Marin Catholic High School and six other schools broke down last night as the strike entered its fifth day today.

Marin Catholic was operating on its "normal" strike schedule: a seven-period day cut to five.

The student council at the Kentfield school yesterday proclaimed a nuetral position on the strike, and student leaders of all seven struck schools scheduled a meeting at Marin Catholic for this afternoon.

Charges of reprisals against students sympathetic to the strike were denied today by Marin Catholic principal Rev. Francis A. Lacey.

Gerald Killian, president of the striking Secondary Teachers Association, said in San Francisco today that "several students have been disciplined at Marin Catholic High School for expressing sympathy with striking teachers."

Killian said there were reprisals at other struck schools as well, and that some students had been forced to stay after school and write additional papers and that at Marin Catholic an entire class was threatened with expulsion.

"Mr. Killian is grossly misinformed," Father Lacey replied.

He said there had been no threat of expulsion and no student, as far as he knew, had been made to stay after school for expressing sympathy with the strike.

"Our school is functioning as normally as we can," the priest said.

He said he knew of eight instances where students had been placed on probation for cutting classes, but he said that was the normal disciplinary procedure for cutting.

A negotiation session in San Francisco ended last night when the teachers rejected the latest offer of the archdiocese — an offer, Killian said, provided a "zero increase" in salaries.

The offer included raises ranging from 4 to 6 per cent this year and again next year, according to Rev. Bernard A.

October Cost Of Living Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The government announced today the cost-of-living rose 0.2 per cent in October, the second full month of the wage-price freeze. The rise was even less —0.1 per cent, smallest in 4 1-2 years — when adjusted for seasonal variations.

President Nixon's 90-day freeze, now replaced by more flexible Phase II controls, affected about 80 per cent of the items measured in the monthly Labor Department survey.

The department said higher prices for new cars and clothing accounted for almost all of the October increase.

The adjusted cost of living increase last month of only 0.1 per cent was the smallest for a month since April, 1967.

The nonadjusted increase of 0.2 per cent was the same as in September, the only other full month of the freeze, imposed between Aug. 15 and Nov. 13.

The 0.2 rate, if continued for a full 12 months, would come out to an annual rate of 2.4 per cent, falling within Nixon's goal of 2.5 per cent to 3 per cent a year.

Based on a 1967 average of 100, the consumer index stood at 122.6 for October, meaning it cost $12.26 to pay for the same amount of goods and services that cost $10 four years ago.

Elsewhere on the economic front, the government's Pay Board gave further study to the new three-year contract reached by the United Mine Workers union and the soft coal industry. The contract, which needs board approval, calls for a boost of about 10 per cent a year in wages and benefits.

In the cost of living figures, while higher prices were reported for 1972 automobiles and new fall apparel, retail food prices declined by 0.3 per cent last month. The Bureau of Labor Statistics, which compiled the report, noted the drop in grocery store prices was normal for October.

Fresh fruits dropped sharply and meat, chicken, dairy and bakery products all declined. Eggs, most fresh vegetables and a few fresh fruits by price controls —all were higher.

Although new car prices were up, the increase was less than usual for October when new models traditionally are delivered to dealers showrooms, the government said. The increase was largely the result of smaller discounts on1972 models in October compared with September discounts on 1971 models.

Prices for services rose 0.2 per cent for October —half that reported in September. The BLS said the relatively small rise reflected a slowing in the increase of mortgage interest rates, home repairs and hospital costs.

Charges for health and auto insurance, parking fees and movie admissions showed a decrease from September but dental bills, property taxes and property insurance were up from the previous month.

The Pay Board held a three-hour closed meeting on the coal contract with representatives of both sides Thursday and West Virginia Gov. Arch A. Moore, Jr. who mediated the dispute that ended a six-weeks strike, said he was encouraged by the attitude of the board.

But Frank Fitzsimmons, president of the Teamsters union and one of the five labor members of the 15-man panel, said the Thursday discussion was "not very happy."

Dispute Cleared; Rock Concert On Wednesday Night

The Application Form Is Blamed For Building Spat

By ERIK M. INGRAM

Conditions on use of the new Veterans Memorial Building — which for a time seemed to threaten cancellation of a benefit rock concert next Wednesday — were lifted last night, assuring that the show would go on.

According to the administration explanation, the cause of the concert promoters' trouble appeared to be that essential tool of bureaucracy: the application form.

Leon G. Kalimos, auditorium director, reported today that the conditions — viewed yesterday as prohibitive by concert promoters — were changed when the promoters "properly filled out rental forms" and were granted noncommercial rates.

He said confusion over Wednesday's planned concert, to benefit county drug abuse programs, was caused by promoter Fred Mayer's "inexperience in the theater."

Yesterday, Mayer told the Independent-Journal that Kalimos was trying to block the concert by imposing 12 to 15 conditions on use of the building. To meet those conditions would cost more than $2,000, he said.

Kalimos today said the unacceptable conditions for the benefit concert were based on "commercial rates" since Mayer and his associates had improperly filled out a rental form. They have now been changed to noncommercial conditions, he said.

He denied the complaint he was trying to block the performance saying he was "really for it" and had held the Nov. 24 date open since July.

He said, however, he didn't feel it was his responsibility to

$3 Million Plan For Tennis Club

A San Francisco contractor is planning a $3 million tennis club adjacent to Novato, saying it would be one of the largest on the West Coast.

The contractor, Attillio Quartaroli, plans to build 27 tennis courts, a 5,000-seat stadium, an Olympic-sized swimming pool and a 20,000-square-foot clubhouse on 33 acres southeast of Olive Avenue and Deer Island Road.

He was to report on his plan to civic officials at a luncheon today at the Holiday Inn in San Rafael.

The private facility, to be called Olive Ridge Tennis Club, is planned as the site of major tournaments, he said.

If the project is approved by county officials, "I expect to start by early next spring and complete it by the end of summer," Quartaroli said.

He selected the site because of its location and climate and because tennis facilities are needed in Marin, he said.

"I think people in the tennis world haven't had the facilities they deserve," Quartaroli said.

He said he was aiming for a membership of 1,000.

Courts would be constructed in tiers and the stadium would

Senator Jackson Joins Demo Race

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Sen. Henry M. "Scoop" Jackson of Washington formally declared his candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination today and said he would enter the New Hampshire, Florida, Illinois and Wisconsin primaries.

Jackson, running far behind in public opinion polls and an admitted underdog, conceded the first-in-the-nation New Hampshire primary to front running Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of neighboring Maine. The New Hampshire test is March 7.

"I don't expect to win in New Hampshire," Jackson said, "but I am confident I have a chance to make a reasonable showing."

Jackson made his long-expected announcement at a packed news conference in the marble columned, red draped Senate Caucus Room.

"I'm going to take off my coat, roll up my sleeves ala Harry Truman and tell it like it is," he said to applause from supporters who were crammed into the huge room behind chairs set out for reporters.

Asked about his finances, Jackson said he estimated it would take about $1 million to get up to the fourth of his planned races, Wisconsin.

Adult-At-18 Bill Goes To Reagan

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The legislalure today voted final approval to a landmark bill making California young people adults at age 18 for virtually everything except drinking.

The bill went to Gov. Ronald Reagan on a 47-6 vote when the Assembly concurred in Senate amendments to the proposal. Five Republicans voted against it as did one Democrat.

The proposal by Assemblyman Paul Priolo, R-Pacific Palisades, lowers the legal age of adulthood in California from 21 to 18 and gives the 18-, 19and 20-year-old crowd most of the rights currently enjoyed by the 21-and-over set.

Among other things, 18-year-olds could be hired as policemen, serve on juries, be tried in adult courts, boys could marry without parental consent, and they could sign legal contracts.

Exempted would be the purchase and drinking of alcoholic beverages. That is specifically prohibited by the constitution.

Priolo said the bill does not affect existing court orders dealing with child support which set the age of majority at 21. But he said future child support cases would recognize the maximum age for child support at 18.

But Assemblyman Robert Badham, R-Newport Beach, argued that under the bill it created two classes of 18-year-olds—those whose parents are divorced and those whose parents are married.

"Under this bill you could have a married 18-year-old living at home with his mother; yet his father would still be required to pay child support," he said.

He urged the bill be amended in a conference committee but the Assembly disagreed and sent it to Reagan.

The opposition votes were cast by Republicans Robert Burke, Huntington Beach; W. Don MacGillivray, Santa Barbara, Ray Seeley, Blythe; Floyd Wakefield, South Gate; Badham; and Democrat Alister McAlister, San Jose.

Dope Ring Broken In Marin

Nine persons, suspected to be members of an international dope smuggling ring with Marin County connections, were nabbed yesterday by narcotics agents in joint raids in Mill Valley and Daly City.

The Daly City raid netted 80 pounds of hashish worth $250,000 in street sales.

Arrested at 221 Hillside Avenue, Mill Valley, were Robin Henry Myers, 21; Lany Frederick Shacter, 23; Lewis Leland Whitney, 19; Salvatore Antonio Guglielmino, 22; Steven Laurance Thompson, 22; and Stephen Stewart Siegel, 24.

All were booked on suspicion of possession of marijuana and being in a place where narcotics is used.

All gave the Hillside address as their home, except Myers, who gave no address. Each was bailed for $2,500 and will appear in Marin Municipal Court on Monday afternoon.

Three persons alleged to be principals in the smuggling operation were caught in Daly City and booked on federal charges of smuggling illegal drugs. They are Nick V. Bergera, 24, his wife Cheryl, 23, both of 34 Rice Street, and David L. Mitchell, 19, of 459 Niantic Avenue, all in Daly City.

Lt. James Schwedhelm, who heads the Marin Drug Abuse Bureau, gave this account of the roundup:

Working with state and federal officials, agents got word that a Volkswagen bus containing hashish had been shipped from Amsterdam and was due in San Francisco. The bus arrived last week and was followed to Mill Valley Friday where it was under continuous surveillance.

Yesterday, Bergera came for the bus and drove it to Daly City, where the three persons were seized. In Mill Valley, agents arresting the six persons found small amounts of marijuana, hashish, cocaine and LSD in the home.

Agents said the 80 pounds of hashish were built into the

Nixon In Bold Economic Speech To Labor Chiefs

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UPI)— President Nixon threw away the speech he prepared for the AFL-CIO convention today and told the labor leaders he was giving it to them "straight from the shoulder"—that he was going to make his economic program work with or without labor's help.

"It is my obligation to make this (program) succeed and to the extent of my powers I shall do that," the chief executive told the nation's labor chieftains in a bold and emotional talk.

Nixon told a quiet audience, which applauded only lightly when he entered the hotel ballroom, that despite political differences he knew "the majority of workers are for America and for a strong national defense."

He said at the outset that he stood by his remarks which had been handed out to the press in advance of his speech.

In those remarks the President told the labor leaders his wage and price controls would produce a "period of sustained prosperity that will repay many times over any immediate sacrifices that any segment of the American work force is called upon to make."

He was welcomed at the door by AFL-CIO President George Meany, who had attacked Nixon sharply Thursday and accused him of resorting to "totalitarian" methods.

"I'm here today to ask your support for the building of a lasting peace and the building of a new prosperity," Nixon told the big labor audience. He said he is often asked "what is wrong with the old prosperity," and said: "I'll tell you what is wrong —war and inflation."

Nixon said that he was asked why he had decided to come speak before the convention which has blasted his policies. He said his reply was that he knew when the chips were down he could count on labor's support for his policies.

The President spoke about his winding down the war, the drop in casualties, and how 150,000 had marched on Wall Street in favor of his Cambodian incursion even though editorial writers and the intellectuals were against him.

He said he strongly favors repeal of the auto excise tax and the job credit tax, which will increase American workers' competitive position with workers abroad.

But then he laid it flatly on the line.

Angela Trial Costs Rejected

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Assembly for technical reasons today rejected a bill requiring the state to pay the estimated $1 million cost of the murder and conspiracy trial of Angela Davis and Ruchell McGee.

The measure by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, was turned back at Bagley's request so it could be amended in a Senate-Assembly conference committee. He said such a parliamentary move was necessary to satisfy the Reagan administration.

Later, however, Douglas Maloney, Marin County counsel, said amendments had been drafted which would fix the limitation at eight months instead of two years to further narrow the bill. He said all sides had agreed to the eight months provision.

Okinawa Protests— Mid-Tokyo Stormed

TOKYO (UPI) — Radical youths protesting continued U.S. military presence on Okinawa after its reversion in 1972 to Japan stormed through central Tokyo tonight, setting fire to a restaurant and flower shop and bombarding riot police with firebombs.

Students burned the two-story Matsumotoro restaurant in Hibiya Park to the ground and attacked key rail stations halting commuter service.

Blue-uniformed riot police used teargas and high-pressure, truck-mounted water guns to fight back against the students, who retaliated by hurling rocks and bottles. Clouds of teargas floated for miles from night street battles near the Ginza and Emeror Hirohito's Imperial Palace.

Police said that as of midnight 1,441 persons were arrested in the Tokyo demonstrations and scores injured and that a 55-year-old watchman for the destroyed restaurant died of a heart attack.

In addition to the student protests, two million workers walked off their jobs to show their opposition to a treaty permitting the United States to maintain military bases on the island after it is returned to Japan.

Students gathered in Hibija Park near Emperor Hirohito's palace and then stormed the two-story Matsumotoro restaurant which was closed for the night. After looting the building, they set it and a nearby flower shop afire.

Police said about 5,000 demonstrators were gathered in the park, while another 11,000 persons participated in disturbances elsewhere in the capital.

Students barricaded the main entrance to the park with trash cans, park benches and furniture from the burning restaurant. Police did not try to enter the area.

About 1,100 students assembled in the Shibuya area in another part of Tokyo and hurled firebombs against a rail commuter line.

Police said 15 students broke into a railway office at a commuter station.

I-J Survey Asking Readers' Opinions

Starting today the Independent-Journal will conduct a survey of readers throughout the county to determine their opinions about editorial features and certain types of news published regularly in the I-J.

"We are consulting our readers for their views as a guide in helping us produce a continually better newspaper," said publisher Wishard A. Brown. "The questionnaire is easy to complete and we believe it will prove interesting for our readers."

The survey will be distributed to 1,600 households, providing a scientific, random sampling of readers in all parts of Marin County. "If we knew the answers," Brown said, "we wouldn't need the survey. That's why we urge our subscribers to join with us in this cooperative venture."

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Nominees Blasted

CHICAGO (UPI) — Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York Thursday called on the Senate to reject the Supreme Court nominations of both William Rehnquist and Lewis F. Powell Jr.

Lindsay accused President Nixon of "picking men for the court not because of what they might become but because of the principles they oppose, the dreams they do not share and the wrongs they will not right.

"The president has picked men not for what they do for the country but for what they can keep the country from doing."

Lindsay told a meeting of the NAACP legal defense fund committee that Nixon's Supreme Court nominees have gone "from the mediocre to the insensitive."

Thanon Will Rule

BANGKOK (UPI) — Field Marshall Thanon Kittikachorn said today he will rule Thailand as the head of a national executive council while an interim constitution is being drafted and a new cabinet selected.

The council will consist of 16 officials, only four of whom are civilians.

Thanon said the council will carry out the business of government for "three or four months" until the new cabinet is formed. A permanent constitution will be drafted while the interim constitution is in force, he said.

Troop Reductions

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Soviet Union has signaled it soon will invite a NATO "explorer" to discuss possible East-West force reductions in Europe diplomatic sources said today.

The sources said Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin informed Secretary of State William P. Rogers Wednesday that the invitation to Manlio Brosio, the former NATO secretary general, would be forthcoming shortly.

News of the impending invitation came as Rogers warned Congress against pressuring the administration to withdraw troops unilaterally from Europe.

Golda Will Visit

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Israeli newspapers reported today that Prime Minister Golda Meir and not Defense Minister Moshe Dayan would go to Washington for talks at the highest level on Israel's quest for more U.S. Phantom jets to counter what it calls a shift in the Middle East balance of power.

The reports were given credence by Washington reports that a new group of Soviet TU16 Badger bombers equipped with air-to-surface missiles suitable for use against shipping have turned up recently in Egypt.

A State Department spokesman told a news conference the United States was "assessing this development with regard to the military balance."

UN Debut Delayed

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — Communist China's debut in the 15-member U.N. Security Council, originally expected today, has been postponed until at least next week.

China claimed its seat in the General Assembly Monday and was expected to participate in its first Security Council debate during a hearing involving South West Africa Namibia.

However Council officials said Thursday the group would not meet before Monday. No reason was given for the delay.

Laura Drifting

MIAMI (UPI) — Tropical storm Laura drifted slowly toward what forecasters said could be its ultimate demise over the Yucatan Peninsula.

The slow westward drift showed no signs of steering northward, and hurricane forecasters said there were indications Laura, which already is losing strength over water, would dissipate "even more rapidly over land."

Aid Program Lives

WASHINGTON (UPI) — America's foreign aid program, killed Oct. 29 in a surprise Senate vote, was alive again today.

Both the House and the Senate gave final approval Thursday to a resolution authorizing foreign aid to continue at the annual rate of $2.67 billion until Dec. 8.

By that time, administration officials hope Congress will have enacted permanent legislation to continue the program.

The House passed the resolution 344 to 26 and the Senate approved it on a voice vote.

The temporary measure also authorizes the Defense Department, Office of Economic Opportunity, and the District of Columbia government to continue spending at current levels.

China A-Blast

WASHINGTON (UPI) — China detonated a nuclear blast — its first in more than a year — in the atmosphere at its proving ground in Sinkiang province Thursday, the Atomic Energy Commission reported.

The AEC said the blast, estimated at an energy yield of about 20,000 tons of TNT, was smaller than previous Chinese explosions and it appeared possible Peking was experimenting with a compact warhead for fighter planes or ballistic missiles.

The blast came three days after Communist China claimed its seat in the U.N. General Assembly. The blast apparently came as a surprise to the Chinese U.N. delegation, who refused to comment about it.

Actress Told To Leave Former Husband Alone

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The former husband of Gia Scala obtained a court order against her Thursday, complaining the actress had repeatedly attacked and harassed him since their divorce.

Donald J. Burnett, 40, a stockbroker who has remarried since his divorce from Miss Scala, 37, became final a year ago, said she has repeatedly called his office to annoy him, rammed her car into his, kicked a hole in the front door of his home and ignited a fire on his car.

Superior Court Commissioner John L. Goddard issued a restraining order against Miss Scala, enjoining her from "molesting, striking, harassing or otherwise disturbing the peace" of Burnett.

Islands Of Garbage Proposed

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A team of experts has proposed using Bay Area garbage to build up sinking islands in the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta for the next century.

The proposal was part of a plan unveiled Thursday by consultants to the San Francisco Planning and Urban Renewal Association to answer the area's garbage disposal problem.

The plan includes a regional disposal system, involving recycling and separation at 16 processing stations in the area.

The most intriguing feature envisions taking organic wastes to the delta by barge and mixing it with peat to raise sinking islands. Organic wastes amount to more than half of the Bay Area's total garbage.

"The Bay Area has a unique opportunity to convert two serious problems, the difficulty of disposing of organic garbage and the erosion and loss of soil, into assets," the consultants said in a 111-page report.

The consultants said that by spreading organic wastes across the sinking sections, the land could be raised ten feet. The delta could provide a disposal site for all the area's organic garbage for 100 years.

They recommended a three-year demonstration project that would involve100 tons of organic waste per day.

Car Muffler Bill Gains Approval

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —A bill banning the sale or installation of car mufflers and exhaust systems which do not meet noise standards to be set by the Highway Patrol was voted final legislative approval today and sent to Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The lower house concurred 54-0 in Senate amendments to the bill by Assemblyman Peter F. Schabarum, R-Covina.

It would require the Highway Patrol commissioner to set standards for mufflers "consistent with total vehicle noise levels" set by the Motor Vehicle Code.

Saigon To Send Aid To Cambodia

PHNOM PENH (UPI)—Cambodian troops including youths getting their first taste of combat battled Communist troops to a standstill near Phnom Penh today. The situation was so serious South Vietnamese agreed to send 13,000 men to help relieve the pressure, Cambodian military sources said.

The Cambodian command said a force of 8,000 government troops, with the help of U.S. jet fighter-bombers and helicopter gunships, halted one force of 2,000 North Vietnamese an Viet Cong 11 miles outside Phnom Penh. The command has reported two Communist regiments—about 6,000 men—in the area.

Cambodian command sources said a South Vietnamese task force would arrive in Cambodia shortly to help counter the current North Vietnam offensive but said the ARVN troops would not be positioned around the outskirts of Phnom Penh because of hostility between Cambodians and Vietnamese.

UPI correspondent Kenneth J. Braddick reported seeing long convoys of ammunition trucks this morning near Tay Ninh, 80 miles northwest of Saigon and a frequent staging area for forays into Cambodia.

Military sources in Saigon and Phnom Penh refused to identify the target of the ARVN operation but speculation in both capitals mentioned two places — the Chup rubber plantation 55 miles northeast of Phnom Penh and an unidentified closer spot "within easy striking distance" of the Cambodian capital.

High level consultations were taking place both in Saigon and Cambodia and U.S. Undersecretary of State Alexis Johnson arrived in Phnom Penh today to confer with Prime Minister Lon Nol and Gen. Sirik Matak, his prime minister-designate.

On Vietnam battlefields, a U.S. reconnaissance company of 175 men pulled back Thursday afternoon when ambushed by a battalion of 500 Communists 58 miles northeast of Saigon, the U.S. command said.

One American was killed and two were wounded before the company withdrew to let U.S. jets and helicopter gunships pound the Communists. The pullback indicated increasing reluctance of U.S. commanders to get involved in major ground battles in view of pressure back home to end the U.S. combat role.

The South Vietnamese command in Saigon said a company of militiamen, backed by U.S. helicopter gunships and jet planes, killed 145 Communists early Thursday in the jungles of the Central Highlands.

However, military sources in the Central Highlands said today they had no reports of such a battle.

Death Penalty Set By Thieu

SAIGON (UPI)—South Vietnam set the death penalty today for hoarders and profiteers.

The penalty, along with others announced by a government spokesman, is designed to put teeth into new economic regulations announced by President Nguyen Van Thieu.

The regulations, expected to boost the cost of living in Saigon, are designed to make South Vietnam economically self-sufficient in the future, Thieu said.

Assembly Defeats UC Funding Bill

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —A bill appropriating an additional $3.3 million for the University of California was defeated by the Assembly yesterday.

The measure by Assemblyman Ken Meade, D-Oakland, was turned down on a 39-17 vote with 54 votes needed for approval.

Meade said that under the university's current budget "buildings are falling apart and library service are being restricted."

According to Meade, the university's library budget had been reduced $750,000 from the 1970-71 levels and that unless more money was made available library hours would have to be reduced by 20 a week.

Lands Panel Pushes Sand Removal Probe

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The state Lands Commission yesterday asked the attorney general to investigate the alleged unauthorized removal of sand from and dumping of rubble on state-owned land along Monterey Bay.

Target of the proposed investigation is Sand City, a tiny incorporated city along the beach, and the Calabrese Supply Co.

The commission's staff recommended the attorney general be brought into the case because efforts to negotiate a settlement were "confusing and unfruitful."

The recommendation was supported by representatives of the Citizens Committee for Monterey Beaches and opposed by John Stohlton, an attorney representing the city and supply company.

The commission's staff said no permits had been granted for construction of a 350-foot-long rubble embankment along the scenic bay shore or for the extraction of sand. The embankment encroaches on public tide and submerged lands, the staff reported.

Charles Kramer, representing the citizens committee, said the situation in the tourist-oriented Monterey Bay area had disturbed the community.

"When we start losing our beaches, the entire citizenry becomes upset, particularly the businessmen," he told the commission.

But Stohlton said that no sand had been extracted in the past 10 months.

Bond Plan For Parks, Beaches Gets Final Nod

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —A bill providing for a $250 million parks and beaches bond issue was voted final legislative passage yesterday by the Assembly and sent to Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The lower house concurred 59-0 in Senate amendments to the measure by Assemblyman Edwin Z'berg, D-Sacramento.

It would permit the submission of the bond issue to voters in the November 1972 general election for the purposes of acquiring and establishing beaches, parks, recreational facilities and historical resources.

The bill declared, "The present public outdoor recreation areas and facilities are inadequate to accommodate the demands made on them at the present time and will become critically inadequate as time progresses."

Drawbridge Limits Opposed In Marin

A proposal to limit operation of 12 drawbridges in the Sacramento Delta is being opposed by the Pacific Interclub Yacht Association, a group to which at least 11 Marin yacht clubs belong.

State and Sacramento County officials have asked for the slashed operating schedules, saying river traffic is not heavy enough to warrant keeping the bridges manned all year long. State officials have said the reduced schedules would save $200,000 a year.

Under the proposal, which must be approved by the Coast Guard, all Sacramento River bridges from Isleton to Sacramento's I Street Bridge would shut down at 5 p.m. Other bridges would be open only from June through September from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Twelve hours advance notice would be required in most cases to have the bridges opened during off-hours.

The Coast Guard is expected to set a hearing on the matter if there are many protests.

Marin clubs listed as belonging to the interclub association are Loch Lomond, North Bay, Paradise Cay, Corinthian, San Rafael, Marin, Inverness, Sausalito, San Francisco and Bel Marin Keys yacht clubs and the Sausalito Cruising Club.

Rights Panel Slap At Mountanos

Two Marin County human rights commissioners, complaining bitterly that Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos has failed in promises to attend Marin City meetings on police protection, called last night for an order to force the sheriff's attendance.

According to executive director Gerald J. Hood, commissioners Thelma McKinney and Fred Mayer made the request after the sheriff's repeated nonattendance at Marin City meetings.

Subcommittee members would like to explore police protection in Marin City and possible ways of improving it, Hood said.

He said the commission directed him to approach Mountanos requesting he attend a subcommittee meeting and if that fails to secure an order from the board of supervisors.

Hood said the subcommittee's meeting on Marin City police protection will be held about the middle of December at the Manzanita Center in Marin City.

He said the subcommittee, headed by commissioner Elisabeth Johnson of Marin City, was created last week to hear residents complaints of police protection.

be in the form of a bowl built into a slope in the center of the property. All but two small trees would be saved, he said, and a picnic area developed under a grove of trees.

Quartaroli said he has three partners in the project, but declined to name them. Architect for the project is Joseph F. Angello of Angello and Vitiello of Sacramento.

Quartaroli said he also envisions a youth program, including a summer camp which would include swimming, tennis, softball and horseback riding at nearby stables.

During the school year, youth tennis classes would be held, he said.

Quartaroli, who will manage and operate the club, expected up to five tennis pros would be on the staff.

An application to rezone the land to commercial-recreation from limited agriculture is to be presented to the Marin County Planning Commission Dec. 6. If the rezoning is granted, development plans would follow.

Novato Planning Director Brian W. Mattson said he would try to work the matter into a special session of the city planning commission on revision of the Novato Area General Plan at 8 p.m. Monday at the Novato Community House.

SCHOOL

Cummings, superintendent of the archdiocesan schools.

Killian said the striking teachers voted unanimously yesterday to affiliate with the American Federation of Teachers AFL-CIO, and James Gallagher, an AFT official, said the affiliation had been approved.

John Bechtold, a spokesman for the 10 lay teachers and four nuns off their jobs at Marin Catholic, said the AFT affiliation could result in all labor unions honoring the picket lines, halting deliveries to Marin Catholic and the other schools.

The student-government body at Marin Catholic yesterday adopted an official "hands off" position.

"We value Catholic education and we want to keep it," Eileen Hicken, vice-president of the student council, said today.

She said yesterday's council meeting, attended by about 100 students, produced a conscensus that "since we're caught in the middle and don't know all the facts, it is best to remain neutral."

A majority of the students at the meeting appeared to be sympathetic with the striking teachers, she said, but in the end the group agreed that any disruptions at Marin Catholic would only be hurting the students.

While the students appeared to agree that they want their school kept open, they expressed mixed sympathies regarding the strike.

"The strikers are doing what they feel is right and the teachers who are staying are doing what they feel is right," said Joan Forrest, a junior.

Another junior, Jackie Whitworth of Greenbrae, said she thought the archdiocese was wrong. "They spent a fortune on the cathedral, but they can't spend a fortune to educate," she said.

Student leaders of the seven struck schools were to meet at Marin Catholic later today, while the principals of all the schools were set to meet in San Francisco.

Michael Walsh, student body vice-president at Sacred Heart High School in San Francisco, was at Marin Catholic early today.

He said he was not necessarily supporting the striking teachers, but was supporting what he called the Student Sympathy Corps.

"All we want is teachers back in the future," he said.

Walsh said he was "not trying to threaten the archdiocese," but said that if Sacred Heart was closed, "we'd try to close all of the high schools."

His school was closed early Wednesday but reopened again yesterday, although no class was held.

If Sacred Heart is closed again, Walsh said he was told by "a man who knows," it would be closed permanently.

It would be to force the reopening of Sacred Heart that students would attempt to shut down the other schools, he said.

Rev. David Pettingill, vice-principal at Marin Catholic, said the meeting of principals in San Francisco today would be to determine policies for next week.

He said the principals had "at least three options" but he was not at liberty to discuss them.

fill out the forms for Mayer.

As to holding the date open, he said "I didn't have to. We love Mr. Mayer, but he didn't do the proper things in reserving the building."

The conditions imposed by the county administration yesterday included hiring 30 security guards, a ban on distribution of drug abuse literature, denial of a soft drink concession, a $250 rental charge plus $50 per hour after midnight, $100 for spot lights, $50 for a sound system, a $2,000 security bond and a 5 per cent payment to the county on gross proceeds over $2,500.

With the exception of the $2,000 security bond and the required insurance, all conditions were dropped or modified.

The 30 security guards, Kalimos said, can be volunteers from Marin Open House, cosponsors of the concert. Kalimos said this was his original intention anyway but that Mayer had misinterpreted it to mean professional security guards.

The rental charge has been dropped from $250 to $150 and the show will probably be over by midnight, he said.

The $100 lighting and $50 sound system charges will be levied only if the equipment is used, he continued.

The promoters will be able to sell soft drinks and distribute literature and the county will not take a 5 per cent charge since the concert is nonprofit, he said.

"Mr. Mayer can get down off his cross now," Kalimos added with a laugh.

Kalimos on Tuesday approached the county board of supervisors with a recommendation that "hard rock" groups be prohibited from performing at the auditorium. He said they "have a philosophy of turning people on" which could result in damage to the building.

The supervisors rejected the proposal saying each group would have to be judged on its merits. It endorsed Wednesday's show featuring the Quicksilver Messenger and Big Brother and the Holding Company — both Marin County-based groups.

Kalimos, critical of newspaper articles about the conditions, said he had not been trying to stop Wednesday's show but rather had been seeking "policy direction" from the supervisors on Tuesday.

Kalimos two weeks ago came under criticism from other Marin County organizations for increasing rental charges at the last minute.

A spokesman for the nonprofit Marin Ski Swap complained that the $350 rental charge first quoted the group by Kalimos was doubled just before the event.

Kalimos was directed to draft "set rates" for such productions which he said today he has done.

The home at 221 Hillside has been a target of neighborhood complaints for almost two years. Residents in the area have charged that cars were blocking the street, raw sewage was overflowing, and debris in the yard and garbage was a health and safety hazard.

Broadcaster Guyman Ex-Marinite, Is Dead

WILLIAM GUYMAN
Dies of cancer

William E. (Bill) Guyman, a former Marinite whose career ranged from prizefighting to broadcasting, is dead.

Guyman, it has been learned, died Oct. 23 in a San Francisco hospital following a long bout with cancer. A former resident of Sausalito and Santa Venetia, he had lived in San Francisco, his birthplace, in recent years.

The son of a policeman, Guyman, 54, was born in San Francisco's Mission District in 1917, and left high school during the Depression. He worked as a stevedore, a carnival barker, construction worker and boxer, fighting in 61 professional bouts.

Soon, he began a career in a field in which he came to be most recognized — broadcasting. He started on a teen-age radio show by soliciting merchants for advertisements to be read between musical recordings. This was followed by six years of freelance work in various stations across the country — in Boston, Chicago, New York, New Orleans, Hollywood and Pasadena.

From 1941 to 1945 he served in the Navy, returning to San Francisco following the end of the war and joining the National Broadcasting Co. Blue network. He also operated his own public relations firm and spent several years freelancing on radio and television.

In 1949, Guyman was master of ceremonies on the first sports program to be seen by Northern California television audiences.

He announced the weekly wrestling matches from Winterland in the early 1950s, and the story is told of the time when Guyman jumped into the ring for a slugfest with a wrestler who had kicked him.

In 1956, Guyman replaced Chet Huntley on NBC broadcasts from Hollywood, but disdained of the Southern California life and returned to the Bay Area five years later.

While living in Marin, Guyman held a variety of jobs, including those as a car salesman and distributor for a massaging device. Guyman had been a security guard at Mount Zion Hospital in San Francisco before his death.

He won numerous awards for his radio-TV work, including an Associated Press prize for news reporting in 1955, and was a lecturer and instructor at Bay Area high schools and colleges.

He is survived by his wife, Eva; his mother, Grace Geimann and a sister, Jeanne Geimann.

Cermation was in Woodlawn Cemetery, Colma.

LABOR

He said he wants Labor's participation to make his new economic policy succeed "but whether we get that or not," he warned, "it is my obligation to make this succeed and to the extent of my powers I shall do that."

He said that he believes it is time to understand that there are points of disagreement and agreement. "I want a program that is fair.

But as President of all the people I think it is my duty to do what is best for America."

Nixon said he understood that unemployment was, because he had grown up in it in the depression.

Nixon read a quote from Meany's speech Thursday in which the labor leader said: "If the President doesn't like the terms we lay down here, let him kick us off" the pay board. "It's just as simple as that."

The president replied: "I know exactly what I am doing, and I'm going to do it. "A majority of the American people, a majority of the union members want to halt inflation."

Delegates to the convention did not appear impressed with the President's talk. They burst into laughter and applauded loudly when, after Nixon had left the hall, Meany gaveled for order and announced: "We'll now proceed with Act Two."

"It was just President Nixon running for office and getting no vote here," said Joseph Curran, president of the National Maritime Union.

Weber Wins Round In Narcotics Bust

A series of narcotics charges against former Kingston Trio manager Frank N. Werber, 41, will be dropped because evidence gathered at a March 26 raid of his home on De Silva Island was suppressed yesterday by a Marin judge.

Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court agreed with attorney Patrick Hallinan that the March 26 raid was made on a ruse and therefore the subsequent search was illegal.

As a result of the raid, the Marin County Grand Jury indicted Werber for possession of LSD, heroin, cocaine, peyote, codeine and mescaline.

A gun picked up in that raid led federal agents to arrest Werber again on June 10 on a charge of firearm possession by a convicted felon. On that visit, agents found more drugs and charged him with possession of marijuana and cocaine. The firearm charge is in federal court.

Judge Keating suppressed evidence gathered in the March 26 raid, but attorney Hallinan contends this will lead to dismissal of all charges because the June 10 raid resulted from the illegal March 26 raid.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Vernon F. Smith acknowledged that the March 26 charges may have to be dismissed because the only evidence available to him was suppressed.

However, Smith refused to concede on the June 10 charges. He said the district attorney will put both cases (March 26 and June 10 charges) back on the court calendar and will continue prosecution, especially on the June 10 charges.

In 1968, he was caught with six seabags full of marijuana at his home and convicted of marijuana possession and cultivation. He was sentenced to six months in jail and fined $2,000, but the sentence is on appeal.

The Dangers Of Pesticides To World's Oceans

FRESNO, Calif. (UPI) — Oceanographer Jon Lindbergh says pesticide residues are damaging the world's oceans.

The son of famed aviationist Charles Lindbergh gave a town Hall lecture Thursday saying that sewage, oil spills and careless exploitation were all killing the seas, but that pesticides that do not break down easily pose the greatest threat.

Comparing oil spills to pesticide pollution is like "comparing a bucket of molasses spilled on the living room rug to arsenic in the well," said Lindbergh, chairman of the Oceanographic Commission.

10 Employes Of Bank File Suits

Ten employees of the Bank of Marin in Novato have filed suit for $610,000 damages and medical costs for injuries suffered when a car crashed through a plate glass window into a bank conference room last March 11.

Defendants are Lucille McAlister, driver of the auto and manager of Sportsmen's Lodge Motel north of Novato, and several John Does.

San Francisco attorney Gunnar G. Gunheim, who filed the suit, said Mrs. McAlister, who had been on an errand to the tank, lost control of the vehicle.

Two of the bank workers, Betty J. McAskill, wife of former Novato Mayor Harley McAskill, and Deanna L. Vela, asked $150,000 damages each. Also, Shirley L. Swihart is seeking $100,000 damages; Ione L. Lee, $70,000; Mary Ellen Agnew, $50,000; Melva G. Jones, $30,000; Glen R. Tovani and Peggy J. Boke, $20,000 each; and Susan Simontacchi and William J. Thompson, $10,000 each.

Homeowners Group Elects New Slate

Lester M. Shorter of 81 Calypso Shores has been elected president of the Bal Marin Keys Homeowners Association.

Victor N. Meleyco was elected vice president; Richard W. Boak, treasurer, and Marie Kniveton, secretary, at the association's annual election Wednesday night.

Jack Griggs, James Schelper, David A. Bagley and Jack Kniveton, outgoing president, were elected directors.

The association formed a committee to provide public information on the Jan. 11 vote on a $700,000 bond measure to finance a tidal lock at the entrance to the lagoons.

Members also agreed to continue membership in the North Marin Federation of Homeowners and to participate in the Novato Planning Commission study of general plan revisions, according to Edna Aubel, outgoing secretary.

The association will have its Christmas party from 4 to 6 p.m. Dec. 12 at the Bel Marin Keys Community Center, she said.

Bare Approval To Law School

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Troubled by money problems, a committee of University of California Regents has given only bare approval on a voice vote to a proposed new law school at the Santa Barbara campus.

"I think we needit," said Regent William E. Forbes Thursday, "but who will pay for it?" He said the people of California have stopped supporting expansion of the university.

During lengthy discussion, President Charles J. Hitch argied hard for the project, saying the demandfor law school admissions is now great.

Hitch said the market demand for lawyers is expanded because society is becoming "increasing increasingly litigois."

Pastor's Pitch For Attendance

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI)—A 29-year-old pastor is living in a bell tower and says he won't come down until 1,000 people are in his church.

John Gordon climbed to the church's bell tower Saturday and is living comfortably with an electric blanket, a television and food supplies by basket.

The Assembly of God clergyman said that attendance of 500 persons at Sunday services was only half what it should be.

McInnis Quits Chairmanship

I-J Special Report

BERKELEY — Marin County Supervisor John F. McInnis resigned last night as chairman of the Association of Bay Area Governments regional planning committee.

McInnis gave his resignation in a letter to the executive committee. He gave no reason, but it reportedly was because of the unresolved feud with the federal Housing and Urban Renewal Department over funding ABAG's planning program this fiscal year.

W. J. Gilbert, noted Persian and Oriental rug expert, host for Auction, Sunday, Corte Madera Recreation Center.

Persian Rug Auction

SUNDAY NOV. 21 - 1:00 P.M.
PREVIEW FROM 11:00 A.M. TO 1:00 P.M.
CORTE MADERA RECREATION CENTER
(Take Larkspur Exit then West on Tamalpais)

Due to the recent dock strike, over 1000 Rugs have been consigned to W. J. Gilbert for immediate sale. There will be a great variety of Rugs & Colors, including runners, small & large room size Rugs, prayer & silk Rugs.

Oriental Rugs are blooming anew. The disciplined, yet graceful design of Oriental Rugs gives a room the feel it otherwise lacks. The muted colorings of Oriental Rugs blend with most color schemes, be it traditional or modern.

The beauty of Oriental Rugs increases with age. Applied to wools of fine texture, the colors derived from vegetable or animal dyes grow more mellow with the passing years and acquire a luster and softness comparable to the colors of an autumn day.

As centuries have passed, the appreciation and value of Oriental Rugs have continued to rise as it would for any field of art. The Persian carpet has commonly been referred to as the stocks and bonds of Iran (Perisa) and since time began, they have proven to be valuable stocks for those who possess them.

Inspect these fabulous floor coverings of heirloom quality, richly beautiful, each a sample of the dying craft of hand weaving. Come early this Sunday (the public inspection begins at 11 A.M.). Then take advantage of the auction which begins at 1:00 P.M. in the Corte Madera Recreation Ctr., and remember that this auction will represent considerable savings to you for these prized possessions which will grow in value.

Each rug is sold to the highest bidder. There is no minimum price which must be reached to complete a sale. You, or any member of the auction audience open the bidding and control the sale. It is this fair procedure of auciton practice, together with the established authority of your host, W. J. Gilbert, which have earned the respect and successful acceptance by the public of Mr. Gilbert's Oriental Rug auctions such as the event Sunday evening at the Corte Madera Recreation Center.

And remember that all rugs sold by Mr. Gilbert may be traded in at full value for 5 years.

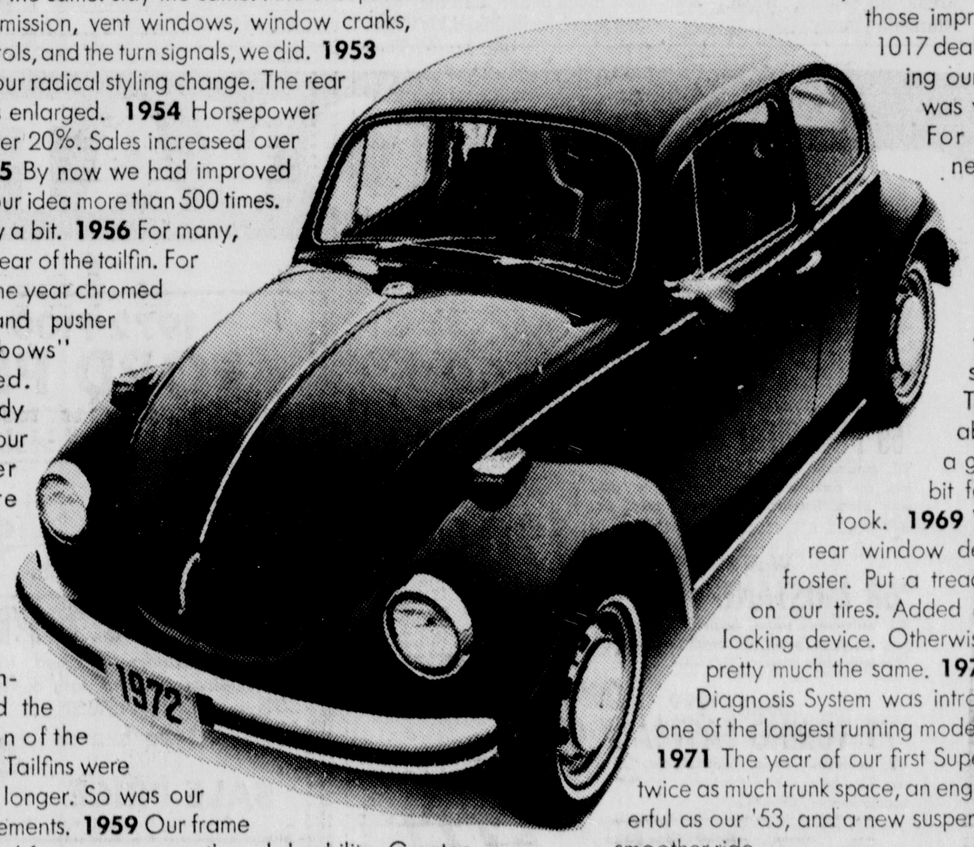
1949 Two small, strange-looking Beetles are sold in the U.S.A. Far fewer than the big, beautiful De Sotos, Studebakers, and Hudsons which sold that year like hotcakes. 1950 Hotcakes weren't selling as well this year. As the Beetle remained small and strange-looking while refinements were made on the brakes and heating system. 1951 Vent flaps added to front quarter body panels. Needless to say, they didn't make our front quarter body any prettier. 1952 The idea was still the same: stay the same. And except for work on the transmission, vent windows, window cranks, heating controls, and the turn signals, we did. 1953 The year of our radical styling change. The rear window was enlarged. 1954 Horsepower increased over 20%. Sales increased over 600%. 1955 By now we had improved and refined our idea more than 500 times. It didn't show a bit. 1956 For many, this was the year of the tailfin. For us, this was the year chromed tail pipes and pusher overrider "bows" were added. 1957 Nobody noticed that our front heater outlets were moved back for better heat distribution as most of the hoopla centered around the introduction of the Edsel. 1958 Tailfins were getting even longer. So was our list of improvements. 1959 Our frame was reinforced for greater strength and durability. Greater than what? Greater than our '58. 1960 The long tailfins were being removed. Our chromed tail pipes and overrider "bows" remained. 1961 16 major improvements. Including an increase in our engine's cooling capacity and our horsepower. 1962 10 major improvements. Including reinforced clutch springs and maintenance-free handbrake cables. 1963 Fresh air heating and nylon window guides and leatherette headliners and adjustable rear heater outlets were introduced. 1964 Close to 1300 improvements had now been put in. In such a little car, was there any more room for improvement? 1965 10 major improvements. And innumerable (well, actually, 11) minor improvements. 1966 Maintenance interval extended to 6,000 miles. It took 6,000 miles but now you could see the results of all those improvements. 1967 1017 dealers were now selling our car. For us, that was very nice indeed. For someone who needed repairs or parts in an out-of-the-way place, it was even nicer. 1968 Finally, an automatic stick-shift for the Beetle. The fact that it got about 25 miles to a gallon made up a bit for all the time it took. 1969 We introduced a rear window defogger and defroster. Put a tread wear indicator on our tires. Added a steering wheel locking device. Otherwise, things looked pretty much the same. 1970 Medi-car, our Diagnosis System was introduced. To make one of the longest running models longer running. 1971 The year of our first Super Beetle. Nearly twice as much trunk space, an engine twice as powerful as our '53, and a new suspension system for a smoother ride.



1972 SUPER BEETLE After 24 years, more than 2,000 improvements. In this year alone, 29 more improvements on the Super Beetle. To all these people now venturing out as small car makers, we offer this friendly warning: There's no such thing as an overnight success.

SAFETY DEMONSTRATION BY PATROL

Youngsters from Wolfe Grade School in Kentfield watched yesterday as California Highway Patrol officers demonstrate how long it takes a car to come to a stop at a crossing. In the top photo, Officer Keith Chapman signals Officer Gene Sanford, driving a car at 25 miles per hour, to come to a stop. In the bottom picture the patrol car comes to a halt after traveling 48 feet.

Couple In Court Over Junipers

A Larkspur couple who has raised tam junipers for 21 years went to court yesterday to stop Marin Agricultural Commissioner R. Allan Ballard from destroying their juniper garden.

Peter and Edith Altmann of 22 Elm Avenue, Larkspur, filed suit in Marin Superior Court to stop Ballard from uprooting 14 junipers. They are represented by San Francisco attorney John F. Harmon.

Ballard explained that the county is conducting a campaign to eradicate hawthorn-juniper rust. The eradication program calls for destroying tam junipers that are infected or are within 300 feet of a diseased juniper or hawthorn tree.

Ballard conceded that the Altmann junipers may be healthy, but they must go because they are within 300 feet of a diseased hawthorn tree and therefore considered "exposed" to the rust.

Ballard estimates that about 2,000 tam junipers will be destroyed in Marin this year under the eradication campaign. He said this is the first lawsuit filed against him.

Tidwell Acquitted In Trio-Murder Retrial

I-J Special Report

EUREKA — One of two brothers who spent more than three years on San Quentin's Death Row for the murder of three persons in Lassen County in 1967 has been acquitted in a second trial.

Freed after a jury verdict Wednesday night in Humboldt County Superior Court was William Tidwell, 24.

Tidwell and his brother, Robert, now 21, were convicted in Lassen County in 1967 for the slaying of Susanville rancher Levoy DeForest and his wife Jeannette and a Hoopa logger, Keith Utterback, a few days later.

The brothers won new trials after the California Supreme Court ruled last year that a change of venue sought from rural Lassen County should have been granted.

During the second trial the defense attacked the reliability of the prosecution's evidence, producing expert witnesses who criticized the poor quality of plaster casts of footprints found near the two murder scenes.

The defense also produced a shoe store owner who testified that boots offered as belonging to William Tidwell were the wrong size.

The younger brother is tentatively set for retrial on Dec. 13, also in Humboldt County, before Judge William Watson Jr.

Woman, 55, Hurt In Car Collision

A 55-year-old San Rafael woman suffered minor injuries yesterday when her car struck a parked car on H Street near Center Boulevard, San Rafael police reported today.

Police said Marian F. Kress, of 49 Treehaven Drive, indicated she would see her own doctor. Mrs. Kress's car struck a car owned by Ghagwan So Mirchandan of 207 H Street, police said. No other details of the accident were available.

Thoresen Guns To Be Returned

FRESNO (UPI) — About $40,000 worth of guns and ammunition found in the home of slain millionaire William E. Thoresen III will be returned to his estate.

His widow, Mrs. Louis Thoresen, who was acquitted of her husband's shooting death in a jury trial a year ago, received court approval for the return of the weapons Thursday.

However, her attorney Kenneth Devaney said all weapons found in the house which were illegal to possess, or of a type used in criminal activity, such as machine guns and hand grenades, would be kept by the government.

He said it was agreed that onlythose weapons of a kind which are sold by sporting goods dealers would be given to the estate.

A Joint Fight On Two Fronts

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Conservationists and the NAACP joined Thursday to fight freeways and protect the environment of ghetto areas.

The NAACP, the Environmental Defense Fund and the Mexican-American Legal Defense Fund called their new group the National Coalition to Fight Freeways.

They said they would battle the federal highway program following two recent court decisions blocking freeways which would have run through ghetto areas in Seattle, Wash., and Alameda County, Calif.

Nixon's Stock In State Improving

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The California Poll reported today President Nixon's chances of capturing California in next year's presidential election "are now much better than they were justbefore he imposed his wage-price freeeze." The poll said Nixon trailed Democratic presidential hopeful Sen. Edmund Muskie by seven percentage points last August.

The poll said the latest survey was completed last week "and consisted of a representative cross section of 1007 potential voters including a proportionate number of 18-20 year olds."

'The Saviors Of Society' Hit

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—E.H. Gott, chairman ofU.S. Steel, said Thursday the "self-styled saviors of society"—critics of private business—are more interested in capitalizing upon America's problems than in helping solve them.

Much of the criticism has the "ring of pure demogoguery," Gott told the regional meeting of the American Iron & Steel Institute.

Decision Delayed On Apartments

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—By a 6-1 vote, the San Francisco Planning Commission has voted to postpone until Jan. 13 its review of the controversial twin-tower Russian Hill apartment proposal.

Mrs. Nixon Lobbies For Peking Trip

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Pat Nixon says she definitely plans to accompany the President on his trip to Moscow next May, but she's still a stand-by so far as the presidential journey to China is concerned.

The First Lady said Thursday she is lobbying to make the trip to Peking but "I don't get everything I lobby for." She also revealed that presidential adviser Henry Kissinger came back from his last trip to Peking raving about a dish he had — chicken and walnuts — and she now has the recipe and has asked the White House chef to serve it.

Ecuador Seizes Two U.S. Boats

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—Ecuador has seized two more American tuna boats, bringing to 18 the number of vessels captured in the last 10 days in a continuing dispute over the South American nation's territorial limits.

The American Tunaboat Association reported the vessels Wiley V. A. and the Ecuador, both based in San Diego, were taken to Salinas after they were seized about 70 miles west of the port city Thursday.

Ed Silva, ATA vice president, said word of the incident was received from another vessel fishing off the Ecuadorian coast.

Silva estimated the two boats would be fined $23,000 each, making the total collected this month by authorities in Ecuador almost $500,000.

AFTER THE MEETING — Senate Democratic caucus chairman Mervyn Dymally (right) talks with Assembly Speaker Bob Moretti following a meeting of the Assembly Reapportionment Committee where a Democratic redistricting plan was approved Thursday.

(UPI Telephoto)

Demo Remap Plan Presses On Despite Reagan Veto Threat

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Assembly Democrats today pressed ahead with their own redistricting plan in the face of a threatened veto by Gov. Ronald Reagan and a looming court test.

The proposal's architect, Assemblyman Henry Waxman, said he doubts whether the Republican governor has the power to veto reapportionment bills anyway.

The bill shot out of the Democratic-dominated Reapportionment Committee Thursday and to the full Assembly after the collapse of private talks aimed at finding a compromise settlement. Republicans cast the "no" votes.

Assemblyman Jerry Lewis, top Republican redistricting expert, condemned committee approval of the plan as a "railroad" and forcast that Reagan "will veto it if it gets to his desk in that shape."

Basically, the plan is designed to expand the Democrats' 42-38 margin to 44-36; target Republicans Floyd Wakefield of South Gate and Charles Conrad of Sherman Oaks as political casualties; and create "safe" districts for five GOP incumbents.

Additionally it would transfer the San Francisco district of Democrat John Foran to Southern California because of the south's greater population increase and retain the Los Angeles district of GOP election upset winner Bill Brophy as predominately Democratic and Chicano.

The plan was amended into the Senate reapportionment bill carried by Sen. Mervyn Dymally, D-Los Angeles. The committee took no action on congressional reapportionment.

By combining the Senate and Assembly redistricting plans into a single bill, Reagan's options would be limited to either signing the bill or vetoing the entire legislative reapportionment. Senate Republicans are generally satisfied with their plan.

The Democratic plan originally proposed at least 46 Democratic districts.

SACRAMENTO ROUNDUP

Withholding Tax Scores Victory

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —A half-billion-dollar tax increase that would establish state income tax withholding on Jan. 1 has reached the Senate floor with Gov. Ronald Reagan's blessings.

Legislators say the package is in near final form for enactment.

The bill would raise taxes high enough to plug a $310 million revenue gap in the $6.8 billion state budget, finance $200 million in one-time building construction and provide $23 million in business inventory tax relief.

Most of the money—$470 million—would be raised from withholding.

The package's remaining $83 million would come from increased taxes on banks, corporations, the oil industry and wealthy individuals now enjoying "preferential income" loopholes.

The bill, by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, is the only major tax package still active in the legislature, which wrestled behind the scenes for months attempting to negotiate a massive property tax relief plan.

"We sat downstairs (in the governor's office) all year talking and the time for talking's over," admonished veteran Senate Finance Committee Chairman Randolph Collier, D-Yreka.

Collier's committee approved the Bagley bill on a voice vote Thursday and sent it to the full Senate, which is expected to pass the measure—perhaps next week—and pave the way for final negotiations in a twohouse conference committee.

Legislature votes to increase taxes at least $26.8 million to finance it.

The Moscone bill, approved without debate, excludes University of California and State College faculty members, but awards the increase to nonacademic personnel.

Reagan vetoed a 5 per cent pay raise for employes in the current state budget. He also trimmed out a 10 per cent boost for faculty members at the same time.

Last Friday, the governor vetoed another bill which would have provided professors with a 7.5 per cent salary hike costing $17.9 million also on the provision of new taxes. Faculty members have not had a pay raise for 2 ½ years.

If the Moscone bill reaches his desk, he could veto that, too.

The Senate Finance Committee Thursday, in a futile last attempt, rejected a 5 per cent pay raise for professors.

BENEFITS

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Farm workers in California would receive unemployment benefits of $65 a week for a maximum 26 weeks under a bill which has been approved by the Senate.

The measure passed the upper house on a 22-11 vote Thursday over the objections of Sen. Fred Marler, R-Redding, who said it would cost farmers $34 million annually and increase farming costs.

PAY HIKES

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Senate has voted to ignore Gov. Ronald Reagan and award 150,000 state employes—except college faculty—a 5 per cent raise retroactive to Nov. 14.

The measure by Sen. George R. Moscone, D-San Francisco, was sent to the Assembly on a 28-5 vote, thus wiping out an earlier defeat for the same bill.

The pay boost would become effective, however, only if the French Lick, Ind., where he was attending the Republican Governors' Conference.

Reporting a drop for the seventh consecutive month in the number of welfare recipients in California, Reagan said, "We know it can be done, and we are proving it in California."

Reagan said 2.1 million persons were on welfare in California in October, a drop of 24,000 below the previous month and 137,000 loweg than the figure for March when the decline began.

He cited States Social Welfare Department figures which showed that $159.9 million was spent on welfare in California last month, compared to $160.8 million in September and $147 million in October, 1970, when there were 44,032 fewer recipients than last month.

NO HELP

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —Sen. James Q. Wedworth, whose absence killed a coastline protection bill according to its author, says he would have voted against the measure.

Wedworth was absent Monday when a critical vote was taken on Assemblyman Alan Sieroty's bill to regulate coastal development. Sieroty told newsmen the Hawthorne Democrat was the swing vote to enable the measure to clear the committee. It died one vote short.

At a news conference called by Wedworth, the lawmaker said he would not vote to revive the measure, contending it had been debated enough.

He said he was absent attending to "personal business" which had to be taken care of while the coastline bill faced its committee test.

Asked if his business involved buying race horses, Wedworth replied: "Yes, I have some thoroughbreds."

PRISON STUDY

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Legislation creating the post of state prison ombudsman with board investigatory powers within the correctional system has been approved by the Senate Finance Committee.

The measure by Assemblyman Frank Murphy Jr., R-Santa Cruz, was approved Thursday on a split voice vote over the objections of the State Finance Department.

Under the bill, the ombudsman would investigate complaints by guards, convicts, or anyone else connected with the correctional system.

Murphy's bill, the State Finance Department said, would cost $400,000 in state funds and duplicates grievance procedures already in effect.

But Murphy countered that persons now hearing grievances have only been appointed by each prison since he introduced the bill. He said the cost of the ombudsman program would be reimbursed by federal funds.

He also said the people now hearing grievances are correctional officers who are forced to make decisions about disputes between their fellow officers and convicts.

WELFARE

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —Gov. Ronald Reagan, citing another decline in California's welfare rolls, says the states and not the federal government should provide solutions to the "welfare dilemma."

"The states can and must do the job," Reagan said Thursday in a statement issued here and in

ANGELA COSTS

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Legislation to help counties pay the costs of lengthy trials, such as the Angela Davis and Juan Corona Cases, has been unanimously approved by Assembly.

The bill by Sen. Fred Marler, R-Redding, was returned to the senate Thursday on a 56-0 vote for concurrence in assembly amendments.

Under the bill, the state would be required to reimburse counties for the cost of court proceedings which exceed the amount obtained from a property tax of 5 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

In Sutter County, where Juan Corona is being held on charges of hacking to death 25 transient farm workers, the county would be reimbursed after it had spent $80,959 on proceedings in the Corona case.

FIDEL RELAXES

Fidel Castro, wearing a sombrero and coal miner's overalls, yesterday drank from a traditional Chilean wine flask after taking part in a folk music performance at a Playa Blanca, Chile, coal mine. Today, Castro continued his 10-day visit to Chile, sailing aboard a naval destroyer with President Salvador Allende in a voyage to Punta Arenas, the world's southernmost city.

Youth Panel In Support Of Book

The Marin County Youth Commission yesterday agreed unanimously to support San Rafael High School teacher Virginia Franklin in her use of the controversial book, "Movement Toward a New America."

Use of the book in a class on propaganda has drawn criticism from parents of students and other segments of the community.

The commission heard Mrs. Franklin discuss the book, a collection of "New Left" articles two weeks ago, but reported it has been unable to get a speaker opposed to the book.

In a resolution adopted yesterday, the commission said it endorsed "Mrs. Franklin's right to use the book... in order that her students might better understand the dangers of different kinds of propaganda."

In other action yesterday the commission heard a suggestion by Chris Thorsen of Marin Open House that commissioners and Open House representatives go on a joint "retreat" to gain new understanding of each other.

Thorsen said the retreat would be "a chance for the commissioners to get together on a personal level," possibly in "the woods, a cabin or some other nonorganizational atmosphere."

Commissioners asked Youth Coordinator L. Charles Smith to check with the county counsel's office to determine if such a retreat would be in violation of the Ralph M. Brown Act, which sets limits for nonpublic meetings.

The commission also agreed to work with the Police-Community Relations office in a study of recreational facilities for youth in the county.

Baby Girl A Cause To Rejoice

VICTORVILLE, Calif. (UPI) —Glenn Walter wanted a daughter, and when his wife delivered, he kept his promise to tell the world.

After five sons, Walter told his wife that if their coming child was a daughter, he would "write it all over the skies." Mrs. Walter produced Miss Walter Tuesday night.

And so Thursday, skywriter V. E. Noble came out of retirement to do a job for Walter. In big, white letters that floated over Apple Valley, Noble wrote:

"Pat, we did it! A girl!"

GOP Governors Rake Democrats

FRENCH LICK, Ind. (UPI) — Republican governors charged Democratic leaders in Congress today with "abdicating their clear and urgent responsibilities to the people of America" by blockading revenue-sharing legislation and other domestic proposals advanced by President Nixon.

A statement approved unanimously at the Republican Governors' association's winter meeting here said "footdragging and obstructionism" and "the reactionary, stubborn refusal of the Democratic congressional hierarchy to respond to the people's demand for help" has forced state and local governments to increase taxes and cut back on services to the people.

They demanded action on Nixon's program to share federal revenues with the states before June 30.

Nejedly Throat Polyp Benign

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The University of California Medical Center has reported that a polyp removed from the throat of Sen. John Nejedly, R-Walnut Creek, was benign.

Nejedly, 56, a leadingo conservationist in the Senate, underwent surgery Wednesday, and a hospital spokesman said he would remain in the center "a few more days."

The report on the polyp was issued by the center's pathologist.

Stevenson Assails Butz Nomination

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson III, D-Ill., joined a growing number of Democrats today in fighting confirmation of Earl L. Butz as agriculture secretary. Other critics of President Nixon's nominee charged that rural unrest over low farm prices had reached the highest pitch in many years.

In prepared testimony for Senate Agriculture committee hearings on the nomination, Stevenson assailed the Butz appointment as a possible "death warrant for the remains of rural America" because Butz allegedly favors corporation-owned over family-operated farms.

Trio Booked In Probe Of Burglary

Two 16-year-old boys and a 15-year-old companion were booked into Marin Juvenile Hall last night on suspicion of burglary.

San Rafael police said Craig A. Jensen, 16, of 425 First Street, San Rafael; Robert Charles Shanoff, 16, of 513 Bodega Avenue, Petaluma, and Christopher Steven Grupe, 15, of 30 Novato Street, Apt. 302, San Rafael, were arrested on suspicion of breaking into an automobile parked on Mission Avenue, near High Street, shortly before 11:30 p.m. yesterday.

They were apprehended after Shanoff and Grupe ran when they saw a police patrol car driving down Mission. The two eluded police, but officers found two stereo speakers and two microphones, valued at a total of more than $200, in the area.

The three boys were located at a nearby market and brought to the police station for questioning about curfew violation.

While they were at the station, police said, Dennis Martin Oliver of 320 Marin Oaks Drive, Novato, reported to police that his car had been broken into and speakers and microphones stolen.

The boys were then booked at Juvenile Hall, officers said.

Scalp Is Cut In Automobile Crash

Jack E. Beasley, 41, of 1 Equestrian Court, Novato, suffered a cut scalp when his car struck a power pole at Hill Road and Bradley Avenue at 3:47 a.m. today, Novato police reported.

Beasley was driving south on Hill when his car went off the roadway, officers said. He was admitted to Novato General Hospital where he was reported in good condition.

Shoreline Schools' Chief Gets A Raise

Shoreline Unified School District trustees last night awarded a $1,500 pay increase to Supt. Charles McCully, putting his yearly salary at $23,000.

McCully, who declined an increase in July when his contract was renewed, asked trustees to defer action last night until the next meeting so the item can be logged on the agenda, giving the public time to lodge any protest.

Trustee Robert Giacomini pointed out that the pay boost had been listed on an agenda six months ago, but was tabled.

Board President Robert Gallagher declared that since the superintendent was now holding down three positions — also serving as high school principal and assistant superintendent — he deserved a raise.

During a 90-minute closed session to discuss personnel, the board decided to authorize McCully to begin looking for an assistant.

The district this year experienced a sharp drop in tax revenue because of money lost to the county when ranchlands were either acquired by the federal government or placed in agricultural preserve status.

The board also voted to provide the district's 53 teachers with a 4 per cent pay raise, reinstating a hike approved before the presidential wage-price freeze went into effect.

Reporting a brightening on the financial front, McCully said that 99 students — children of persons working or living on federal land — are qualified to bring special federal funding to the district.

McCully said he did not know how much money would be available under Public Law 874. He noted that two-thirds of the funding would be in district hands by June 30, with the rest coming by late summer or early fall.

He said the distribution of survey cards to students to ascertain which parents live or work on federal land will continue each school year.

In order to show the district's tax loss, the county assessor's office computed the mythical figure of how much the district's assessed valuation would be if the Point Reyes National Seashore and agricultural preserves did not exist. The total was slightly more than $8 million, McCully said.

The Shoreline Unified School District Board also:

LUNCH — Voted to extend Tomales High School's lunch program to include a hot dish, vegetables, salads, and fruits to augment sandwiches now provided at a cost of 45 cents daily.

ELECTION — Approved arguments to go on the Jan. 11 ballot in favor of a $1.2 million bond proposal to expand Tomales and Bodega Bay elementary schools.

CAMPAIGN — Heard McCully announce that at least one board member or administrator will attend all area meetings and be available to explain the need for bond passage.

HIGH COSTS — Heard a contractor's quote for demolition and hauling away the old Tomales High School. Costs would range from $41,300 if carted to a Novato dump to $30,500 if hauled and burned or dumped within five miles of the site.

TAXES — Learned that under a new state law it must pay property taxes on unused property in the next two or three years.

LAND — Voted to discuss sale of the district's three-acre Bloomfield property and two lots in the town of Tomales during the board's December meeting.

HIRED — Hired a new custodian, William Guiney, for West Marin School to replace Alred Rodoni, and hired Ruth Ezkenroad as Tomales High School cafeteria worker at an hourly salary of $2.85.

Bus To Be Shown At Northgate

The first public display of one of the Golden Gate Bridge District's new buses will be held tomorrow from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Northgate Shopping Center.

The $45,000 air-conditioned coach will be displayed in the parking lot between the Emporium and Roos-Atkins.

District officials will distribute general outlines at the display of local routes and schedules to begin throughout Marin on Dec. 13.

The coach is one of 132 new buses bought by the district. Commute service is scheduled to begin in January.

Detailed information on both the local and commute service will be discussed by the district joint transportation and finance-auditing committee at 8 p.m. on Dec. 2, in the Marin County Civic Center.

Detail Over Housing Plan Is Nailed Down

The Corge Madera Planning Commission last night began nailing down details of the proposed massive townhouse development, Meadowsweet Station, planned for south of the Koch luggage plant.

Town Engineer Arthur N. Morrison said the meeting, attended by about 50 persons, was in quiet contrast to earlier stormy sessions over the 540-unit development.

Residents of neighboring Marin Estates have complained that the huge development would adversely affect their uncrowded way of life.

The street system, the entrance to the development and the cut and fill aspects of the development were discussed, Morrison said.

Commissioners reached general agreement over these aspects in their discussion with the developer, Warner Odenthal, and the town's planning adviser, Thomas Cooke of Sedway and Cooke of San Francisco.

Morrison said the developer has agreed to adopt most of the suggestions made by Cooke. Earlier, Odenthal had agreed to cut the number of units from 630 to 540.

Not discussed last night, Morrison said, was the school problem for the development. The 75 acres are now in Mill Valley School District, which has objected to having to educate children from the development.

Air Charter Services Held To Be Illegal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Three airline charter services alleged by the Civil Aeronautics Board to be operating illegally are still booking flight reservations, according to Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin, D-Calif.

Van Deerlin, in testimony Thursday before a Senate committee, identified them as Consolidated Air Brokers, Inc.; Tour Europe Travel Agency, Inc., and Aeromatic Travel Corp., all of New York City.

Youth Panel Sets Session On Goals

The Novato Youth Advisory Committee, still probing its way, agreed last night to have a special meeting Tuesday to determine its goals.

City Mgr. Charles A. Brown said committee members present felt that before getting in touch with other students, the committee members "should decide what they want to find out." The committee will meet at 3 p.m. Tuesday at the Novato Branch Library.

Driver Injured; Car Into Pole

Martin W. Wilson, 31, of 218 Lovell Avenue, Mill Valley, was injured at 10:45 p.m. yesterday when his car veered into a utility pole on Miller Avenue near Tamalpais High School, Mill Valley police reported.

He was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with a cut chin and left shin and a broken left leg.

Police said Wilson's northbound auto first swerved into the center divider of Miller Avenue north of Almonte Boulevard and then to the right; slamming into a utility pole and demolishing the car.

MANSON'S TRIAL

The Final Chapter Is Being Written

By JACK V. FOX

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Only two seats in the spectator section of the courtroom were occupied Thursday.

They were elderly men with frayed shirt cuffs, the kind who shuffle from one court to another day after day to hear a trial, any trial, to escape from loneliness and boredom and now and then become a vicarious part of the soap opera of other human lives.

On the witness stand, a barrel-chested man with bushy grey hair droned into a microphone, reading from a thick sheaf of onion skin paper.

The judge was busy writing in longhand on the bench. The jurors shifted and coughed, gazed at the ceiling, doodled on notepads. The prosecutor sat with his head in his hands. He could have been asleep.

Only if you listened carefully and caught an occasional phrase or name ... Spahn Ranch ... Leslie van Houten ... Pooh Bear ... would it have occurred that this was the last page of the last chapter of the trials of the notorious Charles Manson.

Manson wasn't even there, though the matter at issue was whether he should get life or a death sentence. It was a moot question, anyway, since he already had been sentenced seven times to the gas chamber at his first trial.

Manson, who celebrated his 37th birthday earlier this week by wearing a vest made of the hair of his "girls," doesn't come to his trial these days. He stays in an adjoining holding tank and occasionally shouts an obscenity through a wire grill.

He has tried to fire the burly man at the microphone a dozen times but Irving Kanarek plods right on, ignoring every insult and sneer, reading over again the questions and answers he got from witnesses in his days of glory at the first trial.

Kanarek pretends not to accept that Manson has been conharks back to the Tate-Labianca harks back to the Tate-Labianca slayings that brought the Manson family its notoriety, wrapping them in with the Hinman-Shea killings, the subject of the current trial. He is filibustering that Charlie is guiltless.

Down on the corner of Broadway and Temple streets where a dozen of his girls once squatted and embroidered, only Squeaky remained. Red-haired ing fuzz against a chill wind, is stocking cap over her resprouting fuzz against a chill wind, is the only original member of the "family" still free.

Six others have been sentenced to death —Susan Atkins, Leslie Van Houten, Patricia Krenwinkel, Steve Grogan, Bobby Beausoleil, Charles "Tex" Watson. Half a dozen others are in prison on felony charges and one —Bruce Davis —still remains to be tried for murder.

Some day next week the jury will begin deliberations and, no Row at San Quentin to join finally will be taken to Death Row at San Quentin to join some 90 other men waiting for a U.S. Supreme Court ruling on the death penalty.

It will be 27 months since the Sharon Tate massacre was emblazoned in the headlines, almost two years and more than $1 million in court costs since the "family" went to trial.

Once, long ago, newsmen had to petition for a seat to cover the proceedings, and courtroom security was tight.

Thursday there were just Irvmen.

DON'T MIX BULLS AND AIRPLANES

KADOKA, S.D. — Alcohol and automobiles don't mix; neither do bulls, banana oil and airplanes.

Dennis Mayfield, an insurance adjuster, found that out when he was called on to check a claim on an airplane on a farm. The farmer's bull, he was told, licked the paint on the nose of the plane ("It has banana oil in it and cattle love it".) The plane was nudged back; then lurched forward, angering the bull.

The bull charged. Estimated damage to the plane: $600. The bull was unhurt. (Los Angeles Times Syndicate.)

Top Airline Executives Meet, Slash NY-Europe Trip Fares

HONOLULU (UPI)—Chief executives of 24 airlines, meeting in an unprecedented two-day session, reached basic agreement Thursday night on a set of lower transatlantic airfares for next year.

The basic price for a New York-London roundtrip of between 22 and 45 days during the off season will be $200, $72 less than at present. The comparable rate to Paris will be $210 andto Frankfurt, $220.

The announcement came after presidents and board chairmen of all the scheduled airlines flying the Atlantic sat together in a conference room for 15 hours over two days, hammering out an agreement their subordintes had failed to reachin three previous tries.

The agreement, which is subject to ratification by all airlines and approval of the governments involved, will avert a cut-rate price war by the carriers. It will go into effect next year—an exact date to be decided later.

No fares in the basic routes between New York and London, Paris and Frankfurt were raised. Many were lowered in an effort to meet competition from charter airlines.

The chief executives also decided on a three-tiered price structure. Lowest fares will be charged from Nov. 1 to March 31; highest fares during the summer months of June 1 to Aug. 31, and middle-level fares in between.

For a normal New York London economy class ticket with no special conditions, winter round-trip fare will be $400, $52 less than at present. During the peak season, the fare will remain at the current $552.

It was in the popular 22-45 day excursion fares where the most significant reductions were made. For a New York-London round trip, the winter fare will be $200, $72 less than at present; the middle fare will be $220, with no comparable rate now, and peak season fare will be $290, $42 less. Round trip fares to Paris are approximately $10 higher in each case, and New York-Frankfurt fares are about $20 higher.

50,000 GI Pullback Is Endorsed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate budget-writers shied away Thursday from forcing President Nixon to end the Vietnam War immediately but endorsed bringing home one-sixth of the U.S. troops in Europe.

In back-to-back votes, the Senate Appropriations Committee rejected 14-10 an amendment to cut off funds for the Indochina conflict but endorsed another, 14-13, that would require the return of 50,000 of the 300,000 American forces stationed in Europe by June 15.

The twin actions came as the committee approved a $70.24 billion Defense Department budget bill for the current fiscal year already more than one-third over —$805.5 million smaller than a version approved by the House Wednesday night and $3.3 billion under Nixon's initial budget requests.

The bill had been scheduled for floor debate today, but the prolonged battle over Nixon's tax package forced an indefinite delay that couldextend past next week's two-day Thanksgiving recess.

No matter when debate begins on the Pentagon budget, there were strong indications attempts would be made to reverse the committee's actions both on the Vietnam issue and reduction of U.S. troops stationed in NATO countries.

5 Die In Border Shelling —Mrs. Gandhi Fears War

NEW DELHI (UPI)—Five persons were killed and 16 injured in shelling along the border between East Pakistan and India's Tripura territory, news reports said today.

Reports said the casualties included East Pakistani war refugees.

A patrol of the Indian Border Security Force (BSF) exchanged fire with Pakistani troops near the northeastern tip on East Pakistan. No casualties were reported.

Prime Minister Indira Gandhi, in a letter to United Nations Secretary General Thant, said Pakistan is preparing to make war with India and she would welcome a U.N. attempt to bring about a political settlement of the dispute.

Her letter, which was presented in parliament during debate on the border situation, said the Pakistanis have moved troops and armor to the Indian borders.

"These steps confirm our belief that Pakistan is seriously preparing to launch a large scale armed conflict with India and we have therefore taken all necessary defensive measures," the letter said.

Iceland Denies Discrimination

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (UPI) —The Icelandic government said today there has been no agreement between Iceland and the United States limiting the number of black GIs serving with the U.S. forces on the island.

The statement, by a foreign ministry spokesman, came in response to Washington reports that Iceland at first refused all black GIs and later agreed to accept a smaller number.

"There have always been black members of the U.S. forces in Iceland," the spokesman said. "Today there are about 130 non-whites, including 42 black GIs."

Nose Is Broken In Auto Crash

A San Rafael woman was treated at Marin General Hospital yesterday for a broken nose suffered in an auto accident on Oakmont Avenue, San Rafael.

San Rafael police said Wilma B. Neuhaus, 38, of 95 Oakmont Avenue, told them she swerved to avoid a cat that had run onto the street near 80 Oakmont. Her car jumped a curb and struck a light pole, police said.

Collier Landscape Bill To Reagan

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —A bill increasing from $12.5 million to $17 million the amount which may be spent annually for state highway landscaping was voted final legislative approval yesterday by the Assembly and sent to Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The measure by Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, was approved 58-0.

School Funding Criticism Voiced

In the last five years, the state of California has poured about one billion dollars into special programs to upgrade teaching of reading and mathematics in the public schools, but their success "has not by a long way been a billion dollars worth," the chairman of the Assembly Education Committee declared last night.

Assemblyman Leroy F. Greene, D-Sacramento, was speaker at a meeting of the Marin County School Boards Association at Dominic's restaurant in San Rafael. "We've got to find another way" to improve public education, he declared.

Greene commented that the statewide testing program — 1970 results of which have just been made public — "was greeted with a rousing lack of enthusiasm by all educators." But it is providing the information the Legislature wanted, he said: a means of comparing the accomplishments of similar school districts, so that one's success can be exported to correct another's failure.

Greene noted that most Marin districts ranked high in the tests, but told his school board audience they shouldn't take too much credit — "you have the smart kids; they ought to come out on top."

The Sacramento assemblyman, who is in his second year as education committee chairman, predicted the results of the Serrano vs. Priest decision by the California Supreme Court "in the end may be considerably more traumatic" than U. S. Supreme Court decisions on segregation. The court found the present method of financing schools, largely from the property tax, may be unconstitutional.

He said he could not conceive of any method of equalization of school support "that will not move money out of this county."

In answer to a question regarding the voucher plan, Greene said, "There will sooner or later be voucher plans in effect." He said he does not see how such a plan — which would issue vouchers to parents for the amounts spent on their children's education, which they could use at non-public schools — could be successful, "but I will vote for it every time."

He supports such plans, he said, because "public education needs the competition."

Greene predicted new efforts next year to get a law permitting collective bargaining for school teachers. "I'm willing to discuss it," he said, "if they're willing to discuss abolishing tenure at the same time. I don't think you can have both."

He also predicted an increasing trend toward year-around operation of schools, as more economical than the nine-month school year with three months of vacation.

Prior to the assemblyman's speech, the association approved two changes in its by-laws. One increases the board of directors from nine members to one member from each school district (21 if all participate). The other changes dues from a schedule based on the districts' attendance to a flat $35 per district. President Laurence G. Hermann of Fairfax said the latter will increase the association's receipts from $400 a year to $700.

Suspect Picked Up

A Richmond man, Lavada Renee McDonald, 25, of the Forty Flags Motel, was picked up yesterday by San Rafael police and booked in county jail on suspicion of committing burglary, grand theft and conspiracy in Contra Costa County. He was being held today on $1,500 bail pending transfer to Richmond.

Nubin Case May Go To Top Court

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The attorney for a black convict who may have to go back to prison today because of a clerical error plans to take the case to the state supreme court. Frank Nubin, 46, an Oakland ironworker, has been free for 22 months but the Adult Authority contends he was released from San Quentin 10 months early because of the error.

Last week the attorney general's office won an order requiring him to report to the authority today, possibly to serve out the 10 months.

Nubin's attorney, Salle Soladay, filed a writ of habeas corpus Thursday with the U.S. District Court.

Federal Judge Alfonso J. Zirpoli declined to grant a restraining order and said the attorney should apply to the State Supreme Court today.

The judge said if the high court denies the writ he will look at the case again.

Ex-Governor's Father Dies

CARSON CITY, Nev. (UPI)— Dominique Laxalt, the Basque sheepherder whose sons became prominent in Nevada politics, legal and literary circles, died Thursday at his home after a lengthy illness. He was 85.

One of Laxalt's sons, Paul, became Nevada's first Basque governor and served from 1966 to 1970. Paul and two other sons, Peter and John, are attorneys. Robert Laxalt of Reno is an author and director of the University of Nevada Press.

The fatherstayed in the background shunning official functions and celebrations and emerged only once in recent years—to attend the swearing in of his son as governor.

Laxalt was born July 14, 1886, near Tardetz, France, in the Basque province of Soule.

New Ocean Sewage Guidelines Revealed

Proposed new policy guidelines covering sewage discharge into ocean waters were unveiled yesterday at Marin Civic Center by the State Water Resources Control Board.

The new policy document, which proposes more than $4 billion in new construction statewide over the next five years, will be discussed again Dec. 2 in San Diego.

It seeks to encourage the use of new technological methods in secondary sewage treatment to protect the ocean's ecological balance.

The only Marin County area immediately affected by the policy, once adopted, will be Bolinas-Stinson Beach.

Jerome B. Gilbert, the board's executive officer, said the recently scrapped $8.1 million sewage treatment plan for the communities would have met policy criteria.

If adopted, however, it could result in the expenditure of hundreds of millions of dollars elsewhere in the Bay Area for new or altered treatment facilities.

A spokesman for Brown and Caldwell engineers told the board $80 million would have to be spent to bring San Francisco's sewage treatment up to standards including a 12-mile outfall line to the Gulf of the Farallones.

Among other things, it calls for:

A minimum distance of 1000 feet from the shoreline and a minimum depth of 100 feet for discharge of sewage into the ocean.

Tighter restrictions on waste disposal in areas where humans swim or engage in water sports and where shellfish are harvested for human consumption.

Prohibiting discoloration of the surface and floatable materials from being visible from the shoreline.

Gilbert said the policy is the first of several to be drafted by the state. The next will deal with discharge into California bays and the delta area.

Whice will apply to Marin will depend on a Marin Municipal Water District study on consolidation of county sanitary districts, he said.

That study will consider discharging directly into the ocean by piping sewage through Tennessee Valley or to continue discharge into San Francisco Bay.

Enlistments Up

FT. KNOX, Ky. (UPI) — Officials at this Army training center report that enlistments were up during the recent draft moratorium. The increase in volunteers has been attributed in part to underemployment among youths.

Novatan Named In Girlfriend Testimony

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) —A San Francisco woman has testified at the smuggling trial of five men that she was present when one of the defendants met with her boyfriend in Mexico City last February to discuss importing marijuana into the United States.

Maria Kirby, 34, was the fourth prosecution witness to testify before a U.S. District Court jury of eight women and four men.

After disclosing a background of narcotics use and a "drinking problem," Miss Kirby said Thursday she did not pay much attention to the initial conversation between Leonard Glassberg, 31, of Novato, Calif., her companion, and defendant Edwon Whipple, 45, of Duncan, Calif.

She testified that in a later discussion between the men she overheard Whipple say he could supply a plane for Glassberg to use to smuggle marijuana. Under cross-examination, Miss Kirby said she "assumed" that the plane Whipple volunteered was to be used for smuggling marijuana.

Glassberg, who has pleaded guilty, is jailed on a marijuana possession charge in the Bucks County, Pa., jail.

Glassberg, who preceded Miss Kirby on the stand, said that Whipple sought to join his partnership with another defendant, David Miller, 34, Corte Madera, Calif., in the smuggling venture.

The trial stemmed from the government seizure of a ton of marijuana which authorities said had been flown to an isolated airport here from Vera Cruz last March 15. They put a retail price tag of $4 million on the shipment.

Special Meeting Slated Tomorrow

The Strawberry Recreation District board will hold a special meeting at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at the Strawberry Community Building to hear a report on repairs being made to the building and to consider buying new athletic equipment.

The board also will hold a closed session on a pending lawsuit over access to Strawberry Cove and will consider applicants for district clerk.

Innocent Plea To Inn Slaying

Russell Gilbert Wonnacott, 48, of Eureka, charged with a murder committed at the Holiday Inn in San Rafael last Saturday night, has pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court.

Judge Robert A. Smallman yesterday set a preliminary hearing for Nov. 29.

Wonnacott is accused of shooting to death his estranged wife's boyfriend, Charles Patrick Ely, 37, of 260 Canal Street.

San Rafael police said Wonnacott had come to San Rafael to visit his two children. His estranged wife, Jane, and the children lived with Ely.

They all went out to dinner and were talking in Wonnacott's room at the Holiday Inn when Ely was shot.

Within Budget

FRANKFORT, Ky. (UPI) — Kentucky was the only state to stay within its Medicaid budget during the 1970-71 fiscal year. Part of the reason, Kentucky Economic Security Commissioner Merritt S. Dietz Jr., told the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, was that Kentucky requires "more proof of eligibility."

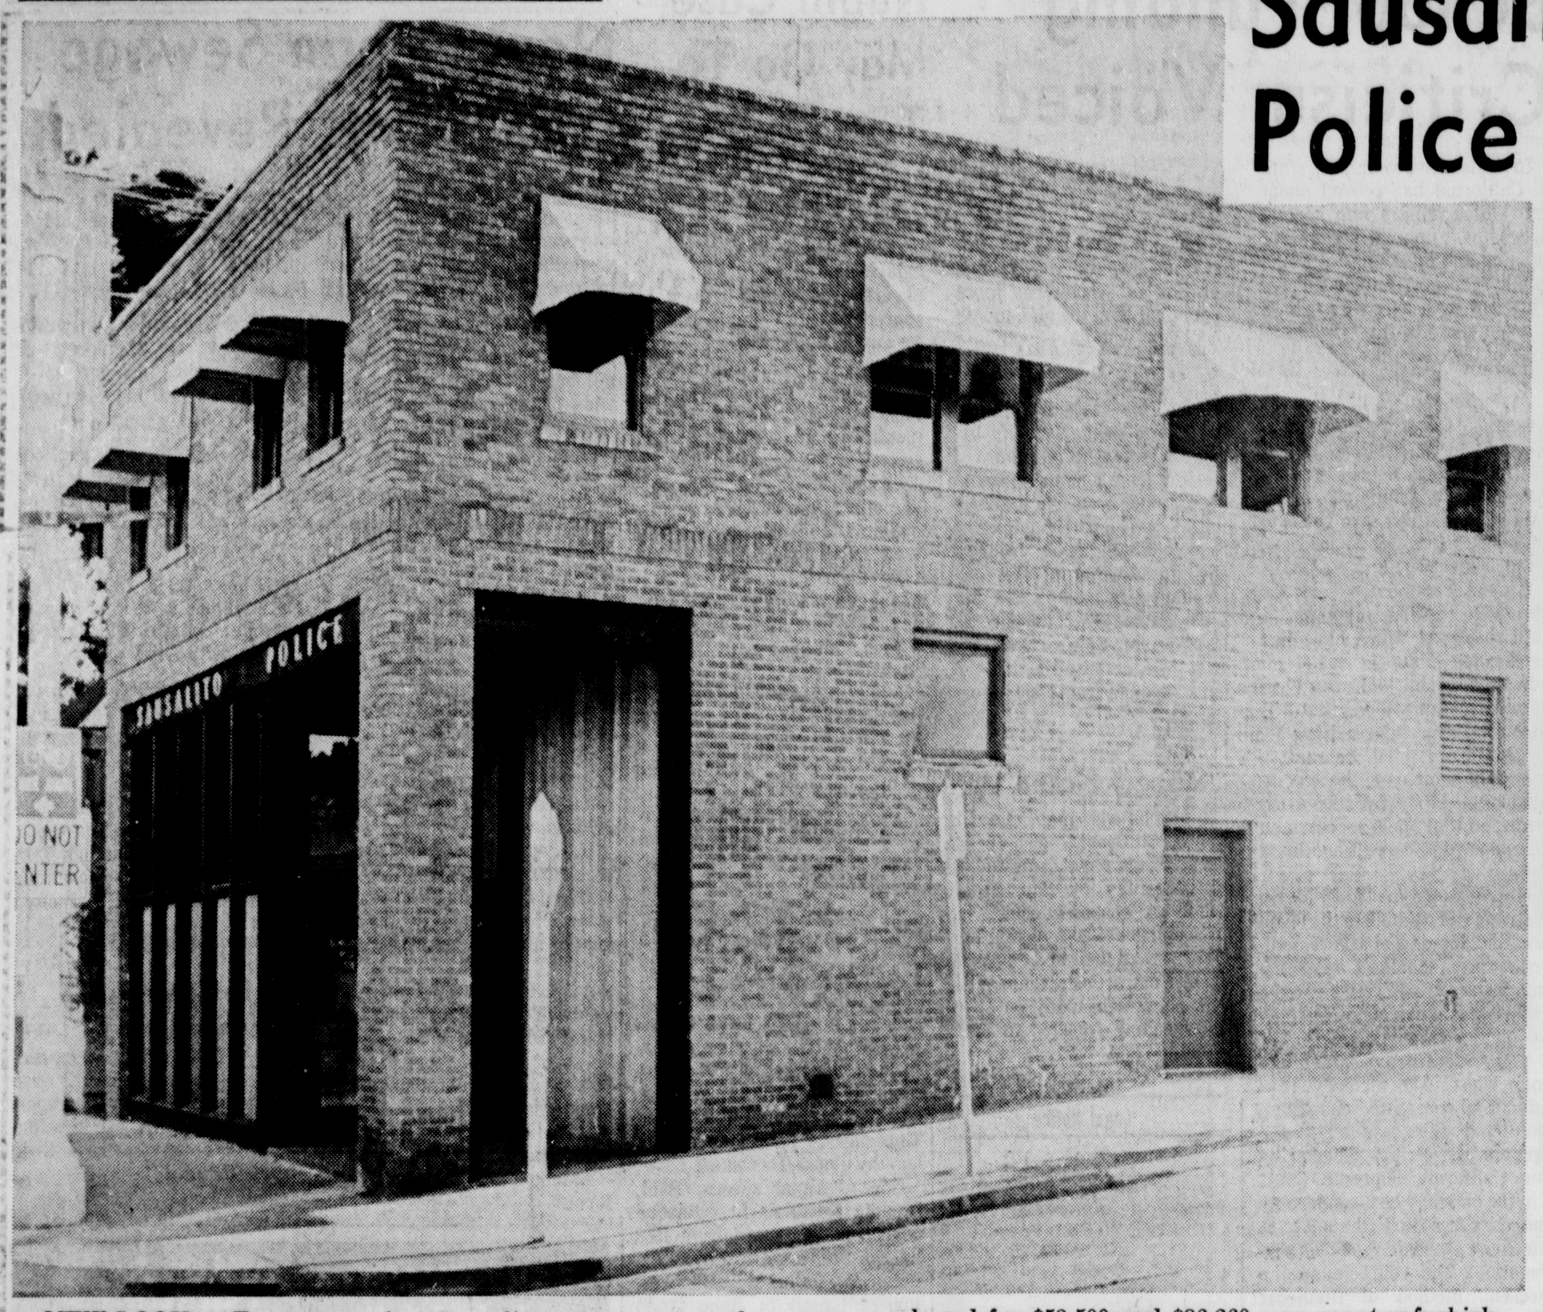
Sausalito's New Police Quarters



NEW LOOK — Two years after Sausalito voters approved an $80,000 bond issue for expansion and remodeling of the Sausalito police station, proud officers showed off their facelifted headquarters at an open house yesterday. The station, which the city rented for $3,300 per year until 1969, was purchased for $58,500 and $86,260 was spent refurbishing the entire building, removing two upstairs apartments and adding another wing. The fully carpeted, wood-paneled station has about 3,000 square feet more space than the old building.

CHIEF'S OFFICE — Wall-to-wall carpeting, hardwood paneling on the walls and cathedral ceiling with exposed beams sets off Chief James D. Wright's office, built in the 3,000-square-foot addition to the police station. With the exception of a few details, everything is ready for tonight's open house. One thing still bothers Wright, though — the roof in his office leaks.

SPACIOUS FRONT OFFICE — Visitors to the station now are greeted by this modern front desk, much larger than the tiny counter over which all walk-in business was conducted in the past. Microfilm reader-scanner behind counter allows police to convert all station records to film for easy storage.

NERVE CENTER — The heart of the station's communications operation is the dispatch room, where Mary June Vinson handles radio and telephone calls. Before the remodeling, the dispatcher was responsible for those duties as well as handling walk-in traffic. The department is the only police station in the county with a Police Information Network computer terminal, which relays information about wanted persons and stolen vehicles.

Petaluman Dies In Plane Crash

A Federal Aviation Administration examiner from Petaluma and a student pilot were killed yesterday when their light plane crashed five miles north of Bodega Bay.

The Sonoma County sheriff's office identified the victims as Carl M. Berglund Jr., 53, of 9 Averye Way, and Robert Monghmer, 26, a student pilot from Santa Rosa.

Deputies said the flight originated at Coddingtown Airport, Santa Rosa, to determine if Monghmer was qualified for a pilot's license.

The crash occurred about 10:45 a.m. on the Marshall Herndon ranch, a quarter-mile from the Pacific Ocean. Two linemen for Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. working in the area said they saw the plane veer to the left and then spin nose-down to the ground.

The Piper Tri-Pacer skidded on its back for 81 yards and then burst into flames. The Sonoma County Coroner's office said it has not yet been determined if the men were killed by the impact or by the fire. The FAA is investigating the cause of the crash.

Donald Tannehill of the coroner's office reported that Monghmer had taken a two-week leave of absence from his job at the Bartley Pump Co. to complete his flight training. Yesterday's flight was to have been his last step toward getting a license. He is survived by his father, Glenn Monghmer of Santa Rosa.

Berglund had been a flight instructor for 25 years and became an FAA examiner after retirement from the Air Force in 1964.

He was born in Milroy, Minn., and was reared and educated in Emmett, Idaho. Berglund joined the Air Force in 1940 and was an aircraft technician with the Western Air Defense Force, which later became the Northern Air Defense Command (NORAD).

While in the Air Force, he won five Bronze Stars.

He and his wife, Rosalee, had lived in Petaluma 22 years.

He is also survived by two sons, Carl M. Berglund III of Petaluma, and Rodney Lee Berglund, serving with the Navy, two brothers, Ralph Berglund of Emmett, Idaho, and Paul Berglund of Boise, Idaho, a sister, Vivian Skeen of Wrangell, Alaska, and two grandchildren.

Funeral with full military honors will be at 11 a.m. Monday at Parent Funeral Chapel, Petaluma. Burial will be at Cypress Hill Memorial Park.

Portable Class Firms Are Fined

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Four manufacturers of portable classrooms were fined $10,000 each yesterday for antitrust violations involving restriction of competition.

U.S. District Court Judge Stanley A. Weigel could have fined each of the four a maximum of $50,000. The firms, found guilty by a jury last month, were Modulux, Inc. of Newark; Vinnell Steel Co. of Alhambra; Speedspace Corp. of Santa Rosa, and Design Facilities Leasing Co. of El Monte.

(The Marin County Counsel's office has discussed with the state Attorney General's office whether Marin school districts might recover some funds in any civil class action suit resulting from the conclusion of the criminal antitrust suit yesterday.

(Richard V. Godino, assistant counsel, said he doubted there would be any recovery, since the criminal case involved a highly specialized point. The four firms were convicted of agreeing among each other only in cases in which purchasers called for rebids on supplying buildings. Godino said he thought few Marin school districts were involved in any rebid situation.)

Churchly Las Vegas

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Las Vegas is known for more than its gambling —it also boasts churches —150 of them, representing 35 different denominations. It is the highest ranked metropolitan area in the Country on a Churches-per-Capita basis.

Residents In Dominican Section Air Complaints

About 60 persons turned out last night for the semiannual meeting of the Black Canyon Neighborhood Association to air complaints ranging from roaming dogs to youth vandalism.

Association president Walter Smith said the purpose of the session was to make city officials aware of resident grievances. City Mgr. James H. McCown and Detective Donald Rose of the San Rafael police attended the session and answered questions by homeowners.

Smith said McCown and Rose urged the residents to bring grievances to the prompt attention of city officials.

He said homeowners expressed dismay over the shift of the Marin Music Chest from Forest Meadows Theater to the Marin Veterans Memorial Building — a move arising from vandalism to the organization's property — and over troubles encountered by the Marin Shakespeare Festival at the Forest Meadows site.

The festival, in addition to vandalism, twice has suffered property loss at the hand of arsonists. And on the last night of the festival this summer, an employee told police he was beaten by youths who tried to steal gate receipts.

Sister Mary Samuel O.P., president of Dominican College, told the gathering in the college's Bertrand Hall that campus property also has been hit by vandals. She mentioned she was compelled to call police five times on one recent night. She praised officers' cooperation.

Several of the homeowners accused the city of failing to act against communal living in a home on Locust Avenue. McCown advised the critics to gather firm evidence that the use is violating single-family zoning and bring it to city officials.

Motorcycle noise also was a topic of concern, Rose noting a solution would be a remote track or course which motorcyclists could use. McCown said the city hoped to have gates installed by Dec. 1 to keep motorcycles and other vehicles off a fire road leading to Black Canyon property purchased last year as park land by the city.

McCown also advised residents to forward to city officials complaints arising from an alleged failure by the Marin County Humane Society to deal with wayward dogs.

Canlett Is Named Permanent Chief

William G. Canlett, acting fire chief for the Tamalpais Fire Department since July 14, was named permanent chief last night by the Tamalpais Fire Protection District board.

Canlett, 27, succeeded Richard K. Oswald as chief when Oswald resigned to devote more time to his repair and real estate businesses. Canlett's duties and his $1,200 monthly salary will remain unchanged despite the new title.

Inmate Wants To Nullify Jail Rite

A San Quentin convict, who was married while in jail almost three years ago but has never lived with his bride, asked for a nullity yesterday in Marin Superior Court.

Charley Bernal, 29, serving one year to life for a San Diego robbery, explained he has been so busy confined to jails and prisons that he never did consummate his marriage with Rachel Monarrez.

Acting as his own attorney, Bernal wrote: "I have never lived with my wife after the marriage. I wish to dissolve the marriage."

Judge Samuel W. Gardiner accepted the filing of the nullity petition, waiving the usual $36.50 fee because Bernal claimed he is a pauper.

Bernal first came to San Quentin in April 1966 but returned in November as a parole violator for marijuana possession. Paroled again in July 1968, he was charged with violation of parole in March 1969 for a San Diego robbery.

On March 23, 1969, while being held in San Diego Jail pending his return to San Quentin, he married Rachel Monarrez in the county jail, kissed her goodbye and entered San Quentin in April.

His petition gave no other reason for his disenchantment with marriage than that he and his wife have never lived together.

Prison officials said there is no record of visits to the inmate from his bride.

Alabama Smog Restraint Lifted

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)— A federal judge today lifted restraining orders which told 23 Birmingham area industries to cease polluting the air following one of the city's worst air pollution crises.

U.S. District Judge Sam C. Pointer Jr. issued the order Thursday at the request of the federal Environmental Protection Agency. It was the first such action ever under emergency provisions of the 1967 Clean Air Act.

Pointer lifted his order following recommendations from the government and health officials. Health officials said air pollution indexes had dropped dramatically by this morning.

Water Plan Could Land In Courts

Court action, rather than the Sonoma County referendum, may be the only way to halt the $113 million Sonoma Aqueduct Project, a leading opponent of the aqueduct told the Irate Taxpayers of Marin last night.

Clement Vanoni, president of the Russian River Water Rights Protective Association, warned that the citizens' vote would only be advisory and not binding on the Sonoma County Water Agency and county supervisors, according to Winifred S. Frederick, Irate Taxpayers publicity chairman.

Vanoni, of Geyserville, charged that dams and water conservation projects through the decades have done nothing to curb flooding in his area, Mrs. Frederick reported.

Marin County residents on Nov. 2, resoundingly defeated ballot measures seeking extension of the aqueduct to the Marin Municipal Water District and North Marin County Water District. The vote results in Marin were mandatory, not advisory. No date has been set for the Sonoma County referendum.

The Irate Taxpayers elected officers for 1972: Sarah Nome of San Anselmo, president; Col. Walter S. Filler of San Rafael, first vice president; Leonard Turner of Marin City, second vice president; Susan Tennler of Greenbrae, treasurer, and Betty Gardner of Woodacre, corresponding secretary. There was no nominee for recording secretary. The group's directors will fill the post after the officers are installed in January, Mrs. Frederick said.

Poets To Give Reading Sunday

Five Marin poets will participate in a p.m. Sunday at the Tiburon Congregational Church, 145 Rock Hill Drive, Tiburon.

A group of street musicians from San Francisco will provide music, wine and cheese will be served, and tapestries and watercolors by Jon Sutton and tapestries by Hal Painter will be on display.

Poets who will read their works are Rosalie Moore, Adrianne Marcus, Mary Hedin, Margaret Atchley and Margaret Albanese.

Inmate Counsel Has Fees Sliced

San Rafael attorney G. Douglas Vaughn, representing a San Quentin inmate in an assault case, is entitled to less that half the fees requested, a Marin Superior Court judge decided today.

Vaughn was appointed last June to defend Louis N. Talamantez, 28, charged with assaulting another prisoner in March 1960. (Talamantez is also one of six convicts accused of murder, assault and conspiracy in the bloody Aug. 21 escape attempt.)

On Aug. 18, Judge Samuel W. Gardiner allowed Vaughn $1,000 in fees, and on Oct. 6, he authorized $500 more. Vaughn argued Tuesday that he deserves at least $3,480. He told the judge he had gained Talamantez's confidence and is able to confer with the inmate, whereas the other convicts involved in the Aug. 21 uprising have refused even to speak with their court-appointed lawyers.

Judge Gardiner said the numerous motions made by Vaughn have been excessive. "However, Mr. Vaughn's attorney-client relationship problem deserves some special consideration, and he is therefore allowed $750 instead of the $500 so that the total allowance for all services to date is $1,750." Vaughn's original request totaled $4,350.

Zone Ordinance Tossed By To Cotati Planners

The Cotati City Council last night heard complaints about the proposed zoning ordinance and returned it to the planning commission for more study.

City Clerk Carol Bonfigli said the council heard real estate agents protest particularly about new requirements for multifamily zones.

The men said they believed open space requirements were too great along with the requirement for covered parking spaces. They told the council that requiring half the parking spaces to be covered would be more realistic.

The council directed the planning commission to study the matter at its meeting next Thursday and return a recommendation to the council.

In other action, the council appointed Alan Stansbury, a salesman for Union Carbide Co., to the planning commission vacancy left by the resignation of chairman Robert J. Frazier.

Assassination Attempt Foiled

PHNOM PENH (UPI)—Cambodian police last week foiled what may have been a planned attempt on the life of U.S. Ambassador Emory C. Swank, a U.S. embassy spokesman said today.

The spokesman said police caught a Cambodian stringing a wire across a road leading from the embassy to the ambassador's residence. The man took police to a house that was some distance away where some detonating caps were found.

The spokesman said "to call it an attempt was exaggerated."

An early attempt on Swank's life Sept. 7 failed when a bicycle loaded with explosives was pushed at his car. The explosives failed to explode.

COOKBOOK AUTHOR Coralie Castle measures ingredients into her Cauliflower with Cheese Soup at her home in San Rafael. Her handsome "Soup" cookbook containing 183 pages of her recipes will be sold at the Marin Community Workshop as a benefit and will also be distributed nationwide.

WORKSHOP SALE

'Soup' To Help Retarded

By BARBARA HOSMER

Two of her interests, one personal and one community, have led Coralie Castle of San Rafael to write a cookbook on soup and donate a portion of the proceeds from the sale of it to the Marin Community Workshop.

Mrs. Castle has had an interest in fine cooking for many years and was one of the Marinites who 11 years ago helped to establish the workshop for training mentally retarded adults. Now the workshop trains and retrains all handicapped persons for work. Mrs. Castle returned to the workshop board two years ago.

"I'VE ALWAYS loved to experiement in the kitchen, and when I had an idea to write a series of minibooks on different foods, I decided to find a publisher for "Soup" and donate the proceeds to the workshop," Mrs. Castle explained.

By a fluke she found her publisher, 101 Productions in San Francisco, which asked for an expanded book set for nationwide distribution.

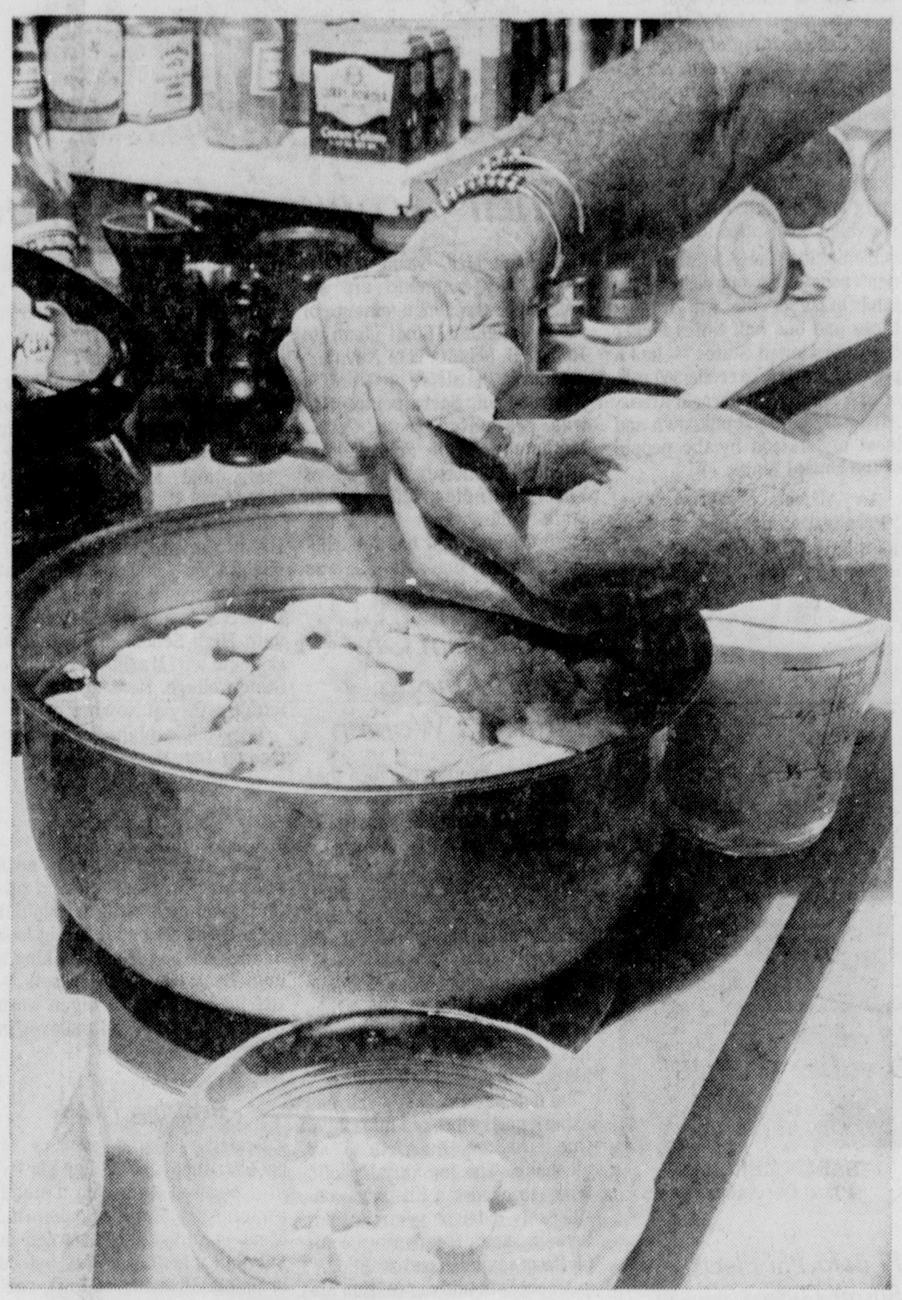
"So there followed soup tasting parties galore on my part," said Mrs. Castle who with her husband, Alfred, researched the history and quotations that enhance the 183-page book.

"Everyone's tastes are different, as we discovered at the taste-testing gatherings, but by-and-large the seasonings are mild enough to let the cook develop his or her own versions," said the author.

"The Oriental recipes call for a variety of items — Marin is so lucky to have such easy access to those interesting foods, she said. "One of my friends remarked, 'Where in the world do I buy black fungus?' Chinatown, of course, so perhaps we'll turn on some nonexperimental cooks."

The handsome white-covered book with illustrations by Roy Killeen includes soups of all kinds and from many different countries.

The publisher agreed to sell one thousand copies to the Marin Community Workshop, 70-K Woodland Avenue, at half price, and the workshop will keep half of the proceeds.



PREPARING THE cauliflower flowerets, Mrs. Castle cuts the pieces to bite-size for cooking in chicken stock. Then the mixture of cauliflower and seasonings is pureed in the blender and other ingredients are added.

LENTIL SOUP WITH FRESH PINEAPPLE

1 cup lentils
4 cups beef stock
3 tablespoons grated onion
3 pressed garlic cloves
2 large slices fresh pineapple, cut up
1 can consomme
sour cream

Combine lentils, stock, onion and garlic. Cover, bring to boil and simmer 1 - 1½ hours until lentils are almost tender. Add pineapple and cook 10 minutes. Add consomme, heat and serve with dollops of sour cream. Serves 4 - 6.

"This is not a pretty soup, but the combination of flavors is unusual and surprisingly good. One of the simplest of the bean soups, and the most interesting," Mrs. Castle said.

CAULIFLOWER WITH CHEESE SOUP

4 cups cauliflowerets
4 cups chicken stock
1 teaspoon soy sauce
½ teaspoon each: savory, paprika and garlic powder
¼ teaspoon black pepper
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup evaporated milk
¼ cup freshly grated Parmesan or Romano cheese
2 egg yolks, beaten
3 tablespoons lemon juice

Reserve ½ cup tiny flowerets for garnish. Cook remainder in stock with soy sauce, savory, paprika, garlic powder and pepper until cauliflower is soft. Puree in blender.

Melt butter until bubbly, add flour, and cook, stirring for 3 minutes. Gradually add milk; cook and stir until thickened. Add puree and cheese. Reheat to melt cheese.

Beat egg yolks with lemon juice, whisk into ½ cup hot soup and return to rest of soup. Reheat, do not boil. Garnish with reserved raw flowerets and extra cheese. Serves six.

HERB OXTAIL SOUP
Hearty Meal in a Bowl Soup

2½ pounds oxtails, cut up
2 tablespoons butter or rendered beef fat
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon white pepper
1 cup chopped onion
2 minced garlic cloves
2 teaspoons powdered mushroom
3 cups dry red wine
2 cups water
Bouquet garni of:
2 sprigs parsley
1 sprig rosemary
1 sprig thyme
2 sprigs oregano
½ cup pearl barley
1 cup sliced carrots
1 cup diced potatoes
2 cans beef broth
1 can vegetable juice (optional)
½ cup Madeira wine

Brown oxtails in butter or fat on all sides, sprinkling with salt and pepper as they are cooking. Add onion and garlic the last turn, brown, sprinkle with powdered mushroom and add wine, water and bouquet garni. Cover, bring to boil and cook 1½ hours.

Cool, chill, remove fat and bring back to boil. Add barley and cook 1½ hours. Remove bouquet garni, add carrots, potatoes, broth and optional juice. Bring back to boil and cook 15 minutes or until vegetables are tender-crisp. Adjust seasonings. Just before serving add ½ cup Madeira or to taste. Serves four to six.

"One of many hearty soups to be eaten with knife, fork, and spoon and perhaps served with salad, bread and a light dessert," the author said.

QUICK WATERCRESS SOUP

4 cups water
¼ pound ground lean pork butt
1 slice fresh ginger root
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup diced water chestnuts (canned)
2 bunches watercress, large stems removed (1 quart loosely packed)
1 cup diced tofu

Bring water to boil, crumble in pork, and add ginger, salt and water to chestnuts. Cook at gentle boil 15 minutes. Bring to hard boil, add watercress and cook 5 minutes. Add tofu and cook 3 minutes. Serves 4 - 6.

For easier eating, cut up large watercress sprigs.

Mrs. Castle comments, "The Oriental soups tend to be long and some are complicated. Tofu was glossarized but most Marinites know it's available in Japanese markets and Chinese markets, also called bean curd. Also, watercress in Chinatown is almost always fresh and inexpensive."

Clara Hale: Caring For Babies Suffering A Heroin 'Withdrawal'

By MARY TOBIN

NEW YORK (UPI)—At first the newborn seems normal, except perhaps for a slight shrillness in its first cry.

Shortly after birth, however, the baby begins to suffer tremors and diarrhea. It becomes irritable and its muscles become so rigid that it can hold its head upright. The infant is suffering withdrawal symptoms of heroin addiction inherited from its drug-addicted mother.

With the help of medication, doctors are able to bring these pathetic victims of maternal drug abuse through their withdrawal pains in 12 to 36 hours, only to have them often face a life of neglect and abuse when they leave the hospital.

TWO HARLEM women, Mrs. Clara Hale and her daughter Lorraine have become so concerned about the fate of these infants that Mrs. Hale, financed largely by her son Nathan, an accountant, and Lorraine, a teacher, has undertaken to care for 25 of them in the past year and a half. Fifteen of the infants have been reclaimed by the mothers after the mother has undergone what Mrs. Hale hopes is successful drug withdrawal treatment.

At Harlem Hospital Center in New York, where a sizable percentage of this city's drug-addicted mothers deliver, such cases are turned over to the hospital's social welfare department.

"Before we let a drug-addicted mother take a baby from the hospital, we make a thorough investigation of the home situation," said a spokesman for the hospital. "If there are stable relatives willing to care for the baby we release it —if not we must take legal stops to prove the mother unfit —often difficult to do.

"Then you have a baby returned in a few weeks, dead or dying from dehydration or neglect and you've got to consider who your patient really is."

CONCERN FOR babies is nothing new to Clara Hale, whose energy and vitality belie her 65 years. In addition to her own Nathan and Lorraine, she has raised four adopted children and cared for more than 40 foster children for periods of from six months to 10 years.

Mrs. Hale was widowed when Nathan and Lorraine were five and six years old, and she barely in her 20s.

"I tried going out to work for a while," she said, "and leaving Nathan and Lorraine with neighbors, but they just weren't getting proper care. I finally decided there must be other people in my predicament and that by keeping their children in my home I could earn enough to stay home with mine."

Kenneth Hale, 28, the oldest of Mrs. Hale's adopted children, was brought to her by his grandmother when he was two months old with the plea: "Please care for him."

"He had been in a foundling home and had received barely enough care to keep him alive," Mrs. Hale said. "I fed him and cuddled him and on about the third day I was rubbing him down with oil when he looked up at me and smiled. That did it. I had three children."

Kenneth, who graduated from Delaware State College in 1965, is married and teaches in Connecticut.

Julie, now 26, came next and a year later her sister Carol, then Robin, now 16 and a senior at New Lincoln School.

MOST OF her 40 "babies" have come to her by referral from the Child Welfare Bureau. She emphasized, however, that she has never taken money from the state for foster care.

"I have always worked directly with the mothers," she said. "They paid when they could and when they couldn't I got by as best I could."

Neighbors often helped out, giving her $5 or $10 and once she said, it literally fell from the sky.

"I was walking down the street with a friend, wondering how I was going to feed the kids that night, when $5 bills started blowing down the street. My friend kept saying 'you're crazy, they must be phony' but I ran and grabbed until I managed to catch about $50 worth," she said.

With Robin the only one of her six children still in school, Mrs. Hale had just about decided to "retire" when Lorraine brought the first addict-mother home to her. Lorraine had seen the young woman sitting on the stoop of a building, "high" on heroin and holding a baby precariously in her arms.

Miss Hale asked the woman if she would come with her to her mother's apartment and leave the baby in her care. The woman agreed.

Now, with funding from the Addiction Services Agency, Mrs. Hale and Lorraine hope to establish a home for these children, where they can give them the "love and care every infant needs to thrive." They also hope to spend time with the mothers, teaching them to care for the babies when they are ready to claim them, and to provide a study environment for persons interested in observing long-term effects of drug-abuse on infants.

Looking over one wall of her living room that is completely covered with pictures of her 40 "children," Mrs. Hale said proudly that "every one of them has turned out well. This is my reward."

Candlelighters' Cards On Sale

Greeting cards designed by Mrs. Robert Roach of Mill Valley are being sold as a benefit for the Candlelighters Society of Marin.

The cards, appropriate for Christmas or other purposes, depict seasons of the year by showing a tree, and the seasons relate to the emotions felt by one close to a person afflicted by a terminal illness, according to the artist.

Proceeds from the sale benefit the society, a group of families who have cancer-stricken children.

Cards may be purchased at the Art Store in Mill Valley or through Mrs. Lawrence Stickney of Mill Valley, coordinator of card sales.

School Volunteers Asked To Meet

Parents interested in forming a volunteer group to further develop the San Rafael schools physical education program are asked to meet Monday at 9:30 a.m. in the board of education room of the San Rafael City Schools Administration Building.

The volunteers will attend workshops conducted by Angelo Colombo, consultant for the San Rafael Elementary Schools physical education program.

THE GENERATION RAP

by Helen and Sue Bottel

Stars-And Stripes Patch Starts A Fuss; Father Doesn't Like It

DEAR SUE AND HELEN:

Parents are really something else! We all got into this big fight over nothing. My sister ripped her jeans, and the tear was below the knee. All she wanted to do was put a stars-and-stripes patch over it —the kind you can buy in any store.

But my parents, especially Dad, got uptight about "desecrating the American flag." He said it was renouncing our country, and no daughter of his would do a Communist, hippie thing like that. He was in the Army, which makes him even more uptight.

Well, one thing led to another, and he smacked my sister and sent her crying to her room. So I yelled we had freedom of speech and he hollered it was shameful to even think of putting the flag below your knee.

I'm still in shock, Helen and Sue. Please try to convince my folks that a flag patch (not really a flag even) is not communism or a disgrace to our country. — KIDS VS. PARENTS

SUE'S VIEWS
DEAR KIDS:

"Uncle Sam" wears a stars-and-stripes outfit — pants, jacket, hat —and he's just about as patriotic as you can get. (He also has a scraggly beard, but we won't go into that!)

Many stores sell "star-spangled" jeans, shoes and socks, as well as patches. Kids who wear them aren't "desecrating the flag." They're mainly just following a fad.

And if your Dad figures a "flag" below the knee means it might sometime be "dragged in the dust," or otherwise "disgraced," my neighbor (your parents' age) has an answer: Patriotic people glue flag stickers on their cars, letters, envelopes, etc.. Cars have wrecks and get mashed; mail can be stepped on, thrown in the garbage — or even used to stuff a rat hole. No one would think to remove the stickers first.

So isn't it a question of why you're wearing a flag decoration — not where?

NOTE TO YOUR FATHER: No offense, sir, but if you and your daughters could really rap together on how you feel about America, maybe you wouldn't get so uptight about a little patch. Loving your country — and the people in it — is something inside you, not a symbol at the top of a pole. — SUE

HELEN'S ECHO
DEAR KIDS:

Sue's views are mine, too. If parents and children could discuss instead of shout, both generations might stop feeling so threatened. And our mailbags would be much lighter!

Try to see your Dad's side, "Kids." He was brought up in the rigid belief that the flag was America, and it could be displayed only in certain well-defined ways. I remember accidentally dropping our flag at a Girl Scout meet years ago. You won't believe this now but, as it touched the ground, I shook! Somehow I felt I'd be struck down dead, either by God or my country — or both. And I just knew they'd strip off my badges and drum me out of Scouts with a death roll! Silly? Yes! But back then, it was trauma!

Such indoctrination is hard to shake. What you're brought up believing, you'll carry "deep in your guts" the rest of your life — whether it's entirely valid or not . . . And of course the new wave of anti-patriotism, with its real flag-haters, makes this an even more touchy subject.

I know you "kids" mean no disrespect by the patch on your jeans, but your father sees red. He's programmed that way. To him, this is a worse sin than kicking your grandmother.

We won't have much luck trying to convince him differently. Moreover, we'll no doubt encourage a spate of hate mail, because we've presented both sides.

But your letter brought up a subject that has heated many households. Let's hope we've cleared the way for a little fresh air. — HELEN

The Historical Typhoid Mary

Typhoid Mary was possibly the most famous disease carrier in American public health history.

In a discussion of how disease agents are spread from person to person, a U.S. Public Health Service representative said that hands contribute to the transmission of the typhoid bacillus to a considerable degree. He cited the case of Typhoid Mary as an example.

Staphylococci are transmitted almost exclusively through the hands and are discharged in food during handling and preparation. To prevent contamination, a health officer on the same program advised frequent hand washing with a germicidal liquid hand cleanser.

ON BEING BLACK

There's A Way To Get To Know Africa — But Start Planning

By SANDRA HAGGERTY

"Plan now! An African Safari for summer 1972!" The magnificent face of a roaring lion — raw nature, forcefully beautiful — leaped out of the huge travel poster.

Like most Americans, who have never been to Africa, the word safari initially brought to mind a picture of the dense African jungle, with scantily clad black natives carrying spears and guns for a white hunting expedition — a wildlife rip-off session.

Upon further exploration, I found that the word safari has a negative connotation for most blacks.

THE WORD "safar" is a Swahili word meaning journey. Safari denotes a hunting expedition and is considered the white man's word.

African students, who are very concerned about wildlife preservation in their homeland, were particularly prejudiced against the word, feeling that it stood not only for the ultimate depletion of Africa's wildlife population, but generally signified the forced penetration of black Africa by whites.

Interest in Africa has greatly increased, especially with the influences of the contemporary black blitz. American blacks are particularly anxious to visit this magnificent continent — a reunion with the lost motherland.

Travel to Africa is on the upswing and travel agencies and transportation/accommodation concerns are expeditiously tapping this potential. Swinging "seeing" tours are all the rage.

However, for those who are interested in getting to know Africa as well as see it, there is an established organization to familiarize yourself with.

THE AFRICAN-AMERICAN Institute is the major United States non-profit organization working to further African development and increase American understanding of the economies, culture and politics of Africa and of such issues as human rights and racial equality.

AAI offers interested persons the benefit of 17 years of expertise —the result of close and meaningful relationships with Africa.

The AAI has been responsible for bringing African students to United States colleges for training. They have also set up training programs for Africans in Africa.

The Educators to Africa Association (under the auspices of AAI and open to the general public as well as teachers) in addition to offering supportive services to teachers who want to teach about Africa, strives to establish meaningful exchanges and contacts between Americans and Africans, through accredited study programs, on-site visits to Africa, African cultural programs in the United States, updated teaching materials and reading lists and reasonable travel rates to Africa.

Ironically, the African continent constitutes one-fifth of the land mass of the world — is three and one half times larger than the United States — has a population that exceeds 300 million. Yet, of all the world areas, Africa is the most unknown and least understood by the people of the United States.

An African proverb states, "Preparation does not spoil the journey." Plan now for '72 — and if your bread is low, for '73, '74, '75.

Alcoholism On Climb Among Nation's Women

Alcoholism affects more than 700,000 women in the United States, and it may be on the rise. According to Dr. Mary A. Schuckit, of the Washington University School of Medicine in St. Louis, Mo., alcoholism has unique qualities in the female abuser.

She usually becomes alcoholic around the age of 30. She drinks in direct relation to stress and has a higher incidence of drug abuse than do male alcoholics.

In half of the cases she has experienced a broken marriage. One-third are married to an alcoholic. The female alcoholic tends to choose a husband considerably older or younger than herself and frequently complains of sexual dissatisfaction.

Alcoholism and depression appear to be closely related illnesses.

Popular Item

The skinny rib turtle neck shirt and sweater with ring zips and grommets still is popular with coeds. But the classic look of the '40s and '50s is making a comeback via sweater sets — the long-sleeved cardigan worn over a short-sleeved pullover in matching color.

Braising Food

Braising is the process of cooking meat or poultry slowly in a covered utensil in a small amount of liquid or steam. Meat is sometimes browned in a small amount of fat before braising. Braising of fowl, rabbit or veal cut into pieces is called fricasseeing.

AIRPORT HOSTESS

Ingrid Adamski gives directions to travelers at Tampa International Airport. The native of Vienna, Austria, is a former airline stewardess. AIRPORT HOSTESSES

Guides Cross Language Barrier

By ORVAL JACKSON

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI)—A group of German airport officials was touring the new Tampa International Airport recently when the attractive tour guide began her explanation in fluent German.

"Oh, she speaks German," said one of the surprised visitors.

It was no accident that Ingrid Adamski was conducting that particular tour.

A native of Vienna, Austria, and a former air hostess for Lufthansa German Airlines, she is one of eight hostesses employed by the Hillsborough County Aviation Authority to pandle tours and serve as hostesses for the ultra-modern airport.

AND THE experience that greeted the Germans will welcome most foreigners to the sprawling facility.

Only one of the eight hostesses does not speak a foreign language and several are fluent in more than one language. About the only languages the hostesses can't handle are the Oriental tongues.

But even this is not too much of a problem, Ingrid said, because many Orientals can converse in French because of the prior influence of France in that area of the world. Or they speak English.

"There is no easier way to make people feel comfortable than to be able to speak to them in their own language," Ingrid said.

Another hostess is Eve Matheson, a native of London, a former stewardess for British Overseas Airways and a former girl disc jockey on a radio station in Charlotte, N.C. Now married to a plastic surgeon here, Eve is fluent in French.

MRS. ADAMSKI is the most gifted linguist of the group, fluent in French, German, English and Spanish.

"Sometimes I find that maybe I can't get something across in German, so I will switch over to French and it works out," she said.

Once, for a visiting dignitary from Belgium, she conducted the tour in three languages—English, German and French, to make sure she was understood.

The hostesses have a varied background and one moonlights as a professional dancer at a prominent Spanish restaurant in Tampa.

The hostess-dancer, Marilyn Mancuso, is fluent in Spanish and Italian. Dot Dotson is a former elementary school teacher and speaks Spanish, and Sandra Wilson is a graduate of Florida A. and M. University and formerly worked with the telephone company.

OTHERS IN the ranks are Ursula Donovan, a native of Nurenberg, Germany; Elizabeth Groom Schulster, a former Groom Schulster, a former stewardess for both National and Eastern Airlines and fluent in Spanish; and Sherry Austin Krutsinger, onetime United Air Lines stewardess who speaks some French.

Tours are a big thing currently for the hostesses, but they are also the "good samaritans" of the terminal, helping baby-toting mothers with their luggage, looking after senior citizens and just generally making people feel at ease.

And they don't limit tours to aviation-oriented groups. The airport has become a virtual "tourist" attraction for school children with regularly scheduled tours conducted for individual classes.

"The response has been even better than we dreamed," said Mrs. Ann Ketchu, who heads the program. "They make such a fantastic impact upon the people."

ON THE AGENDA

Marin Easter Seal Society's Volunteer Workers Honored

Pins and certificates of appreciation were presented to volunteers who have participated in the Marin Easter Seal Society's recreation program by Mrs. Phyllis Widdershoven, society executive director.

Honored Wednesday were members of Men of the Chapel, a Hamilton Air Force Base group which has participated in the program's field trips by helping patients in and out of cars, lifting and pushing wheelchairs and generally aiding handicapped participants.

Other volunteers honored for driving participants to the weekly recreation programs were Mmes. Lennie Banke, Rena Yates, Ed Combs, Elsie Theirbach, Lucille Zerbe. Honored for participating in the program are Mmes. Barbara Culpepper, Shirley Temen, Grace Gallagher, Janet Duncan, Jeanne Batt, Helen Pedersen and Wayne Wilson, Lt. Col. Wayne Jensen, Keith Wright, Wayne Wilson and Miss Pat Jensen.

MARIN COUNTRY Club is having a mixed couples invitational golf tournament Thanksgiving Day, followed by a traditional Thanksgiving dinner.

Tee-off for the tournament begins at 10 a.m. Members and guests may make up foursomes and sign up in the club pro shop. Dinner reservations for the family-style meal can be made through the club.

TO CELEBRATE their community-built covered lunch area at San Geronimo Valley School, the Parent-Teacher Association, the San Geronimo Lio Club and the San Geronimo Valley Association will have a buffet dinner and dance tomorrow night in the new area.

The Lions Club will cook the dinner, with Jack Barnes in charge, and will show slides of the work crew.

Mrs. Betty Van Midde, P-TA president, said that the P-TA raised some $900 with a fashion show and other events last year toward the construction of the building and the Lions Club and San Geronimo Valley Association also contributed. Volunteers built the concrete and steel foundation and roof to state specifications, so that eventually the area could be built into classrooms.

"The whole valley has really helped," said Mrs. Van Midde.

MEMBERS OF Marin Chapter of World Wings International are collecting used clothing for patients at Napa State Hospital. The former Pan American World Airways stewardesses plan to decorate wards at the hospital for Christmas for which they need unbreakable tree ornaments and tree lights.

Mmes. Robert F. MacKay of Ignacio and Michael Linwood of Tiburon will make arrangements for pickup of the articles.

'Mayflower Day' Will Be Celebrated

By MOLLY MARIN

Descendants of pilgrims who came to the New World in 1620 on the Mayflower will mark Mayflower Compact Day at a luncheon at noon tomorrow at the Marines Memorial Building in San Francisco.

Marin members of the Mayflower Descendants Society — Mrs. Edward Ehmann of San Rafael, Mrs. Bruno Ercolini of Fairfax and Thomas North of Belvedere — plan to attend. Each year the society celebrates the anniversary on Nov. 21 of the signing of the Mayflower Compact, the beginning of government in America.

The luncheon, hosted by San Francisco-Peninsula Colony, will be attended by Alameda and Mother Lode Colonies with Monterey Peninsula Colony members invited as special guests.

State governor of Mayflower Descendants Society Dr. Robert Thomas will introduce Mrs. Harvey Lyon, who will present a film and commentary about George Washington crossing the Delaware River. Mrs. Emily Valentine, in a pilgrim costume, will recite the Mayflower Compact.

This year's Compact Day meeting has a special significance as it brings to a close the year-long celebration of the 350th anniversary of the landing of the pilgrim families.

How To Avoid Bike Accidents

Although the bicycle is now considered a contributor to physical fitness, and a means of transportation that does not pollute the air, it is also responsible for one million injuries annually.

In an editorial in the "New England Journal of Medicine," Dr. Julian A. Waller makes a number of recommendations to avoid accidents. He suggests that beginners not ride high-rise bikes; that riding double be avoided; that wheels be covered so that spokes are not exposed; that reflectors be put on the sides as well as the front and back of bikes; that reflectors be added to the pedals to possibly aid visibility of the rider.

Dr. Waller recommends that the bicycle seat should be no higher than the rider's hips so that his feet can touch the ground without making the bicycle lean.

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

The Right Sort Of Hand Can Ward Off An Impending Disaster

I don't want to jinx the City of Phoenix, where the national bridge tournament begins today, but it is my duty to point out the danger of earthquakes or other disaster when all that heavy thinking goes on in a single city. Fortunately there is a kind of hand in which a bridge expert must never think, and a few such hands may keep the bogeyman away from Phoenix. Today's hand shows the general idea.

Opening lead — ♡ K

TAKES WITH ACE

West opens the king of hearts, and South wins with the ace. South naturally goes after the spades by leading the queen for a finesse.

Right here is where East must not waste his brains. He must play a low spade as though he never heard of such a thing as a king of spades. The rule for such hands is: When an opponent takes a repeatable finesse, don't win the first trick — and don't think about it.

If South is taken in by East's casual play of a low spade, he may lead the jack of spades in order to repeat the finesse. This normal play costs South his vulnerable game.

DEFENSIVE PLAY

East takes the second spade trick with the king and leads a low diamond up to dummy's weakness. West wins with the king of diamonds and returns a diamond to the ace. Now East leads a spade or a club to put dummy into the lead.

Dummy can take some top spades and clubs but must eventually lead hearts, and West takes two heart tricks to defeat the contract. Then everybody has a good laugh. Except South and North.

EAST THINKS

If East thinks before refusing the first spade trick, South may see his danger. South will lead a heart before continuing the spades, and his contract will then be assured.

After all, I didn't say that nobody at the table could do any thinking.

U.S. Heavy Gear Will Aid Soviets

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Commerce Department today granted U.S. firms licenses to export $528 million worth of heavy equipment to the Soviet Union, clearing the way for U.S. firms to help build the world's biggest truck factory in Russia.

Export licenses are required before domestic firms can ship strategic material abroad.

It was not immediately known which company received the licenses. Mack Truck Inc., Allentown, Pa., cancelled the plans several months ago to supply a major part of the machinery required to build the plant after the White House delayed approval of U.S. participation in the project.

"Vanishing Prairie" — The miracle of life on the prairie, the animal world and nature's wonders.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Catlow" — Plenty of action in this notch-above-average western. An amusing friendly-enemy relationship exists between Catlow, a quick-draw-good-badman, and the Marshal. Splendid photography, enjoyable score and acting. (Motion Picture Daily)

"Dr. Zhivago" — Lives of a handful of people in Russia before the war and after the revolution. Superb photography, acting and music.

"Kotch" — Strong on honest sentiment, this splendid human comedy is about a widowed grandfather. This unselfish personality in a selfish world leaves his son's home and sets up housekeeping for a young unmarried pregnant teen-ager.

"The Last Run" — A retired gangster decides to test himself on a last run in helping an escaped convict. George C. Scott's three dimensional extraordinary portrayal cancels out movie's defects. Brutal violence, cursing and sex.

"The Reivers" — Warm, nostalgic bawdy film about a 12-year-old boy's schooling in the facts of life during one week-end. Good human values presented but much of the action is in a brothel making it unsuitable for young children.

"2001, Space Odyssey" — An outstanding science fiction tale about space travelers and the computer that causes a struggle for survival. Highly imaginative production.

"Today We Kill, Tomorrow We Die" — A western with the usual cliche of man set on revenge for his wife's murder and a prison frame up. Standard violence.

BORDERLINE
(Most sources say adults only)

"Death In Venice" — A musician on the verge of a physical and mental collapse goes to Venice in 1911 to regain his health and becomes obsessed with the beauty of a young man with tragic results. Very slow moving.

"Little Big Man" — A tragic-comic history of Indian-white relations as recalled by a 121-year-old gunfighter. Much violence and bloody fighting and some impudent sex scenes.

"Say Hello to Yesterday" — Wavering between a tiresome melodrama and a touching love story this account of a young hippie pursuing a proper married woman until they finally have an affair. Well acted but a bit overdone.

"T. R. Baskin" — A small town girl anxious to make good in Chicago fights the big cities tendency to dehumanize people. A secretary's problems are portrayed and her love life.

ADULTS ONLY

"Carnal Knowledge" — The sex lives of two men from college days to middle life done in a two dimensional, cynical, satirical style which becomes tiresome. Fine performances from cast. Language and sex are explicit.

"Fanny Hill" — A dumb but beautiful girl from rural Sweden becomes a prostitute in Stockholm and succeeds in inheriting the wealth of one of her clients so then she becomes one of the jet set. (Boxoffice Magazine)

"Inga" — Swedish with English subtitles. To avoid bankruptcy a woman gives her niece to a lecherous older man. The girl foils the plot by running away with the aunt's boyfriend. (Boxoffice Magazine).

"McCabe and Mrs. Miller" — Set in a frontier town in Washington in the 1890s the conflict in this story revolves around the big boss of the town and the owner of the saloon and brothel. Vulgarity, broad humor and brutality are abundant and graphic.

"Seducers" — Italian made, English dubbed. A couple procure girls for an emotionally disturbed son of a wealthy woman. (Boxoffice Magazine).

"Stewardesses" — The crew of a Honolulu to Los Angeles flight find various sex diversions on their off time. Vignettes designed solely to undress everyone in the shortest possible time. Filmed in 3-D. (Boxoffice Magazine).

"1,000 Convicts and A Woman" — Sexploits of a prison warden's nymphomanic daughter. The demoralizing effect of a 17-year-old vamp on the inmates of a minimum security farm. (Motion Picture Daily).

Plans Approved But Stucco Out For Apartments

The Novato Plan Review Committee has approved precise plans for a 180-unit apartment project, south of Hamilton Air Force Base, except for stucco exteriors.

The units are to be constructed on a wooded, hilly area, 8.89 acres, on the east side of Marin Valley Drive, south of Bolling Drive.

A majority of committee members preferred wood exteriors and the developer is scheduled to appeal the planning commission's rejection of stucco to the city council, planner James Miller reported.

The committee, meeting Wednesday, also approved plans by Fred Mauroni to construct a 7-unit apartment building on the east side of Railroad Avenue, about 50 feet north of Logan Street.

Electronic Music Group To Perform

The Different Fur Electronic music group will present a concert featuring moog synthesizers Sunday at 8:30 p.m. at the Fine Arts Theater of the College of Marin.

Sponsored by the associated students, the concert will consist of 16-track, pre-recorded tape and live music performed by seven musicians headed by Patrick Gleeson on the moog keybord and grand piano and John Viera on the moog keyboard. They have composed the original music that will be played.

Other musicians are Berret Bassick, bass guitar and flute; Micki Durio, drums, baritone saxaphone and guitar; David Litwin, organ; Bob Swanson, lead guitar and bass guitar, and Hal Wagonette, guitar.

The concert will also feature lights keyed to the changing moods of the music, but not psychedelic lighting.

Criticism On Magazine Recall

WACO, Tex. (UPI)—A church official who recalled copies of a Baptist publication because it had a picture of a black teenage boy talking with two white girls drew student criticism at Baylor University Thursday.

The Baptist-supported college's Student Congress said it was "extremely disappointed" at Sunday School executive Allen B. Comish for withdrawing 160,000 copies of the weekly youth magazine.

Finch In Brazil; Discussion Opens

BRASILIA (UPI) — Robert Finch, on a Latin American fact-finding mission for President Nixon, today opened discussions with Brazilian officials, including President Emilio Garrastazu Medici.

Finch, heading a high-level mission which has already visited Peru, Ecuador and Argentina, arrived Thursday night from Buenos Aires.

Institute Appoints Two Marin Residents

Dr. Michael Grotjahn of Mill Valley and Dr. Kenneth J. Appel of San Anselmo have been appointed as director and associate director, respectively, of the San Francisco branch of the Western Institute of Human Resources.

The institute is a mental health facility which provides services for adults and children, either as individuals, families, couples or groups.

Some 'Seattle 7' Charges Cleared

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The "Seattle Seven" have been cleared of contempt of court charges stemming from their conspiracy trial.

The United States Court of Appeals yesterday overruled the contempt citations issued 11 months ago by U.S. District Judge George H. Boldt, now head of the U.S. Pay Board.

The court of appeals said Boldt failed to recite the specific facts on which he based the contempt charges.

The seven defendants were originally charged with conspiracy following a demonstration outside the federal courthouse in Seattle in February of 1970. The demonstration, called to protest the contempt sentences in the "Chicago Seven" trial, resulted in several broken windows.

The defendants are Michael Lerner, Charles Marshall III, Jeffery Dowd, Joseph Kelly, Roger Lippman, Michael Abeles and Susan Stern.

Some Mixture

ESSEN, Germany (UPI)— Police arrested three Dutchmen on suspicion of drug-peddling, a spokesman said today. He said the trio were released when it was found the mixture they were selling was made up of baby powder, red pepper and flour.

More than 10 million cattle were driven to northern markets in the decade after the Civil War.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Although Thanksgiving Is Family Day, Restaurants Will Be Busy

Though considered a "family day," Thanksgiving manages to entice a fair number of diners-out away from the home table.

And since more than just a few restaurant operators prefer to close and stay at home, the choice of dining places is reduced to about half the usual number. In many cases it means longer waits for a table, particularly during peak hours.

A few — not all — of the restaurants have reported their plans for that day, but if they are not mentioned on this page we suggest checking ahead by telephone and inquiring if reservations are necessary.

Dinner prices will be about the same as last year —generally in the $4 to $5.50 range for turkey and varying with other selections.

LE CHALET BASQUE at Santa Venetia will be open, serving from 4 to 9 p.m. Chef Pierre Joris will provide both the regular fare and a turkey dinner. This year the Coscarats request that advance reservations be made.

THE SAN GERONIMO NATIONAL GOLF COURSE, which ordinarily serves dinners only on Sundays, will be open from 3 to 5 p.m. on Thanksgiving. Turkey and baked ham dinners are being offered at $4.

KUBLAI KHAN in Strawberry Town and Country Village will serve a special turkey dinner with trimmings at $3.95. If you're not a turkey eater there will be the usual steak specials and Chinese menu.

DOMINIC'S HARBOR RESTAURANT'S Thanksgiving Day program will extend from 9:30 a.m. with a holiday brunch, and dinner from 1 p.m. There will be a special menu, including turkey and six other entrees, priced from $4.95 to $7.25.

OUT IN LAGUNITAS, look for Matts and Phyllis Mattsson to start serving Thanksgiving dinner from 1 p.m. at the Old Viking.

Traditional full course dinners will be offered, with a choice of turkey or the regular menu at no increase in prices. Reservations should be made.

THE NORMANDIE on the San Rafael Miracle Mile will open next Thursday for dinner at 4 p.m.

Special turkey dinner will be $5.50. Steak will also be available, as will the regular a la carte menu. You should make advance reservations.

ALVARADO INN at Ignacio will serve from 1 p.m. Five-course young roast tom turkey dinner will be $3.95 — child's plate is $2. You can order also from the regular menu.

No reservations will be necessary except for large parties. And I am informed that Jerry Diamond will keep his regular Thursday date at the piano.

Incidentally, chef Wally Price has brought in another top man to share his responsibilities in the kitchen — Eric Benson. They have worked together as a team before. You'll find them experienced in the seafood line.

KIRBY AND RENEE ATTERBURY will have the Caprice in Tiburon open Thanksgiving, with dinner service from 4 p.m. Regular menu will be served — and turkey by request. Reservations — definitely.

The Caprice is still open for lunches Tuesdays through Fridays from noon to 3 p.m. Moderate prices.

ALSO IN TIBURON, the Windjammer will serve from 1 to 9 p.m. Manager Ed Hayes is arranging a special Thanksgiving menu with four choices — turkey, prime rib, lobster tail or New York steak — which should satisfy any appetite. Reservations.

TIBURON LODGE IS ALSO one of next Thursday's open restaurants. Complete turkey dinners will be $4.95, with children under 12 at $2.50. A special feature here is that an individual turkey will be served at the table for parties of four or more. Reservations.

OUR BEST WISHES go to Russell Kern, former manager at Adolph's West End Villa, San Rafael, who has had to give up restaurant work for awhile. He was stricken with a heart attack, but has left the hospital and is now recuperating at home.

His place at West End has been taken over by Joe Morin, an experienced and capable restaurant man — no stranger to Marin and Sonoma County diners.

West End Villa will be open on Thanksgiving and serving from 1 p.m. Reservations are recommended here.

THE RAFTERS in Corte Madera has three special complete offerings — turkey at $4.25, baked ham at $4.50 and prime rib at $5.25. Child's plate of turkey or ham is $1.50.

THE PEPPERWOOD in San Anselmo's Red Hill Shopping Center will have a Ramos fizz brunch from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. next Thursday. Dinner will be served from 1 to 10 p.m. Turkey dinner will be $3.95; prime rib $4.95.

KAMYAR SAMII'S new Brat Haus is now open at 1235 Fourth Street, San Rafael for breakfast, lunch and dinner. Hours are from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m. Special Thanksgiving dinner will be served from 6 p.m.

NEW RESTAURANT SCHEDULE — Ramona's in San Rafael will open again for lunches Mondays through Thursdays — after Thanksgiving.

School Curriculum Will Be TV Topic

School curriculum development will be discussed by five Marin County residents at 2:30 p.m. Sunday on KRON-TV's "Youth Inquires" program.

Sidney Smith, coordinator of curriculum for Marin County schools, will answer questions from Jeff Bywater and Brett LaCounte, both Novato High School students, and Sean Donahue and Mario Chipollino, both from Tamalpais High School.

Marin Dining And Wining

SABELLA'S closed on Thanksgiving for the first time last year and this year will do so again.

Family dinners on weekdays are still the big favorite here. There's a choice of five entrees.

CLOUD 5 in Novato is open again after considerable fire damage and redecorating, serving its regular German and American food. Everything has been done in a red and gold decor.

Starting tonight, there is Friday night dancing upstairs from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. to the music of Karl Liebherc and His Wiedersehn.

Cloud 5 will be closed on Thanksgiving.

RAMONA'S in San Rafael will close Thanksgiving, but Ramona Stallings is opening for lunches again after Thanksgiving Tuesdays through Fridays. She'll serve until 4 p.m. then go right into the dinner period.

MOUNTAIN HOME INN in Mill Valley will close next Thursday, according to its usual custom. It will do the same on Christmas.

And Pat and Marion Vincent will be visiting Germany in January, so will close the restaurant then. If you're a hardy midwinter hiker in these parts, you'll have to take along your own lunch and beer.

AMONG OTHER RESTAURANTS closed Thanksgiving will the the Dock in Tiburon, El Paseo Dining Room in Mill Valley, the Grotto in San Rafael, La Petite Auberge in San Rafael, Lin Fa Gardens at Northgate and San Rafael Joe's in San Rafael.

Romulus in San Rafael will be closed. A Wednesday a la carte special here is spaghetti or ravioli served with bread and butter at $1.65. And now on Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights crab cioppino is being served at $4.25.

Rubini's in Fairfax will have its usual seasonal closing days next week Monday through Thanksgiving and will open again on Friday for dinner. Dick Templeton and Gordon Jones will be in Oklahoma during the week.

CONGRATULATIONS to Pietro Pinoni of Greenbrae on the publication of Pietro on Wine, coauthored by him and Robert Burger, published by Delphic Press.

Wine buffs, and particularly those who undertake to make their own wine or are thinking about doing so, should read it. Pietro is an old hand (and foot) at home wine making. He's been tramping grapes, man and boy, all his life.

He is also owner of Pietro's 311 Restaurant in San Francisco, where the waiters cruise around balancing wine bottles (full) on their heads.

Free-Textbook Bill Has Final Assembly Nod

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —A bill designed to provide free state-approved textbooks to pupils at private schools and allowing them to attend some classes at public schools was voted final legislative passage yesterday by the Assembly and sent to Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The lower house concurred 43-5 to Senate amendments to the measure by Assemblyman John Vasconcellos, D-San Jose.

Supporters of the bill have contended it would help relieve problems faced by public schools bY/encouraging attendance at private schools.

It would require the state Board of Education to make available to students at private schools basic and supplementary textbooks adopted for use by the board in public elementary schools.

If space were available, private school students could attend vocational, shop and natural and physical science classes at public high schools.

The bill would also require the state to provide free specialized materials for visually handicapped students at private high schools and elementary schools.

First London Snow

LONDON (UPI)—London had its first snow of the winter today. The light dusting on car roofs and grass patches lasted until dawn. The temperature stayed just above the freezing point, the weather center said.

Ships Collide 12 Miles Off Golden Gate

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Two outbound ships, one a Greek tanker, collided with "minor damage" Thursday about 12 miles outside the Golden Gate, the Coast Guard reported.

A Coast Guard spokesman said there were no injuries and both ships turned back to San Francisco Bay for repairs.

The Coast Guard said it had no information that any oil might have spilled from the tanker, the 33,000 gross ton Persepolis.

The collision occurred in clear, but windy weather, the Coast Guard said, and both vessels had bar pilots aboard.

The second vessel was identified as the 7,600-ton Transchamplain, a container cargo ship.

The Coast Guard was investigating the cause of the incident.

Vallee Pleads, Is Sentenced

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Rudy Vallee pleaded no contest to a charge of disturbing the peace Thursday and was sentenced to six months unsupervised probation for calling a neighbor four-letter names.

The judge ordered the 70-year-old singer to pay $100 to the neighbor, Dr. Ernst A. Phillipp. Vallee and Phillipp became antagonists last summer over Vallee's unsuccessful attempt to persuade the city council to rename the street where they live "Rue de Vallee" in his honor.

Famous European Chef names Dominic's America's finest restaurant.
Not long ago we decided to ask the world's most renowned chefs and restaurateurs to judge the quality of our fine restaurant and its continental cuisine. But the trouble was that most of these people were in Paris and Bologna and other strange places. So we settled the whole thing by asking the famous Pierre Giavinna to make an honest and objective appraisal. "America's finest," he said. That was good enough for us. After all, he's not only our chef, but he owns part of the place. So who should know better than he?

JEWISH CENTER'S NEW DIRECTOR

He Helps People Get Identity

By JEFF GREER

Ethnic pride as well as Marin's mild climate have led Murray Narell on a journey from the violent sidewalks of Harlem to the peaceful hillsides of Marin.

Narell, 48, is the new director of the Marin Jewish Community Center at 200 North San Pedro Road, San Rafael.

He sees his new job as yet another step in a long career of satisfying "the need all people have for having an identity — and feeling good about it."

Narell said Jewish persons are "probably the best integrated minority in America today." The community center nevertheless has a role to play as a focal point for Jewish families in Marin, he declared.

The classes, social events, lectures, symposia and other activities at the center can do much to give both Jewish and non-Jewish persons deeper insight to Jewish history and customs, Narell said.

Narell estimated that only a third of Marin's families of Jewish ancestry have any ties with the county's Jewish congregations or the community center. He said one of his goals will be to build the center's strength by reaching as many "separated" families as possible.

Narell's boyhood days were spent in the pursuits typical of youngsters in New York City during Depression-era days — until he was 11, when his father bought a farm in rural New York.

The city boy apparently established his own identity in rural life. "My brother and I became the fastest chicken innoculators around — we were really in demand" to vaccinate the chicks against pox, he recalled.

After earning a Columbia University master's degree in secondary education, Narell taught for two years. He then encountered an old friend at a party and became fascinated with the friend's tales of work with Harlem street gangs.

Narell soon found himself a job as one of New York City's pioneer gang workers. He gained the assistance of Puerto Rican, black and Italian youngsters to campaign against murderous street gang wars that were rocking Harlem and the Lower East Side.

Gang workers for the city, the Jewish-sponsored Educational Alliance, and such organizations as the St. Christopher's Parish then headed by C. Kilmer Meyers — now Episcopal bishop in San Francisco — "operated just like the CIA," Narell explained.

"We knew the plans for every fight before it happened."

"The gang fights we conquered, but the gangs moved from fights to dope," Narell mournfully recalled.

"Apparently the kids felt they didn't have the status of the gangs that were still fighting" and turned to narcotics to solve their problems within themselves, he explained. "Not fighting was almost like a deprivation" of their right to be someone," he said.

Narell said he thought the young street gangs used narcotics in a way vastly different from the widespread use of marijuana he found upon coming to California.

The Californians were seeking an experience rather than an escape in most cases, he said.

Narell became a co-founder of the Lower East Side Narcotics Center, and his experiences left him caustic about the rise of addiction nationwide. "Some of us warned then (in 1959) that if we didn't stop dope in New York, it would take over the country. They didn't listen."

He added that based on what he saw, "I think we can do more in education than in treatment" to halt addiction.

Narell later left the street gangs to work as an executive of the Bergen County Young Men's Hebrew Association in Hackensack, N.J. In suburban Marin, "I'm right back in Hackensack, even to problems of trying to serve families scattered over a wide geographic area," he explained.

With him from New York City, Narell has brought another of his consuming interests — steel band music. After hearing the West Indian music performed in the late 1940s, he involved hundreds of New York youngsters in steel bands.

Some players became so professional they joined the musicians union and kept busy at parties, political rallies and other events.

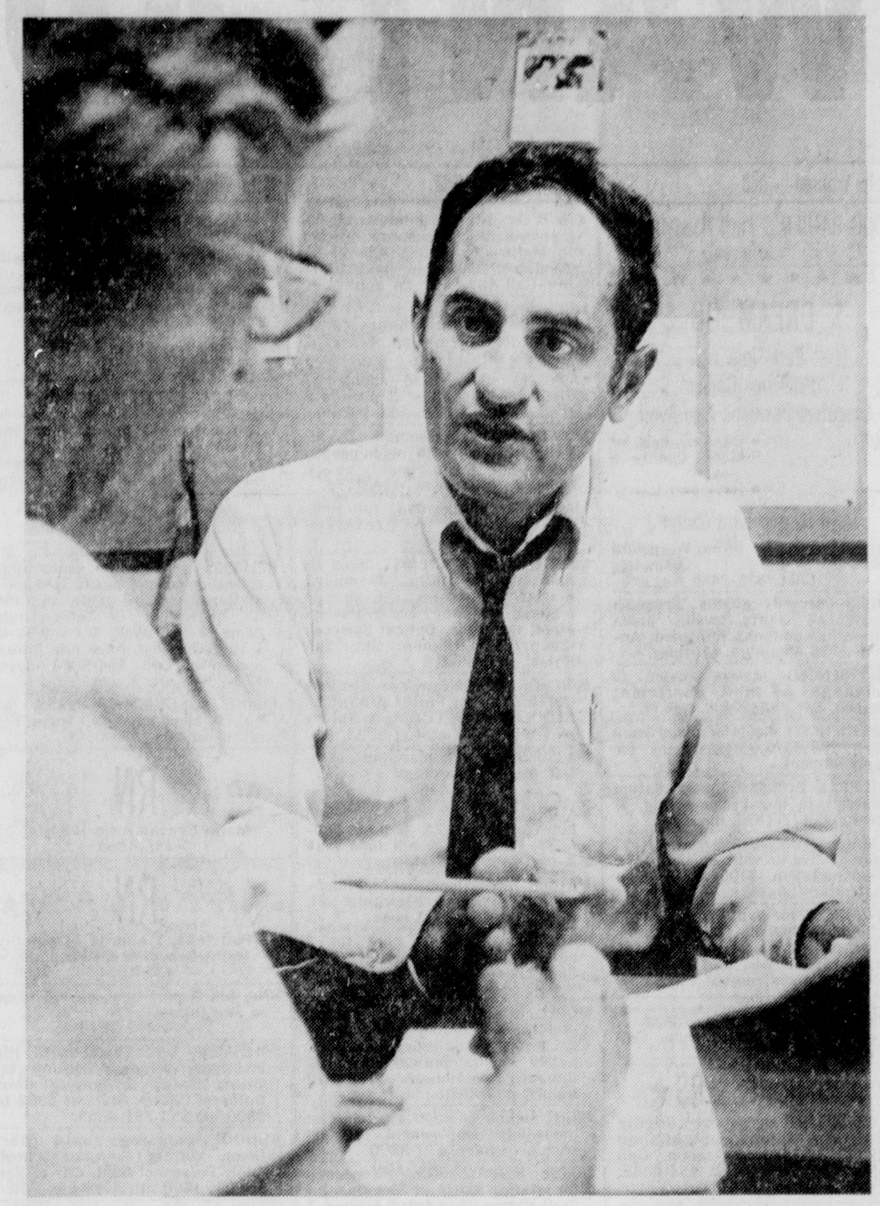
"Mayor (John) Lindsay was elected by steel drum bands," Narell declared.

His own involvement with the Caribbean-style music led Narell on trips to Antigua and other West Indies islands, and to a three-year stint in private industry as a community representative for Grace Steamship lines. He organized steel drum bands in schools for the company.

His two sons still teach steel band music in the Oakland parks and recreation department. The boys, Arthur, 22, and Andy, 17, are students in the University of California at Berkeley, Narell said. The younger son has made records with the Moby Grape.

Narell said he doubted if he will let himself become deeply involved with steel band creation in Marin, lest it compete too strenuously with the demands of his new post.

Besides, there is tennis clamoring for attention. "Jogging's not for me," the lanky Narell explained. "It's too disciplined and too artificial. I get just as much exercise playing tennis. And I came to California because the weather's better for playing tennis!"



EX-STREET GANG WORKER — Murray Narell, new director of the Marin Jewish Community Center, confers with a center staffer. Narell has been executive of an antidrug center, steel band impresario, and a dedicated worker for the proposition that "all people have a need for knowing their own identity and feeling good about it."

Bay Smog Officials Will Tackle Lead In Gasoline

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Bay Area smog officials, citing the state's failure to get the lead out of gasoline, yesterday decided to try to do it themselves.

Bay Area Air Pollution Control District directors long had thought the bold step was up to the state or federal government, but learned yesterday that they may have the power themselves.

The district's counsel, Matthew S. Walker, raised the possibility with a previously unpublicized attorney general's opinion concluding that fixing fuel composition standards "remains within the primary jurisdiction of local air pollution control districts."

The opinion by Atty. Gen. Evelle J. Younger was written in March by Sen. Nicholas C. Petris, D-Oakland, but only yesterday came to the district board's attention. Walker's report on the opinion was in each director's folder, but none responded to it until Edward Groth III, a member of the district's advisory council, pointed it out.

Groth, a Stanford University biologist, said he was "extremely tired of waiting for the state to do something."

He noted that the Legislature had failed for the past two sessions to approve bills eliminating lead from gasoline. The bills came after state public health studies found potentially hazardous levels of poisonous atmospheric lead.

(The bills were killed because of strong opposition from the fuel industry.)

Groth, winning quick board approval of his proposal that the district try to act itself, said "it looks as if no one else is going to do it."

The district's top administrator, D. J. Callaghan, reported that Orange County's air pollution control officials last month adopted an ordinance phasing lead out of gasoline by July 1, 1975. A similar move is pending in Riverside County, he added.

Walker noted that the counties expected court challenges to their ordinances.

Under the Orange County ordinance, limits on lead would begin next July 1, with tighter limits imposed each year. The gradual elimination in that ordinance was similar to one proposed in a statewide initiative on next June's ballot, the Clean Environment Act.

Callaghan said he will report to the board on a local ordinance at its Jan. 5 meeting.

That meeting, coincidentally, also includes a hearing on a recommendation by the personnel committee to fire Walker. He and Callaghan have been feuding for years, and Walker charged two weeks ago that Callaghan has sheltered major polluters from legal action.

The committee held another unpublicized closed-door session yesterday for 40 minutes after the full board meeting to hire a law firm to represent the district against Walker. Three firms were considered, and Napa County Supervisor Joseph G. Peatman was delegated to select one.

The board voted previously to pay a firm $1,000 for the job.

Another closed-door session of the committee will be held at 10 a.m. next Wednesday in district offices, 939 Ellis Street, to review the matter.

San Francisco Supervisor Dianne Feinstein, a frequent critic of Callaghan, was excluded from the closed meeting on the ground that while she is a director of the district, she is not a member of the committee. Fuming outside the closed door, she told newsmen that "the integrity of the district has been impugned by the procedure in this whole matter."

She objected that the committee had recommended two weeks ago that Walker be fired, but it never had come up with any charges against the attorney. She termed this "putting the cart before the horse."

Bay Area Air Pollution Control District directors also:

ALERT — Again rehashed the failure of the district's first smog alert in September, largely ignored by industry and the public, but failed again to come up with any solutions.

EQUIPMENT — Authorized purchase of new air pollution detection equipment in Sonoma, Napa and Solano counties at a cost of $107,991.

REMODELING — Accepted a low bid of $52,807 by Jacks and Irvine Inc. to remodel district offices to accommodate expanded staff.

Angela To Remain Til Dec. 1

Angela Y. Davis, who was scheduled to be sent to San Jose next week, will remain in Marin County Jail at least until Dec. 1.

Judge Richard E. Arnason from Contra Costa County, who is presiding in the Davis case, today granted a stay of execution on his change of venue order. He did so to give Marin officials time to prepare transcripts and documents for transmission to Santa Clara County. Asst. County Clerk John Musser said all the papers could not be completed by Monday, the date originally set for the transfer.

Chief Defense Counsel Howard Moore Jr. also wanted an extension so that he could further oppose the change of venue.

Tax Reform Signatures At 7,100

Marin County voters have contributed more than their needed share of signatures on petitions to put the so-called Jarvis property tax reform amendment on the June 1972 ballot, according to the county elections office.

Although workers today still were checking signatures on the petitions submitted Monday, they already have verified 7,100 names, according to Peter C. Meyer, elections officer. Marin's share of the statewide total of 520,286 signatures needed was 5,200.

Workers are still checking signatures on two other state constitutional amendment petitions, the so-called Kennedy and Wakefield amendments. Both would prohibit elected officials from raising their own salaries, and would require a public vote for any such raises.

In Marin, a total of 3,460 signatures have been verified, and petition circulators have until Nov. 26 to obtain the balance to put the Kennedy amendment on the ballot. The petitioners for the Wakefield amendment have until Jan. 10 to file their lists of signers.

'Two Faces' Of Mill Valley Project

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — The site of a proposed 188-unit apartment project on Richardson Bay was variously described yesterday as a "clean, delightful grassy place" and "a World War II landing strip."

The conflicting views came before the Bay Conservation and Development Commission, which heard an application to fill slightly less than a half-acre of the bay for the project west of the Shelter Cove apartments in Mill Valley.

Dwight Steele of Tiburon, speaking against the project for the Sierra Club, argued that the 7.5-acre site was easily accessible and heavily used by the public. Proclaiming the beauty of the site, he said the project would "interfere with, rather than encourage public access."

The less appealing description of the site was offered by the architect for the project, Matt Copenhaver of Mill Valley. He also argued that, technically, there was no new fill proposed, but rather "merely stabilizing what is already there."

The developer of the project, Sanford N. Diller of Sunnyvale, added "it really is a terrible looking site." He said that there had been "not one single protest" to the project during the eight months it took him to get it approved by the City of Mill Valley.

Also opposing it yesterday was the Marin Conservation League, but its criticism was limited to the new fill.

Several other persons in the audience said they wanted to speak against the project, but their testimony was postponed to Dec. 2 because the commission was about to lose a quorum.

Diller's project would include seven two-story apartment buildings, a private clubhouse and swimming pool, parking for 323 cars, and a public promenade along portions of the shoreline.

The board suggested that 10 to 12 units be cut from the project to enlarge a public minipark. This suggestion raised the possibility that the Dec. 2 hearing may be postponed to give the developer time to incorporate such changes.

Bay Conservation and Development Commission members also:

WILD RIVERS — Heard a report from Kerry Mulligan, chairman of the State Water Resources Control Board, that "some damming" of the Eel, Klamath and Trinity rivers will be necessary after the year 2000 to assure adequate flows through the delta and San Francisco Bay.

MAPS — Adopted boundaries of "priority areas" reserving shoreline for special bay-related uses, as required by Dec. 1 by state law. Changes in the boundaries would require special state legislation, and the commission's legal adviser ruled that it was too late to add other areas, among them Strawberry Cove as suggested by the Marin Conservation League.

BELVEDERE — Approved unanimously an application by Charles Dahle for a home over pilings at 75 West Shore Road, Belvedere.

Well-Intended Note To Schools Missed The Point On Spending

Superintendents of two Marin County school districts have protested vehemently that they did not receive a letter from the county schools office telling them their districts are spending beyond their current receipts.

They were right. The letter didn't say that — but it was intended to say that.

The Independent-Journal reported Tuesday that the county schools office, pursuant to a directive from the State Department of Education, had warned San Anselmo, Shoreline and Sausalito school districts that their current spending patterns exceed their current receipts. Supt. Kenneth Lowry of San Anselmo and Charles E. McCully of Shoreline said the letter they received said no such thing.

The letter, signed by Joseph Amato, director of business advisory services for the county schools superintendent, identified three criteria established by the state in offering assistance with district finance problems; current deficit, expected deficit this year, and consistent depletion of reserves.

Shoreline, San Anselmo and Sausalito districts fit one or more of the criteria — but the letter neglected to say so, a check with the county schools office disclosed.

"The letter was sent only to those three districts because they were the only ones falling within the criteria," said Byron W. Mauzy, assistant county superintendent for business services.

The I-J story quoted an offhand estimate from Mauzy of money that Shoreline district may recover from the federal government due to the removal of Point Reyes National Seashore lands from the tax rolls.

Mauzy said "it might run as high as $400,000," but the figure will be much lower. Superintendent McCully said Shoreline district lost about $120,000 in taxes through the national seashore acquisition, so its recovery would be somewhere under that figure. An application for the federal funds under Public Law 874 is being prepared, he said.

The Ratings On Public Service Shows Are Hit

NEW YORK (UPI)—Nicholas Johnson of the Federal Communications Commission said Thursday public service programming should be exempt from television ratings because low ratings of such shows discourage networks from running them.

Johnson said he would propose an FCC regulation that would prevent a licensee from employing a rating service that did not refrain from rating public service programs at the request of a station or network.

"The network would thus avoid the competitive disadvantage of having put on a program that is not trying for the biggest possible audience," Johnson said.

Ireland Gunfire Across Border

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—Gunmen firing rifles and automatic weapons from the Irish Republic exchanged gunfire with British soldiers in Northern Ireland today, the army said. The shooting incident was the second this week at the Belleeck border customs post.

An army spokesman said the gunmen fired 25 shots at a Royal Ulster Constabulary station at Belleeck and British troops at the station fired back.

Security forces suffered no casualties in the border gunbattle, the spokesman said.

In Belfast, a fire bomb planted by gunmen among luncheon salads exploded and destroyed the kitchen of a popular restaurant minutes before the noon rush hour, witness said.

Pot Sentence To Man Who Tagged Slayer

AUBURN (UPI)—The man who identified Clarence Otis Smith as California's sickle slayer has been sentenced to 90 days in Placer County Jail after pleading guilty to charges of car theft and marijuana possession.

Superior Court Judge Ronald G. Cameron Thursday also placed Kenneth Garbe, 20, Auburn, on probation for three years. Garbe was arrested on the charges last month in Dixon, about 50 miles southwest of Auburn.

Garbe, who survived the campground attack, picked Smith out of a police lineup in Brownsville, Tex., as the man who wounded him with a sickle-like blade.

The average tire rotates more than 30 million times during its lifetime, says Owens-Corning Fiberglas Corp.

Except as herein otherwise provided for the issuance of bonds, said work shall be done pursuant to the Municipal Improvement Act of 1913.

Reference is hereby made to proceedings had pursuant to Division 4 of the Streets and Highways Code, all on file in the office of the Town Clerk.

Notice is further given that the Town Engineer pursuant to said Act and said Resolution of Intention, as amended, adopted pursuant thereto, did on the 1st day of November, 1971, file with the Town Clerk of said Town, his report in writing on said acquisitions and improvements, consisting of plans, profiles, specifications, estimate of costs and incidental expenses, diagram and assessment, maps and descriptions, and said Council did on said date consider and examine said report and by resolution preliminarily approved and confirmed same and ordered that said report shall stand as the report for the purposes of all subsequent proceedings had pursuant to said Resolution of Intention, as amended.

NOTICE INVITING SEALED PROPOSALS OR BIDS
HAWTHORNE LANE ASSESSMENT DISTRICT

Pursuant to the Municipal Improvement Act of 1913 and the resolution directing this notice adopted on November 1, 1971 by the Town Council of the Town of Corte Madera, said Council invites sealed proposals or bids for the grading and construction of pavement, curbs, gutters, storm drainage facilities and appurtenances as more particularly described in Resolution of Intention No. 1242 adopted by said Council on April 19, 1971, as subsequently amended, which resolutions are on file in the office of the Clerk and to which reference is hereby expressly made for a more particular description of the work to be done.

All of said work is to be done at the places and in the particular locations, of the forms, sizes and dimensions and of the materials, and to the lines and grades and at the elevations as shown and delineated upon the plans, profiles and specifications made therefor and preliminarily approved by said Council on November 1, 1971.

Payments will be made in cash by said Town to the contractor in accordance with the provisions of the specifications and on itemized estimates duly certified and approved by the Town Engineer submitted in accordance therewith, based on labor and materials incorporated into said work during the preceding month by the contractor. However, notice is given that a period of 30 days is given to the property owners in which to pay their assessments, and if cash collections are insufficient to meet such monthly estimates, there will be a delay in making such payments until money is received from the sale of bonds issued upon the unpaid assessments.

Notice is hereby given that on November 1, 1971, the Council adopted a resolution determining the general prevailing rate of per diem wages to be paid to the various craftsmen and laborers required to construct said improvements, a copy of which wage sacle is hereto attached and made a part hereof, and also contained in and made a part of the specifications for said work, to which reference is hereby made for further particulars.

All proposals or bids shall be accompanied by cash, cashier's or certified check payable to the order of the Town Clerk, amounting to ten percent (10%) of the bid, or by a bond in said amount and payable to said Clerk signed by the bidder and a corporate surety, or by the bidder and two sureties who shall justify before any officer competent to administer an oath, in double said amount and over and above all statutory exemptions. The amount so posted shall be forfeited to said Town in case the bidder depositing the same does not, within 15 days after written notice that the contract has been awarded to him, enter into a contract with the Town.

Contractor shall furnish to Town a faithful performance bond and labor and material bond as required in said specifications.

Said sealed proposals shall be delivered to the Town Clerk of said Town on or before 10:00 o'clock A.M. of the 3rd day of December, 1971, Town Hall, Corte Madera, California, said time being at least fourteen days from the time of first publication and posting of this notice. Bids will be publicly opened, examined and declared on said day and hour, and referred to and considered by the Council at its meeting at 7:30 o'clock P.M. on December 6, 1971.

A copy of the plans and specifications may be obtained from the Town Engineer, Town Hall, Corte Madera, California, upon deposit therefor of $5.00, none of which will be refunded.

SPORT NOTES

Jim Sherbert Named On All-Coast Club

By RALPH CHATOIAN

CONGRATULATIONS to Jim Sherbert, former Terra Linda High School star and now defensive end for Oregon State, for being named to the United Press International All-Coast first defensive team today.

The 6-foot-2, 215-pound senior was an All-Marin County Athletic League linebacker before moving up to college ball at Corvallis, Ore.

Winning honorable mention All-Coast were University of Pacific safety Pete Carroll, who prepped at Redwood High, and quarterback Dan Fouts of Oregon, who played one season at Marin Catholic High before switching to St. Ignatius in S.F.

Carroll, now with that All-Coast honor, will be trying for another goal when University of Pacific takes on Fresno State in the Tigers' final game tomorrow. He needs one interception to tie a 20-year-old Pacific record. The former Redwood flash has plucked off eight interceptions in 10 games and ranks fourth in the nation. The UOP record of nine is held by former Oakland Raider Eddie Macon, set in 1951. Carroll was awarded the game ball after stealing two passes in the 40-17 victory over Hawaii two weeks ago.

MOVING TO THE offense, I was glad to read that former Drake sensation Don Alvarado scored his first touchdown of the season last Saturday for Stanford in that now famous upset victory by San Jose State, my alma mater.

I would think the Indians would be loaded for Bear in that game tomorrow with Cal. A loss to Cal would surely send the Injuns to the Rose Bowl with tarnished medals. And Cal isn't dead yet, either. Their bid for reinstatement to the Pacific-8 standings and post-season play is before the courts, and a pair of wins for Cal — over Stanford and the courts — would land the Bears into a Bowl of roses.

ONE FINAL note to the great high school career of San Rafael's Scott Duncan. In three years of varsity play, Scott ran 22 yards past the one and one-half mile mark, and scored 40 touchdowns.

TERRY MOOR of Sausalito was a very good tennis player when he was at Tamalpais High, but he's improving every day. He's improving so much the Northern California Tennis Association planted the Most Improved Player award on Terry at their recent awards banquet. Two members of the recently elected Northern California Tennis Association directors are Marin Countians, Bert Jacobsen of Belvedere and Earl Kissinger of Tiburon.

IF YOU WANT to learn all about the rules so you know what those guys in striped shirts are doing at Marin high school basketball games, drop into the Redwood High School gymnasium tonight at 7 o'clock. Ray Dal Poggetto, commissioner of the West Catholic Athletic League and the man in charge of assigning officials to Far West Conference games, will head a rules clinic at Redwood. Giant players will be demonstrators.

IT'S SAD when a death goes unnoticed, but I didn't learn until just last week that Bill Guyman, a former Marin man who used to announce wrestling matches at the Winterland in San Francisco in the early '50s, died last month of cancer. For the last year, the colorful Guyman had worked as a security guard at Mt. Zion Hospital.

COAST GUARD Cadet Roland C. Mangan, a June graduate of Novato High School, is a member of the freshman football team at Coast Guard Academy, New London, Conn.

HE NEEDS A LONG TAPE MEASURE

Fred Miller of San Rafael pulled out the tape measure for this sturgeon he caught Wednesday off the Marin Islands, not far from San Rafael harbor. The whopper measured 72 inches and weighed 132 pounds. It took Miller, manager of Caravan Lodge in San Francisco, 45 minutes to land the sturgeon. Fishing from his own boat, Miller was using grass shrimp for bait. (Independent-Journal photo)

Bob Lutz Walloped By Laver

HOUSTON (UPI) — Tiburon's Bobby Lutz couldn't stop him.

Thus, Australia's Rod Laver is one step closer to becoming tennis's first millionaire. The Aussie now enters the semi finals of the World Cahmpionship Tennis Tournament needing only $5,053 to reach the money goal.

"It means more than just the prize money," Laver said after beating Lutz 6-3, 6-4, 6-4. "It will have a lot of value years and years down the line. We've played all year for this."

ANOTHER WIMBLEDON

Laver, whose career earnings now are $994,947 after beating Lutz in the WCT quarterfinals Thursday night, apparently thinks this tournament—now in its first year —some day will rank with Wimbledon, forest Hills, the U.S. Golf Open and other such events in significance.

Laver's next opponent in the WCT will be Arthur Ashe in the semifinals Sunday. Laver, top-seeded in the WCT, has an 11-0 career record over Ashe, including a 5-0 mark this year.

ASHE WINS

Ashe, seeded fifth, won his quaerterfinal match over fifthseeded Cliff Drysdale of South Africa, 4-6, 7-6, 6-4, 6-3.

In tonight's other two quarterfinal matches, second-seeded Tom Okker of the Netherlands meets seventh-seeded Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., and third-seeded Ken Rosewall meets sixth-seeded John Newcombe. Rosewall and Newcombe are Australians.

Laver won on smashing sideline shots which whizzed past Lutz almost everytime time he charged the net.

ERRATIC SERVE

Lutz, who had defeated Laver two of the three times they met in recent European tournaments, said the difference this time was his erratic serving. Unable to depend on his serve, Lutz then had little left when Laver took away his net game.

One of the big volleys came in the third set with the games even at 3-3 and the score duece and Lutz serving. The Californian barely got his racket on a sideline shot and it squibbled off to put him at a disadvantage. Then he double faulted to give Laver a 4-3 lead and Laver went on to close out the match.

IN COLISEUM

49ers Face Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—In the 10th weekend of play, the San Francisco Forty Niners try to hold onto their half-game lead in the National Football Conference West Sunday against the Los Angeles Rams.

The Niners, upset 26-20 by New Orleans last weekend, have a 6-4 record while the Rams, coming off a 21-13 victory over favored Detroit, are 5-3-1. The game is rated as even by the oddsmakers.

In the teams' first meeting at San Francisco Oct. 10, the Rams won 20-13.

A sellout crowd of more than 76,000 will turn out at the Coliseum to watch the Rams' Roman Gabriel and the Forty Niners' John Brodie duel.

Gabriel, most valuable player in the National Football League in 1969, has a slight statistical edge over Brodie, 1970 NFC MVP, this season.

Despite a slow start caused by a rib injury and offseason knee and elbow surgery, the Ram quarterback has completed 53 per cent of his passes— 115 of 217 for 1,431 yards and nine touchdowns.

Playing in his 15th pro season, Brodie has completed 52 per cent of his passes in his first nine games of 1971. He is 137 for 263 for 1,716 yards and 12 TDs.

Gabriel has been intercepted only five times, seven less than his San Francisco opponent.

Leading the San Francisco rushing attack are seven-year veteran Ken Willard and Vic Washington, the rookie from Wyoming by way of Canada.

Willard has picked up 531 yards on 147 carries for a 3.6 average while Washington has 521 yards on 106 rushes for a 4.9 average.

For the Rams, Willie Ellison has 593 yards on 133 carries—a 4.5 average—and Les Josephson is 361 on 80 rushes.

Thirty-four of Brodie's completions have been to tight end Ted Kwalick for 465 yards while Gene Washington has made 32 pass receptions for San Francisco for 575 yards.

Lance Rentzel, the former Dallas Cowboy who caught two TD passes against Detroit, is the leading Ram receiver with 369 yards on 28 catches. Ellison has caught 27 passes for 231 yards.

Defensively, both teams boast aggressive pass rushes. The Forty Niners of Dick Nolan have sacked oppossing quarterbacks 33 times compared to 30 for coach Tommy Prothro's club.

All-Americans Squad Selected

DETROIT (UPI) — The first All-America team is already out, a 33-man squad chosen by Football News, and three Bay Area football players are on it.

Linebacker Jeff Siemon of Stanford and defensive interior linemen Pete Lazetich of Stanford and Sherman White of California were selected. San Jose State linebacker Dave Chaney was passed over.

Other West Coast players named to the aggregation were running back Bobby Moore of Oregon, offensive tackle John Vella of Southern California and linebacker Willie Hall, also of USC.

Football News followed a policy of when in doubt, name everybody. As a result, the squad had four quarterbacks — Jack Mildren of Oklahoma, Jerry Tagge of Nebraska, Chuck Ealey of Toledo and Pat Sullivan of Auburn — and numerous extra men at various positions.

There were six running backs — Moore, Greg Pruitt of Oklahoma, Billy Taylor of Michigan, Johnny Musso of Alabama, Ed Marinaro of Cornell and Lydell Mitchell of Penn State. This is indeed the "year of the running back."

Three players were selected from each of the nation's three top teams. Nebraska had Tagge, receiver Johnny Rodgers and defensive end Willie Harper. Oklahoma had Pruitt, Mildren and center Tom Brahaney and Michigan had Taylor, offensive guard Reggie McKenzie and linebacker Mike Taylor. Notre Dame had defensive end Walt Patulski and defensive back Clarence Ellis.

Other selections:

Receivers: Terry Beasley, Auburn; Johnny Rodgers, Nebraska; Cliff Branch, Colorado.
Tackles: Dave Joyner, Penn State; Jerry Sisemore, Texas; Vella.
Guards: Reggie McKenzie, Michigan; Royce Smith, Georgia.
Centers: Tom Brahaney, Oklahoma; Tom De Leone, Ohio State.
Defensive end: Willie Harper, Nebraska; Walt Patulski, Notre Dame.
Interior linemen: Lazetich; White.
Defensive backs: Windan Hall, Arizona State; Clarence Ellis, Notre Dame; Bobby Majors, Tennessee; Tommy Casanova, LSU; Brad Van Pelt, Michigan State.
Linebackers: Siemon, Mike Taylor, Michigan; Jackie Walker, Tennessee; Hall.

TORRID SHOOTING

Warriors Trounce Portland

OAKLAND (UPI)—To say the Golden State Warriors were hot Thursday night is understating the case.

The Warriors didn't cool off until the fourth period in handing the Portland Trail Blazers a 115-105 setback. Golden State clicked on 27 of 46 from the field for a torrid 59 per cent in the first half.

After building a 99-78 lead entering the final period, the Warriors cooled to 16 points and a final shooting percentage of .480.

It was a night of set-ups and fast breaks as Jeff Mullins (9), Jim Barnett (7) and Cazzie Russell (8) totaled 24 assists. Russell went over the 5,000 point mark in his NBA career while scoring 29 points, including 13 in the second period.

Even Clyde Lee, normally a poor shooter, got the message. He rifled and tipped in 7 of 10 shots for one of the best shooting nights of his career.

Boldirev Makes Good In Debut

BUFFALO (UPI)—Ivan Boldirev didn't wait long to win his flippers as a California Golden Seal.

Acquired Wednesday in a trade with the Boston Bruins, Boldirev hardly had time to change uniforms when he netted a 20-foot slapshot after 4:38 of the final period to give the Seals a 5-4 lead over the Buffalo Sabres.

Buffalo bounced back to tie it 5-5 but Joe Johnston banged in his own rebound with 1:32 left in the game and Craig Patrick added an empty-net goal with 53 seconds left to give the Seals a 7-5 win. It also snapped a four-game losing streak for California.

Other California goals were scored by Ernie Hicke, Bobby Sheehan and Gerry Pinder.

Bears Tackle Lions In Runnerup Joust

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

An auto rental agency once mounted its entire campaign on the plight of being second-best.

The Chicago Bears find themselves in that bind.

They're second to Minnesota in the National Conference Central Division and they'll be trying harder to at least maintain that position if they fail to gain a tie with the Vikings for the division lead.

Here's the situation: Chicago (6-3), a game behind Minnesota (7-2) hosts third place Detroit (5-3-1) this Sunday. If the Bears win and Minnesota loses to audacious New Orleans, a first-place tie results. But if Chicago loses, the Lions will vault into second no matter what the Vikings do.

The contest is rated a pick-em affair.

In other NFC action Sunday, Dallis is a three-point favorite over the Redskins in a battle for leadership of the Eastern Division; Minnesota is up by seven over a Saints team that has knocked off the Cowboys and San Francisco and tied Oakland in recent weeks; the Forty Niners and Los Angeles are rated even in a struggle for dominance of the West and St. Louis is given a seven-point edge over Philadelphia.

Atlanta is picked by eight over Green Bay in the nationally televised Monday night encounter.

Miami is a three-point pick to widen its American conference east lead to two games over Baltimore, Kansas City is a two-touchdown favorite over Denver, Cincinnati is picked by eight over Houston, Cleveland by 10 over New England, the New York Jets by seven over Buffalo and the Raiders by 14 over San Diego.

Pittsburgh is picked by four over the New York Giants in the only inter-conference game.

Detroit, coming off a tough 21-13 loss to Los Angeles, will throw the conference's best running attack against the Bears, who rank a lowly 11th in defending against the rush.

Former Heisman Trophy winner Steve Owens, now in his sophomore season, spearheads the ground game. The ex-Oklahoma ace has gained 724 yards, second only to John Brockington of Green Bay. Altie Taylor, who ran for 101 yards against the Rams, ranks sixth in the conference with 534 yards.

Quarterback Greg Landry has added 344 yards rushing and his 13 touchdown passes lead the conference.

The Bears won, 28-23, on Oct. 24 in the first meeting of the two clubs this year, as Douglass passed for two touchdowns and ran for another.

TO START SEVENTH YEAR

Chicago Keeps Durocher

CHICAGO (UPI)—Leo "The Lip" Durocher hardly said a word to quelch the din of speculators who predicted a dark future for him, but the doughty Cubs manager wound up sitting in the catbird seat anyway.

The 66-year-old Lip, whose major league career stretches back to 1928, was signed Thursday to manage the Cubs again in 1972, much to the surprise of many a sportswriter, and doubtless to the chagrin of not a few of his players.

The Cubs made the announcement a few hours after Durocher had huddled with club owner Philip K. Wrigley and vice president John Holland.

Wrigley, the 76-year-old chewing gum magnate, has made no secret of his contempt for Durocher's critics, and he became so insensed over the anti-Durocher romors last summer he took out a generous amount of paid advertising space in Chicago newspapers to point out Durocher was still his man.

He also reminded the public (and the press) that Durocher had brought the Cubs into first-division contention since he became manager in 1965.

The Cubs also announced that Cub fan favorite Ernie Banks would be coach for first base and Pete Rieser, onetime Dodger standout, would coach third base. The announcement said Banks, who suffered an injured knee during most of the 1971 season, could be reactivated as a player after May 15.

Muhammad Ali Dissatisfied With Showing Against Mathis

HOUSTON (UPI)—Muhammad Ali said Thursday he was not satisfied with his performance against Buster Mathis and that it would not have been good enough to beat heavyweight champion Joe Frazier.

Ali, 227, knocked Mathis, 256 down four times in the last two rounds to win a unanimous 12-round decision Wednesday night. It was Ali's 33rd victory in 34 starts, losing only to Frazier in a title fight last March. (The bout will be shown on television (Channels 7 and 11) tomorrow at 11 a.m.)

"I saw things I wanted to do and couldn't do," Ali said of the Mathis fight. "I should have been in training longer. And I would have to weigh only about 215 to fight Frazier.

"If I'd keep my distance and stay out of corners, I could beat Frazier, but I wouldn't have fought Frazier like this — with only 12 days training," Ali said.

He said he would take three months to prepare for Frazier.

He said the Mathis fight was not a tough one, but said Mathis was a good boxer.

Ali announced he will fight Jurgen Blin of Hamburg, Germany, in Zurich, Switzerland, Dec. 18 in a 12-rounder. Ali will be guaranteed $300,000 —the same as for the Mathis fight.

Reinecke Signs Bill Hiking Fees

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — California's hunting and fishing license fees will be increased for the first time in 13 years under a bill that was signed Thursday by Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke.

The measure will boost the cost of hunting licenses from $4 to $6 and the cost of a deer tage from $2 to $3. Fishing licenses would be increased from $3 to $4.

A total of $5.5 million would be raised by the bill, which was sought by the State Department of Fish and Game and warned it needed the money to avoid cutting back on its wildlife management and protection programs.

Under the bill, the overall license fee for trout fishing would be increased from $5 to $7. Three-day fishing fees would go up from $1 to $2, with nonresident hunting licenses being raised from $25 to $35 and nonresident fishing licenses from $10 to $15.

JACK HANLEY

Willie McCovey Big Hit As Radio D.J.

Willie McCovey has an easy way with words. He is as comfortable before a microphone as he is facing an enemy pitcher. The big fellow with the buggywhip swing need never speculate about a career after his baseball days are over. He will be a natural as a disc jockey.

McCovey was the middle man this week in a lineup of five Giants substituting for vacationing Jim Lange, KSFO's early morning disc jockey. McCovey created a calm, relaxed atmosphere with a smooth commentary on such far ranging subjects as arthritis and 34-ounce bats.

He happened to mention that the arthritic condition in his right knee was helped by a diet which a doctor friend of Horace Stoneham suggested he try. Almost immediately there were calls from arthritis sufferers.

"I don't know if it would work for anybody else," said McCovey. "In fact, I had my own doubts about it. Mr. Stoneham and Charlie Fox had been after me a long while to try it, at least talk to Mr. Stoneham's doctor friend.

"ONE DAY they corraled me in our clubhouse at Candlestick and took me into Charlie's office. There was the doc and he outlined the diet. It's one that avoids acids, like fruit juices. There are acids in some other foods, too. After I'd been on the diet for a time, I noticed an improvement."

There were innumerable baseball questions for the big first baseman, including one about the weight of the bat with which he buggywhips home runs.

"It's identical with the one Ted Williams used —34 ounces," said McCovey.

WASN'T THAT an unusually light bat for such a big fellow?

"Actually," said McCovey, "late in the season I will even go to a lighter bat — 33 ounces. I wait longer on a pitch than some other batters who get good results with heavier bats because they are out in front of a pitch, punching at it."

Who are the toughest pitchers he faces?

"WHEN YOU'RE in a hot streak, you feel you can hit all of them," said McCovey. "But I'd have to say Bob Gibson and Ferguson Jenkins are the toughest. I'm glad Jenkins got the Cy Young Award this year. He deserved it. He hasn't had the recognition due him.

"A pitcher always has the advantage over a batter because he has eight men behind him. But I don't let that worry me. I let the pitcher worry about me."

WHAT ABOUT his left knee, the one from which damaged cartilage was removed in an operation last month?

"I'm already working with weights, building up the leg muscles," said McCovey. "I'll be jogging in another month."

Defense Injuries Hit Cards

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—The St. Louis Cardinals said today that seven players, six of them defensive starters, will be out of action Sunday against Philadelphia — resulting in major defensive changes.

Three of the players were scheduled to undergo knee surgery today.

The only offensive casualty is tight end Jackie Smith, who will be replaced Sunday by Jim McFarland. Smith suffered a knee injury in Monday night's loss to the San Diego Chargers.

On the defense tackle Fred Heron, who also is ailing with a knee injury, will be replaced by tackle Rolf Krueger.

Right end Joe Schmiesing will start for Chuck Walker who has a bruised thigh. Rookie left end Ron Yankowski and right tackle Bob Rowe will start as they did against the Chargers.

At the linebackers, the Cardinals said, reserve Jim Hargrove probably will start in place of Jamie Rivers at middle linebacker. Rivers suffered a bruised leg Monday night. The right linebacker probably will be rookie Rick Ogle, who will replace Mike McGill who bruised a shoulder at San Diego. Larry Stallings will start at left linebacker.

The defensive backs will be Miller Farr at left corner and Rookie Norm Thompson playing at right corner for Roger Wehrli.

Namath Still Not Ready

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

NEW YORK — Injured quarterback Joe Namath of the New York Jets indicated yesterday that he still wasn't healthy enough to return to action.

Namath, who injured his left knee in the Jets' first preseason game and has been out of action since, worked out with the Jets' offensive unit yesterday for the first time since being injured and handled every fourth play. He worked out for an hour and 50 minutes.

Namath said the pain in his left foot, a side effect from his knee injury, had subsided a great deal but that he would not attempt to return to action unless he was perfectly healthy.

"I certainly haven't worked enough to decide if I'm healthy," said Namath. "Right now I'm not. If I'm healthy I'll play and if I do play I'll be completely healthy. If I can play I want to go full time."

GREEN BAY, Wis. — Green Bay Packer coach Dan Devine said yesterday Mayo Clinic had cleared quarterback Bart Starr for full-scale practices.

DELAWARE, Ohio — The post-season Stagg Bowl will be played at Birmingham Ala. on Thanksgiving Day rather than Chicago as previously planned it was announced last night. Ohio Wesleyan, 8-1, will meet Samford University, 7-1 with one game left.

NHL ROUNDUP

Orr, Esposito Lead Boston Win

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Two goals and an assist by Bobby Orr was all fine and dandy, but it was the work of another Boston defenseman that had the Bruins talking.

Orr helped break up a tight contest when he scored his eighth and ninth goals of the season eight minutes apart in the final period and then set up Phil Esposito's 14th as Boston routed the Vancouver Canucks, 5-0, Thursday night.

However, the most heartening factor of the game, as far as the Bruins were concerned, was the effective play of Ted Green, who has missed a good part of the campaign with a nagging stomach muscle strain.

Goalie Tom Johnston, who turned aside 22 Vancouver shots in registering his first shutout of the season, said, "Teddy could be just the shot in the arm we need for that run at New York and Montraal."

The Bruins, third in the National Hockey League's East Division, closed to within five points of both the idle Rangers and the Canadiens, who had to settle for a 2-2 tie against the St. Louis Blues.

In other games Thursday night, the Minnesota North Stars narrowed their margin behind first-place Chicago in the West Division to two points by edging the Pittsburgh Penguins, 4-3, the Philadelphia Flyers beat the Los Angeles Kings, 2-0.

Marc Tardif scored his 14th goal of the season with 1:24 left to play to enable Montreal to gain a tie against St. Louis and deadlock the Rangers for first place. Jim McLeod, a 34-year-old rookie, had been outstanding in the St. Louis net before Tardif got the equalizer on a pass from Guy Lafleur.

J. P. Parise's defelection of a long shot by Tom Reid with little more than three minutes remaining provided Minnesota with its margin of victory. Greg Polis scored two goals for the Penguins.

Bruce Gamble scored his first shutout for Philadelphia, handling 32 Los Angeles shots, and Gary Dornhoefer became the Flyers' all-time scoring leader with his 171st point when he set up a third-period goal by Jean Guy Gendron.

Hooper, Wadkins Get Lead

WILMINGTON, N.C. (UPI)- Former U.S. Amateur champion Lanny Wadkins and Herb Hooper of Richmond, Va., blistered Cape Fear Country Club with seven-under-par 64s Thursday to take the first round lead in the $35,000 Azalea Open golf tournament.

Hooper played almost flawless golf. Carding four birdies on the front and three on the back for nines of 32-32 under clear fall skies and moderate temperatures.

Wadkins, starting on the back side, overcame a bogey on the tenth and had eight birdies for his 64.

Hooper sank a 15-foot putt on the second hole for one birdie, and short putts on the third, fourth and fifth holes. On the back nine, he birdied 12, 13 and 15 with putts of three, 12, and two feet.

Buck Adams of Pinehurst, N.C. was in third place after the first round with a six-under par 65. Adams had seven birdies against one bogey for nines of 32-33.

Earl Fennell and Leonard Thompson shared fourth place with 66s.

Six professionals and one amateur were tied for sixth place with 67s. Wake Forest amateur Jim Simons joined pros Paul Moran, Paul Bondeson, Jim Dent, Allen Miller, Tom Sanderson and Ted Hayes with 67s.

A logjam of eight players, including amateur Eddie Pierce, another Wake Forest star, finished with 68s. The professionals included Bob Dickson, Billy Ziobro, Bobby Greenwood, Jim Jewell, Charles Sifford, Bobby Mitchell and Terry Wilcox.

China Invited Back Into Olympic Games

NEW YORK (UPI) — Another international door opened for mainland China yesterday when Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, invited that nation to participate in the Olympic Games.

Although Brundage said he didn't think there was much of a chance for the Chinese to compete in the 1972 games at Sapporo and Munich, he did welcome them back, assuming they adhere to Olympic rules and regulations.

Mainland China withdrew from the IOC in 1956 when it refused to compete at Melbourne because Taiwan was going to be in Australia.

Brundage, in an interview with Finnish broadcasting company correspondent Jussi Himanka, said "the objective of the Olympic movement is to unite the youth of the world, and all countries are welcome, including the peoples Republic of China, with the provision that they must agree to follow the Olympic code and to abide by the Olympic rules and regulations."

Even if Mainland China accepted Brundage's invitation, the IOC president doubted that it would be in time for the upcoming winter and summer games.

"They have to reapply for membership," explained Brundage. "They have to agree to comply with the rules. And then there's the fact that Taiwan is still a member, is recognized, and will be eligible to compete. So, if the Peoples Republic adheres to its previous stand, it will not compete if Taiwan competes. I don't think they will be there."

Condors Get Ligon, Bob Verga

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Condors traded rookie Jim O'Brien to Kentucky and veteran Stew Johnson to Carolina in separate deals for Jim Ligon and Bob Verga, in an attempt to bolter a defense which gives up an average 126 points per ball game.

"Both Ligon and Verga are physical ball players—they'll make our defense that much tougher," said Mark Binstein, Pittsburgh coach and general manager.

Binstein said Ligon, a four-year veteran 6-foot-7 forward obtained from Kentucky "is just what I need—a fellow who can't shoot."

FISH AND GAME

A Record Season For Salmon Anglers

By AL GIDDINGS

Ocean sport fishermen boated a record 209,000 salmon during 1971, according to preliminary estimates of the Department of Fish and Game. The previous record was set in 1956 when ocean anglers boated 199,000 salmon. The 10-year average (1961-1970) was 135,000 salmon. The 1971 catch included 160,00 king salmon and 49,000 silvers.

Partyboat anglers primarily from the San Francisco Bay area landed almost 70 per cent of the statewide catch of king salmon. Skiff fishermen out of the Eureka-Trinidad area accounted for nearly 60 per cent of the silver salmon. Though the general salmon season is now closed, it is still legal to take salmon in San Francisco Bay, San Pablo Bay, Tomales Bay and the ocean area north of Tomales Point.

I RECEIVED a call from Carl Kohler of Santa Venetia. He said, "We got a nine-point buck last weekend up at Camptonville. It weighed 245 pounds!" I said, "That's some buck and certainly a big one for a blacktail." Save those horns, Carl, that I've gotta see!"

I also received a call from Betty Machado of Novato. She was all excited telling me about the seven bucks her family brought home from Rifle, Colo.

AND THEN I heard about two young Eureka poachers who were "nailed" at 3 o'clock in the morning on remote Moffett Creek with six deer, a spotlight and four rifles. They were fined $900 and lost their licenses for five years. Warden John Spotts of Fort Jones cited the pair, Larry Mayden and Irvin Mattos, on charges including the illegal deer, spotlighting and having a loaded rifle in the car.

In another case, three San Mateo poachers were arrested with five untagged deer in a closed area near Centerville, Humboldt County. Warden Wally Callan issued the citations for the untagged deer to Albert Baccelli of Belmont and to Caesar Bazzoni and Richard Pignone of San Mateo. Each man was fined $500.

Tomorrow, the fall turkey season opens for nine days. Prospects are rated good. Last year approximately 500 birds were taken.

Five counties and portions of four others will be open for the season that runs through Nov. 28. Open areas will be Monterey, San Luis Obispo, Shasta, Tehama and Trinity counties; and parts of Glenn and Mendocino counties within the Mendocino National Forest, and portions of Kern and Tulare counties lying east of the main fork of the Kern River and north of State Highway 178. Bag and possession limits are two birds of either sex per season. Shooting hours are one-half hour before sunrise to one half hour after sunset.

In Northern California, Tehama County is expected to be a good bet. Most birds are expected to be taken in San Luis Obispo County. Most of the birds will be on private property so written permission of the landowner is necessary.

Public areas open include the Tehama Wildlife Area, and the Cinder Cone National Cooperative Wildlife Management Area in Shasta County.

HAROLD HARPER, upland game management man of the Department of Fish and Game, says, "Be in your hunting spot at the first gleam of dawn. Birds in the area may start to call from roosts several minutes or even a half hour before flying down from their nightly perch in a tall large-limbed tree. If you can hear birds calling, move as close as possible without disturbing them, then conceal yourself, and start giving the feeding call. Be patient and above all, be as motionless as a pillar of stone. It may take several hours to get the birds to work their way to your hiding place."

(This really sounds like an old time snipe hunt to me!) To continue, Harper says, "I assume you have practiced diligently and have mastered the several calls a turkey makes. Turkeys like the company of another turkey and will come running if you talk turkey. (Turkey calls are sold at most sport shops.) Harper also says "turkeys can see like an eagle, hear like a deer, run as fast as a horse, fly like a grouse, hide like a quail, and spring into the air like a rooster pheasant! Once you hunt them it's like a fever!"

(Where's my gun; I've got the fever!)

Arkansas Accepts Bowl Bid

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—The Liberty Bowl announced Thursday that Arkansas has agreed to play in the Dec. 20th classic if the Southwest Conference race does not turn topsy-turvy and put the Razorbacks in the Cotton Bowl.

"We are proud to announce that the University of Arkansas has agreed to be one of the participating teams in the 13th annual Liberty Bowl provided they do not go to the Cotton Bowl," said Liberty Bowl executive director A.F. (Bud) Dudley.

The only way for Arkansas (7-2-1) to wind up in Dallas on New Year's Day would be for heavily-favored Texas to lose to Texas A&M this Saturday and for Arkansas to defeat Texas Tech.

An opponent has not yet been named for Arkansas, but Ole Miss (8-2), North Carolina (8-2) and Tennessee (6-2) are in the running with Tennessee reportedly on the inside track.

The announcement was made under an NCAA rule which permits a team to accept a bowl bid on the third Saturday in November or one week prior to its final game—whichever comes first. The ArkansasTexas Tech game is the final of the year for the Razorbacks.

The Razorbacks, led by quarterback Joe Ferguson, trounced Texas 31-7 at midseason and were heavily favored to go to the Cotton Bowl before an upset 24-24 tie at the hands of Rice two Saturdays ago. That put Texas back in the drivers seat in the Southwest Conference.

Arkansas opened the season with victories over California (51-20) and Oklahoma State (3110), lost to Tulsa in an 21-20 upset, then hung up successive victories over TCU, Baylor, Texas and North Texas State before losing to Texas A&M, 179, and being tied by Rice.

Arkansas defeated SMU 18-13 last Saturday.

Five Tomales Gridders Named To All-Star Team

Bob Frankenfield was selected on both offense and defense as five Tomales High School players were named to the North Coast League II all-star football team.

Frankenfield was picked as offensive guard and defensive linebacker. Al Rodini was chosen as offensive center, Steve Cunningham as linebacker and Jerry Lucchesi and Bob Kehoe as defensive linemen.

Halfback Bill Zimmerman received honorable mention.

Cossacks Entertain Chico State

Sonoma State Cossacks will close out a disappointing football season tomorrow by hosting powerful Chico State in Rohnert Park at 1:30 p.m.

Sonoma, 2-7 on the year and 0-5 in the Far Western Conference, will be out to avenge last year's 75-14 defeat at the hands of Chico.

Chico's Wildcats have an 8-1 record, 4-1 in the FWC, and are averaging 34 points a game. Their chief strength is a pair of quick backs, Dave Demek and Brad Knight. Normal starting quarterback Mike Salsedo is still injured, but reserve Greg Welch directed the offense to 96 points in the last two games. Speedy Rex Smith has set school records at split end.

Sonoma will be near full strength for the game, with sophomore quarterback Ernie Simon the only doubtful player. He has a shoulder pointer. He has been alternating at quarterback with Mike McBee.

Sonoma came up with a good effort last week, losing only 6-0 to a tough Humboldt State team.

BASKETBALL PROSPECTS

An Improved San Rafael Team For 1971-72 Season

By LEW CODDINGTON

(Fourth in a series on Marin County Athletic League basketball prospects.)

Watch out for San Rafael.

Experience, depth and strength on the boards will be the hallmarks of a vastly improved San Rafael High School basketball team this season.

"We had an all-junior ballclub last year with no experience," said coach Mike Diaz. "We still played a lot of good games against the top teams in the league. This season, all those good juniors have experience, too."

The Bulldogs were 4-10 in Marin County Athletic League play last year, tied for the bottom with Marin Catholic and Drake.

Four starters are back from last year's varsity, and three starters are coming up from a junior varsity team that tied Redwood for the championship. Add to this mixture a skilled transfer and you may get a league-shaking explosion.

The transfer is Doni Canfield, a 6-foot-3 forward from Vallejo. "He gives us scoring punch," said Diaz.

The returning center is Wayne Lechner, whose 6-5 height is good but not overpowering. With him on the front line are brother Bill and Duke Bessee, both 6-3. The J.V.s offer 6-3 center Dan Zitek and 6-2 forward Jeff White. From last year's varsity reserves come 6-4½ center Greg Goodall, 6-3 forward George Swift and 6-0 forward Mark Farrar. To get a rebound against San Rafael, you should bring a ladder.

The guard corps will be spearheaded by 5-11 Jerry Malinari, who started last year, and 5-9 Kenny Mallett, up from J.V. Last year's varsity bench contained 6-0 Mike Johnson and 6-1 Jim Christensen.

"We will try to slow the ball up and control it," said Diaz. "We are a fair shooting team, and we should get the second shot quite a bit. We are working on our free-throw shooting, which wasn't too good last year."

San Rafael is not exceptionally quick, but this problem is minimized with a ball-control offense. "Defense has never been a problem for us; we've always done a good job," said Diaz.

San Rafael opens its season next Wednesday at Sonoma. The MCAL season opens Jan. 7, with the Bulldogs hosting Drake. The schedule:

INVESTING

What Is Advice On Wayne?

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. We have 1,200 shares of Wayne-Gossard preferred on which some changes are to be made after January 1972. What are the changes and will the dividend be continued? We need income and would like advice on whether to hold, sell or convert. — E.V.

A. Beginning Feb. 1, 1972, Wayne has the right to redeem the preferred shares at $30 per share on 30 days notice. There are 346,939 preferred shares currently outstanding, redemption of which would cost $10.4 million. Redemption would be economically unrealistic since borrowing costs on this amount would undoubtedly exceed the $555,000 annual dividend expense on these shares. While the preferred shares remain outstanding, the dividend is a corporate obligation and is cumulative if omitted.

Third quarter earnings recovered 28 per cent year-to-year on a 3 per cent drop in sales. Continued improvement in profit margins could push full year earnings to the 90 cent level. Because the preferred is selling at a 14 per cent premium over conversion value, exchange for the common would involve loss of capital. Wayne-Gossard preferred should be retained for the above-average return.

Q. I am a widow and would like to invest $4,000 to supplement my $4,200 annual income. I have been told that GAC five-year 7 per cent promissory notes are quite safe. Would this be a wise choice for me? — J.W.

A. Although I am unable to find this particular debt offering GAC and its subsidiaries have long term debt of $567 million bearing interest of between 4¾ per cent and 12 per cent and ratings of BBB and CCC. The last reported figure for interest charges earned was in 1968, 1.15x when net was $2.64 a share. As of the first nine months of the current year GAC Corp. reported a net loss of $11.1 million.

Early-Hour Stocks Slide

NEW YORK (UPI) —Stock prices slid in morning trading on the New York Stock Exchange today in the absence of any supporting news developments. Volume was light.

The Dow Jones industrial average was down 5.55 to 809.80 shortly before the noon hour. Of 1,449 issues on the tape, there were 808 declines, 260 advances. Standard & Poor's 500-stock index was easier by 0.38 to 91.75.

Analysts generally were agreed Wall Street needs a jolt in the arm if it is to reverse its downward trend.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange moved lower in quiet trading—475 declines against 169 advances and turnover of around 1.4 million shares. Active issues included 52 warrants up 7-8 to 21 1-2 on volume of 17,900, and Cinerama down 1-8 to 2 1-2 on 15,400.

Volume on the Big Board after almost two hours was around 5.8 million shares, somewhat under average for the period.

Issues of Realty Investment Trusts, which broke sharply Thursday, continued to move lower.

Among the larger losers were Xerox, by 2 3-4, Burroughs 1 3-8, Control Data 1 5-8, McDonnell Douglas 1 Chesapeake & Ohio Railway 1 3-4, Superior Oil and Du Pont 2 3-4. American Telephone was unchanged.

Jeffrey Alexander Worrall, 26, of Brooks, Maine, who tried to walk into the Marin Civic Center with a loaded pistol, failed to keep his date in court for sentencing.

Judge Robert A. Smallman of Marin Municipal Court issued a warrant for his arrest Wednesday and set bail at $5,000.

Worrall was caught on Nov. 11 with a loaded .22 caliber derringer pistol. He pleaded guilty to carrying a loaded firearm in a public building but failed to show up for the Wednesday sentencing.

An Override Plea Made

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —Two statewide college student body organizations yesterday urged the legislature to override Gov. Ronald Reagan's recent vetoes of a bill providing $3.5 million for needy students.

Ken Maley, student body president of San Francisco State College, told a news conference that Reagan vetoed the bill "for reasons based on incorrect information."

The bill by Sen. Milton Marks, R-San Francisco, would have provided $2,472,546 for state college Educational Opportunity Programs (EOP), and $1,150,000 for community college Extended Opportunity Programs.

Maley, representing the state college Student Preside t Association and community college Student Government Association, said Reagan vetoed the bill because of increased federal funding for student loans.

Maley said, "The governor obviously believes that these funds, earmarked by the federal government for loans, can be transferred into the EOP programs and used for grants.

Senate Panel Backs Racing Law Revisions

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The Senate Governmental Organization Committee yesterday endorsed major legislation providing comprehensive revision of California's horse racing laws and taxing procedures.

The measure by Assemblyman Mike Cullen, D-Long Beach, was sent to the Finance Committee, where its revenue provisions are expected to get close scrutiny.

Gov. Ronald Reagan earlier this year vetoed legislation expanding the geographical zones for racing and called for a comprehensive revision of the laws governing the horse racing industry.

Reagan later laid down several guidelines of what he intends for the revision and asked the industry to agree among itself on efforts to meet them.

The multi-provisional bill approved by the committee today "generally" meets Reagan's demands and has near unanimous agreement by the horse racing industry, committee sources said.

One provision increases the takeout from the betting handle from the current 15 1-4 cents on every dollar bet to 15 3-4 cents. The state gets one-half of this amount, which presently totals about $60 million. The increased takeout would increase the state's share by $8 million.

The measure additionally sets up a new central zone for racing, which would include Orange, San Diego and Imperial counties.

They previously were part of the southern zone, which would include Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Riverside, Ventura, Santa Barbara and Kern counties. The remainder of the state is in the northern zone.

The bill also adds nine weeks of harness and quarter horse racing in the southern zone, which now has no harness racing and 13 weeks of quarter horse racing.

The central zone will get two more weeks of harness racing, but not until 1974, under terms of the bill.

It also eliminates the Dec. 31, 1972, termination of the so-called "breakage formula."

Plea Date Set On Stolen Property

Residency Ruling Vs. 'Equality For All'

In April, 1969, the United State Supreme Court ruled that it was unconstitutional for a state to impose a residency requirement for welfare assistance.

The ruling knocked out such requirements in a lot of states, including California. It brought a horde of newcomers to the Golden State, lured not by hope of good jobs but by the fact that California's public assistance programs are among the most generous.

THE AMOUNTS BUDGETED for public assistance by Marin County give some hint of the ruling's effect. In 1968-69, the budget for public assistance, excluding Medi-Cal, was $5,655,440. For fiscal 1969-70, the supervisors budgeted $6,391,200 — a $735,760 increase. But this turned out to be inadequate after the Supreme Court ruling, and money had to be transferred from other funds. For fiscal 1970-71 the public assistance budget climbed $1,268,000 to a total of $7,659,200, and for 1971-72 it was set up at $10,582,350 — up a whopping $2,923,150 from last year.

Much of this, of course, is financed through the state and federal government — THROUGH, not BY, for it is all financed by us taxpayers.

Attempts by Gov. Ronald Reagan to reduce the drain by cutting benefits got slapped down in the courts.

AND THIS WEEK, the U.S. Supreme Court delivered another blow at the enfeebled doctrine of state and local rights. It ruled that no residency requirement for assistance can be imposed even where the assistance comes entirely from local funds.

The case was in behalf of a ranch hand who moved from the state of Washington to Gallatin County, Mont., for a seasonal job. When the job ran out, he applied for welfare and was turned down as a nonresident. The Montana Supreme Court held the turndown was legal because no federal funds were involved, therefore Gallatin County could make its own rules.

Not so! said the nine august justices of the U.S. Supreme Court, without even hearing arguments. No residency rule, period!

THERE IS AN ANOMALY here.

In its campaign to make everybody "equal" via court edict, the high tribunal has forced state legislatures to redistrict both houses on a "one man, one vote" basis (despite the plain constitutional provision for an upper house of the national legislature that is not so districted.) It has forced massive revamping of school systems. It has upset various other state and local laws in the name of "equality for all."

But there is no equality in welfare benefits. If there were, there would be no influx of people to California for its higher benefits.

The high court does not address itself to that. Instead, it slaps down residency requirements.

Strange business sometimes, this rule by court edict!

The Mastodon Mercury Mystery

The Food and Drug Administration's standards proclaim that any foodstuff with more than .5 of one part per million of mercury may be regarded as unsafe for human consumption. Accordingly, very large amounts of "polluted" tuna and swordfish were removed from the market when they were found to exceed this level.

Now, tests of a 15,000-year-old mastodon bone in a New York museum have shown it to contain 1.19 ppm. of mercury.

This raises the question whether some mercury may not be naturally occurring in animals and fish in mercury-rich regions. We would not attempt to second guess the FDA. But it is something to speculate about.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Consumers Get Some Breaks But Not Enough

By FRED W. KLINE

SACRAMENTO (Capitol) — A little consumer protection is better than no consumer protection at all, but right now a lot more is needed. Let's hope our state legislators wake up to this when they reconvene next year.

A very limited bill protecting consumers against so-called auto repairmen was passed by the legislature and signed by the governor last week.

The bill, SB 51, by Sen. Anthony Beilenson, D-Beverly Hills, left much to be desired from the viewpoint of consumer protection. Beilenson himself said as much, but it was the best bill he could get past oil company and Detroit lobbyists.

UNDER THE TERMS of SB 51, auto repair shops have to stand behind work done to automobiles of people who, since they aren't themselves mechanics, can't really tell whether they are getting satisfactory work or not.

Not covered by the bill are jobs done by gas station operators.

Such repair bills are often paid on credit cards issued by major oil companies. These companies are happy to handle the transaction, but they do not guarantee repair work performed by their gas and oil dealers.

It might be good public relations for these oil companies to impose more stringent standards on their dealers. They might even require a bond to protect against poor work that could reflect back on the company's products.

You'd think, after all, the oil companies are having enough trouble right now with ecology buffs who complain about the entire process —from offshore drilling of oil to contamination from pipeline breaks to smog — without asking for more trouble from advocates of consumer protection.

ANOTHER IMPORTANT piece of consumer protection legislation passed and signed this year was AB 289, authored by Assemblyman Jack Fenton, D-Montebello. It protects, to some extent, the consumer who has second thoughts about magazine subscriptions, merchandise or services purchased from door-to-door salesmen.

The attacks on this bill by lobbyists were almost as strong as those against Beilenson's auto repair bill. AB 289 gives the customer 72 hours in which to reconsider the transaction —after the too-often high pressure salesman has departed.

A really good idea in the consumer protection field might be regulation of the rebuilt equipment dealers who supply auto repairmen, legitimate and otherwise.

If all were held to answer not only for the consumer's out-of-pocket expenses but for his loss of time or pay as well, they might really begin to shape up.

Women Get Praise For Unification Bill

We are so pleased with the success of Sally Rakow, Mary Olive at al in postponing (?) of unification election.

Without this constant pressure (and expense), perhaps more realistic approaches will be developed. In any case, I hope the I-J will profile the activities of these women who spent many a long hour in Sacramento in our behalf.

Things Were Different In Old England

Once upon a time, in England, treason — the giving of aid or comfort to enemies of the state — was punished by the condemned being drawn upon a sledge to the place of execution, hanged and disemboweled while yet alive, beheaded, quartered. All lands and property of those so executed were forfeited.

In the United States today, and specifically in the City of Berkeley, the treason of that city's government goes unpunished. All of its members will probably be returned to office at the next election.

Takes Sharp Difference With Richard Nave

Do we detect the pungent odor of sour grapes emanating from the diatribe poured forth by Richard P. Nave?

Would the fact that the Point Reyes National Seashore now encompasses land which he and his family members owned and which was used by them and their cohorts as their own private hunting and fishing preserve, be responsible in some way for his bitter denunciation?

Marin has always been a strong conservation county and will remain so in spite of, or perhaps because of, the narrow minded, blinker-wearing, special interest minority who have, in this instance, a private axe to grind.

Unusual Scheme For Taxpayer Revolt

I read your editorial re the ability of government to increase its spending with almost no restraint. The economists I read point to this factor, on all levels, as the major factor in inflation. Our government talks "keeping prices down," but look at their own record.

Enclosed is a chart showing that while my gross income has increased 142 per cent since 1965, my federal income tax has increased 234 per cent, and state income tax 763 per cent. . That 763 per cent is something that can't be explained to me by a governor who makes lots more than I do and doesn't pay any state income tax. His words just seem to go in one of my ears and out the other.

As for property taxes, in the last few years values have not risen — ask the real estate people . . . The government has an answer — they just increase the base form 23 per cent to 25 per cent assessed valuation because they know the increased value argument won't stick. They will always have a gimmick to raise their take.

The only answer is a taxpayers' revolt. In this year of the freeze I think everyone who is paying taxes on the same piece of property or salary should just send in the amount of last year's bill! This might seem like a weak revolt, but if enough people did it the government just couldn't handle the paperwork and it might let them know what's in store if it keeps up. . .

President, Congress Must Face Fact Of Loss Of Confidence

WASHINGTON — There is a growing weakness at the very base of government in the United States which needs to come out into the open before it is too late.

It is a peril to the democratic process itself, revealed by the fact that most Americans, for one reason or another, have lost confidence in the government itself.

This is a grave matter. It is a dagger pointed at the heart of democracy, because when people lose confidence in government, government begins to lose the capacity to govern effectively.

DISMAYING EVIDENCE of declining confidence in government comes from a recent survey completed by the center of political studies of the University of Michigan's institute for social research.

There is no redeeming trend on the horizon.

The Michigan study shows that the public has been losing confidence in government for the past six years.

Citizens view Washington with growing cynicism.

Here's what has been happening: In 1964, 62 per cent of adults expressed a high degree of trust in the government. In 1970 the proportion dropped to 37 per cent.

When only little more than one-third of the American people have faith in their government, the leadership of government better stop, look and listen — and begin to do something about it.

"WHAT WE ARE witnessing," says Dr. Warren Miller, director of the center, "is a massive erosion of trust the American people had in their government. It is clear that the agony over the war is responsible for a significant part of its decline. Disillusionment over the war appears to have given rise to a generalized sense that political leaders are not responsive to the people any time."

Some of the findings of this survey are rather unexpected.

It is not the Vietnam hawks or the Vietnam doves who show the greatest loss of trust in government. The decline is more among the middle-road groups who wanted to maintain a military presence in Vietnam but end the fighting.

It is not the political extremists who have most lost confidence in Washington. The largest shiftof opinion toward cynicism is among moderates.

I don't see how political leaders and opinion leaders can be other than shocked at this evidence of pervasive and mounting distrust of our political institutions.

SOME THINGS are being done. John Gardner has galvanized Common Cause into an animate, vigorous public lobby and it is beginning to show that politicians cannot lightly ignore its voice. It is putting the heat on Congress to pass a tough, not a soft, flim-flam campaign spending law. The politicans seem to want a bill filled with strong words and weak enforcement and Common Cause is saying no, that won't do.

Congress usually gets low marks from the public, and the mark is inordinately low right now. The reason appears to be that more often than not Congress is not responsive to public demand.

The public has long favored the direct election of President and vice president — and a far stronger gun control law than is now on the books. It backs revenue sharing and the President's family assistance program.

But Congress seems to have time to pass nearly everything except what the public most wants.

THE CRUCIAL SHAFT of light which comes from the Michigan study is that it is the political center, not the political extremes, which is most losing faith in government.

For the President and Congress to face this stark fact is the first step toward dealing with it.

BY NO MEANS NEUTRAL

Dependence On U.S. Stirs Canada's Commons

By ERNEST B. FURGURSON

OTTAWA — What is bugging Canada is clear in minutes to the outsider who walks under snowy skies up Ottawa's Parliament Hill and feels the atmosphere as the House of Commons begins a Q & A session with ministers of the Trudeau government.

Visually, it is all a transplant from London. The gray towers of Parliament; the Gothic arches of the interior; the speaker's chair copied exactly from the one destroyed in the bombing of the Houses of Parliament in England 30 years ago, with its crosses and crowns of the church and monarchy, with bits of wood from Westminster Abbey and Lord Nelson's flagship embedded in its ornate carving — and, of course, the very form of the proceedings — it all smacks of Queen and roots in centuries past.

But then, themselves less conscious of form and setting than the outsider, the members speak, and it is Canada today. Most speak in English, translated simultaneously to French, and occasionally vice versa. Just as obviously as the bilingual signs and street conversation, that reminds of the country's most painful domestic issue, that of French separatism in Quebec — comparable in the emotions involved to the civil rights issue in the United States.

WHAT THEY ARE arguing today, however, is not Quebec. It is instead the nearest local equivalent to our Vietnam. It is just as much of an obsession among many in Canadian politics, and for the past week it has been at a new pitch because the press has turned up an extensive, controversial document compared here to the Pentagon papers so recently celebrated in Washington. The issue is not Vietnam, of course. It is Canadian nationalism, specifically economic independence from that familiar villain, the United States.

That has been a popular and regionally effective subject for political exploitation here for many years, always with some reason. Since Mr. Nixon's new economic policy, with its 10 per cent surcharge on imported goods, it has been Urgent Topic No. 1. Now, since publication of the Herb Gray Report, the opposition has a new club to beat the government with, much as the opposition in Washington used the Pentagon Papers.

The man whose name is attached to this document is an otherwise inconspicuous MP from Windsor West who wears a crew-cut, horn-rimmed glasses, and often a big maple leaf lapel pin saying, "Keep It Canadian." Premier Pierre Trudeau named him revenue minister in 1969, and the rest of us became conscious of him for the first time last week end after a minor-league magazine, Canadian Forum, printed major excerpts from his highly confidential cabinet study of foreign ownership in Canada.

TO DESCRIBE the report's contents after this kind of buildup seems anticlimactic, for its most sensational recommendation is simply creation of a federal review board to strictly screen all future foreign investments in Canada. And as in the case of the Pentagon Papers, the government has characterized it as just one of many plans and internal studies which have been considered in its policy-making. Thus to see the prominence it is given in the papers, to witness the determination with which the opposition tried to squeeze further information about it out of a stubborn government, is to appreciate what a potent subject economic nationalism and its more extreme parallel, anti-Americanism, is in Canadian political life.

The red-haired minister of external affairs, Mitchell Sharp, was as abrupt as parliamentary courtesy would allow him to be in turning aside persistent opposition demands. Charges that the Gray Report emerged as a result of either a deliberate leak or "slovenly security" measures failed to move him.

The opposition leader, Robert Stanfield, nevertheless pressed him further — Stanfield will be the leading candidate against Trudeau in the next general election. So did John Diefenbaker, his hands trembling after a recent stroke but his voice still vigorous and his hair still crinkly, reminiscent of his own days as prime minister, when his main political reason for being was Canadian nationalism — at that time expressed as opposition to storage of U.S. nuclear warheads on Canadian soil. So did their colleagues, pounding their desks at each new evasion by the government. The predictable conclusion from all of this is that neither British heritage nor French culture nor political party means so much in Canada as proximity to the United States, and there is a chronic paranoia resulting from that closeness.

That is not a novel finding. But there is also a suspicion that the louder politicans in Commons are more anxious about it than the hardheaded Canadian businessman or the ordinary Canadian voter. The nonpoliticians' attitude toward the United States is not quite so predictable, and the reasons why are forthcoming.

School Meetings Fine Examples Of Governmental Wheel-Spinning

Inveterate meeting-goers such as newspaper reporters (you can recognize them by their hollow stares) soon discover nothing new ever happens at public meetings.

All city councils, planning commissions and other government bodies seem to follow the same scenario at each session, though occasionally the players change.

But three meetings last month and this of the Mill Valley School District board have achieved the distinction of being the most striking example of this effect that I've ever encountered as a reporter.

THE LACK OF EVEN a modicum of novelty — though, to be fair, the first meeting did include a few reasonably new points — was all the more disappointing because the meetings dealt with a potentially explosive issue.

They had to do with innovation and experimentation in the district. Some people don't like to use those terms. Others don't like the ideas behind the terms. The gatherings were called to air the accumulated gripes of this latter group.

With few exceptions, here's how the meetings went:

Parent A: "Discussions with eminent educators have convinced us there is no rationale to nor benefit in the current district teaching methods of innovative and ungraded classes and unstructured learning situations. We demand educational alternatives."

Parent B: "Long experince has convinced us of the intrinsic worth of the above-mentioned teaching methods and we defend them without reservation. But you should be given alternatives."

THE REST of the meetings, all three of them, consisted of variations on that theme, all couched in perfectly grammatical and correct but thoroughly incomprehensible educationese, a dialect spoken only by school professionals and scarcely understood by the rest of us.

Why the problem should have to be stated dozens of ways in slightly different jargon mystifies me. I do know, however, that the board could have cut things off after the first 10 minutes of the first meeting and not missed a single thought.

Admittedly, the three sessions were a perfectly valid way for parents with time on their hands and nothing better to do to spend an evening — it keeps them off the streets, after all. But what a waste of time!

Football Telecast Proves No Need For Generation Gap

Even though many of the TV programs lately leave much to be desired, there are some delightful suprises. That was my good luck last Saturday. After being on the go for several hours, I thought I would take a rest and see what was on the tube. Immediately I caught one of the most delightful and interesting football games one could wish for.

Oregon State University was host to Washington State University at Corvallis, Ore. It was the finishing minutes of the first half.

There was a sea of umbrellas. It was drizzling for a few minutes and when it stopped down they would come. Then back up again. I was raised in the Pacific Northwest and have often wondered if they still all carried bumbershoots like we used to. There was the answer. Something seemed wrong. The players' suits were clean. It developed that they were playing on a new turf.

CAME NEXT the half-time show. First the home-coming queen was crowned with two fellows holding their umbrellas over her. Then something pretty nice took place.

There was a huge marching band, I think it must have been one of the largest to be seen at a school game. And could they play!

All who may have been watching the game I am sure will agree that what followed was heart-stirring evidence of the real young America of today. It was great. Accompanied by the band a big chorus sang "The Battle Hymn of The Republic" (Mine eyes have seen the glory. . .)

It's hard to put into words the sight of those young people — heads uplifted — faces shining — singing their hearts out. As a finale the band played "Put Your Hand in the Hand of the Man from Galilee." It was like a great organ being played out in that football field. Well!

THERE IS REALLY no need to be any generation gap. There is developing a land full of young adults who will take the best of our accomplishments and add to this their own thinking, which in the main will be productive.

They are too intelligent to let this country go down. When I was 30, I too was a rebel at heart. I think we all have been at some time in our lives.

Have a good Thanksgiving! Be seeing you the day after.

Woman Slightly Hurt In Crash

A San Rafael woman has suffered a bruised nose in an accident on Lucas Valley Road when the car in which she was riding collided with another vehicle braking to avoid a deer.

June Stevens, 30, of 311 Ellen Court, was treated at Marin General Hospital following the 7:30 p.m. mishap Wednesday.

The California Highway Patrol said the accident occurred when a westbound car driven by William Cairns, 76, of San Francisco, braked to avoid a deer and was hit from behind by a vehicle driven by Leith G. Stevens, 34, also of 311 Ellen Court, San Rafael.

All-Maintenance Plan Eyed For Marin City

The Marin County Housing Authority board is mulling a proposal that the authority become responsible for all maintenance of the 241 leased housing units in Marin.

That and other proposals developed by the authority's staff were discussed at the board's Wednesday meeting, though no decision was reached, according to executive director Wallace K. Shepherd.

Currently, he said, the cost of maintenance is shared equally by the landlord, authority and tenant. If the new policy is approved, the landlord would pay the authority a fixed percentage of the unit rentals per month and the authority in turn would handle all maintenance and repairs.

Shepherd said the board told him to return with firm proposals on how the program would work. Such an arrangement, he said, would cost landlords less and also hasten repairs.

Shepherd said the authority pays Marin landlords rents totaling $33,240 per month for the 241 units and in turn collects up to 25 per cent of the tenants' incomes.

The authority staff also is working on a proposal that the federal government make low-cost loans to landlords for repair of leased housing units considered substandard. In return the landlords would sign 15-year leases with the housing authority.

Open House

An open house will be held from 1 to 4 p.m. tomorrow by the Independent Learning School in the former military academy administration building at Fifth and Cottage Avenues, San Rafael.

Health Council Seeks Members

Marin's Comprehensive Health Planning Council is seeking new members.

New members may participate on committees under four categories: health services, health manpower, health facilities and environmental health, according to Ray K. Bollinger, president of the council board of directors.

Applications should be sent by Dec. 1 to Michael L. Ingerman, Comprehensive Health Planning, Civic Center, San Rafael.
